MUST CHLORINATE WATER

The Newmarket Board of Water Commissioners announce that a letter has been received from the N. H. State Board of Health in Concord specifying that the Newmarket Water Works is required to chlorinate their drinking water since the water supply comes from a surface source. Water systems in the state using surface water are being instructed to take measures to chlorinate this water. In the near future, the Water Works will install and operate chlorinating equipment in compliance with this recent State Board of Health ruling.

This decision by the State stems from the typhoid outbreak in Keene last fall which was eventually traced to a carrier working in the general area of the watershed. Fifteen cases of typhoid were traced to this individual. One death resulted from the disease. As a precautionary measure, and to prevent recurrence of such an outbreak, all municipal water departments which derive their source of supply from brooks and springs, have been ordered to install chlorinating equipment.

Newmarket is one of the last towns required to chlorinate its water because of the constant purity of town water over the past years. The water is filtered during which process dirt and germs are removed. However, chlorination will serve as a double check and completely eliminate the possibility of the slightest contamination.

Local water is checked by two different laboratories as a protective measure. The State Board of Health, and an engineering firm in Boston make an analysis of samples taken each month.

Equipment will be installed at the pumping station in the near future. The new process will be in effect upon completion of necessary preliminary arrangements.

The Water Board also met recently with a representative of a tank company for the purpose of determining the cost of a new tank to compare figures of such an investment against the already estimated $8,000 necessary to repair the present tank.

A new tank of pre-stressed concrete with a half million gallon capacity installed on an average site would cost $45,000. The site on Great Hill is not considered average. Preparation of the site would cost $3,000 because of the rock ledge bed on which the present tank is situated. This precludes the simple process of bulldozing and smoothing the area.

However, once the site is prepared, the type tank referred to could be installed for the estimated price.

The Newmarket Planning Board met last Wednesday with a county soil conservation agent from the Exeter office who pointed out the possibilities of securing possible federal aid for some of the work which will have to be done on the water shed area of Newmarket's water supply.

This possibility will be explored further in April meeting when the Planning and Water Boards will hold a joint discussion for this purpose.

The Board has accepted two maps of the town. One illustrates the entire town and the other is a blown-up diagram of the center of town. These maps will be ready in another month.

Copies will be made available to town departments. Individuals may purchase copies for their own use at a nominal fee.

Gallant Mfg. Expansion Program

The Gallant Manufacturing company has inaugurated a sweeping modernization and expansion program which is already in full swing, according to Richard Gallant, owner of the textile firm.

All equipment will be moved to the lower level where new floors have been laid, acoustical ceiling installed, new lighting and also a complete paint job.

With these renovations, Gallant Manufacturing company will have as modern a weave room as can be found in the textile industry.

