Passionist Priest Will Conduct Mission At St. Mary's Church

The Rev. Regis Mulligan C. P. of Union, New Jersey will conduct a week long mission at St. Mary's Church beginning this Sunday, Sept. 18 through Sept. 25. Father Mulligan has been work at the Passionist Retreat House in Springfield, Mass. and in Scranton, Pa. Father Mulligan also served as an army chaplain during World War II.

In order to help St. Mary's parishioners to participate more fully in the mission, three masses have been scheduled daily: there will be a mass at 7 a.m., 8:30 and 12 noon. Father Dumas is hopeful that the noon day mass will give an opportunity to all those workers who have their lunch hour between 12 and 1 p.m. to receive Holy Communion.

The service in the evening will begin at 7:30 at which time Father Mulligan will deliver a sermon. The mission will formally open this Sunday and Father Mulligan will preach at all masses. At the 9 o'clock mass the large crucifix will be brought in procession from the rear of the church to the main altar where it will remain throughout the days of the mission.

Confessions will be heard by Father Mulligan after all masses and also after the devotions in the evening.

A mission takes place in a parish about once in every four or five years and it is hoped that all parishioners of St. Mary's Church will be in attendance on each night of the mission.

HOT DOG CHAMPIONS

The outing held last Sunday at Stratham Park for the Little Leagues and the Pony Leagues was very successful. For the benefit of those interested in mathematics here are the totals:

Eighty hungry boys consumed 400 hot dogs, 20 cases of tonic, 7 watermelons and 180 cups of ice cream.

An interesting note on the ice cream was that each boy had to police the area and pick up all papers and deposit them in a barrel to get his ice cream. All went fine until someone noticed that finding no more papers to pick up, the boys were dipping into the barrels, and getting back in line again. Boys will be boys and all returned home happy and full.

LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE UNITS AND AUX. POLICE PREPARED FOR 'DONNA'

Last Friday, Hurricane Donna headed between the Florida Keys and Cuba and weathermen predicted her demise on the Louisiana coast. Newmarketeters dismissed thoughts of foul weather and headed off for a busy September weekend. Saturday, the Little League Bowling banquet at Kingston State Park had a cool, lovely day and Sunday, the Little League teams had a cool, rainy day. Sunday night the bomb burst; weather experts definitely stated that Donna was headed for New England, scheduled to arrive Monday.

Civil Defense units began mobilization Monday noon. Cots were set up in the fire house for the use of possible evacuees. Members of the Civil Defense, fire department, police force and volunteer workers were divided with parts of each of two groups at both the police and fire stations.

Every piece of available emergency equipment, including the police boat and generators were readied for immediate use when necessary. Assistant fire chief Joe Butler was in charge of the regulars and volunteers at the fire house and police chief John Valliere remained on duty after the completion of his regular day with members of the regular force and volunteers, prepared to cope with problems requiring their aid. Dick Walker "stood by" in his office to direct the engineering department and dispatched his crews when necessary.

C. D. Director George Hauschel and Assistant Director Eddie Tourigny, in charge of

Memories of Rochester Fair

The first time I attended the Rochester Fair, I was a girl about 12 years old and went with my mother. She put up a large lunch in a shoe box and we went down to the depot to catch the 8 o'clock train to Dover, where we changed for Rochester. There were a lot of our friends also going to see the fair and they had to go by train as very few had autos in those days.

Arriving at the fair, the first thing we visited was the large tent where all the fancy articles were: hooked and braided rugs, patch work quilts, crocheted and knitted articles, beautiful paintings and other hand-made articles.

We next viewed the lovely display of flowers. We saw the live stock — cows, sheep, all kinds of hogs and chickens. We liked the wild animals best of all. There were lions and two cute little cubs. The tigers and leopards performed.

