Retires After 37 Years As Rural Mail Carrier

An overwhelming tribute to the popularity of retiring rural mail carrier, Bob Bennett, was evidenced Saturday evening when over 250 of his patrons and friends held an Open House for him at the Jeremiah Smith Grange Hall in Lee. Bob has been mail carrier for R.F.D., Newmarket, comprising sections of Lee, Newmarket and Newfields, for thirty-seven years during which time he has made countless friends.

Philip Mitchell of Bald Hill road, Newmarket, served as Master of Ceremonies. Following a brief welcome, he introduced Mr. Fred Rowe, Regional Services officer, who spoke highly of Bob's fine postal record and read a special letter of commendation from John B. DeMott, Regional Operations Director. He also presented Bob with an Honorary Recognition Certificate for his outstanding loyalty and service signed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. Mr. Mitchell then introduced Irving Brown of Center Harbor, retired mail carrier and Bob's good friend, who called on various members of the New Hampshire and Maine Rural Letter Carrier Associations.

Among the carriers paying tribute to Bob was 90-year-old Levi Felker of Dover; Bill Morrisette of Exeter; Monroe Bean of Hollis Center, Maine; Oscar Moulton of Berwick, Maine; Philip Bennett of Portsmouth; Leo French of Tilton; state chaplain Harry Clark of Derry; Dick Moody of Greenland; Ernest (Dud) Clark of East Kingston; Byron Galloupe of Laconia; Henry Holt of Epping;

Charles Goldsmith of Chester; Victor Spollett of Chester; Robert Varney of Kittery, Me.; Alan Tozier of Plaistow and Norman Bean of Rye. Mr. Brown extended special praise to Bob's wife, Edwina, who has stood behind him as his chief assistant and "right hand man" throughout his postal career. She also served for eighteen years as secretary to the Auxiliary of the NHRLCA. Newmarket postmaster Frank Labranche introduced Bob's co-workers who all wished him a happy retirement. Mr. Mitchell concluded the program by presenting the guest of honor with a Kittinger "Prince of Ease" reclining chair, a G.E. transistor radio and a substantial purse of money given by his many friends, patrons and fellow carriers.

AN EDITORIAL

Register and Vote

By Arthur J. LaBonte

Having been over twelve consecutive years on the Board of Registration (which seems to be a record of consecutive years as an officer in this Town of Newmarket), I presume that if not best qualified, at least I am best entitled to write a few words on the important issue of Registering and Voting. I even consider it a duty and part of my job.

This is only my opinion and not necessarily the opinion of The Newmarket Times, although I feel sure the Editor will agree with me 100%.

Now, let's go back to the 1956 Presidential election where statistics show that 40 million Americans out of about 102 million eligible voters, failed to go to the polls. This number nearly equals the total population of England and is even twice that of Argentina. In the 1958 Primary elections where some States held elections for Governors, Congressional Representatives and other officials, only about 46 million out of a possible 76 million citizens eligible to vote, turned out for the elections in all the States combined.

Of course, I don't have to go far to make my point. For example, let's take our own town's voting record at the recent Primary election. According to the Checklist there were 1,954 legally registered voters in our town and, I am sorry to report, only 36% of this number exercised their privilege. In other words, a little more than one-third of the eligible voters went to the polls on a beautiful day.

What does this prove? Well, in my opinion, it proves that the majority of voters did not care. Why? The answer lies with those who didn't vote. It is obvious that these non-voters were not interested at all.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE ANNOUNCES FIRE-POLICE INTER-COM UNIT

The regular meeting of the Newmarket Civil Defense was held Monday evening at the fire station. Director George Hauschel announced that a communication system will be installed the first of the year between the fire station and the police station. This will consist of a dial phone in the fire house, listed under Newmarket Civil Defense, to be jointly financed by the fire company and Civil Defense.

Director Hauschel also announced that the CD organization has purchased 24 steel cots and a couple of desks from surplus in Concord. It was decided that the CD census will be taken from the files of the police department rather than from a house to house canvass. Mrs. Betty Philbrick was appointed to contact Mrs. Robert Baxter as to the possibility of setting up an advanced First Aid course.

Director Hauschel announced that permanent red lights may be used only on those CD members' cars which now have them. Any others will have to receive authorization from the CD director, police chief or fire chief. However, members may carry portable red lights in their car, if authorized, to use in emergencies.