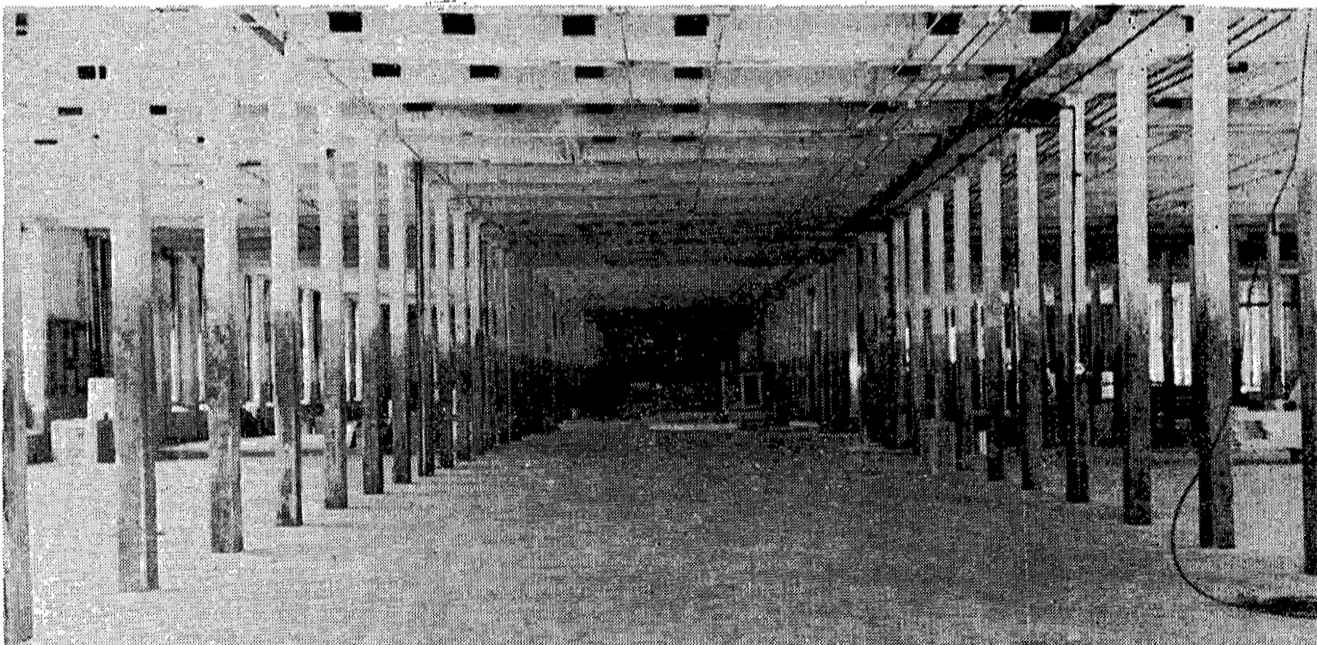

Included in the expansion program are 60 additional looms which were purchased in the South. This fact is particularly interesting in view of the fact that many mills have moved to the South. Moving these looms back to Newmarket clearly indicates continued optimism for the textile industry in New England.

While the gigantic moving operation progresses, 16 looms will be moved at one time. Doing it in this manner, production will continue without any appreciable lag. When the moving is completed, there will be from 240 to 300 looms in operation with a 25% increase in production.

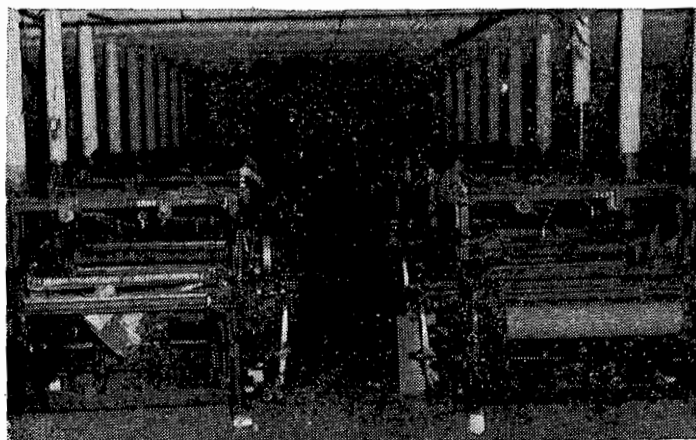

Prior to 1955 the business was owned by Textron and managed by Mr. Gallant. In 1955, Mr. Gallant purchased the business from Textron and in April of last year he purchased the entire building from Newmarket Industrial Association.

Mr. Gallant is to be congratulated upon his expansion program and his firm belief in the future of operating a business in Newmarket.

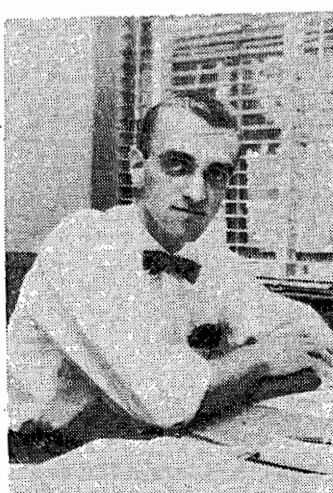

Shown above is a section of the lower floor of the Gallant Manufacturing Plant before the looms were moved from the floor above. When the moving is completed, all looms will be located on this floor. A new floor has been laid, a complete paint job and an acoustical ceiling installed — all done before the moving began. These renovations will provide Gallant Mfg. Company with one of the finest weave rooms found anywhere in the industry. (Staff Photos)

Mrs. Turner Seeks Selectman Post

The first woman to file for the office of selectman in the history of the town of Lee, did so last week, according to Mrs. Annie E. Piper, Lee town clerk.

The candidate, Mrs. Peggy Turner, and her husband Ted, run the general store at Lee Hill, known as Peggy's Country Store.

When interviewed as to her reasons for filing, Mrs. Turner stated that after living in Lee for six years, she had become so interested in town affairs that she wished to take an active part in the town's government.

Running against Mrs. Turner for the same office, now occupied by Leonard Wenant whose term expires this March, are George Bennett and Aaron Chadbourn, Jr. Mr. Wenant has not publicly stated whether he intends to file again.

BALLOON LAUNCHING — 1908

After reading the story of Newmarket's First Balloon Launching in last week's Newmarket Times, one of our readers came up with this photo post card. The reader, Bill Goudreau, of Packer's Falls road supplied us with the photo and this information. In the early 1900's, Newmarket was the scene of a Fair each year which was held at the race track on the property of Mr. Lafrance (now owned by Harold Mastin) on Packers Falls road. A large pit was dug, a fire built on the bottom to produce the hot air. Children would gather around and hold the balloon by rope which had some sort of a basket attached to the other end. A man would get into this basket and at a given signal, after the balloon was filled, the children would release the ropes and the balloon, basket and man would rise into the air. Upon reaching a certain altitude, the man would parachute back to the ground or land in the bay.