There was a large cage of monkeys and monkeys always gave me the "creeps". There also was a large gorilla. Some scientists claim we are descended from monkeys. Well, if it gives anyone any satisfaction to think their great aunt's grandmother was a monkey, for goodness sakes let them think so, as long as mine wasn't I don't care.

We ate our lunch under a shady tree, after which we est. We then viewed a shark in a large tank. We also saw a boa-constrictor, an awful looking thing.

We went to the horse-races in the-afternoon, after which we took the electric car to Rochester, where we boarded the train for home.

After a while mother decided she didn't care to go to the fair, when the time came, so my chum Edie and I used to go. We visited everything and big as we were, we had a ride on the flying horses. The ferris wheel looked very attractive but we were a little afraid of trying it.

We walked through the midway and sitting in the doorway of a small tent was a large woman of uncertain age, telling fortunes. She was all fixed up with beads and spangles. She was looking into a glass globe.

There was a placard over the door which read Madame So-and-So., Fortunes told 25 cts. We decided we could spare that much and went in. She started on me first, with much mumbling and gazing into the crystal. All that I could understand as she studied my hand was, "Bad luck!", "Bad Man!", "No good!", "Nother hand", "Bad!, Bad!, Bad!"

Edith was given the same rigamarole, with a little more added to it. We decided we didn't want any more fortunes.

While we were eating our lunch we were visited by a gypsy girl. She wanted to tell our fortunes and sell us a sweet grass basket. We declined both offers.

What interested us most was the balloon ascension. We watched it fill with gas and the aeronaut climb into his little basket and the ropes cut and visited the mid-way, where every one seemed to be trying to see who could yell the loud- away it went like a bird into the air.

We watched the races and the trapeze performers and I happened to glance at the couple in front of me and horrors! Her head was crawling with "live stock".

We visited some small wild animals and among them was a skunk, whose name was Hitler. I remarked, "What a shame to insult that perfectly good skunk by giving him such a name."

We generally left the fair grounds quite early in the afternoon as we liked to visit the stores in Rochester, especially the ten-cent stores, for in those days you could purchase a lot of articles for ten cents.

The last time I went to the fair was several years ago. My friend Flossie Galligher went with me. We went with some friends in their car and had a fine time.

EAGLES MUSICAL TO BENEFIT CHILDREN'S XMAS PARTY FUND

"Running Wild" is the hilarious musical comedy built on the ever popular format of mistaken identity. Such will be the situation next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21 and 22, when the Newmarket Eagles present this show at the Newmarket High school auditorium.

To combat the local underworld element in a small town, the People's Party decides to run a woman for mayor. When the woman they pick is unable to appear, the town banker (portrayed by Ted Allen, Jr.) blackmails the local disc jockey (played by Rod MacDougal) and the local doctor (Ralph Larrivee) to impersonate Mrs. Van Dyne and her French maid, Matilda. The disc jockey manages to conduct the campaign to suit himself and hires charming Female Firemen and Cute Cops, which is a dancing chorus line composed of Newmarket High school girls.

The women of the town led by Jean Provost as Hertha Higginbottom, organize a "Lullabye League of Marching Mothers" to help sweep the city clean.

Many other Newmarket people will appear in the show which promises to provide an evening of fun and laughter for all.

Proceeds from the show will be used for the annual Children's Christmas Party, being held by the local Aerie for the 22nd year. Tickets for the production may be purchased from any Eagles members or at the door on both nights.

AN EXTRA ROOM in your house can be added most easily and cheaply by finishing the attic. You can make the area livable for about half what the same space would cost in a ground level addition. To get more headroom, a shed dormer at the back of the house is the answer, and to get cross ventilation add two or more small gabled dormers out front. When finishing the attic, be sure to insulate the entire area, leaving an air space behind all insulation bats to allow free passage of air. Aluminium Limited, the big North American aluminum producer, points out that covering standard insulating material with aluminum foil greatly increases its insulating and moisture-barrier qualities.

