Tank Contract Awarded

A special meeting was held last Monday night by the Newmarket Water Commissioners to decide on one of the three bids submitted by contractors for repairs to the standpipe on Great Hill. The contract was awarded to Roy O. Leonard, whose firm had submitted a bid of $4,335.00. Award was based on the fact that in addition to having submitted the lowest bid, Leonard included in his estimate repairs exceeding the required specifications that received from Maynard Young surpassed those offered by the for $5,400.00, Indiana Tank other two firms. Bids were also Service for $4,527.00.

Gravelling of the access routes to the tank was in progress this week with the actual work began this morning at approximately 9:30 a.m.

The water works pumping station is now on a 24 hour schedule and the Water Board is extending an invitation to the public to visit the pumping station Sunday, April 24th, during the period while the work is in progress.

Residents may visit at any hour convenient to them and will find a member of the water department available and willing to explain the operation of the station and its facilities.

Miss Roxana Tourigny Renders Successful Easter Organ Recital

On Easter Sunday a recital was held at the Tourigny's residence with Roxana Tourigny playing an Easter Recital which was very well attended.

The program was played in its original form with the addition of two popular numbers which were arranged by Roxana. These were greatly enjoyed by those attending to such extent that her listeners enjoyed singing several choruses of some of the well known popular songs.

Her program consisted of compositions by Bach, Petro Yon, Sigmund Romberg and Boëllmann which were done extremely well. Most sensational and outstanding were the renditions from Sinto Gothique. They were outstanding because of their classic form — they are not usually mastered by anyone of Roxana's age.

At the end of the recital Roxana was presented a beautiful bouquet of yellow roses by her sister Pamela. In conclusion, she presented her teachers, Sister Mary Rita and Benjamin A. Richardson and also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Tourigny.

Roxana is being instructed by Benjamin A. Richardson who is a graduate of Van Deer Veer School of Music, Asbury Park, N. J. He furthered his musical education at Columbia and New York Universities in New York City majoring in organ and ecclesiastical music.

He has conducted many church choirs and choral groups in Baltimore, Md., Philadelphia, Penn., Newark, N. J., New York City and the New England area. He has been a colleague of the American Guild of Organists.

Now, he devotes much of his time to the training of organists and the building and conditioning of organs.

Atty. Russell H. McGuirk, prominent Newmarket judge, announced today that he will seek the Republican nomination for the state Senate in the 23rd District.

McGuirk was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1956, and pointed out in today's announcement of his candidacy that many people suggested to him at the time that he should first seek state office before aspiring to a major post.

McGuirk said:

"I will work for the adoption of the following programs:

"1. Continued sound management of public finances to avoid any new taxes.

"2. Less government to insure individual liberties.

"3. Realignment of existing tax methods to relieve the property owner and active cooperation with CONSTIT to relieve our citizens by lawful means against the levy of Massachusetts income tax.

"4. Improve standards and curriculum in the public school system.

"5. More adequate probation program for juvenile reclamation.

"6. A state voluntary program for that lost age group following graduation from high school and readiness to be absorbed by the labor market. The program being aimed for those unable to attend higher education so that without advantage either of birth or of favor they may attain the mold and ideal of manhood which every father would like his son aspire to, and if possible attain.

"7. More and improved industrial planning to introduce into the state, industries requiring skills that will raise the wage scale and insure full employment to our citizens.

"8. Revamping of the present Workmen's Compensation Act to provide broader, more adequate coverage to the injured workman."

'THIS IS TIME TO BUY HOMES,' MAJORITY OF SURVEY BELIEVE

The majority of people think that this is a good time to buy houses, according to a recent survey of consumer finances by the University of Michigan.

"Opinions about the housing market were adversely affected by the rising interest rates in the fall of last year," the survey said, but "they recovered substantially."

Specifically, at the time the survey was taken (January and February), 49 per cent of the persons contacted said that this was a good time to buy a home. This percentage compares with the 38 per cent that gave a similar answer in October and November of 1959.

Twenty-eight per cent of the persons queried in January and February indicated uncertainty on the current wisdom of a home purchase, and 23 per cent said that it was a "bad time to buy."

The survey contained also encouraging news with respect to prospects for the maintenance of the total housing inventory.