Local Resident Injured In Crash

Louis P. Lavoie, 56, of 19 Cedar street, suffered a fractured right knee and chest injuries in a two-car collision recently at the corner of Route 4 and the Back River road, in Dover Point. Four passengers in his car were shaken up and bruised.

The accident occurred when Lavoie, a Navy Yard worker, was returning home from work when his car collided with a vehicle operated by William Page of Gorham, which was coming onto Route 4 from Back River road.

The four passengers who were in the Lavoie car and received minor injuries were Roger Blouin, 38, of New road; Frank Leuders, 58, of Packers Falls road, Gerard Filion of Packers Falls road, and Raymond Geoffrion, 49, also of Packers Falls road.

Lavoie was taken by ambulance to the Exeter Hospital where he has remained for treatment.

Both cars were extensively damaged and towed from the site. The accident was investigated by Ben Thomas, Durham Police Chief and State Trooper John Newhall.

Hospital Volunteers Needed With Opening Of New Exeter Facilities

Volunteers from the Newmarket, Lee, Durham, Nottingham area are earnestly being sought to help man the new facilities at Exeter hospital when it opens next month, according to Mrs. Aaron Chadbourn, Jr., of Lee and Mrs. Asher Capelle of Durham, co-chairmen of the Volunteer Service for Durham Auxiliary of the Exeter hospital.

Heretofore, the Auxiliary has, through necessity, been concerned mostly with sewing for the hospital's needs and making scrapbooks for the children's wards. The Durham chapter has been very active in this respect. With the expansion of the hospital and the addition of both coffee and gift shops, a need for more volunteer help has arisen. The Exeter hospital services the communities of Newmarket, Lee, Nottingham and Durham, but Durham is the only town with an organized Auxiliary. Therefore, the co-chairmen cordially invite any women interested in devoting some worthwhile hours in community service to join forces with the Durham Auxiliary.

As far as is presently known this area will be responsible for providing volunteer help for one day a week, fifty-two weeks a year. For those not able to work in the shops there will be an opportunity to bake at home for the canteen. The co-chairmen are anxious to receive the names of anyone interested in serving the hospital. Mrs. Chadbourn may be reached by calling Newmarket Oldfield 9-3479 and Mrs. Asher Capelle at Durham UN 8-2642.

Also anyone interested in Auxiliary which meets monthly for work sessions at Dallas Hall, St. George's Episcopal Church in Durham, is cordially invited to contact president Mrs. Richard Daland, UN 8-9872 for more information.

Tentative plans have been made for a Silver Tea in April to raise money for the hospital Auxiliary. It is planned to have on display selections from several antique silver and pewter collections.

NEWS FROM LEE . . . .

By Mrs. Lloyd Stevens

Town Affairs

There will be another public hearing for the proposed Zoning Regulations appearing on the town warrant next Monday evening at the Town Hall at 8 p.m. The state stipulates two public hearings must be held before a town is asked to vote on Zoning Regulations.

Lee Community Club

A special program put on by the Lee Hill 4-H Club which the Lee Community club co-sponsors with the Jeremiah Smith Grange, highlighted the February meeting of the Community club held Wednesday afternoon at the Lee Church vestry. 4-H president Joan Chadbourn told of her experiences as a winner to the Eastern States Exposition, and member Carolyn Granger spoke on her experiences and those of other Lee Hill 4-H members who attended the 4-H camp at Bear Brook last summer, and leaders Mrs. L. O. Wenant and Ralph Granger gave a resume of the work and accomplishments of the 4-H Club since it started.

Presiding at the business meeting was Mrs. Jack Randall in the absence of president Jeanette Kimball. Serving refreshments were Mrs. John Knabenschuh, Mrs. Lawrence Hill, Mrs. Harry Bressette and Mrs. David Myers.

Lee Hill 4-H News

The weekly 4-H photography project of the Lee Hill club was cancelled last Saturday due to the illness of leader John Knabenschuh. There will be a meeting this Sat., Feb. 13, however.

The advanced sewing group is now underway and will meet every other Saturday afternoon at the home of leader Mrs. L. O. Wenant. Those members participating in the program are Judy Warnock, Carolyn Granger, Dianne Wenant, Judy Byers, Nancy and Cynthia Taylor and Frances Lundberg.

Twelve members of the Lee Riders were shown how to make lead ropes for their mounts at the home of Sally Willard, Madbury road, Durham, last Thursday evening.

Demonstrating the technique was Mr. Robert Willard. The group voted to put on another gymkhana this year in conjunction with the Firemen's Fair to be held July 9. Last year the 4-H Horsemanship group staged a highly successful show all of which was planned and executed by the members themselves, the proceeds of which they donated to the Lee Fire department.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis.