ATTENTION GREEN THUMBERS! Make your indoor gardening easier this year by setting aside a garden supply shelf in your kitchen or closet storage area. Easy to arrange, a gardening shelf conserves more room than it takes up, and it saves time when you're looking for a particular tool or supply to keep house plants healthy and beautiful. When you've cleared off the shelving space in your kitchen cabinet, broom or linen closet, gather your gardening aids and take stock. Be sure to include an assortment of several sizes of clay pots and planting supplies such as potting soil, peat moss and a water soluble fertilizer.

Bloodmobile At St. Mary's Hall, Sept. 19th

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at St. Mary's Hall Monday, Sept 19 from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Mrs. Henry Bosinger of the Catholic Daughters of America will be in charge of the canteen.

Consent slips are available for donors of 18 years and must be signed by a parent. These may be picked up at the N. H. Electric office in advance, if desired.

Those who have benefited from transfusions arranged through the Red Cross Blood program are especially reminded of this benefit with the hope that each of them will encourage friends and relatives to give blood to extend this benefit to many others.

Donors are now accepted who have a record of malaria or yellow jaundice. For their own continued good health donors are asked to wait a 12 month period after major surgery, a serious illness and after child birth. Occasionally a prospective donor is refused because of fatigue or where blood is below the accepted normal. Refusal is no reflection on the health of the individual. The next visit of the Bloodmobile may find that same person in complete good health and able to donate.

Appointments for Sept. 19 may be made with Mrs. Jean Bloom at OL 9-3833.

In the 4-H Sheep Contest which was judged by Mr. John Dodds of Newmarket, the following Lee Hill 4-H members won ribbons and cash prizes:

The sheep were shown under the direction of project leader Ralph Granger, Jr. The Jeremiah Smith Grange along with the Lee Community Club sponsor the local Lee Hill 4-H Club.

Games, booths and exhibits were other features of the Country Fair with a maximum crowd turning out for a special beef barbecue.

Lee Church Guild

At the regular monthly meeting of the Lee Church Guild Thursday, members spent the morning in a swing bee finishing up gifts to be sold at the Grange Church Fair. Following a luncheon Mr. Richard Clark, minister, led the installation service for officers of the Guild.

Mrs. Lois Brown, president; Mrs. Hazel Walden, vice president; Mrs. Helen MacDonald, secretary; and Mrs. Lucille Pierce, treasurer.

Fire Department

Two trucks and a large contingent of volunteer firemen responded to a call Monday afternoon from Blue Job, Pawtuckaway and Stratham Hill fire towers, all of whom spotted smoke near Wheelwright Pond area. Due to the extremely dry conditions the department redoubled efforts to find the fire before it got into the timber around the pond.

In constant contact with Blue Job via radio the firemen located it in the Moore field off Mast road where Charles Hines had started an unpermitted fire.

While bulldozing a private dump he struck a nest of hornets. Thinking, he would burn them out he unintentionally set the dump on fire.

Fortunately, the fire was in the middle of a cleared area saving the woods from going up in flames. The fire department stayed until it was completely extinguished.

Fire Warren Lloyd Stevens urges residents to comply with the state regulations concerning outdoor fires. A permit must be obtained for any outdoor fires, including charcoal grilles, camp fires, incinerators and fireplaces, except when the ground is covered with snow.

The penalty for starting an unpermitted fire, according to Chap. 233, Revised Laws of the Forestry Fire Permit Laws is "$200; or imprisonment not more than 60 days. For starting a fire willfully, or in a careless or imprudent manner, $500; or imprisonment not more than one year, or both."

Also, "Any person, firm or corporation causing or kindling a fire without a permit, when a permit is required, and also any person by whose negligence or negligence of his agents, any fire shall be caused, is liable to the town for all expenses incurred in attending or extinguishing such fire."

Warden Stevens reminds residents that there is no charge for obtaining permits.