The group decided not to have a December meeting because of Christmas. The auxiliary police were asked to volunteer to help the regular force patrol on Halloween night.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Tidoe Beaulieu and Roland Laroche. Twenty-eight members were present. Four new members were welcomed into the organization: John Tatro, Leland Hatch, Gene Laroche and Bonnie Beaulieu.

STILL ALARM

A still alarm was turned in at 2:30 a.m. Oct. 15 for a hot box on a freight train at Rockingham Junction. Chief Robert Keller and Herbert Philbrick answered the call.

NEW POSTOFFICE CONSTRUCTION HIGHLIGHTS SUMMERFIELD SUCCESS

Nearly 5,000 post office buildings have been constructed since the launching of the Department's modern improvement program by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield shortly after his appointment to this position by President Eisenhower in 1953.

In an announcement on this subject by Postmaster Frank LaBranche, it was pointed out that while these facilities have been equipped and furnished by the Department, the buildings themselves are either leased or rented in line with the completely new policy which has been closely followed during the past seven years. During this period there have been 27 new buildings constructed in New Hampshire at an estimated cost of $790,000.

On the basis of this experience, it is estimated that at least 1,600 new buildings will be added to this total during the current fiscal year.

It was explained that this program not only reduces the government's original expenditure substantially but also means substantial additions to the tax rolls in the communities where the new structures are located since they are not tax-exempt.

"This type of operation has resulted in more and more new mail handling each year since it was first inaugurated," Postmaster Frank LaBranche said, "and it is my understanding that the annual report which is now being prepared will reveal a new all-time high for the fiscal year 1960 ending June 30 when agreements were signed for 1,602 new buildings costing a little over $100,000,000. We have been told that this is part of a program to completely modernize between 12,000 and 15,000 postal facilities during the next few years.

"In addition to the fact that we are getting more and more brand new buildings, it is doubtful if the Post Office Department was ever before as careful in making preliminary scientific and engineering checks and surveys in order to be sure that the new facilities will adequately take care of present postal needs in their various communities, and future growth as well. And as a clear indication of just how much more rapidly this new program is being carried out, the new building total for fiscal 1959 was 655 representing a total investment by private industry of approximately $62,000,000."

As an indication of the type of agreements negotiated during fiscal 1960, it was stated that 1,125 of them — approximately 75 per cent — were on a lease basis while the remainder were for new building but on a monthly rental basis in order to simplify a change should it become necessary.

When reference to the facility improvement, Postmaster LaBranche also pointed out that in addition to the new buildings being made available under the commercial leasing program, the Department completed plans during fiscal 1960 for modernizing post offices located in 106 federal buildings throughout the United States and that plans are already under way for 31 similar projects.

"While some of these figures may not be finally approved until the actual completion of the annual report for fiscal 1960," Postmaster LaBranche stated, "there was a recent speech before a national convention of post office personnel by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in which he presented some interesting statistics as a clear indication of just how the postal service has been improved in the past seven and a half years and is now handling the biggest volume of mail in its history in the most economical and efficient manner on record.

"While I won't attempt to tell the whole story, it might be of some interest to mention that with the implementation of more than 80 'Metropolitan Areas' serving some 168 million people, they are now getting next day delivery of first class mail anywhere within their respective areas. One of the principal results has been the virtual elimination of complaints about delayed mail simply because nearly all the letters which the public expects to be delivered the day after mailing are being delivered the day after mailing. This represents a radical change when compared with 1953.

"Still another change worthy

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Manfred Dyer Is Surprised At Party

Mrs. Manfred Dyer was given a surprise birthday party by her 18 year old daughter, Ann, Saturday evening. The party, planned and executed entirely by Ann, was a complete surprise to her mother, who was whisked away to a dinner in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cole.

When she returned home she was dumbfounded to find the house filled with friends gathered to help her celebrate her birthday. She received many lovely gifts, but the best one of all was the thoughtfulness of her daughter Ann.

Guests besides the Dyer family were Mr. and Mrs. David Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cole, Mrs. George Koles, Miss Dolly Koles, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keniston, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. John Knabenschuh.

of attention is that while slightly more than 1,400 rural delivery routes have been consolidated with annual savings in excess of $4,000,000, this type of mail service has actually been extended to benefit an additional 1,500,000 families.