Lee Congregational Church

The Christian Educational Committee held a meeting at the church vestry Thursday evening. Main topic of discussion was the planning of a new educational program for the children. Present were Mrs. Harry Bressette, Mrs. Lucille Pierce, Mrs. Helen MacDonald, Mr. Richard Clark, minister, Mrs. George Nugent, Miss Dorothy Lemer and Mr. Tom Brown.

An urgent appeal is being made by the Women's Guild for any old soft white cloth such as sheets, pillow cases, shirts, etc., to be used for cancer dressing. Anyone having such material may give it to any member of the Guild. A meeting was held last Friday for volunteers wishing to help make cancer dressings for the Red Cross.

Mr. Richard Clark, minister, announces that an instructional class for those interested in joining the Lee Church start soon. Anyone interested may contact Mr. Richard Clark, minister, or one of the Deacons of the church.

Special Notice

There will be a special church meeting at the Lee vestry, Mon., evening Feb. 15 to see if the church will sell or lease a certain tract of land to the town of Lee. All church members are urged to attend.

Oyster River Sports

Although the Oyster River Bobcats won a 73 to 53 victory over the Somersworth Hilltoppers last Tuesday evening, Steve Bamford, the team's high scoring forward, was injured in the last minutes of the game and was unable to play in Friday's game with Raymond. It was an exciting and hard-fought game on Friday when the Bobcats went to Raymond to play the evenly matched Raymond team ending with a score of 59-58, in favor of Raymond. Jeff Gould scored 14 points for O.R. with Cloutier and Fogg scoring 13 points each.

Personals

They say "Misery loves company" and according to Mr. and Mrs. John Knabenschuh, no truer word was spoken. Mrs. K. knocked her back out of whack while shovelling snow and has had to visit the doctor for treatments during the week while Mr. K. spent all week in bed suffering from an acute case of sinusitis.

Also on the sick list last week was Loren Pierce who was at home all week with a bad case of mumps.

Jack Hull, who recently underwent a serious and delicate brain operation, has recovered sufficiently to be released from Pratt Diagnostic hospital in Boston. He returned to his home on Little Hook road this weekend.

Mrs. Myra Stevens of Hingham, Mass., and Mr. James Walker of Dover, were Friday afternoon guests of Mrs. Will Carpenter and her sister, Mrs. W. Mason.

Mrs. Natt Rockwell of Milford spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Rodman at the home of her niece, Mrs. Walter Preston on Fox Garrison road, last week. While here, she celebrated her birthday on February 2nd.

A fatal accident was undoubtedly averted due to the quick action of an alert mother here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Donald Rand of South Lee noticed her two-year-old daughter Susan with the evidence of an adult aspirin bottle early Wednesday morning. Remembering reading somewhere how dangerous aspirin can be, especially in small children, Mrs. Rand immediately contacted her doctor. Susan was rushed to the Wentworth Hospital in Dover where her stomach was pumped out. She was retained at the hospital until it was sure all danger was passed. Susan is now well and alive because of the prompt action of her mother.

Fire Chief Lloyd Stevens, Arthur Pratte, Maurice Hatch and Ralph Granger attended a meeting of the Interstate Emergency Unit (Mutual Aid) held at the Newfields new fire station, Monday evening. Accompanying the Lee Fire department was Roy Batchelder, Nottingham fire chief. The men were treated to an interesting program with actual demonstrations of plane crash survival by two representatives from the Pease Air Force Base.

Lee Girl Makes Television Debut

Christine Mills, 9 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mills of Lee Hook road, Lee, made her television debut recently over TV Channel 11 in Durham when she appeared as a young Indian maid in a preview of a new TV series starring Mrs. Philip Wilcox of Durham.

The new series starting with a study of early Indian settlements which Christine helped to illustrate, is called "The Story of the Granite State" and is the first really comprehensive study of the history of New Hampshire. Incredible as it may seem, our schools have never had a text for the study of New Hampshire history.

Although the series is designed for 4th grade use in N. H. schools through the new medium of educational TV, it will prove fascinating for the whole family. Arrangements have been made for re-broadcasts to enable adults to enjoy the series too.

Eyes Front!

A snow storm can transform the world around us to one of beauty in which we see many sights, some of which startle the imagination! Following the last heavy dusting of the soft, white stuff, the startled onlooker would have been tremendously impressed to watch two snowplows collide.

In the aftermath of the storm, at the Durham side bridge, two small plows were clearing from opposite sides when the drivers of each were simultaneously diverted by the actions of one of the town crew. When the drivers each noticed that his plow was pushing with unusual difficulty, both were chagrined to find the chief problem was another plow pushing from the opposite direction.

SHIPBUILDING IN NEWMARKET

It is not known just when the building of ships began in Newmarket, but it was before the Revolutionary War. The old rope walk and a saw-pit, now the basement of a house on Creighton street, is the only evidence we have. Many of the old records of our town are at the state capital in Concord, but there is no mention of any ship building industry.

