

MACALLEN OWNER DIES

Louis B. McCarthy Has Fatal Heart Seizure

The Macallen Company and the Town of Newmarket was saddened this week by the untimely death of Mr. Louis B. McCarthy, who as vice president and treasurer of The Macallen Company, made many friends in Newmarket and will be greatly missed.

His willingness to invest in our town has changed the long range economic outlook. A set of old, rundown, vacant mill buildings have been transformed into modern factory buildings. A good percentage of the employees are from town. All these improvements and employment can be traced to a man who had faith in the town of Newmarket.

Mr. McCarthy had many other civic interests. He was a life member and Board president of the Portsmouth Hospital, overseer of Bowdoin College, director of N. H. Mfg. Assoc., director of the Portsmouth Athenaeum, a member of the Warner House Assoc.,

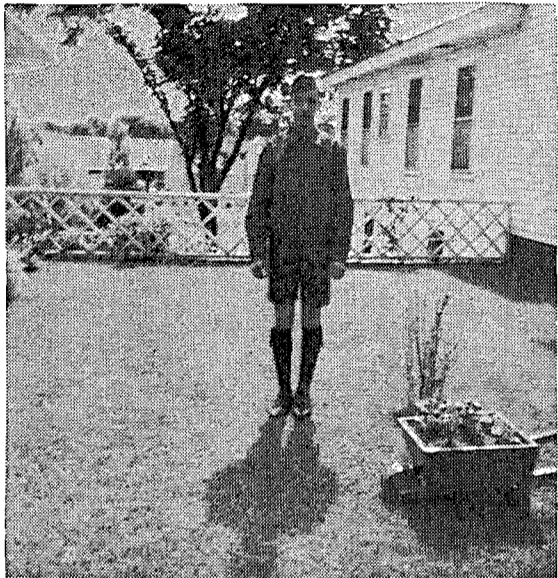

LOUIS B. MCCARTHY

advisor of Naval affairs of the 1st Naval district, member of the Bermuda Yacht Club, member of the Alogonquin Club of Boston and a member of the Boston Historical Society.

Mr. McCarthy is survived by his wife, Gertrude B. McCarthy; a son, Louis B. McCarthy, Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. George W. McLaughlin, Cohasset, Mass.; Mrs. Howard S. Crosby, Honolulu, Hawaii; a sister, Miss Marion McCarthy, Jamestown, R. I.; and seven grandchildren.

Services were held at the Unitarian Universalist Church in Portsmouth on Thursday at 1 p.m. Interment at Walnut Hills Cemetery, Brookline, Massachusetts. He was 63 years of age.

TO ATTEND NATIONAL JAMBOREE

Scout John Willey To Attend Colorado Springs Nat'l Jamboree

John Willey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Willey of Maple street, left Sunday afternoon to begin a four-day training period at Camp Carpenter, Manchester, prior to his departure with the other representative scouts who will be attending the 5th National Jamboree to be held July 22nd to July 28th at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Boys from troops throughout the state and the northeastern section of Massachusetts assembled Sunday and were assigned to five specially designated jamboree troops. They will undergo strenuous pre-jamboree training, camping out and using the same equipment and tents they will be using in Colorado to condition them in the type of events they will be called on to perform at the jubilee.

Some 55,923 boys and their leaders will attend from all sections of the country marking the 50th anniversary of the scouting movement in the U.S.

On July 14 the scouts begin a bus trip that will carry them to many important cities, military installations and leading industrial areas. After a overnight stop at Syracuse, N. Y., they will stop and view Niagara Falls, then spend two days in both Detroit and Chicago. A later tour will take them to Boys Town, Nebraska, thence to Sterling, Kansas and finally to Denver, Colo.

The jamboree will run July 22nd to July 28th. During this period the scouts will publish their own daily newspaper and maintain their own short wave radio station on the camp grounds.

The boys will do their own cooking, erect and sleep in their own tents, and participate in special contests.

