HALEY WINS CONTEST FOR TOWN SELECTMAN

VARIED SUBJECTS DISCUSSED AT CIVICS DEPT. MEETING TUES.

The Civics Department of the Newmarket Women's club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Estelle Waugh last Tuesday following the town caucus, with Mrs. Beatrice Geoffrion, chairman, presiding.

It was decided to hang the new drapes bought for the library as a department project. This had been delayed until the painting, sanding and general repairs at the library were finished. Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Mary Labranche and Mrs. Geoffrion are serving on the committee appointed for this purpose. Plans call for completion of the project which has cost the department $78.60 and the drapes will be installed within the next two weeks.

Lengthy discussion was held regarding the appointment of a playground director for the coming season. Applications have been received by prospective applicants. However, it was decided to delay any announcement of the appointment until details are complete.

When the Civics department originally organized the playground 15 years ago, funds to pay for the director and equip the area were obtained through a series of food and rummage sales, tag days and annually soliciting the merchants and business men. The membership served as helpers on special event days and supplied much of the assistant labor. Over the years, individual members with growing families had less time to devote to these activities. A few years ago, an attempt was made to turn the playground over to the town and allow the townspeople greater responsibility in its management. The opinion of the voters appeared to be that of preferring to allot town funds to finance the project and that the role of the department be confined to responsibility for the practical management of these funds. The original appropriation was for $1,000.00

The appropriation last year was for $2,000. However, $500 of this was designated for Little League use. During the 1959 playground season, $750 was spent for a qualified director and assistant; $90 for bus transportation for the annual playground outing; $583 to the Filion Construction Co. for work on the tennis court; $302.50 for trucking and gravel for a total of $1,725.00. This does not include playground equipment, equipment repairs, new equipment, craft supplies, sporting events, supplies or other expenses. In addition to the town appropriation, department funds have been used to supplement the original sum.

Following the reading of expenditures of the past year, the membership decided to change the regular meeting night from the 4th Monday of the month to the 4th Thursday of each month.

The Newmarket Democratic Caucus was held in the Town Hall Tuesday night. Arthur Beauchesne, Democratic chairman, opened the business session at which Robert Rousseau was elected temporary clerk, and John L. Jordan, Moderator.

Elected Democratic candidates for the coming town meeting were as follows: Permanent clerk, Robert Rousseau; Town Treasurer for one year, Robert Labranche; Town Clerk for one year, Robert Rousseau; Tax Collector for 1 year, Mrs. Jennie Loiselle; Trustee of the Trust Fund for 3 years, Harold Mastin, Jr.

Of an estimated 2,000 registered voters in Newmarket, 390 appeared to cast their votes for the following 3 candidates who were seeking the Selectmen nomination. The results were Clinton Haley, 196; Albert W. Caswell, Sr., 169 and Harold Mastin, 25.

Like many other towns of comparable size, ours is a one-party town. It is a matter of local option whether or not members of other political parties will be welcomed. The local Democratic Committee has extended the courtesy of its caucus to all registered voters in town. It still remains a source of amazement as to why the taxpayers remain at home expressing dissatisfaction at the manner in which the town is run when on the other hand these same citizens could have attended this and similar meetings and actively attempted to remedy a situation or situations of which he disapproves.

The petition lists the corporation's liabilities at $1,266,342.25 including $592,674.38 in unsecured claims and $13,828.92 in unpaid wages.

The assets are listed at $639,086.77.

C.D. Unit Holds First Aid Class

The first in a series of four First Aid Classes sponsored by the Newmarket Civil Defense Unit was held Tuesday night at the fire house with Mrs. Robert Baxter of Stratham as instructor.

The class decided to hold an additional session of 3 hours in length, from 7 to 10 o'clock on March 22, March 29 and April 5th. The broken scheduling of the course is due to the Town Meeting and the School District Meeting which fall on consecutive Tuesday evenings.

Members are asked to bring their First Aid text books, material for taking notes, bandaging strips of sheeting at least one yard long and washable blankets for emergency use, to the next meeting.