Fire Department Meets

Although only seven members and one guest were present last Thursday night at the fire station, they enjoyed a corn roast and the fixin's as master cheffed by fireman Maurice Hatch. Following the feed, a business meeting was held with John Knabenschuh, chairman of the proposed fire extinguisher educational and sales campaign reporting on progress of his committee.

A committee was set up consisting of firemen Chris Cook, Kenneth Cooper, John Knabenschuh, Edgar Hobby, Maurice Hatch and Chief Lloyd Stevens to make a fire department display at the Church-Grange Fair (held last Saturday) to contain an approved incinerator, sample fire permits, an operating forestry radio receiver and sample display of the fire extinguishers available in the coming campaign.

It was voted to give an actual demonstration of fire fighting technique following the fair's beef barbecue. Following the business meeting members were checked out on the fire trucks, pumps and radios. They also removed, washed and replaced hose on number one fire truck.

Clarence Underwood Visits

We wish we had the enthusiasm and joie de vivre of an 86 year young gentleman we recently met at the Lee Hill home of Dr. and Mrs. Dale Underwood. Taking his first plane trip, Mr. Clarence Underwood flew in from Adams, Nebraska, to spend two weeks with his son and family. He assured us it was a history making trip for him from the very beginning and he was enjoying all his new experiences to the hilt.

Never having been in New Hampshire before, he was taken by the Underwoods to see the White Mountains. Used to viewing the endless plains of Nebraska, the panorama from Cannon Mt. was most spectacular. He became acquainted with another unknown, the Atlantic Ocean, when his family took him on a boat trip to the Isles of Shoals.

He was one of the thousands of visitors to the third year celebration of Pease Air Force Base where the Underwoods attended the air show and he was treated to a tour of historic places in Boston where he saw the Constitution and Paul Revere's house.

An Invitation

Friends, church members and their families have been cordially invited to attend an Open House for the Lee churches minister and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clarke, to be held at the parsonage, Sunday, Sept. 18 from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

Personals

Nelson Nugent, and family of Saxonville, Mass., spent the day recently visiting his brother, George Nugent, and family at Lee Hill.

Mrs. Ira Hull of Little Hook road returned last week after spending two weeks with her sisters and brother in Old Greenwich and Torrington, Conn. While there she attended her niece's wedding. Jennifer and Jaye Hull came back from Gloucester, Mass. just before school started, where they had been spending three weeks with their maternal grandmother.

Miss Lucille Drescher of New York City has been spending a week's vacation with her life long friend, Mrs. Milton Hubely and her family at South Lee. The two girls grew up together in Louisville, Kentucky, and have kept in touch with each other ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Paul of Wakefield came down Saturday to spend the day with their daughter, Mrs. Maurice Hatch and her family and to attend the Country Fair at Lee Hill.

Mrs. Jack Sanford of Greenwood, Mass., a former Grange member, spent Saturday helping out at the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Roland Cathcart moved into their new home on Mast road last Wednesday following a honeymoon in the White Mountains. Mr. Cathcart is employed at the Durham Post Office and Mrs. Cathcart, the former Joanne Sargent of Farmington, is employed at Weiss and Lawrence Company in Dover.

First Lt. Philip Sanborn, USAR, recently attended a two weeks training session at Fort Dix, N. J. with the Rochester unit. Mrs. Sanborn drove down to New Jersey to pick him up and on the way back to Lee the couple visited several Brown Swiss farms and a collie kennel in New Jersey and Conn.

Besides helping at the Grange-Church Fair last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn were in charge of the Food Concession at the Holstein "Cream of the Crop" sale in Durham which was staffed by members of the N. H. Young Farmers Association, of which Mr. Sanborn is president and Mrs. Sanborn is secretary-treasurer.

Four Lee Riders Win Honors At Recent Hopkinton State Fair

Four out of the six winners picked at the Hopkinton State 4-H Horse Show last Friday were Lee Riders, members of the horsemanship group of the Lee Hill 4-H Club. Although competition was keen with riders from all over that state participating, the Lee Hill 4-H girls stayed on top to win honors and trips to the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass., Sept 20 and 21.