Different patrols will compete in the most difficult physical fitness tests, including log rolling and log cutting contests and knot tying competitions.

In addition to scouts from the continental United States, other scouts from all over the world will attend the celebration. Each boy brings with him a "swap" he has made especially for the purpose of trading with the others. These "swaps" will be traded among other scouts so that each troop can learn what boys in other parts of the country and world are learning through scouting.

At the completion of the Jamboree, the boys will leave for home, departing on July 29. They will visit the cities of St. Louis, Mo., Indianapolis, Ind., tour the Pittsburgh Steel Mills and spend two days in Washington, D.C. They will arrive back at Camp Carpenter on August 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Willey attended the special Parent's Night held Wednesday night.

Local Restaurant Not Transferred

Area newspapers were recently in error in publishing the alleged sale of Adrien's restaurant to two local attorneys. Contrary to information released, the restaurant is still in operation by the original owners with Mrs. Alice Pelletier in charge.

BUDGET COMMITTEE MEETS WITH OFFICIALS

The Newmarket Budget Committee met with officials of the library trustees, the parking meter officers and the head of the sewer department recently.

A comparison report was given of the productivity of local parking meter and meter management against those of a neighboring town, including the uses from the proceeds of meter and fine revenue. These, in many instances, finance the purchase of police and traffic control vehicles as well as warning signs and devices. As previously reported, the local parking meters for the most part are outmoded and have outlived their usefulness and are badly in need of replacement. These factors, plus the necessity for the chief of police to serve both as meter officer and as official law representative of the town, with the dual responsibility of patrolling meters when time allows, interspersed with answering accident and complaint calls, conferring with state, county and insurance representatives.

Such a situation is indicative of the need for further manpower to provide increased protection as well as to insure continuous supervision of the meters to prevent further loss of revenue from an already dwindling source.

The only financially feasible purchase of new or reconditioned meters will be to have the sum included in the police department budget, with funds to be appropriated at the next town meeting.

Although the matter of new meters will have to wait, the Budget committee decided to go on record as recommending to the Selectmen that they give some consideration to the matter of an increase in parking meter rates. Meter revenue would show some gain if the amount of time allotted were decreased from the present 10 minutes per penny to a six minute parking period per penny.

This appears to be the only alternative to boost the declining meter revenue. Comments on this proposal will be welcomed as well as any other feasible suggestions from the general public.

The Library Board of trustees were present and explained their expenditures up to June 30th, which included library supplies, janitor and librarians services and heating fuel plus the sanding of the library floor. Of the $4,500 allotted to the department, the sum of $1,713.46 has been spent. Reconstruction plans are progressing on schedule with work begun this week on painting the outside of the building and the conversion of part of the small storeroom for use as a lavatory, both jobs to be completed by the end of the summer if possible.

A report of the condition of the sewer system indicated that the pipe originally laid in 1901 is still in working condition and no immediate replacement of any sections is foreseen.

The main point in question is the future time when the State Department of Health decrees that Newmarket install a sewage filtering plant. The state has been working on plans to help estimate the cost of such a plant, but these are as yet incomplete. Explanation was made of the fact that federal funds are available interest free, upon application, to towns desiring to make this change-over. Towns are not required to repay the necessary sum until actual work has begun on a sewage disposal facility.

It was suggested that at some future date, definite steps be taken to have engineering consultants prepare copies of the

The Good Old Days

We often hear the remark "I wish the good old days were back again", but do we? The days of bringing up coal from the cellar to put in the kitchen stove; and lugging in wood to fill the old wood box to keep the front room fire going; and remember there were but few bath rooms in those days.

Every Saturday night the big old wash tub was brought out, water from the pump in the sink was heated on the stove and poured into the tub and beginning with the youngest, clothes were removed and the children were put into the tub. Sometimes the two smallest were dumped in together. Then the next youngest would have their turn.

In this family there were eight children, six girls and two boys. I cannot say if the bath water was changed every time. Putting the children to bed wasn't any problem — the mother laid six of them across one of the beds and the two boys slept in a smaller bed.