Attending this first meeting were Mrs. Marguerite Keller, Robert Keller, George Griswold, Warren Sawyer, Ronald Grant, Ralph Willey, John Willey, Clayton Bloom, Ronald Bloom, Earl Hodgdon, George Hauschel, Mrs. Betty Philbrick, Herbert Philbrick, Mrs. Betty Harclerode, Fred Harclerode and Edward Zick.

MORE ABOUT THE MILLS

The Newmarket Manufacturing Company was incorporated in 1822, and in 1824 No. 1 mill was completed. No. 2 mill was built in 1825. In 1827, No. 3 mill was erected, but its machinery was not installed until 1829.

On September 1st, there was a fire in No. 2 mill and the building was totally destroyed, but a new mill was erected the next year. In 1869, No. 4 mill was erected and the Newmarket Manufacturing Company at this time operated 906 looms, and produced 160,000 yards of cotton cloth every week.

The first three mills were constructed of large blocks of granite and the fourth of slate.

The first mill to be constructed of brick was No. 5 mill in 1881. No. 6 mill was built in 1892 and is an extension of No. 5. No. 7 was built in 1901. The New Mill was built in 1918. It was the largest mill in the world on one floor.

In 1900, Mr. A. J. Nichols, agent of the mills installed the machinery and began the manufacture of silk.

For the first 25 years of its existence the Newmarket Manufacturing Company had four agents, the first being Stephen Hanson who was succeeded by Stephen A. Chase, and then came Benjamin Wheatland and then John Webster. Mr. Webster was succeeded by George W. Frost. He held this position for about 30 years. Frost's successor was Ambrose J. Nichols, who remained for 23 years. Mr. Nichols was succeeded by Joseph D. Ailsin and he by John L. Burton, who held the position until March 1, 1904.

The mills were run by water-power. The flow from the reservoirs at Pawtuckaway and Mendum Ponds was carefully watched and guarded almost every day, a trusty man from the Newmarket Manufactury Company visited these reservoirs during times of flood or drought to put or take off flash boards, repair leaks, etc. Not only did the Company look to the weather conditions for its supply of power but its raw materials were freighted by sail from Boston by way of Portsmouth and Great Bay to its wharves here. The finished products were returned to market the same way. After Great Bay was frozen over, all material was transported to and from Portsmouth by sled or wagon. Following are a few extracts from an old diary written at that time.

"November 22nd. Wind NE. A severe storm. Forty minutes past eight, a frame house belonging to Gilman, standing near John Haines', blew down. The storm was so bad that great apprehensions were entertained that the Gondola had met with some accident. Daniel Palmer and Meserve were dispatched by the bayside as far as Mathes Neck, to ascertain where she was. They returned in the afternoon, having seen nothing of her. Job Durgin and E. P. Smith went to Portsmouth by way of Piscataque and found the gondola safe at Portsmouth.

November 23rd. Shut down the mills except No. 1 card room at dark in preparation for Thanksgiving Day.

November 24th. Thanksgiving Day. S. A. Chase and B. Wheatland at Wadleigh Falls in the forenoon where they exchanged horses.

November 30th. Wind Northwest and clear. Very cold for the season. The river below froze nearly, or quite over last night. Packet which went down yesterday was prevented from coming up today, by the ice.

December 2nd. Very cold day for the season. The river closed up solid with ice last night. At night we loaded two teams with cloth on wheels for Porstmouth. Last night several hands went down river to break ice and get the Gondola and Packet out, but did not succeed. They both remain frozen in near Nat Stevenses."

Mary Richardson worked as bookkeeper for almost 15 years in Nos. 5 and 6 mills. During that time many funny things, as well as sad ones happened.