"It should also be mentioned that more than 5,700 post offices which were found to be unnecessary have been discontinued at a saving of nearly $9,000,000 a year while at the same time we have established 629 additional classified stations and branches and 980 contract stations and branches in order to provide better service for the public."

Postmaster LaBranche said that a comparison between any corresponding statistics for the years 1953 and 1960 would show the cumulative effects of all the day-by-day improvements under the guidance of Postmaster General Summerfield.

"His constant goal," Postmaster Frank LaBranche said, "has been to improve service while holding the line on costs through greater efficiency. The results speak for themselves."

Letters To The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Following is a copy of a letter written to the State Tax Commission in Concord concerning the recent re-evaluation in the Town of Newmarket.

October 14, 1960
State Tax Commission
Concord, New Hampshire
Attention: Mr. Lawton Chandler

Gentlemen:

The Tax Commission has just recently completed a re-evaluation of the Town of Newmarket. Recently we all received our booklets (which were printed by the town) setting forth the "sound value" and the basis on which the 1959 and 1960 taxes were issued. I would like to discuss a few points to be taken from this book.

The total 1960 evaluation for residences (and other than mills and machinery and work-in-process) was pegged at $2,809,000.00. The 1959 evaluation was pegged at $2,612,000. This represents an increase of $197,000 over 1959, or an increase of 7.56%.

Taking the four industries in town which own mills and machinery, there was in 1959 an evaluation on these mills and machinery of $445,000. For 1960 there is a total evaluation of $709,000. This is an increase of $264,000, or 59% increase from 1959 to 1960.

The stock in trade tax base went from $397,000 to $467,000, or an increase of $70,000. This represents an increase of 17.6%.

The above points to one of two things: either that the industries have been substantially underevaluated, or the members of the tax commission performing this service to the Town of Newmarket have little or no idea of what the value of mill property is.

It is beyond my comprehension as to what the purpose of such a performance might be. Industry, as you know, is the life-blood of any community or state. The legislature takes a substantial part of the tax payers' money and puts it to use in attracting industry to the state. We have set up an Industrial Development Commission, which works with various communities to develop industrial parks. We have set up an Industrial Corporation to loan money to industries coming into the state. There are any number of federal agencies, in cooperation with state agencies, to further the development of industry within a community or state.

Without a doubt, should this type of thing that has happened in Newmarket continue un-

"The goblins 'll get ya if ya don't watch out!" It's Halloween again and there will be little goblins roaming your neighborhood, ringing door bells and shrieking "trick or treat!" You'll want to have a delicious treat on hand and it can easily be in the form of these Puffed Pun'kins.

Make the miniature Jack-o-lanterns with an orange tinted mixture of puffed rice and marshmallow that can be simply molded into the colorful treats. Make jaunty "faces" with pieces of gumdrop and curly cue stems with pipe cleaners. Present the Puffed Pun'kins to your costumed callers with a handful of candy corn and peanuts on small serving dishes or trays. Why, Halloween means fun for everyone!

Puffed Pun'kins Makes 6 pumpkins

5 cups puffed rice
¾ cup butter or margarine
32 large fresh marshmallows
Yellow food color
Red food color

1 teaspoon vanilla
Confectioners' sugar
frosting
Gumdrops
Pipe cleaners

Pour puffed rice into shallow pan; heat in moderate oven (350°F.) 10 minutes. Pour into large greased bowl. Melt butter and marshmallows over low heat (may use double boiler), stirring until smooth. Add yellow and red food color, a drop at a time, until mixture is bright orange. Stir in vanilla. Pour over puffed rice; stir until evenly coated.

With greased hands, shape into 6 balls. Attach gumdrop "eyes" and "mouths" with confectioners' sugar frosting. Use curled pipe cleaners for stems.

bated, we will have little success in attracting more industry. It seems to me that this is the type of attitude which has driven industries out over a period of time!

Returning to the evaluation which the tax commission people put on my own building, (which is owned under the name of Galric Enterprises, Inc.), there is now a valuation of $160,000 on this building. A year ago last April I bought this building for $40,000. Nowhere under the law have I found where the tax base should be any more than what a willing buyer will pay a willing seller! This is stated on the front of the booklet printed by the Town of Newmarket. In no way would it be possible for me to increase the value of my building four times its worth in a period of one and a half years!