They used lanterns on retiring and if work had to be done after dark kerosene lamps were used. Our streets were lighted by kerosene lights.

The man who lit the street lights was called "The Lamp-lighter." Guy Brackett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brackett of New road had this job for several years. He went around at a certain time every night with his small ladder, to light the lights. He would be around again in the morning to extinguish the lamps and to fill and clean them.

We used to watch for the tin peddler. At one time there several in the town. One of them was called "Ratty" Fullerton. If he had another name no one seemed to know what it was. He would swap you a nice piece of tinware for your old rag. "Ratty's" cart looked like a box on wheels and all around the outside there were mops and brooms to swap if you had rags enough.

John Bennet owned the store now occupied by the Griffin Company. Mr. Bennet made tinware here and he would send several tin peddlers out through Newfields, Exeter, Lee and other places. Hiram Kelsey drove one of these carts for several years.

When the organ grinder came to town the kids all followed him to see the cute little monkey dressed in a red suit and red cap. He would take all the pennies given him and put them in his pocket. The tunes the organ grinder played were quite good — a vast improvement on the "jazz" we have today.

The scissors grinder used to come around twice a year. He would come ringing his bell and everyone would get out their knives and scissors to be sharpened. The machine was a queer looking article. He had it strapped to his back. It had a big wheel with leather straps and small pieces of wood.

There also was the umbrella man, who used to do a fine job fixing our umbrellas.

The gypsies came around in the fall trying to sell baskets of sweet grass and paper flowers.

One beautiful spring evening the calm and peace of the night was broken by a creaking, rumbling sound. The noise came nearer and nearer and soon something white began to take shape out of the darkness. And then we knew what it was — the famous Newmarket "Honey cart", driven by Irwin York and drawn by his old white horse.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Owen Wilson of Rialto, Calif. Mrs. Wilson is the former Evelyn Randall of Newmarket. She is the granddaughter of Dr. Charles A. Morse of Newmarket. Mrs. Wilson would like the write-up she sent put in the paper as it might be of interest to some of her Newmarket friends.

schools in the district. Susan Ganty and her mother, good citizens from San Bernardino high and two members of the San Bernardino Chapter, Children American Revolution, Sandra Julia and Barbara Ann Eason, great grandchildren of the late Doctor Charles A. Morse of Newmarket, were guests at the picnic.

OPENING DAY AT PLAYGROUND

Playground Director Jack Dow, left background, introduces crafts director Mrs. Doris Paradise to the children attending and warns them that the squeaking wheel doesn't always get the grease — at least not at the playground sessions. To qualify for the popsicles given out, each had to remain quietly seated.

Playground Winners Announced For First Week's Activities

The Newmarket playground opened Monday on the grounds of the high school. Traditionally, the first day is Popsicle Day, and this one was no exception with each of the approximately 100 children receiving at least two popsicles.

Director Dow explained the rules of the playground and the cooperation expected from each person who attends the daily sessions and introduced Mrs. Doris Paradise, who is crafts director this season. The crafts room is in the basement at the rear of the auditorium and is equipped with tables and benches where the opportunity to learn felcraft, guimpe braiding, loop weaving and many other skills is offered.

In the first three days cat wallets, book markers, bugs and lanyards of guimpe and pot holders were the most popular items under construction.

Jack Dow announces the following winners in the single foot hop; winners determined by the fewest number of hops taken in a pre-determined area: 1st, Ronald Sklarski; 2nd, Jane Hazeltine and 3rd, Diane Van Fleet.

Winner of Monday's horse-shoe contest were 1st, Chester Kruzczek; with three players tied for 2nd, John Munroe, Roger Sklarski and Bill Ernest.

Tuesday's archery contest was won by John Munroe with Roy Lemieux 2nd, William Ernest 3rd, George Phalen 4th, Dale Marden 5th, Ted Sharples 6th and Will Fecteau 7th. Archery contest winners received prizes of ice cream.