Twenty-five per cent of all persons included in the survey in January and February indicated intentions to spend $50 or more in the improvement or maintenance of their homes. This is the highest percentage on record.

In general, the survey found "a marked improvement in consumers' inclinations to buy durable goods" from late 1959 to January and February of this year.

Former Newmarket Girl Married In Calif. Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Bouras of 27 Midway Park, Somersworth and formerly of Newmarket, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Bouras of San Francisco, Calif., to Ralph B. Johnson, also of San Francisco. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Johnson of Grand Junction, Colo.

The marriage was solemnized at the Church of the Annunciation in San Francisco with the Rev. Meletios Tripodakis performing the ceremony. Rev. John Liadis assisted.

For the double ring ceremony, the bride wore a gown of white lace and silk organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice, sabrina neckline and ballerina-length skirt. Her elbow length veil fell from a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Jean Johnson of Dever, Colorado, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a pink silk organza gown and carried an arrangement of American beauty roses.

Mrs. Catherine Nuckols, the former Catherine Theodore of Dover, changed the crowns, in keeping with the Greek Orthodox custom.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the House of Lawton in San Francisco.

Following a honeymoon in Monterey, Carmel and Santa Barbara, Calif., the couple plan to make their home at 105 Eighteenth Ave., San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouras flew to California for their daughters wedding.

The bride graduated from Newmarket High School and studied at MacIntosh Business College and has been employed as a secretary for the Utah Mining Co. Her husband was educated at Western Illinois University in Macomb, Ill., and is employed as a cost accountant.

Many Library Improvements Administered In Recent Years

To any interested taxpayer, invertebrate reader, or guest who may have visited the Newmarket Library during or because of the observance of National Library Week, it was clearly discernable that the library as a whole is in the best condition within memory of the oldest living resident. This has not always been the case. From sheer necessity during the post depression years little money was spent on its upkeep. Later, the town fathers, though the town had made some progress on the road to financial recovery — still economy minded — allowed the building to lapse into a state of amazing disrepair.

During the 1957-1958 club year, the Newmarket Womens Club considered a project for entry in the Community Betterment Contest. The judging in this contest is conducted in 3 areas; the need for the project in the community, the benefit of the project, and the number of other groups helping to make the project a success.

The condition and need of the library were self-evident. Any prize money won in this contest is required to be used for the benefit of the community. Prize money had been won by the Newmarket Club in a former contest in which the club submitted its Teen Canteen Program. This sum formed the basis for the coming project.

The condition of the library indicated a need for some type of action. The library project was entered in the contest.

The road in front of the building had been relocated, work was begun on what is now referred to as the "mound", tulips were planted in a crescent shaped bed to provide a welcome to the traveller passing by. With the help of town labor, trees around the building were cut, the best being retained for later shade. A horticultural specialist from the UNH suitable plantings for the building and ground. The cost of plants, vines, 500 tulip bulbs and the services of a professional nurseryman was over $200. With permission from the trustees, the tower room was washed and prepared for painting, the crumbling plaster patched, the ceiling whitened and the room painted shades of rose at a cost of $300.

Metal chairs for use in the room were purchased with money solicited from business firms and individuals. Macallen, Brisson and Kent, Gallant Mfg. Co., Sam Smith Shoe Co., Kingston and Warren Mfg. Companies, Mrs. Gertrude Hauschel, Mrs. Odele Tennant, and Great Bay Motor Co., as well as local organizations supplied the required necessary funds for their purchase.

The three departments of the Newmarket Womens Club; the Home Economics, the American Home and the Civics Department, each bought two metal tables. In addition, the departments have supplied many items for both the main library and the Tower room.

The Civics department supplied book and more recently has donated drapes to the library at a cost of over $100. The American Home department bought the new library sign posted at the front door, a librarians stool, childrens story books, a subscription to National Geographic Magazine, and a large dictionary and is awaiting the delivery of a large heavy-duty rubber mat for use from the front door to the counter inside. This department also sponsored the Childrens reading hour during the winter months. Members of the Home Economics department have purchased reference books and assisted on the advisory committee.

The Tower room was originally used only by the Boy Scouts because of its former appearance and condition, but now the room is used for weekly card parties (which raise money for further improvements) and for small group meetings.