We are, naturally, going to apply for abatement. I would like to say at this point that we will carry it just as far as we possibly can to get a reasonable judgment. If the other three mills do the same, it will mean that any money refunded to the companies must be raised by an increase of citizens' tax which is paid by every other land owner in the Town of Newmarket.

It is obvious that there will be a great amount of dissension caused by this recalculation. This all could have been avoided had the people appraising the properties involved taken a more realistic attitude in their appraisal.

This has already happened in Newmarket! I sincerely hope that it will not happen in any other town!!

With kind personal regards, I remain,

Very truly yours,

REGISTER & VOTE

It is really regrettable and pitiful to witness such complacency from some citizens, who later on after the election, will be the first to criticize our government. I believe that it is becoming the rule, rather than the exception, that only about 60% of the potential voters indicate their preference regarding candidates and issues at the National elections.

Let us hope that in this important forthcoming presidential election, at least 70 or 75% of the eligible voters will turn out and vote. Also, may we bear in mind that we certainly can serve our country much better by helping to stir up the other 40% of the registered voters to exercise their privilege to vote. Besides, it will also benefit mankind today as well as the millions yet to be born — by acting and thinking with a long-range viewpoint in considering the future of our country.

Therefore, let's all vote intelligently, conscientiously and patriotically when asked to How can we have Government of the people, by the people and for the people, if so many in these United States fail to take part in it?

Yes, our right to vote is just as much a duty as a privilege, taking all considerations.

Let us remember that the essence of effective democracy is that the people choose their own government. Therefore, when any of us, as eligible voters, stay away from the polls, we defeat the cause of liberty, our own cause!

Also, let's make sure that our name is on the Checklist this year, and, if not, take steps to get registered. It is a very simple procedure. Just let's be sure that we do register on Saturday, Nov. 5 or Monday, Nov. 7, from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Town Hall.

As we all know, any American citizen wishing to register has to be 21 years of age or more; therefore, those born in 1939 or before should be in that category of voters to check up before it is too late. Mark your calendar and make it a point to register according to the above dates and later on, your names will be printed on the new checklists which will be made out after the November election.

Now, how to vote? It is easy, just vote for the candidate of your choice and according to your conscience.

Concluding, I want to emphasize the fact that the main thing is to go to the polls and vote, but first make sure that you are registered.

I hope that these few com-

Eagles' Meeting

Last week, Oct. 12, Columbus Day, the Eagles held their regular monthly meeting which was conducted by our vice president, George Pelletier. Unfortunately, our worthy president, Harold Dawes, could not attend, being confined to the V. A. Hospital in Manchester, N. H.

Our best wishes for a prompt recovery to our president.

The meeting was attended by a large group of Eagles and vice president George Pelletier, presiding, encouraged all members to be faithful; to attend all meetings in the future; no reason to be absent and as he pointed out, "All members of this Aerie should be interested in F.O.E. and know what's going on and the best way to do this is to be present at each meeting."

For the good of the order, it was voted and approved that the Aerie hold a class initiation on Sunday, Oct. 30 at 2 p.m. at Eagle Hall.

About 14 new candidates will be initiated in "Long Form" by the home degree team, which has worked so hard lately to achieve a full success under the capable direction of Roderick MacDougall.

Thomas P. Jennings, past State Aerie president, is scheduled to be the speaker for the occasion, to welcome the new candidates.

The worthy secretary, Wilfred St. Pierre, will send out cards to all those new candidates, hoping that they will all be present for this initiation.

Before closing the meeting, the drawing of the F.O.E. Code took place and as the winner was not present the next F.O.E. Code will be (37) plus at the next meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Consolation prize was awarded to Charles W. Reardon.

Wonders of Fall Season

Autumn is the season of the year which follows our departed summer. It is also called fall, arising from the "falling" leaves, which characterizes the season.

In the northern hemisphere, it extends from about Sept. 22 until Dec. 22, from the autumnal equinox to the winter solstice. We notice that during the foliage season Mother Nature changes from her charming and conservative greens to bright colors like red, yellow and orange, all along our highways, mountain and deep forests, all around us, to our pleasure.

That's why many people regard autumn as the best season of the year and others even consider October as the month in which to view nature at its best, with its variety of multicolors or in other words, as a living masterpiece.