Points earned for the first 3 days of competition are as follows: Bill Ernest, 74; George Phalen, 54; Roger Sklarski, 59; Roy Lemieux, 45; Tim Marcoux, 73; Ronald Sklarski, 67; Dale Marden, 56; Dick Blouin, 46; Bill Fecteau, 44; Lionel Arsenault, 43. Points for the girls: Sandy Paradise leads with 52 points; followed by Jane Hazeltine with 50 points; Diane Van Fleet, 35; Pat Munroe, 25; Nancy Demers, 23; and Claudia Marcoux with 26.

Thursdays will be special event days with high jumping and ball tossing to be featured this week.

SUCCESSFUL 2nd ANNUAL FAIR HELD BY LEE FIREMEN SAT.

Saturday, July 9, dawned a bright and sunny day and all those townspeople involved in the preparations and execution of the second annual Lee Firemen's Fair breathed a collective sigh of relief. The success of the Fair depended largely on the weather as it was to be held rain or shine. Plans, preparation and hard work by auxiliary members, firemen and interested townspeople for a while year assured a successful Fair with the cooperation of the weatherman. He cooperated and the day was a success financially and otherwise.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Ralph Booth and Mrs. George Nugent expressed their deepest appreciation to all the devoted committee members, the merchants of Newmarket, Lee and Durham who donated generously and all the fair goers who helped push the fund raising drive for the Lee Volunteer Fire Department, over the top.

Miss Ruth Greenwood, Mrs. Paul Estaver and Mrs. Ronald Buchan, judges of the Children's Parade which started off the Fair, all agreed that the final decisions were extremely difficult to make as all the entries were all excellent, but after much pondering they came up with the following decisions:

In the six and under group:

Prettiest Girl, Esther Cook; Best Looking Boy, Bruce Randall; Funniest, Joan Clark; Most Outstanding, Terry Healy; Most Original, Timmy Smith; Best All Around, Kathy, Mike and Margo Healy; and Honorable Mentions went to Kurt Quimby, Christine Wenant, Debby deMoupiet and Patty Healy.

In the seven through twelve group: Prettiest Girl, Martha Curtis; Best Looking Boy, Mike Ward; Funniest, Gay Quimby; Most Outstanding, Patty Smith; Most Original, Carol Haine; Best All Around, Sharon Curtis and Julia Underwood and Honorable Mentions to Debby Lugg, Gia Randall, Spike Morrison, Bruce Haine and Kim Badger.

The Lee Hill 4-H Club, under the direction of leader Ralph Granger, served 350 people at the noon and evening chicken barbecues.

The Lee Riders staged a very successful Gymkhana with 20 horses participating.

Smokey the Bear and his friend Little Smokey, appearing through the courtesy of the N. H. Forestry Service, spent the late afternoon shaking hands and talking to the delighted small fry. Little Smokey was given a free ride in the Collie Cart by Mrs. Philip Sanborn who had two teams of her specially trained pure bred collies from the San-Wal Kennel in Lee to give rides to the youngsters.

The most exciting event of the evening was the Water Polo arranged by Fire Chief Lloyd Stevens. The ladies team from Nottingham showed up in full force to rectify its loss to the Lee 4-H girl's team the previous week at the Nottingham 4th of July celebration. Although the Nottingham women defeated the Lee Firemen's Auxiliary team, it could not match the color of "end man" Alice Dudley of Lee, who broke up the show with a hilariously antique bathing suit.

The championship 4-H girl's team challenged the Nottingham team and lost the game. Other teams playing were Lee boys vs. Nottingham Fire Dept., the Lee 4-H Girls vs. the Nottingham Firemen, Lee Firemen vs. Nottingham Firemen and several free-for-alls including two small-fry teams. G. E. Wellington was referee and Wallace Dennis was the announcer.