GALLANT MFG. EMPLOYEES RECEIVE FLU SHOTS

Some employees of the Gallant Manufacturing Company are shown above in a happy frame of mind as they receive flu shots, administered by Dr. Irving E. Brown, Jr., local physician. The shots were administered at the plant at the request and fine gesture of Mr. Gallant in trying to prevent spread of the flu in his plant. I remember how we had a new superintendent, Mr. Mason. He was a small man and wore a funny yellowish coat. When he first visited the Lower Weave Room, one of the weavers said, "What is that banana man doing here?" He was very quick motioned and would go through the looms like a cyclone. One day the scrubber had just finished scrubbing the floor, when along comes our friend in a hurry, as usual, and when he reached the wet spot, down he went and his little yellow coat was not as clean as it had been.

Johnnie W. used to book the cloth and he came down on the elevator, to the Lower Weave Room. The elevator was not closed in and Johnnie would jump out when it was going. One day he missed his reckoning and jumped too quick, the result being he lost the whole seat of his trousers and had to go home and get another pair.

One of our weavers by the name of Carolina (no one could pronounce her name), was out for a few days and came in after her pay, and she "ragged out"! She had on a muslin dress with a white ground work covered with red roses and a large white hat trimmed with red roses and I said, "O see the bunch of roses" and after that she never went by any other name. But that is not all about Carolina. Hearing a noise, I looked out and there was one of the loom fixers, Connie D. and behind him was "Bunch for Roses" and bringing up the rear was Joseph B., who said Carolina was sick and could I give her something. I said "Yes" and gave her two aspirins. About a half hour after that, Connie came in the office and said Carolina was so sick she had gone home and that I shouldn't have given her the aspirin. "Bunch of Roses" remained out about three months, and the next we heard she had presented the world with twin Red Roses, and Carolina blamed it all on the aspirin.

Former Newmarket Resident To Play Leading Role In 'Pajama Game'

Robert Leblanc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Leblanc of 41 Main Street, Durham, and formerly of Newmarket, has received the leading role in a revival of "The Pajama Game" — a musical which played on Broadway a few years ago starring John Raitt and Janis Paige. The show is being presented by The Frankl School of Music in Metuchen, New Jersey, and will travel to several cities in that area.

Besides playing the lead, Mr. Leblanc plays the leading comedy part in an alternate cast of the same show. The company has a duplicate cast, and one evening Mr. Leblanc will play the lead, and the next evening he plays the comedy part. This makes for an especially tricky problem in interpretation of parts, since Mr. Leblanc, at the same time is studying the leading role of Curly in "Oklahoma" to be presented on Cape Cod April 22nd and 23rd.

Mr. Leblanc attended Dover High School where he was graduated in 1952, having attended Dover and Newmarket Schools for the biggest part of the time. He then attended the University of New Hampshire, but left after a year and toured with a professional summer stock company, and studied further following that, in New York City. After a 2-year stint working with Special Services Entertainment, Mr. Leblanc returned to New York for further training and has since appeared in several New York productions, and guested over WNYC Radio with another appearance scheduled for March 19th.

Plans for the summer are to appear in summer stock with possible appearances in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Mrs. Vira Spencer of 29 Elm street, Andrew Kleczek, Dame road, Mrs. Lydia MacIntosh of Lee road, Kevin O'Donnell of Packers Falls road, and Ronald Dionne of 6 Grape street, are all patients at the Exeter Hospital.

GAMES POSTPONED

The Shuffleboard series between teams of the Polish Club and the Eagles was interrupted this week when the groups decided to postpone the games in favor of attending the Democratic Caucus.

The next regularly scheduled game will be played at the Eagles Hall.

Address O.R.S. P.T.A Members

An entertaining and enlightening program featuring two foreign students attending UNH highlighted the recent Oyster River PTA meeting in Durham.

Introduced by PTA president Ken Woodward, Miss Karaki Yasuko of Japan and Mr. Victor Weeraratne of Ceylon, appearing under the auspices of the N. H. Council for World Affairs, sketched their geographic backgrounds, education and reasons for coming to America and UNH which they followed by a comparative analysis of the educational systems in their respective countries and the United States. Mr. Weeraratne showed the group a series of beautiful colored slides of his country and of the University of Ceylon where he had been a student.