A town warrant was later found in Concord which reads: "September 25, 1752: The landing place at Lamprey River is much incumbered with ship-yards, so the public have not the benefit of said landing. The landingplace has been in use over one hundred years and no legal return or record can be found of said landing place ever being laid out."

In 1776, the following was inserted in the Newmarket Town Warrant: "To see if the town will pass a vote that the selectmen, and lot layers, shall perambulate or lay out said landing place according as it has been formally used and improved, and make a return thereof that it may be recorded upon said records so as to prevent private encroachments by erecting wharves to obstruct public use, the town to prosecute and remove all encroachments on said landing."

The town sewer was laid in 1912 and the workmen found more than seven feet below the surface, large quantities of oak chips and pieces of ship timber fastened with oak pins, and these were under Main street, about 25 feet north of the town hall.

The roads which were travelled the most were from the forest to the landing places at Newfields and Lamprey River. Packets and gondaloes were there loaded with lumber from Nottingham and Lee, and oak and pine from Lamprey River. Many of the best trees were marked with an arrow, and these were for masts for the King's navy. There is a story told about a pine tree cut in the Newmarket woods. It was said to have been eight feet in diameter at the butt, one hundred and eleven feet long. It required seventy oxen to draw it to the riverside.

It is recorded that twenty-one ships were built in Newmarket in one year. Ships of the capacity of 500 tons were built here. At one time, there were seven vessels in the stocks at Lamprey River. These ships were needed so badly that the shipwrights were exempted from military training. General James Hill procured the timber for the war ship "America" from Newfields. This was the largest ship then built on this side of the Atlantic. John Paul Jones superintended the building and Newmarket furnished the stout timbers.

One of the ships built at Newmarket was the brig Rokeby. After the ship was launched, it was taken down through the bays and Piscataqua River to Portsmouth. Capt. John Parrot was given the command of the ship. When a ship was launched, the whole town took a holiday. Free refreshments were served and games played. A good time was had by all.

Capt. Robert Parker was put in charge of the privateer General Sullivan. He was born in Portsmouth, August 15, 1735. When only 14, he was apprenticed to a ship-builder, by the name of Mark Newmarcho of Portsmouth for 14 years. When his apprenticeship was ended he went to sea as a ship's carpenter. He soon was in command of a brig. In 1774, he brought a cargo of powder from France, escaping the vigilance of the British ships he landed it in Portsmouth. The captain decided to leave the sea for a while and as he had plenty of money, to purchase a large farm. He found what he wanted on the west side of the Mast road in Lee. The farm was a great success. One day the neighbors were much surprised — Capt Parker was building a shipyard in Lee and workmen were actually fitting timber for a ship. One day activities suddenly ceased. Capt. Parker was going to sea again. He had offered his services to the Committee of Safety at Exeter, saying he knew a ship load of woolens and a cargo of powder for the British army was to arrive at a certain place and he wanted to be there to intercept it. He got the job all right. He then assembled his crew and sailed away on his mission. The next time he was heard from, was at the dock at Portsmouth where he delivered the cargo of the British ship.

In the spring of 1777, the privateer General Sullivan was begun in the Lee ship yard, which was five miles from tide water. Ten men of Lee, including Captain Parker, worked on its construction, each man owning one-tenth of the ship. When it was completed and all its timbers numbered, it was taken apart, loaded on ox teams, hauled to the Newmarket ship yard, put together again and launched there. Its first voyage was made from Portsmouth in 1778. On its return it came up the river and was again in the ship yard to be overhauled. The Gen. Sullivan, with Captain Parker, continued successful privateering until the privateering season closed.

When George III prohibited the exportation of gun powder and all military stores to America and the news reached Boston, Paul Revere rode express to Portsmouth with the news that the British ship Scarborough was on its way with soldiers to reinforce the fort at New Castle. John Sullivan of Durham, heard the news and did some planning with John Langdon of Portsmouth. These plans were made known to a few trusty friends and were to be carried out quietly and without delay. One man almost got left. He was at work in Sullivan's mill at Packer's Falls. He reached the landing place where Benjamin Mathes' gundola was to take them out with the tide — just in time to be one of the party. We have all heard how they captured Fort William and Mary without loss of life or injury and returned safely to Durham with one hundred barrels of gun powder, sixty stands of arms and fifteen cannon. These were all safely secreted through the winter.

The capture of Fort William and Mary made the people more determined to throw off the tyranny of government of the Colonies, by King George III. Committees of Safety were organized in all the towns. Thomas Tash was chosen chairman in Newmarket.

When on April 21, 1775, the news of the Battle of Lexington reached Newmarket, a special Town Meeting was called. A vote was taken to send thirty men, under the command of Captain Samuel Gilman, to the relief of the Colonies against the regulars, and that each man be paid and billeted against the town.