The Newmarket Womens Club spent well over $1000 on this project and didn't even get an honorable mention for their entry in the Community Betterment Contest but the interest and efforts of a relatively small group of people communicated itself to other individuals and groups in town. Since that time, new lighting in both the library and Tower room has replaced the bare bulbs which were suspended from the ceiling on 20 ft. cords. The library has also been painted and the floors sanded. Both the interior and exterior are a pleasant reminder of the increased benefits of public interest.

Henry Tufts, Horse Thief

Henry Tufts, we are sorry to say, was born in Newmarket of poor but honest parents the 24th of June, 1748. When he was about 14 years of age, he started out on his career of crime by stealing apples, pears, cucumbers and other fruits of the earth.

One day he was in a neighbor's house when he saw the mistress of the home with a paper money bill in her hand, which she placed in a corner of the kitchen cupboard where she thought it would be safe. This bill looked very attractive to Henry, with its pictures and flourishes which adorned it. He had heard that the value of such money was equal to the like sum in silver, so the young thief had plans to sneak in when no one was around and get the bill.

He succeeded, unnoticed by the family. The woman soon found her money gone and remembered that no one else had been in the house recently but Henry. She decided he must have taken it and she went straight to his father, who when told of the theft had the culprit forthcoming with a vengeance. Henry at first disclaimed all knowledge of the fact but finally had to confess and return the bill to the owner.

When Henry was twenty-one years old he decided it was time he provided for himself, so he went to his father and asked him to bestow some of his property on him, as an encouragement to industry and towards his obtaining a comfortable subsistence in the world, in the same proportion as he had done for his elder brother.

His father for some time evaded all direct answers to his request. Henry kept teasing him until finally he told him that he had decided that his eldest son should possess the whole estate. Hen was very much disappointed, as his labor had contributed in a great measure to the support of the family.

He decided to approach his father once more to obtain his paternal assistance, but he remained inflexible. He was very angry and resolved to appropriate some portion of his personal property as a partial payment for the labor and toil expended in his service.

Hen decided the best thing to do was to take his father's horse, so accordingly under pretense of riding but a few miles, he fled with the horse to Chester, New Hampshire, where he sold it for thirty dollars in ready money. He had never had so much money before and for nearly two weeks he strolled from place to place. The money kept going, until not much was left, so he decided to go home and tell his father how sorry he was for what he had done.

Hen then went to Lee, where the family now resided. When he approached his father, he appeared sorely displeased and wanted to know where his horse was. Hen told him and gave him the rest of the money from the sale of the horse.

When Hen was twenty-two years old he married a young woman from Durham, Lydia Bickford. Henry was charged with stealing two bushels of rye from a man named Burtleigh, but was allowed to go home as there was not enough proof. But the people of Lee believed he did steal them and treated him with contempt and discourtesy, so he decided to leave home.

He journeyed to Saco where a man by the name of James Dennis procured a job for him clearing land, where he worked for a while and then, not getting money enough, he and Dennis decided to break into a store in Saco, owned by a Mr. Pickard. So one night when everyone had retired they had no trouble in getting in as they forced the door open. They found little money but they found some English goods and other commodities worth about $200, which they took. After, they made their way through the town and travelled westwardly six or eight miles until they came to the home of Dennis's friend Richard Dutton, where they stayed all night.

The next day Dennis and Dutton took a few trinkets to sell. They sold them so cheap that some of the people decided the goods had been stolen and called the magistrate who finally got Dutton (the privilege of admission as King's evidence, being promised him) at last confessed all and Dennis who was so closely pressed that he confessed every fact and told what he knew about Henry Tufts.

The officers then came to the home of Dutton who gave them the residue of the goods. Dennis and Tufts were then taken to Saco and were escorted under a strong guard to Falmouth (now Portland jail) and there confined in irons.

For fifteen days the two suffered from cold and lack of bedding, until Dennis said if they could persuade Mr. Modley to give them a little fire he was sure they could burn a passage through the side of the jail and make their escape. So the next day they asked the arresting the fire but the jail was nearly ruined and was thought unsuitable for prisoners, and it was decided they should go to the old York jail after Thanksgiving and until then the men were kept under guard in Mr. Madley's family. After Thanksgiving the men were taken to old York where they were for nineteen days.