Mr. Ezekial K. Brown (alias Chris Cook), a roving photographer was on hand in top hat and dress with a hundred pound pack on his back full of exciting articles, to take pictures of the small fry with Smokey the Bear, on the ponies and riding in the Collie Carts, on the fire engines and dressed up in the Fire Chief's hat.

Wallace Dennis presided at an auction following the Water Polo and the prizes were awarded at ten p.m.

Lucky prize winners at the Fair were Lee Tyler, Durham; B. LeBlanc, Newmarket; Frank Reinhold, Lee; Mrs. Clyde Fogg, Lee; Dennis Haine, Lee; Carol DeButt, Barrington; Joan Clark, Durham; Gladys Laroche, Newmarket; Sylvia Grimes, Madbury; John Randall, Lee; Bill Soby of Newmarket; Robert Smith, Rochester; J. Coffin of Newton, Mass.; H. M. Haendler of Lee and Annie Bruce of Lee.

Additional winners were Armand Di Mamibro, Dover; J. Gazda, Newmarket; Kathleen Malak, Newmarket; Lynne Norris, Portsmouth; Irene Vidler, Newmarket; and Denmover of Durham.

Due to the efficient teamwork of the clean-up committee, by noon Sunday the fair grounds were clean as a whistle with the money boxes the only token showing there had ever been a fair.

JOBS AFTER 40

In line with its general policy of favoring human values over property values, the Fraternal Order of Eagles has committed itself to oppose employment discrimination against older workers. It has gone on record to support a campaign for "jobs after 40".

The Eagles program has aroused much support throughout the country because the injustice of barring jobs to men 40 years and older can readily be understood. In some cases the top limit has been set at the 35 year bracket. As some of the unemployed who have stated, "If you are in the experienced this misfortune forties or fifties, just try to get a decent job anywhere especially if the graying hair around the temples it noticeable!"

Of course you are well treated wherever you go. Management say politely, "Well young man, have a seat and I'll fill out this form for you." Then after answering all kinds of questions regarding your former trade of skill, they ask, "How old are you? 40? 45? 48?" After which you are regarded more carefully. At best you may be told, politely of course, "Well Pop, we will keep your record on file and when we have an opening we'll call you."

No need for a crystal ball to determine the results of this inquiry. The outcome is as obvious as spring water to the man in this particular age group.

What is the solution to this enormous problem? What is the best line of approach? Should efforts to provide jobs be put on a voluntary basis, or should laws prohibiting job discrimination because of age be written on the statutes?

Many states today have already such laws for the protection of workers. Experts who have given close study to the problem of job discrimination based on age generally hold that both methods should be used. Many state employment agencies devoted to obtaining jobs for workers, businessmen and professional men who have passed the 40 year mark.

One of the first lines of defense in opposition to this job discrimination, more rightly referred to as age discrimination, must of necessity be the public agencies, working from the governmental level to the local areas of employment agencies both public and privately controlled.

Persuasion and certainty must be used. Should an educational campaign prove successful then it would be unnecessary to enact legislation. But, let there be no misunderstanding on this, if the evil is not cured by the voluntary method — and at this point it has not been — then we must institute legislation demanding the prohibition of Age Discrimination.

Justification of such laws is on the same basis for like legislation against child labor. The application is somewhat different, but the theory is similar.

The welfare of the community is of the utmost importance. Here is a crusade which required the support of each community and state. Each of us should add his or her voice in the support of legal measure to end job discrimination. Every reader can readily understand the wisdom of such a program which merely seeks to insure job protection for those workers 40 years of age or older, who are being rejected or ignored and consequently are facing the problem of unemployment or existing on relief funds for the remainder of their lives.

Let us consider and remember that some day any one of us could easily be in the same situation but for the enactment of practical legislation designed to prevent such an occurrence. Let us think for tomorrow, then let's face it now!

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Tinker of 23 Lamprey street, are parents of a new baby daughter born July 8th at the Exeter Hospital.