Therefore, before this month is over, this is the time to take that drive out to the country and enjoy a seasonal spectacle which never grows stale, especially if we go to the White Mountains or even around the Lake Winnepesaukee area or elsewhere in the wooded sections.

So right now it should be wonderful and even out of this world. The air is so pure, so brisk and so invigorating out in the open. Therefore, why not go and enjoy these splendid beauties of nature during the remaining days of October.

At the same time it's an excellent idea, while contemplating these picturesque outdoor beauties, to pause for a moment and thank God, who is the real master, the real artist and above all the real creator of all these splendors which we all enjoy around us at this time of the year.

The Congregational Church of Newmarket

In the month of February, 1828, Jonathan French of North Hampton, who was moderator of the Piscataqua Association of Ministers, wrote to the directors of the Newmarket Manufacturing Co., asking for the gift of a lot of land on which to erect a house of worship of the Congregational faith. He stated in this letter,

"That the population of Lamprey River Village within a distance of two miles is a little less than 1300, that it is ascertained by calling on the heads of families, that 300 would be glad to worship with said society and that for a few weeks past the society has furnished the means of worship. So it is found that the people are willing to attend and ardently wish to have this kind of worship continued."

The company gave the land and the Congregational Church was soon built, but not as it is today. It has been enlarged and new memorial windows put in to take the place of the small paned ones, the box pews with doors that fastened with small steel button, the high organ loft opposite the pulpit, the choir seats, an hour glass that the children watched so carefully and the clock on the gallery wall which the children were forbidden to turn around and look at, to see if it was time for the benediction.

The people in those days loved to attend church. Sunday after Sunday, summer and winter, the young people, the old, the rich and the poor, gathered from all parts of the town to listen to long prayers and long sermons. When the sands in the pulpit hour glass ran out it was promptly reversed.

The long services were hard for the children. The grown-ups could have crickets or footstools, but not the poor kids. There was no rest for the short legs that hung helplessly through the long service.

Family affairs were than inspected and investigated by the church. The deacons were kept busy trying to straighten things out.

Eighty or more years ago the science of geology was comparatively new in town. The good people of the church believed what the Bible says about the creation. At the Methodist Church on the hill, a progressive preacher was trying to flood his congregation with more scientific Chautauquan thought.

At this time, a professor of geology in one of our colleges came to Newmarket to give a course of lectures in the vestry of the Congregational Church. His class in geology was small, but the Methodist minister was one of this class.

He invited the professor to preach from his pulpit the following Sunday. He accepted. The church was crowded. It had been told around town that this man did not believe that the world was made in six days.

Everybody wanted to know what he had to say about it. The elders of the church thought that such infidelity should be stopped before it wrecked the church. The morning service began as usual, but the true believers walked out before the sermon was half over.

The town clock on the tower of the Congregational Church was placed there when the church building was modernized and refurbished in 1871. Rev. Isaac C. White was the pastor.

On Sept. 1, 1871, John Palmer set out to raise the money for a town clock. The subscription book contained 180 names, 100 for $1 subscriptions. The sum paid for the clock was $425. The clock began striking the hours when the rededication service began. The sermon was preached by Rev. Daniel Sanford, the first settled minister to serve the Congregational society after its organization.

The people of Newmarket declared that they could see the steeple of the church as far up as Four Corners.

On account of change in population and other reasons, the congregation of the Methodist Church steadily decreased until in 1907 the Methodist and the Congregational people agreed to worship together at the Congregational Church, with Rev. D. C. Babcock as pastor.

After the Baptist Church was not able to carry on any longer, the members joined the Community Church under the name of the Baptist Association. This was June 11, 1939.

There have been many fine ministers at the Community Church, among them Rev. Isaac White, who was pastor for nearly 13 years. After he retired, he moved to Plymouth where he died in February, 1907. Another good pastor was Rev. William Ramsdell. He purchased a home in Newfields, where he lived for several years.

Another minister of recent years was Rev. Ernest McKenzie who was with us for 10 years. Everybody loved him, especially the young people.

Coming down the the present time I will say we have a very fine church with a large adult choir and a junior choir. The Thrift Shop is doing a good business. We have a large Sunday School. One Sunday there were 145 pupils and 19 teachers and officers present.

We are very glad to have Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Wright with us, for they are both full of courage and enthusiasm for the work of the Kingman.