Mr. Pickard, the prosecutor, came one day to see Henry and told him he would have him freed if he would ship in with his brother on a three months voyage to the West Indies. Hen agreed and he and his benefactor set out for Ipswich. When Mr. Pickard reached Newbury Old Town, he went into a tavern and invited Henry in but he didn't care to go and so Mr. Pickard told him to go on and he would catch up with him.

Henry started off but took the wrong road, got lost, and never saw his benefactor again. He decided he better go home and visit his family.

Home Purchase At Earlier Age Is Present Trend

FHA last week released statistics documenting the observed trend of the public to purchase homes at an earlier age and pointing to the age range of 25 to 30 as the largest concentration of home buyers under its mortgage insurance program.

- According to the FHA report:
1. The typical purchaser of a home with FHA mortgage insurance is now between 33 and 34 years old. In the first nine months of 1959, the median age of new home buyers was 33 and that of existing buyers was 33.9.
 2. The age at which persons become home owners has been dropping since 1939. In that year, the typical ages of new and existing-home buyers were 36.2 years and 40 years, respectively.
 3. Well over half of all home purchasers are under age 35, and the age group between 25 and 30 accounts for 24.5 per cent of new home buyers, and for 22.6 per cent of existing-home purchasers.

Julian H. Zimmerman, FHA commissioner, maintained that the progressively lower age of the typical FHA mortgagor reflects "to a considerable extent" the increasingly liberal provisions for FHA insured mortgages. He pointed out that lower down payments have reduced the time required to accumulate the initial equity, and that longer terms loans have brought monthly payments within the reach of the lower incomes of young wage earners.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

ALFRED CAMIRE

Alfred Camire, 56, of Epping road, a lifelong resident of Newmarket, died last Thursday at the Portsmouth Naval hospital after a brief illness.

He had been employed as a chipper and caulker at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard for 12 years. He was a member of the Polish American Citizens Club, and the Lamprey Aerie of Eagles.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery with Father Dumas reciting the committal office.

Medical Progress

The contemporary use of x-rays to diagnose and treat disease is less than seventy years old. Professor Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen discovered this mysterious ray in 1895 and precisely because of its unknown qualities called it "x-ray."

Auxiliary Police To Demonstrate During Civil Defense Field Days

The Auxiliary Police Unit held a meeting following the Civil Defense meeting to complete plans for their role in the coming practice alert, May 3rd. At the suggestion of Police Chief John Valliere, steps were taken to set-up three traffic check points during the alert. Pedestrian and vehicle traffic will be halted on Main street at St. Marys school, 21 Main street at the Eagles Hall, and at the intersection of Creighton and Exeter streets.

Demonstrations of Auxiliary Police training, work and uses will be conducted during the coming Civil Defense Field Days, April 30th and May 1st, at Turcottes Parking Lot on Main street. If possible a film explaining the meaning and uses of Civil Defense will be shown in conjunction with the event to better depict the need for and benefits derived from a well-trained C.D. organization.

A snack bar offering a variety of refreshments will be staffed by Auxiliary Police members.

The next meeting of the auxiliary police will be held in the auxiliary police office in the town hall at 7:30, April 25th, to complete arrangements for the upcoming C.D. Field Day.

Invisible Rays

X-rays are invisible rays of radiant energy capable of penetrating the human body and tracing a shadowy image of body structures on film. This enables the radiologist, or physician specializing in their use, to detect disease.

Stomach Cancer

A recent study at the University of Chicago Clinics disclosed that x-ray examination is the best way to detect stomach cancer, it was reported by Dr. N. M. Strandford at a recent meeting of the Radiological Society of North America.

Local Civil Defense Unit Prepares For Forthcoming Operation Alert

The Newmarket Civil Defense Unit held its monthly meeting last Monday night with the coming Operation Alert 1960, to be held May 3, 4 and 5, one of the prime subjects discussed.

May 3rd, the Yellow Alert will be received from state CD headquarters via the telephone network. The Red Alert will be sounded by the fire alarm at 3:00 p.m. and remain in effect until 3:15. All available unit members will report to the fire house for assignment. Sealed orders from headquarters will then be opened and their content will determine the course of action to be taken. The public is advised to take the best available cover. All traffic will be halted at three check points.

The Newmarket school system is participating in this alert. Students will not be dismissed until 3:20, after the all clear is sounded. Cooperation of local industries will also be sought in an effort to reduce the pedestrian and vehicle movement resulting from work shift changes which occur in mid afternoon.