C.D. Police Puts Training To Use

While driving along North Main street Wednesday evening, it was interesting to note a member of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Police unit on temporary duty. He was stationed at a corner where the oncoming driver was hidden from view by a station wagon listing toward the edge of the road, apparently with a blow-out. The presence of this volunteer and his traffic flag eased the bottleneck until the wagon could be removed from the road.

Hospital Patient

Ralph S. Walker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker of 18 Mt. Pleasant street, is a patient at the Exeter Hospital.

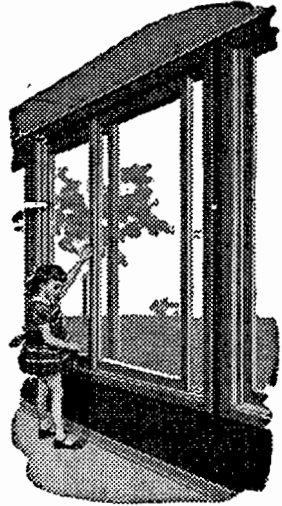

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION

The Newmarket School Board has accepted the resignation of Wilbur Sharples as janitor of the Newmarket Elementary schools.

Last Saturday and Sunday saw the best deep sea fishing in years. Why this years catches are so much better than in years past can be partially explained by the absences of the fleet of commercial draggers and seiners which have left the York, Portsmouth and Plum Island area for more southerly waters. These fleets now fish down off the coast of N. J., Conn., N. Y. and Va.

These commercial fishermen haul in tons and tons of fish daily. The largest fish down to the smallest all find their way to market. So called trash fish, which in the old days were pitched over the side, now end up in the dog and cat food factories. Recent Federal action put a minimum on the hole diameter of the mesh on the nets so that the small fish could swim out of the net.

This law could be another reason for the abundance of salt water fish in our area.

One party boat reported a 30 lb. cod, others reported large pollack up to 30 lbs. A good sign of better fishing off the coast.

In mid-June, the Fish and Game Department reported that the aerial stocking of remote ponds has been completed.

Strange as it seems, this new fangled ways of stocking trout seems to be much cheaper than the tank truck method. Of course, the department has no way of checking on the drop kill rate but a good number must survive because the fishing always improves in these remote ponds.

Did you know that only one-tenth of the resident fishermen in N. H. take advantage of these choice ponds? More out-of-state fishermen use these ponds and lakes than we do. If you do not mind walking a mile or so, try Sawyer pond off North road out of Conway.

This is a beautiful pond surrounded by high pine bluffs and boarded by a nice beach. The Church Pond Trail to Church Pond, off North road, will provide some lively golden trout fishing and for rainbows and brookies, the Swift river, which runs the length of North road can't be beat. With the new road which runs from Conway to Lincoln all these remote ponds and rivers are yours for the asking and a fishing license.

The petition concerning the stocking of Atlantic salmon in the Lamprey river will be ready soon and when it is written up I will let you know where to find it. We need at least 200 names to make an impression up at Concord.

Remember that the hunters and fishermen are the big stockholders in the fishing and hunting business, so if we want salmon in the river and show the right amount of interest, we should get some results.

It looks as if we hunters will be able to hunt again in the town of Durham as the high Court ruled that the state has laws controlling fishing and hunting and these are sound enough to protect the individual land owners so that a town cannot pass a local law restricting hunting. Proper posting of land will be all that the private land owner needs to protect his property. If I have misread this ruling, I will stand corrected.

PRESCOTT'S WINNING STOCK CAR

Pictured above with his stock car racer is George Prescott (right) of Newmarket who recently "cleaned house" at the West Peabody speedway. Prescott began building his car last winter and has since incorporated many new and radical ideas in the little racer. It is powered by a V-8 Ford flathead engine built especially for racing by a specialist in racing engines. The body was completely hand made by Prescott. One of the area's best drivers, Jerry Dolliver of Kingston, pilots the racer for Prescott. Dolliver claims this car to be the best he has ever driven in his many years of racing. Others in the picture are Donald McGregor (left) of Exeter and Eddie Prescott, brother of George Prescott. The car's colors are maroon and white.