Refreshments were served by the third grade mothers.

Bright Ideas
PRETTY, PERKY pink shrimp in pink or yellow grapefruit will start Spring heading your way. No trick to it. Plan on half a grapefruit and six cleaned, cooked shrimp for every serving. Halve the grapefruit and remove the seeds. Carefully loosen the segments with a sharp knife. Then take out every other segment. In each empty segment, place a shrimp, with the tail end sticking up toward the center. Chill. Serve with a seasoned oil-vinegar dressing.

DO YOU HAVE A YEN to take a trip this summer? You're smart to start your plans this winter. The best vacation trips result from a carefully planned itinerary and a realistic budget. So here's a tip: Check with your local bank to see what travel services it offers. You may be pleasantly surprised at how much help it can give you. Banks today grant travel loans, provide vacation saving plans, sell traveler's checks, issue letters of credit and transfer funds. Some even make airline, train and hotel reservations. And a few even maintain complete travel departments.

"THE SEVEN AGES OF MAN" are milestones a man should commemorate with portrait photographs in direct color, according to a prize-winning portrait photographer from Texas. Paul Linwood Gittings of Dallas and Houston says "A man owes it to his family, his business and, if he is prominent, the press, to keep a current photograph available." The "Seven Ages," Gittings conclude, are (1) his graduation from college, (2) when he takes a professional degree or finds his place in the business world, (3) his wedding, (4) when he receives some special recognition or award, (5) his mid-thirties when a group photograph of the whole family should be taken, (6) his 50th birthday, and (7) his grandfatherly years, again a time for a group photograph. Optional "ages" include the 60th birthday and the all-important 70th birthday, when he takes over as the statesmanlike elder of the family.

A LUSH AND HEALTHY lawn can be yours this summer if you start caring for the green grass early in the season, says lawn expert Tom Blankley of the Antrol Garden Information Center. One of the essentials for a thriving lawn is the right balance of topsoil ingredients, Blankley says. So it's well worth the extra time and effort to get a soil analysis from your County Agricultural Agent or State Agriculture Experiment Station. Just give them a sample of the top four inches of your soil — about a spade-full. When you receive the report from the testing lab, see your neighborhood gardening store for the particular fertilizer, lime, sand or other ingredients you may need.

HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING
A special meeting of the Busy Beavers 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. Velma Szacik, leader. Health was the theme for discussion. Following a brief business meeting, the 10 members attending, adjourned to the out-of-doors and enjoyed late season skating and sliding. Hot chocolate was served by the hostess.

Expect Over 200 Students At H.S. Invitation Music Festival Friday

An Invitation Music Festival will be held Friday at Newmarket High School with over 200 students from Nute High School of Milton, Oyster River of Durham and Raymond combining under the direction of Dr. John Whitlock of the University of New Hampshire. The groups will rehearse and also have a combined general rehearsal during the afternoon.

A concert of the combined chorus will be held at 7:30 in the evening. Selections to be offered include: "To Thee We Sing"; "Danny Down Beat"; "I Wish I Wuz"; "You'll Never Walk Alone"; "One Final Song." The Oyster River band will be present to accompany the choral groups.

Dr. Whitlock came to the University of New Hampshire last year. He is head of the Music Education department and assistant professor of music. Prior to this he had served as assistant Band Director at the University of Iowa. He has had over 20 years experience in public and college music teaching and came to UNH from the University of New Orleans, La.

Lyrics for the selection "Danny Down Beat" were composed by Carl Bratton of the University of New Hampshire in collaboration with Harry Wilson of the School of Music of Columbia University. It is believed that this is the first time the song has been included in a program in the New England area.

Tickets for the concert are available at the high school or from high school students and may also be purchased at the door on the night of the Festival.

Parish Circle Holds Meeting

The Parish Circle of the Community Church met in the vestry Tuesday night with Mrs. Clayton Bloom, presiding.