Mrs. Martha Elliott has been appointed to the manning staff to work with the schools and education officers, namely Leo Landroche, Edward O'Connor and Rev. Robert Bryson. Ben Richardson has been appointed as Industrial Relations officer and he will work with the Selectmen, Civil Defense chairman and representatives of local industries, to obtain a workable participation if possible.

Howard Getchell, Frank Szabo, John Willey and Ronald Bloom were welcomed as new members of the unit.

Chairman George Hauschel congratulated members who recently completed the Red Cross First Aid Standard course under the instruction of Mrs. Muriel Baxter, Red Cross instructor and awarded certificates to the following; Mrs. Marguerite Keller, Robert Keller, Mrs. Betty Harclerode, Fred Harclerode, Mrs. Martha Elliott, Mrs. Jean Bloom, Earl Hodgdon, Jr., Ronald Bloom, John Willey, Ralph Willey, George Griswold and Mrs. Betty Philbrick.

Six members, Robert Pratt, Fred Harclerode, Tideo Beaulieu, Bill Cote, Ralph Willey and George Beauchesne reported on their recent attendance at an Auxiliary Police instruction class held in Durham. Another meeting in this series will be held May 18 at 7:30 at the Durham fire house. Interested members are invited to attend.

Announcement was made that any sizeable items of equipment obtained through Civil Defense must be marked with an official CD decal. The helmets obtained through surplus are being prepared by Clayton Bloom. Bloom has undertaken the project of sanding and painting. Supplies for this purpose were donated by Griffin Hardware, Inc.

The possibility of discontinuing regular monthly meetings was presented. It was suggested that because of workable efficiency of the smaller groups, each could meet monthly and the complete unit hold a meeting on alternate months. Decision on this matter was tabled until fall.

A Civil Defense Field Day has been planned for April 30 and May 1st. Turcotte Hardware has donated the use of its large parking lot on Main street for the event.

Equipment obtained through surplus and matching funds will be put on display with members present to operate and explain each. Two tents recently received will be set up possibly as a First Aid station and canteen suitable for emergency feeding or during a forest fire emergency. If possible a film demonstrating the value of Civil Defense will be shown.

The auxiliary police unit will be responsible for the safety of all equipment in place and will stand 24 hour practice watches, as well as displaying their skill in traffic emergencies and local disaster training. The snack bar will be staffed by members of the Auxiliary Police unit.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Griffin Insurance Agency Sponsors Local Jr. Fire Marshals Campaign

Junior Fire Marshals in Newmarket will next week join a nationwide Spring Clean-Up doorknob-tagging campaign in behalf of fire safety.

Second, Third and Fourth grade school children who earned Junior Fire Marshal credentials during Fire Prevention Week last Fall will leave fire safety reminder tags on doorknobs in every area of the community during the week-long clean-up drive.

John Perkins, local agent for the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. which sponsors the public service program for elementary school youngsters in thousands of U.S. communities, is supervising the door-tagging activity in cooperation with local school authorities.

Citing figures compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, Mr. Perkins said, "More than 36,000 fires in the United States each year are attributed to accumulation of trash and waste materials. Dollar-loss from these fires alone is estimated at $58,000,000."

"Even more tragic," he added, "is that many of these fires, some of them fatal, could have been prevented simply by keeping homes and public buildings free of combustible waste."

The Spring Clean-Up tag, which will be attached to millions of doorknobs throughout the country, carries these five safety suggestions:

1. Dipose of winter accumulation in basement, attic, garage.
2. Rake dry leaves and weeds from around the house.
3. Before you burn trash, make sure local ordinances permit. Then, burn only when the wind is not blowing. Do your burning in an incinerator. Keep a hose handy.
4. Put lids on paint cans when day's painting is finished.
5. Store oily rags in covered metal containers.

The tags are being distributed through local grammar schools along with the Spring issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine. This edition, one of three distributed during the school year, includes an interesting and educational story about great fires of the past. The children are shown how lessons learned from these fires can save their lives and the lives of their loved one.

The Junior Fire Marshal Spring Clean-Up campaign is just one of the fire safety events sponsored annually by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company and its local agent, The Griffin Insurance Agency. Since the Junior Fire Marshal program was introduced 13 years ago, more than 28 million boys and girls, including a sizable representation from Newmarket have qualified for this life and property saving fire safety brigade.