Prescott's Stock Car No. 24 Continues To Win At W. Peabody

George Prescott's stock car #24 continues to come in with the winners at the West Peabody, Mass. speedway. The car is driven by Jerry Dolliver of Kingston, who has been an Atlantic champion driver.

The combination of powerful responsive engineering and driving skill — the two most important racing ingredients — are well-blended in this pair.

#24 began taking shape in the Prescott garage last February and is an attempt by the owner to reach the finest balance in engineering precision and knowhow. The engine is a reworked Ford V-8 flathead, designed for racing use by a specialist in racing motors in this area. The racing tire used bear little resemblance to those used on private automobiles, both in design and price. The tires are smooth, with no tread, and are made of a special rubber to give maximum traction on the track.

The car requires a tremendous amount of dedicated care and work between races. The slightest speck or dirt in the carburetor can mean the difference between a win or a loss.

Prescott finds the macadam track at West Peabody his best to date. He has tried local speedways, but found them unprofitable, so keeps his in readiness for the Saturday night races in West Peabody, Mass., scene of his first triumph.

The next regular meeting of the Robert G. Durgin Post will be held Monday night, July 18, at 8:00 p.m. Reports will be heard from the various committees appointed by Comm. Bennett.

On Saturday, August 13th, the Third N. H. District will hold their annual convention in Newmarket. The facilities of the Robert G. Durgin Post will accommodate the convention. Past Comm. William Robitille of Newfields, who is the commander of district three this year, will conduct the meeting. It is hoped that a baked bean supper will be served and that a parade of all the district will be held prior to the activities.

The commander and vice commander were elected at the last department convention in Manchester and the balance of the district officers will be elected at this meeting and Commander Robitille will appoint his active committee at this meeting. The Durgin Post has always taken a very active part in the business of the district and usually has one or more members in office in the district. This district convention will wind up the business of the delegates who were elected this spring at all the Posts and it is expected that a large attendance will be had from the members of the Newmarket delegation. A more complete list of the activities will be in future editions of THE NEWMARKET TIMES, so that all members will know what is going to take place.

On Sunday, August 14th, the Durgin Post holds its annual Family Outing at Schanda's camp and the tickets are now out. Don't forget to get yours before they are all gone. There are only 250 tickets and first come first served, so get there early and be sure of being served.

The Shuffleboard Contest is still going on Tuesday nights at the club and teams are being planned for the town tournament between the Eagles, Polish Club and Legion this fall and winter. Now is the time to get the experience needed. Why not come down and try the game — it is a lot of fun and we can't all be experts.

Now that the local vacation period is over, the town should come to life again. Have you been to the Little League Baseball games lately. Better get to them as it will be coming to an end all too soon.

The 1961 membership cards should arrive very shortly and then the drive for members dues will start. The membership teams, etc., will be looking for the full cooperation of all the members. How about it? Will you help us win a Big 10 award this fall at the fall conference. Lets win the McLin Trophy back again. We have had it for four different years and it will be easy to win again, with your cooperation.

Don't forget that we have a sizable Jack Pot at each meeting and it is over $30.00 right now. The 50/50 club will be drawn on August 1st and the tickets are due in on Friday, July 29th. If enough members are interested there will be another Bowling Team for the Post this year and there are enough bowlers to have at least two teams. Come to the meetings and get into the activities of this Post. You might get your picture in the paper or some black and blue spots from pats on the back. Let's look alive.

Have you got a ticket yet on the Corvair that is being put out by the Third N.H. District. It will probably be here for the district convention. Have you got your boy signed up for the National Junior Rifle team that is being started in the Post. All members should be interested in having their sons enter into this competition. All boys should know how to properly use fire-arms and an expert is a good teacher and we have that expert in Frederick Degonyoun, our Sargeant at Arms who have charge of this activity. Get in touch with him at a meeting soon. The starting class is only 15 boys.