Entries were judged in the following categories: Jr. and Sr. Judging, Jr. and Sr. Equitation, Jr. and Sr. Fitting and Showing and a rugged written examination.

Nancy Chase, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jere Chase of Madbury, came in second in the state with 232 points; Linda Morphy, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morphy of Gonic, placed third with 288 points; fourth place went to Sally Willard, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willard of Durham, with 22 points and sixth place went to Jane Moore, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Robert Moore of Durham with 218 points.

A Lee Riders team also competed in an Egg and Spoon Relay Race at the Horse Show to win 4-H jackets. Although the team missed winning the trophies, members including Jane Moore, Nancy Chase, Dale Gelinas and Jacky Morphy, rode a close second.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis of Lee started the Lee Riders two years ago with nine members; the club now numbers twenty! Two members, Joan Chadborn and Nancy Chase won trips to Eastern States last year where they showed with riders from all over New England, Miss Chadborn running

F.O.E. 1960-61 Goal — 100,000 New Members

In a strong address following his installation as F.O.E. Grand Worthy President, Leo Connell, at the 1960 Convention at Miami Beach, squarely placed emphasis on membership gains and set a lofty goal of 100,000 new members for the 1960-61 year. Noting that in the past two year the annual membership gain had stood a little more than 70,000 and pointing out that the figures for the several previous years had hovered in this same general amount, Mr. Connell stated that he could not feel that this number represented a full realization of Eagle membership potential.

Confident that with a little push plus a lot of work, Aeries can hit the proposed goal of 100,000 new fledgling Eagles when he relinquishes his gavel to his successor at this time next year, he continued, "Of course, you all know I am membership director of the State of Indiana and through hard work by the fellows in our great state, we have had a membership gain every year. So it is only natural that in this new office as Grand President, I am primarily concerned with a greater gain in that area. To achieve this goal we will have to get to work right now."

Praising the great projects which are a part of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, he stated, "These projects are only as strong as the membership behind them. Just as with a bank, if you intend to loan money, you must have capital. The strongest bank is the one which can loan the most money. We are one of the strongest organization in the land. All we have to do to stay that way is to continue our membership gain."

Here in Newmarket, we don't have to worry too much about our quota which is set at 24 new members this year. This amounts to at least two new members should be initiated monthly. So far we've been very fortunate in meeting the quota each year, some years even exceeding the number, thanks to the good work of our membership director, Rainbow Lemieux and his active committee and thanks to the support and cooperation of the remainder of the Aerie.

In conclusion, I would like to urge all brother Eagles to continue the good work and support the new Grand Worthy President, Leo Connell, in the satisfaction of realizing his ambition of 100,000 new members to swell organization ranks during his term of office.

Mrs. Dennis has ridden and shown horses since she was a youngster and has also raised and trained colts and taught riding. Her husband, "Wally", is well-known in the judging and announcing field throughout New England, making the couple particularly well qualified as leaders for the budding 4-H equestrians. The Lee Hill Club considers itself fortunate in having the Dennises devote so much of their time and interest to these 4-H youngsters.

off with top honors. Due to an injury to her horse, Miss Chadborn was unable to participate this year. The club has staked two Gymkhanas and participated in many more.

NEWMARKET, N. H.

Joe Dixx's Sport Corner

By Richard Schanda

If you are in or around the White Mountain range had Springfield, Mass. on Sept. 17 through the 25th, drop in on the Eastern States Exposition which will have a display featuring a cross-section of New Hampshire's wildlife. Deer, birds, porcupine, raccoon and a skunk will be set up in a display which will be as natural as a patch of Bay Swamp road. Last year New Hampshire's display at Boston drew many visitors and was voted one of the most original. It featured a large running water fall with several large trout swimming in a pool below the falls.