Attorney Ralph E. Langdell of Manchester, prominent Republican leader, has joined the "Gregg for Governor" campaign as State Finance Chairman, it was announced today by former Governor Hugh Gregg who is seeking the Republican nomination in the September Primary. Richard C. Kohls of Grasmere will serve as Assistant Fiscal Agent.

San-Wal Kennels Graduates' Jobs Win At Dog Show To Be Problem Says SIR Head

San-Wal Kennels of Lee, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sanborn, claimed two winners at the Rockingham County Kennels Club Sanction Match which was held recently in Exeter. Tammy won second place in the Open Female Class and San-Wal Sensation won first place in American Bred Class going on to win Best of Bred. Sensation also placed 4th in the Working Group.

The Sanborns' collies have won many prizes throughout New England and are highly regarded for their good disposition which are guaranteed. Spring whelping is on schedule with the Sanborn first female having given birth to seven beautiful sables and whites last week.

Finding jobs for the nation's mushrooming crop of college graduates will be one of the outstanding problems of the sixties, Clinton B. Snyder, Hoboken, N. J., president of the Society of Industrial Realtors, predicted in a recent speech.

Observing that these graduates will want good jobs, Mr. Snyder said that the nation's economy is not now "growing fast enough to absorb them all." He cited federal tax relief on a selective basis as a possible solution.

This tax relief would be aimed at promoting industrial growth which would in turn create job opportunities, according to the SIR president. He predicted that "tax reductions in the sixties will be feasible."

In another address, Mr. Snyder commended Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller "for spark plugging programs that tend to mean — year in and year out — more jobs for more Americans."

Specifically cited by the SIR executive was the Department's Office of Area Development which has "ably stimulated areas with problems to solve them under their own steam with technical assistance."

All boat owners who have 10 h.p. or larger motors and who have not registered with the Federal Government should drop into the local Post Office and pickup the Federal stamp. If your luck runs as bad as my own you could get a ticket on the first day out.

This new Federal stamp should not be confused with the regular State plates. This stamp is in addition to your regular boat plates and is required on both salt and fresh water. As far as I know the State plates are not required on salt water as long as you stick to salt water. If your boat is under 16 ft. long, you do not need Federal numbers on salt water but you must be equipped with life preservers, fire extinguishers and required lights if you run after dark.

These salt water regulations are strictly enforced by the local Coast Guard station. I might add that we were stopped and checked many times last summer. If you are found without the proper equipment, you are ordered back to shore and usually presented with a nice little ticket. These salt water regulations are drawn up by salt water men and are accepted all over the world. So, be on the safe side and observe these rules down to the last letter.

If you had a little trouble locating "Doc" Brown a week ago Wednesday, there was a good reason. Young Doc put his pills on the shelf and took off up country to Lake Winnisquam for a little salmon fishing. He picked up a nice 3½ pound salmon and as fisherman will say, he lost one at least twice as large. My old Uncle Flub, who just happened to be up at the lake, wanted to know if "Doc" removed the 1-lb. lead sinker before the "Mrs." cooked up the salmon. How about that, "Doc"?

Well, Maine is at it again. The nice spring weather must set those boys off, for every Spring we read about the big Maine deer. You know, the old story. Our Maine deer must be a different strain of whitetail, because they grow so much bigger than New Hampshire deer. Well, I checked with Augusta, Fish and Game Department, for heaviest official deer, buck or doe, on record.

You know, it was quite a surprise to learn that a gent down at Pease A.F.B. outshot the whole state of Maine with a 325 lb. dressed 8 point buck. This was official weight checked by our local warden. This out-weighed Maine's biggest buck by 14 lbs. Our local hunters have shot some large deer.

Frank, Walker, 220+ plus; Ed Ross, 217 lbs.; Dick Atherton, 200 lb. buck; Mike Menter knocked over a 287 lb. buck. This list might well be New Hampshire's answer to Maine's wild claims.

Our little friend Mr. Brook Trout will catch heck tomorrow as the 1960 season opens at day break, which by the way, comes at 4:51 a.m. So set alarms and butter up the wife, if you intend to eat breakfast. Ten fish or 5lbs., no-limit on length.