Mrs. Stella Cilley served as devotional leader. Mrs. Nellie Anderson reported that the $75 which the Fireside Forum recently allocated for new equipment for the church kitchen had been used to buy utensils and items suitable for church suppers. She then suggested on behalf of the Forum that an equal sum from the Parish Circle would buy the remainder of the necessary items. It was decided to provide the requested sum to finish the project.

Mrs. L. Forbes Getchell announced that the Fireside Forum has made plans to operate a Thrift Shop which will be located in the basement of the church in the room formerly occupied by the kindergarten class. The hours are not as yet scheduled, but present plans call for the shop to be opened as soon as possible.

Mrs. Mildred Cashman, Mrs. Helen Dodd and Mrs. Isabelle Dearborn were appointed to serve on the nominating committee and present a slate of officers at the Annual Meeting, April 5th. Annual reports of officers will be submitted and the new officers elected.

Mrs. Jennie Griswold showed "Fun with Frosting", and demonstrated her skill on a layer cake and small cup cakes and showed the simplest and easiest methods of frosting. She also explained and illustrated the making of a frosting rose, daisy, lily of the valley and sweet peas.

Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Mitchell, chairman; Mrs. Fred Doe, Mrs. Charles Norton, Mrs. Norman Cilley, Mrs. Harold Szacik and Mrs. John Dodds.

4-H Mules Hold Regular Meeting

The 4-H Mules held a regular meeting at the home of Kenneth Anderson on Packers Fall road with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Helen Filion supervising their activities.

A new member, Larry Smith, of Bay road was accepted as a member of the club.

After the business meeting, Mr. Anderson led the group in the first of a series of discussions devoted to electronics, a subject which the club has chosen for a project.

Mrs. Betty Philbrick, Newmarket Heart Fund chairman, attended and asked for volunteers to assist with the weekend canvassing. The boys responded 100 per cent and each was assigned an area and provided with official Heart Fund material.

The boys agreed to return the money collected at the next meeting at Mrs. Helen Filion's.

Last week dogs drove a nice buck into the bay over on the Greenland shore. This was witnessed by a group of smelt fishermen who tried to recue the deer. When they reached the buck it had already died. What killed it was the sudden shock of the cold water on its overheated body. A little good may come out of this witnessed kill of a deer by a pack of dogs. The fishermen who saw this kill will no doubt tie up their dogs for the duration of the critical snow period. This killing of deer by dogs will never be entirely stamped out, but every deer we save now will add to our thinning herd.

Rabbit season ended last Tuesday with a poor tracking snow to find sign but a good running crust for our short legged beagles. This has been a fair season for the rabbit hunters but of course the weather never seems to bother those boys. Rabbit hunters claim best results on a moist snow cover of about 3". Dry snow, they claim, plugs the dogs sniffers, which is worst, wet feet or a plugged sniffer?

My old Uncle "Flub" flew in from Florida last Friday with a gunny sack full of wild tales. As soon as I can sort the extra wild tales from the printable ones, I will pass them on to our readers. Here is one of the first mild stories he told. Old "Flub" is quite a large man or you could just call him plain fat. So, when he boarded the plane he and Mrs. "Flub" took a seat in the back of the plane. The poor pilot tried six times to get that plane into the air, but the tail refused to leave the ground. It just dragged along like the tail of a kite. The pilot than asked old "Flub" to move to the front of the plane. The airplane then took off quite nicely. Down at the Macallen, we wonder whether "Flub" paid the regular rate or the air freight rate.

Last Sunday, I took a close look at the fish and game dam in Greenland which has recently been completed. It's a fine dam and it makes a swell looking pond, but I fail to see why so much money was blown on that project. It is supposed to be a wildlife refuge and look as I may I couldn't see anything wilder then a sparrow sitting on the dam. Being a gunner of sorts, I would have rather seen the money spent on a new pheasant rearing pen or the establishment of a wild turkey flock. This would have benefitted many more sportsmen. I would think that the people who supply this money should have more say as to how it should be spent. Spend the fishing license money on fish and the hunting license money on hunting.