Four game wardens headed by an old friend of mine, Dave Rammond, will be around to answer questions and to hand out booklets showing how and where to catch the big ones.

Salt water fishing seems to be about over for the local sports, as September generally is a rough month for small boats. This season's fishing for salt water fish was the best in many years. 100 lb. catches were quite common. A regional paper carried a story about a Rye fisherman who caught a 607 lb. swordfish and also a 748 lb. tuna.

Of course, we local boys are not rigged to land these monsters but it's nice to know there are fish like those beauties swimming around out by the Shoals.

If you are out of doors just before dark, watch the western to eastern sky for the nightly flights of the black duck from the fresh water ponds to the bay. Flocks estimated to number up to 500 birds have been observed. A good sign for local duck hunters but on the other hand it points to trouble up north.

Before the recent hurricane, the north country, northwest of the condition of the flock would only be a guess. We will not know until we have hunted for a week or so. Again, the strong winds of the recent storm may have done much damage to the wild apple crop which was poor this year. Pheasant, partridge and deer hit the wild apples during October and November. Without these apples, hunting habits change to conform with eating habits of the game birds and animals.

Pheasants are being stocked daily and by this weekend you should start seeing the birds in force. Partridges are still in the deep woods and a guess on My "Old Uncle Flub" gave me a recipe for cooking bear meat and I will pass it on to you just in case you or one of your hunting friends shoot a bear.

Take four 1 pound steaks. Trim the fat and place in a pre-heated iron skillet. Cook under a cover for 5 minutes with chopped onions and a dash of tabasco sauce. Then take a piece of pine plank about 12" x 12" and pour the gravy over this board. Open the kitchen window wide and throw the skillet and bear meat out into the yard. Close the window and eat the plank.

You know, "Old Uncle Flub" might have something there at that.

25-INCH PICKEREL

This gent is holding last Friday's fish dinner. Phil Hendrickx caught this 25-inch 3 3/4 lb. pickerel up at Pawtuckaway Pond. He was using a red and white daredevil which also caught 2 16-inch bass at the same pond.

Women Golfers Enjoy Banquet

The Women's Golf League held their end of the season banquet at Flagstone's in Newington with 21 members attending. Toni Albee, retiring president, presented trophies to members of Team 1; Doris St. Amour, captain, Clara Homiak, Hazel Henefeld, Loretta Belmont and Doris Paradise. Barbara Munroe was recipient of the best player award for her seasonal average of 52.

Elected as officers of the league were Barbara Munroe, president; Gert Shea, treasurer; and Arlene Richard, secretary. Greens committee members are Toni Albee, chairman; Alvina LaBranche and Joy Kimball. Publicity: Norma Otash.

NEWFIELDS, NEW HAMPSHIRE

TIGER NO. 1 WINS CASH PRIZES AND TROPHIES AT RECENT TUB MUSTERS

By Ronnie Griswold

The 64th Annual League Muster was held recently at Marblehead, Mass. The Tigers looked good in the parade as they usually do and all different bands from all over New England were there.

The wind was blowing the wrong way again, because the scores were very low in the second class division. The Tiger pumped a stream of 147 feet 8 inches. This left the Tigers out of the money in Marblehead. Although the Tigers lost, the Protection won first prize with a stream of 191 feet 8 1/2 inches. The Tigers helped the Protection as they usually do and put this famous tub into first position.

Two days later, the Tigers attended another muster at Goffstown, N. H., where the Tigers bitter rival "Taggart" is located. Last year the tub took second prize and beat out the Taggart.

This year the weather was very nice with the sun shining bright and a slight breeze blowing. A very large parade was held in the morning before the muster. A large group from Newmarket, numbering in the thirties, were on hand to help the Tiger that day. After the parade ended, lobster was sold along with drinks, dogs and burgers.