Quite a few deer have been spotted during the week. Three does were seen just below Ed Hilton's on the Epping road, 2 does were seen crossing Plant's field on the Ash Swamp road, just this side of the dump.

This is a good sign of all these deer were does. We could, with luck, look for an increase of 10 young deer. With these 10 deer plus the 5 does and a buck or two, we could have a fair sized herd in that area.

The Fish and Game Department claimed to have released 1,225,000 catchable brook, brown and rainbow in our New Hampshire ponds, brooks and lakes. This should mean some nice fat creel limits.

Just a few corrections on last week's little league news.

On Monday, April 25th at 6:30 p.m., the tryouts will be held for the Little League teams only. This will be held at the Nichols Ave. ball field. All team hopefuls, coaches and team managers should try to make the team tryouts.

The regular Little and Pony

I feel that you will be quite satisfied in seeing how well your young ballplayers are being handled. We have a great bunch of guys giving up a lot of their time for a good cause.

NEWMARKET MULES LOOK TO SUCCESSFUL BASEBALL SEASON

By Ronnie Griswold

The Newmarket Mules baseball team is practicing hard and are starting to shape up. The pitching staff, consisting of Gerry Kustra, Gerald Pelletier, John Willey and Alfred Hill, may be the punch the Mules need this year.

Last year, the Mules only won three games. But this year, you can be sure that they will be out to win them all. Most of the same players are back, knowing what to expect from the opponents.

The way the positions look now are; at 3rd base, Gerry Kustra; shortstop, Gerald Pelletier or Pete Jordan; 2nd base, Gary Gage; 1st base, Albert Hill or Terry Zych; catcher, Alfred Hill; outfield, Frank Szabo, Roger Gagne and Ronny Griswold. Other players will be Letzie Pelletier, Huck Ginn, Gary Schultz, John Munroe, Bruce Hawkins, and possibly John Willey when he doesn't pitch.

Let's hope the Mules get off to a better start than the Boston Red Sox have. The boys seem to have the spirit that goes into the making of a championship team.

The complete schedule will be available soon.

Elementary School Activities

Grade One

This week we are having Achievement Tests. We are being tested in paragraph meaning, word meaning, spelling, arithmetic reasoning and computation.

We have been studying about spring. Shirley Langlois brought in a green baby chick. We made pictures of Easter's eggs with water colors.

Many of us wrote letters, stories and drew pictures for Mr. DesRoches who is ill.

Grade Two

The second grade is busy reviewing some past work in numbers in order to locate any weaknesses. We are presently "Number Stories", in which we have written problems and questions to do.

One corner of our room is brightly decorated with home-made bird books. Groups reported on various birds.

Yesterday we had an old fashion spelling bee, using words that could be spelled phonetically. Sharon Miesowicz remained standing for the longest period of time.

This week we are starting a unit involving farming. We have made pictures portraying various scenes on a farm.

Grade Three

The third graders have started on another book contest. The top three children who read the most books will win prizes. All the children are working very hard to beat David Brown's amazing record of 36 books from September to December.

The children welcomed a newcomer to their grade. He is Richard Pettengill from Exeter, N. H. We all sincerely hope he will enjoy himself with us.

Last week they enjoyed looking at slides of Greece and Italy. This was most interesting for they had just finished reading about these two countries. After, they drew pictures of what interested them the most. Some had pictures of the old temples on the Acropolis and others drew pictures of the waterfronts and cities.

This Friday will be a big day for these youngsters. They will be competing for the best paper in a 250-word spelling test.

They are about ready to start adding three-place numbers. They have been quite successful with their previous material.

Grade Four

During the past week, we welcomed a new student into our class. She is Rose Ann Pettengill, who moved here from Exeter.

There are now two groups in reading that have finished their books. One of these groups has not only finished one book, but two and are presently working in their third reader.

Grade Five

In arithmetic we are learning to do more difficult work in subtracting mixed numbers. Greta Wilson was the problem solving champion this week.

Sharon Sewall, Barbara Sewall, Gary Rodrigues, Donna Stevens, Janice Call, Greta Wilson and Sandra Langlois received 100% in Friday's spelling test.

Everyone has painted a spring scene. We are now working on a cut paper picture in our art work.