Parents and sportsmen are cautioned to keep a close watch on the condition of the ice on ponds and especially rivers. This is the time of year when conditions change overnight.

Better to be safe and dry then wet and possibly worst.

Generally known as just plain Partridge to the bird hunter. This bird, one of our more abundant game birds, is a tough hard-flying fellow who will, no doubt, flush up before bird gunners as long as there are hunters around to hunt for him. He is one of the few game birds who can stand the steadily spreading civilization as he depends on his wits and not a vast wilderness to survive.

American Legion News

by Fred L. Beale

The Robert G. Durgin Post #67 will hold its regular meeting Monday night, March 7th, at which time the 50/50 Club awards will be drawn and the regular meeting jack pot will be drawn and the member whose name is called must be present and have his 1960 dues paid. The jack pot is about $30.00 this meeting.

The first installation of the season is on Tuesday night

March 8th, at the Northwood Post. A rehearsal of the installation team is scheduled at our hall on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., March 6th.

The membership of this Post is now 325. Sixty more to catch up with last year and one hundred and twelve to make us a 100% Post. How about a little cooperation and get those dues in. The longevity cards will be given out later this month and further notice will be in this column of the date.

The new heating system is slowly being installed and it will not be long before the heat is turned on.

Remember, March 8th is election day and town meeting excitement will predominate the activities of the day. Every eligible voter in town should do his duty and turn out and vote. Get something for your Poll Tax expense.

Robert M. Bozell, 40, of Columbus, Ind., is the American Legion's two millionth member for 1960.

The 37th Annual National Rehabilitation Conference of the American Legion will be March 1-4, at the the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Pacing the national membership growth in the Sons of The American Legion, the Detachment of Ohio has been declared the winner of the Arthur D. Houghton Trophy which is awarded annually to that detachment attaining the greatest percentage of increase over the precious year's membership. What has become of the Sons of our New Hampshire Veterans?

Stamp Collectors News

by Mrs. Ione Kent

As Boy Scout stamps have recently been released this bit of news is appropriate — Of the 5,000,000 Boy Scouts in this country, 2,000,000 boys are stamp collectors. The Scouts have had a Merit Badge in stamp collecting for 30 years. More than 150,000 scouts have qualified for this honor.

A stamp collector's friend wished to give the collector some nice stamps but knew nothing about them. He went to a stamp counter and asked for some pretty stamps. The clerk was aghast. At that time philatelists collected by countries and subjects regardless of looks. With the topical, especially birds, butterflies and flowers, a clerk would not be so surprised. A request for colorful stamps would not seem queer now, as the African Republics are issuing many now. However the stamps with the most color in each one are the Liberian ones drawn by the artist Arthur Szyk.

The United Nations has called for the countries around the world to honor the World Refugee Year, phitalincally. Tago, whose independence will be proclaimed Apr. 27th has issued three designs. These stamps honor the Refugee Year and also convey a surcharge for Refugee relief.

Both Brazil and Uruguay are issuing special stamps marking President Eisenhower's visit to South America. Other countries are expected to have pictorial cancellations.

If you are interested in aviation with a topical collection of planes the new series to be issued March 12th by Levinarn should be a must — five triangular stamps which really give the story of civil aviation planes starting with Lindbergh's "We."

To Beginners.

Should you acquire some old letters you might do well to get advice from a collector before removing the stamps. Some stamps are much more valuable kept on their original envelopes. Letters inside these envelopes also could be valuable for their historical material.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

TEEN-AGERS TAKE NOTE

The following "letter to the editor" has been "reprinted so many times that its origin has become lost", according to Reader's Digest. But its point is as sharp as ever, for young people who demand a never-ending "good time" as an obligation owed them by society:

Always we hear the spoiled plaintive cry of the teen-ager: "What can we do; where can we go?"

I can make some suggestions. Go home!

Paint the woodwork. Mow the lawn. Wash the car. Learn to cook. Scrub some floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job!

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your village does not owe you recreational facilities.

The world does not owe you a living.

You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents.

Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick. Assist the poor. And when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.