A special Town Meeting was called April 24, and it was voted that 40 men, called Minute Men, be enlisted and ready to march at a minute's notice. All the lead in town was collected for bullets. The first week of the war, clothing and knapsacks, together with ninety-two pounds of pork, six quintals of fish, a supply of beef and cheese, a drum and shoes, were collected. It was voted that twenty-four men be kept for the safety of the town, sentinels be kept at the Lamprey River bridge, and at the bridge over the Exeter River.

Twenty-eight men of Newmarket were in service by June 1, 1775. In all, two hundred and thirty men whose names are recorded were furnished by Newmarket and Newfields, at that time one town. Of officers, we furnished one colonel, two lieutenant colonels, one adjutant, seven captains, eight lieutenants, two ensigns, ten sergeants and eleven corporals.

.50 CAL. SHARPS NEW MODEL 1848 RIFLE

The gun pictured above was often called the Sharps buffalo gun and was made in many calibers. But the big "50" was the most popular. The .50 Sharps was used in the Civil War and the Great Indian Wars of the '70's. This gun was also largely responsible for the mass slaughter of American buffalo. It was not a true muzzle loading rifle but you could say it was a cross between a breech loader and muzzle loader for it used a semi-fixed shell which was made of paper with a lead slug connected to the top of the shell. This was inserted into the breech and when the breech was closed, the end of the shell was sheared off, exposing the charge. A regular stove pipe priming cap was then used to set off the powder charge. The weight of this gun was 8 lbs., barrel length 21½", overall length 39", bore .50 cal. This gun was made in Hartford, Conn., by the C. Sharps Mfg. Co. To show what a fine rifle the Sharps was, you must look back to 1901 when in competition against the then new 30/40 Army Krag, the "50" Sharps put 17 shots into a 21" V at 1000 yards. The "50" took the rifle meet again in 1903. This gun belongs to the collection of R. Schanda.

The Fish and Game department released the final deer kill for 1959 and the breakdown was as follows: Total deer kill was 8,453. Residents killed 6,330, non-residents 1,889, and minors 216. During the statewide bow season, only 6 deer were taken with bow and arrows. Odds say we had better stick to more conventional weapons.

The state has finally put some teeth into the salmon laws. It seems that ice fishermen were catching these fish through the ice, which is not permitted. And, of course, if you were to pull up a nice 5 or 6 lb. salmon, it would kind of hurt to put him back in the water. This was back when the fine was $10. Now the penalty is $50. and revocation of licenses for one year.

Salmon to fishing is like deer to hunting. They are given the lions' share of official protection. This is necessary if hunting and fishing is to continue to be as good as it has been. So — if you snag a salmon through the ice, toss him back and catch him next spring.

A surprise January thaw, which came in February, cost 10 or 15 fishermen their smelt shacks. Those shantys which were on the outer edge of Greenland Bay have sunk to the bottom of the bay. The ice has gone out from the mouth of the river to Portsmouth but Greenland Bay is still safe with lots of good hard ice. It might be a good thing to move your shacks back a bit from the edge of the open water.

Art Provost, Jr., has had very good luck down on the bay. He tells me that he picked up 13 lbs. of smelts last Friday. He also said they are loaded with spawn and run around 10 fish per lb. Great Bay smelts are known far and wide for their fine flavor and size. I know they are a strong first on my supper table. Tough on the pocketbook though. 75c per pound when you can buy them.

Did you know that there were 134,999 fishing licenses sold in N. H. during 1958? — 82,059 residents and 52,940 non-residents.

The opossum that Norm Labranche caught last month is still going strong and eats as much as Norm's springer spaniel. We haven't been able to figure how he got this far north but there he was. I'll bet he wished he had stayed down south when he got tangled up with our New England winter.

If I can get my hand on the

RARE VISITOR TO THE NORTH COUNTRY

Pictured above is an opossum, which is common in the Southland but very rare in this area. This female opossum was captured in the road near Four Corners on the Epping Road. It was discovered by Norman Labranch, who found his dog playing with the animal. He brought it over to my house, and after taking her picture, we decided not to release her as she was in poor condition. Brother Joe called the local game warden and received permission to keep the animal. The warden checked her and told Joe what to feed it. She eats about the same foods as a cat or dog eats and also seemed quite tame.

new salt water fish Law Book which the N. H. Fish and Game has issued, I'll try to figure out some of the laws and let you readers in on the ground floor. From what I have heard, there are some cockers. One law prevents the taking of eel grass after sunset. Can you imagine getting arrested for jacking eel grass with a jack light? This sounds like an "Uncle Flub" story but from what I understand, it is a law. There are lots more just like that in the new book. You know — that should be better reading than the famous Book of Fables.