In science we are finding out that wheels make work easier in many ways. Gary Rodrigues demonstrated how his bicycle wheels work. We each made a small wheel and axle model of a well and bucket from a milk carton.

We were sorry to have Christine Wright move away.

Grade Six

Thomas Moore won first prize in the poster contest for National Library Week and John Rollins won second prize.

High scorers in spelling are Theresa Emond, Marion Mae

George, Jane Hazeltine, Linda Marelli, Cynthia Sewall, Leah Tilton, Jacquelyn Varney and Rebecca Walker for the girls and Irving Brown, Lloyd Cotton, John Pazdon, Wayne Piecuch and John Rollins for the boys. In the spelling contests the girl's team is way ahead of the boy's group.

We have made some strange gardens; a birdseed garden and a coal garden. We also have a queer plant that we are watching carefully. Sometimes it grows two or three inches overnight. We are anxious to see what kind of flower it will produce.

We are writing original stories in English and hope to make short plays out of some of them.

Thomas Moore brought in a lot of U. S. commemorative stamps and generously gave them to the rest of the collectors. The program committee staged a stamp treasure hunt which was fun. There are now twenty-four members in the Stamp Club which meets on Mondays after school.

The class is very busy taking tests in all subjects.

The Meaning of GAZETTE

The term gazette, applied to news publication of all kinds, dates back to the year 1556.

The Republic of Venice was at war, and the authorities were anxious to see to it that the citizenry knew what was going on in the fighting areas. War bulletins were accordingly published. To help meet the cost of printing these communiques, readers were required to pay a small coin known as a gazetta. Before long the reports were commonly called by the amount of money they cost, and the term gazette was gradually applied to all types of newspapers.

Stamp Collectors News

by Mrs. Ione Kent

With nations all over the world joining together to issue Refugee stamps, the United States should have tried to outdo itself in design and color. You could say it surely did outdo itself and other nations in issuing the most mournful stamp of all. The refugees have had dark and troublesome days with old ties broken but should have, or be helped to have, a hope for better things in their new situations. The silhouetted figures could represent the despair of the past behind them but darkness in front of them gives no hope. The lighter gray streak may have been meant to symbolize a lighter future but doesn't have that effect.

The countries which are using the symbol of the uprooted oak tree as suggested by the United Nations may have a sameness to their design but at least with the right coloring they may spread hope instead of despair.

The uprooted oak tree should also remind the American people of all the trees they are at present cutting down for one reason or another. This is April, the month in which to plant new trees. Every town and city should campaign to have planted each year at least as many trees as have been cut down the past year. The United States needs more trees.

The new embossed two and one half cent envelope to be issued May 28, 1960, will generally be used in a pre-cancelled form. It is being issued because of the new rate on third class mail. However, for the first day of sale the Post Office Department will utilize unpre-cancelled envelopes in the number 6 3/4 size. They will affix a Mount Vernon 1 1/2 stamp to meet the first class rate. There are to be two sizes of envelopes for use by approved organizations. The other number is 8 but known commercially as #10.

For first day cover, 6c remittance is needed, sent to Postmaster, Chicago 7, Ill., before May 28th. From May 31st to December 31, 1960, the envelopes may be purchased at the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D.C. The price per envelope will be 4c.

On stamp auction sheets four conditions of stamps are noted. They are very fine, fine, very good and good. However, the meaning of these conditions sometimes vary with the issues.

Some issues contain mostly poor centuring. The Bahamas Peace issue of 1920 was one of these. A dealer spent a year and a half trying to form one well-centered set. Of course, very fine in that set cannot be as perfect as very fine in sets generally well centered. Even the United States Commemorative sent to our local Post Office are generally poorly centered. Also some sent out from the Philatelic Agency in Washington have been known to be poorly centered.

The U.A.R. was founded in 1945 with seven states. Now ten states belong. They are Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi, Arabia, Yemen, Sudan, Lybia, Tunisia, Jordan and Morocco.

A representative of the country of Ghana presented to His Emminence Francis Cardinal Spellman a special album of the recent third Anniversary of Independence set of that country. The ceremony took place on March 14th, at the Cardinal's residence in New York City. He hoped to exhibit the album at the Barcelona Exhibition. He extended a special blessing to the people of Ghana.

Clue on the South America stamp question. The country which issued the map stamp that almost caused a war is not the largest or the smallest in South America.