Everyone waited for the start of the muster and finally the time came. The wind was beautiful, in the eyes of the foreman, because it was the first time the wind blew the way every tub wants it to blow.

The first tub pumped and got 172 feet, which was fair for a second class machine. The wind continued to blow down the paper as the Protections took their turn. The second tub pumped 189 feet 2 1/4 inches, which showed the wind was better. Then the famous Protection tub came on with an inspired crew who were out to conquer all foes.

The Tigers were joined up with the Protection men and they started the pump. The crew was so eager that they sang to the stroke of the engine. Then, the time came, break her down. The first couple of pumps were low — around 195 feet. Then the third time came. As the boys and men gave it all they had, the wind blew and the judges started running down the score sheet. By then, the crew knew they had something going and pumped even harder. They finished and found out they had pumped 245 feet 9 1/4 inches, which is the farthest stream this year by a first class machine.

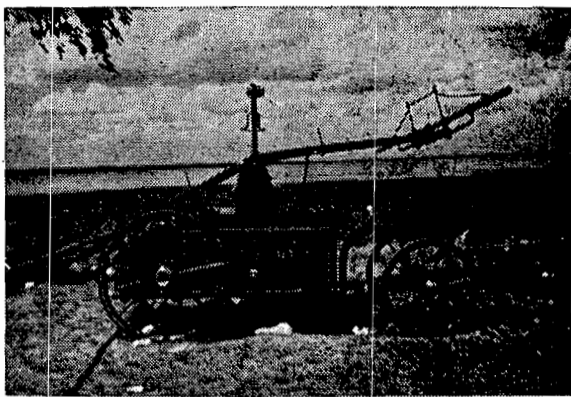

From the time they stopped until the time the Tiger came on, the crew was eager to put another stream way down the paper. The Protection had no worries until the Volunteer came on. This tub has beaten the Protection many times. But they failed as they ended up with 225 feet 4 1/2 inches. So, the Protection had won first prize.

Now the Tiger came on with its anxious crew. The foreman gave the command to get the air out and then he told them to give it all they had. It didn't seem enough until the fourth try when the men were all tuckered out. It seemed to be that they were ready as ever as the foremen told them to give it to her again. They did, and this time the stream moved way down the paper and the results were 213 feet 2 1/2 inches, a new record for the Tiger. A huge trophy was won plus $200 and the Protection won the same.

Parades were held in Goffstown, Newmarket and Newbury, Mass. Both crews had a wonderful time and were really tired. Special applauses were given to Frank Willey, Sr., the oldest pumper in the New England League.

Frank pumps on the Tiger and Protection every muster. He is 78 and seems to be able to go on for another 30 years as a strong pumper for the tubs.

Fred Harclerode's Tiger Kitten won 2nd prize in Marblehead out of ten miniature tubs. The pumpers and nozzle men were Jackie and Richie Harclerode and Pierce.

The Tiger continued to place in the top four at the musters this year as they placed well among the New England tubs. The last muster the Tigers went to they took third place and won $100. The competition was very close among the second class tubs where these scores show that difference:

First, Constitution, 195' 5 1/2"; 2nd, Torrent, 193' 2 1/4"; 3rd, Tiger, 192' 6 1/2"; 4th, Taggart, 184' 2 1/2"; 5th, Hancock, 175' 9 inches. The Protection took first place in their class by pumping a stream of 244 feet 4 1/2 inches which was short of their own record of 245 feet 8 1/4 inches. The Tigers have had a very good year so far and the Tiger who have stayed with their tub are proud of the year they had.

The muster was held in the Everett football stadium and this stadium caused very funny wind conditions which accounted for some engines have lower scores than other. The crowd wasn't very large but they enjoyed a very good muster.

The Tiger and Protection worked well together this year and have many good memories as well as prizes to acknowledge by it. The Tigers were helped a great deal by the Protection this year, but the Tiger crew help the Protection just as much. Next year, these tubs will again be at the top as they were this year.