NEWMARKET-HOLY ROSARY GAME

Mules Lose And Win

By Ronnie Griswold

The Warriors from Winnacunnet handed the Mules their fifth loss of the season last Friday night at Hampton 69-50. Newmarket got off to a quick lead as Sklarski sunk two and Hayes one. This lead soon vanished as the Warriors sparked by Jim Israel took a one point lead. Finally at the close of the first quarter Israel started to put on his scoring performance and the period ended 16-15 in favor of Winnacunnet. The Red and Black played good ball but could not keep up with the fast pace set by the Warriors. Fishlock, Israel, Bowen and Chevalier were now pouring it on as the Blue and White put on a real scoring exhibition. For a short while it looked as tho the Mules would not even make a basket until Walker and Byron started to hit. This was not enough and the Mules were on the short end at the half. The Warriors now had a comfortable lead of 40-29.

The second half started with the Warriors getting off to a quick start behind Jim Israel. This player would take a shot from the outside and be under the backboards to get the rebound if he missed. The Mules couldn't stop him and thus lost 69-50. Walker, Byron & Sklarski were the guns for the Mules while Hayes and Kustra took over on assists. Jordan came in as a sub and did a great job. The Mules were outscored 13-9 in this quarter. The Warriors were again paced by Israel in the third quarter and were in the lead 53-38. Newmarket fell short in the fourth quarter 16-12 and lost their fifth 69-50.

Israel was the chief gun for Winnacunnet with 27 to pace his team for the second time this year over the Mules. Fishlock added 13 followed by Bowen and Chevalier who each had 10.

Mules 57 — Sanborn 27

The boys won their 11th game of the season as they whipped the Sanborn team Tuesday nite. Led by Sklarski and Walker, they were off to another fast start. As the buzzer sounded for the end of the 1st quarter the Mules had taken a 14-5 lead.

The Blue from Sanborn did not seem to play a good brand of ball as they stayed away from the Mules lead. Now, Byron had gotten his eye and combined with the fine ball handling of Kustra and Hayes, Walker and Sklarski racked up the score. It was easily seen that the Blue was no match for the Red and Black this night. Then, the subs were sent in. Jordan collected a few points and did some fine defensive work as well as the rest of the team. The Mules now found themselves out in front at the half 33-11 as they outscored the Sanbornians 19-6.

As the next half began many subs were sent in and the team did a great job from here on in. The Red and Black continued to move on and the Blue knew they were just about out of it. As the Mules outscored them 15-6 in the third quarter Bakier from Sanborn took over the scoring for his team. The Red and Black now had a comfortable lead of 48-17 and took out the whole first string and put in subs. Doug Call did a great job of rebounding in Walker's place along with Belmont. Walked did a great job while he was in there and so did Sklarski, but now, these boys were sitting watching their teammates play in their stead. Jordan and Szabo did good jobs in filling in for Kustra and Hayes. The other player was Dick Homiak who filled in for Byron.

They were especially glad to beat Exeter as they had lost a close one the week before at Exeter. Paced by Grochmal and Griswold, the Mulettes were out in front at the first quarter 16-12. In the second half, Kleczek joined the Grochmal-Griswold combination in scoring and thus led to a 39-35 win for the Red from NHS. The guards played a great game until Hamel and Labranche fouled out. Then, Nesbit and Geoffrion went in and did a great job and helped the team pull out a close one. In the other game, the Red beat Sanborn 46-40 behind the great shooting of Grochmal. Joyce, who had 11 field goals and 3 foul shots was followed by Griswold who had 6 field goals and 1 foul shot and then by Kleczek with 3 field goals. The girls outscored Sanborn in the first three periods but fell short in the last but held on to the lead they had built up.

Hand Tub Association To Seek Authorization On Use Of Fire House

Among the items of interest to historically minded Newmarket residents will be the following which will appear in this year's town warrant:

"To see if the town will vote to authorize the selectmen to permit the Newmarket Hand Tub Association to use the old fire house on the corner of South Main street and Spring street for storage and maintenance of the First Newmarket Hand Tub, as well as for meetings of this association, providing that said association at its own expense repair said fire-house and bear all expense of its maintenance. And to further authorize the selectmen to arrange the necessary terms as to rent or length of time for said permit, as they may deem necessary."

The Newmarket Hand Tub Association, ordinarily referred to as the "Tigers", is a non-profit organization. Their earnings of prize money from musters are used to maintain "Tiger No. 1", and improve the "old fire house." Nearly $1,000 of their earnings has been allocated for this purpose. Before the hard freeze set in, new sills had to be put under the building, the outside had been given two coats of paint, nearly all of the windows have been replaced, the roof repaired, a new chimney built, and the old hose tower taken down. Next season, a new overhead door will replace the old makeshift doors which open awkwardly out on the sidewalk.

Inside improvements have also been made on the building which provides adequate space for the Tub and sufficient room for storing equipment on the first floor, and a meeting place with storage for trophies on the second floor.

As the situation now stands, the Hand Tub Association is allowed the use of the building, but permission has to be obtained annually from the Selectmen in office and sought again with each change of the Board of Selectmen.

A vote by the taxpayers in favor of this article will not only assure the "Tigers" a place to store their engine and a central meeting location, but will most important, guarantee that the old fire house will be improved, preserved and maintained at no cost to the town.

Last Class Held In Tailoring School

The last class of the Newmarket Day Home Demonstration Group tailoring school was held at the library hall last week. Those attending had received instruction on cutting out materials, correctly altering patterns to fit, and assembling the garments by the quickest and easiest methods. Nearly all of the shirts begun by the members were completed. Those unfinished will be completed at later informal sessions.

Those attending included Mrs. Jeanette Turcotte, Mrs. Patricia Funke, Mrs. Mary Bosinger, Mrs. Alice Kent, Mrs. Elma Kitchin, Mrs. Helen Dodds, Pauline Brisson, Mrs. Jean Bloom, Mrs. Beatrice Haley, Mrs. Margaret Jackson, all of Newmarket.

Also attending was Mrs. Isabelle Bastien, Miss Denise Bastien and Mrs. Louise Hewings of North Danville; Mrs. Madlyn Misenheimer of Kingston; Mrs. Helen Simpson, Newfields; Mrs. Elaine Tower and her son of Hampton. Miss Ruth Stimson, home demonstration agent, was instructor at the tailoring series.

The next regular meeting of the demonstration group will be held Feb. 23 at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Mullen at which time favors will be made for the County Home at Brentwood.

C.Y.O. Corner

by Carol Filion

St. Mary's C.Y.O. is planning a trip to Boston which will take place during the week of February 21, the mid-winter vacation. Tentative plans have been made to leave Newmarket early in the morning and upon arriving in Boston, we will visit the famous Museum of Science. We will have lunch in one of the down-town restaurants and in the afternoon the group will see the best motion picture of the year, "Ben-Hur."

Last Sunday February 7th, was designated as C.Y.O. Communion Sunday. Members of the group attended the 9 o'clock mass in a body A Holy Hour for all C.Y.O. members and their parents was held at St. Mary's church at 6 p.m. Father Vincent Lawless of Dover delivered the sermon.

A new system of teaching the Confraternity classes has been undertaken by our C.Y.O. The boys and girls are divided into six different groups. Assisting Father Bryson in this most important work are five very able lay teachers. They are Mrs. Norman Illingsworth, Mrs. Edward Tourigny, Miss Amelia Dutka, Mrs. Romeo Turcotte and Mrs. Alfred Gielar. This new approach to teaching religion has met with a very favorable reaction on the part of the students.

Remember our C.Y.O. is as strong and as effective as the members choose to make it. You get out of something just what you put into it. If the members are willing to plan together and work together, they will achieve that priceless ingredient of any successful club — Co-operation.

SPEND WEEKEND SKIING

Jack Rodrigues and Ronnie Labranche spent a recent weekend skiing at Enfield and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cobb, formerly on the teaching staff of Newmarket high.

POPULAR FISH STICKS TEAM WITH LOBSTER SAUCE

Of all "convenience foods," fish sticks are probably the most convenient. And that's one reason they have zoomed to popularity in just a few years. All you need do is follow the simple directions on the package, and you have beautifully browned, delectable pieces of fish, high in protein, minerals and vitamins, so necessary to the health and well-being of children and adults alike. Even if you serve fish sticks often, you needn't feel that your meals will become monotonous. Vary the seasonings; vary the sauces. For example, fish sticks become a company meal for six to eight people if you've a can of lobster with which to make a Lobster Newburg sauce. This recipe is sufficient for two packages of fish sticks.

LOBSTER NEWBURG SAUCE

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in top part of a double boiler. Remove from heat and blend in 1 tablespoon flour. Gradually add 1 cup light cream and return to heat. Cook, stirring until sauce is thick and smooth, but do not boil. Add 1 5-ounce can lobster meat broken into small pieces. Add salt and cayenne pepper to taste. To 2 well-beaten egg yolks add a little of the hot sauce, then stir the mixture into the sauce. Cook over boiling water for 3 minutes, stirring well. Add 2 tablespoons dry sherry (or 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 tablespoon water). Makes six to eight servings.

Conference of the Methodist church; prayer, Rev. Thomas A. Sinclair, regional director of the Northern New England Region of the Unitarian Churches; certification of the candidate, Rev. Kenneth W. Steere, chairman of the department of institutional ministry of the N. H. Council of Churches.

the United Baptist Convention of New Hampshire; prayer of installation, Rev. Everett Barrows, associate minister of the N. H. Congregational Christian Conference; words of welcome, John McLane, chairman of the board of trustees of the State hospital and Rev. Hartley Gradin, executive secretary of the N. H.