The membership drive of the Robert G. Durgin Post has picked up much speed this week and to date we have got 64% of our dues in. We have just two weeks left in which to get the rest of them in. It would be very nice if those who have not got their new 1961 membership card to give us an assist.

Do you want to get in on the free feed which the membership committee is putting on for those members who have paid their 1961 dues before Nov. 1? You really missed a nice feed when we held the oyster stew supper.

So far we have 35 new or reinstated members. The district officers will make an official visit to the Post at this supper-meeting and would like to meet the membership. Our membership to date for 1961 is 260 paid-up members.

On Saturday, Oct. 29, we will hold an auction at the Town Hall. If any of the members and friends of the Post have any items that they would care to donate we will be glad to receive them.

On Saturday, Oct. 29, at night we will hold our annual masked Halloween party. A transistor radio will be given as an attendance prize. All paid admittance participants will receive five chances on the radio. Prizes will also be given to the best costumed pair and also the most comical couple.

The commander is asking all the members who have books of tickets on the Corvair will please turn them in as they must be accounted for on Nov. 4 at Somersworth district convention.

The officers of the Third New Hampshire district wish to thank those persons who so charitably donated food and clothing for the family who were so in need. Much food was brought in and the family has been fully clothed and one fuel dealer said he would fill up the oil tanks free when they become empty. In as much as we have plenty of these charity cases we would like to continue the request so that a reserve would be always on hand to take care of really needy cases.

At the recent district meeting in Hampton, the district went on record as approving the action taken by the Salmon Falls Post in protesting the keeping of the schools open on the Veterans Day holiday in Rollingsford of which, Salmon Falls is a part.

At at recent meeting of the Robert G. Durgin Post it was voted that we offer a prize of a $25 government bond to the winner from the Newmarket High School, if the winner went to the district oratorical contests to be held in Durham. Win or lose in Durham, he or she would be given the bond by the Post.

HOME DEMONSTRATION GROUP WILL MEET

The Newmarket Home Demonstration group will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Bennett on Lee road to make cancer dressings, Tuesday, Oct. 25 from 10:30 to 3.

Members are reminded to bring sewing equipment, old sheeting and lunch and are urged to come for as long as possible.

refreshments provided by the ladies of "RFD Newmarket". Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. D. Perry Smith of Newfields and Mrs. Lloyd Stevens of Lee. Miss Alice Dudley of Lee was in charge of the kitchen and was assisted by Mrs. Francis Brady and Mrs. Clayton Bloom of Newmarket and Mrs. Arthur Ball and Mrs. Charles Brady of Lee. Mrs. Will Carpenter and Mrs. Woodruff of Lee were in charge of the guest book.

Flower arrangements were donated by Dot's Flower Shop and by Ye Olde English Green House of Newmarket. The latter also presented Mrs. Bennett with an orchid corsage and Bob with a boutonniere. Photographer Haven Hayes of Madbury was on hand to take pictures for a memory book and Frank Dickinson of Raymond was in charge of music and audio facilities.

Bob attended Phillips Exeter Academy and graduated from UNH in 1921. He served in the Army in World War I and started in the postal service in 1919 as spare clerk. In 1923, he began his 37 year hitch on RFD Newmarket with a horse and buggy. The route then went through sections of Durham, Lee and Nottingham but with the advent of a model T and still more modern transportation, his route changed to include 64 miles through Newmarket, Lee, Epping and Newfields where he has served 350 families.

Because of his complete devotion to his job, Bob didn't have much time for outside activities. However, he served for thirty years as the secretary to the Rockingham County Rural Letter Carrier Association and was president of the state RLCA from 1953 to 1955. He is one of only four letter carriers in the whole State of New Hampshire to hold a certificate for outstanding service within the state, issued by the National Letter Carrier Association. He holds a Safe Driver Award issued by the National Safety Council for thirty years of safe driving — an accomplishment well earned. He is also a charter member of the Newmarket Chapter of the American Legion, a member of Rising Star Lodge No. 47, F. & A.M. and a member of the Newmarket Community church.

CIVICS DEPARTMENT
HOLD MEETING

The Civics Department of the Women's Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Ralph Waugh at Rockingham Junction. Mrs. Doris Holt of Florida was a guest.

A report was given of the playground activities this summer, a program sponsored by the Civics Department and termed highly successful.

Grade One

There are 26 children in the first grade this year; 15 girls and 11 boys.

One reading group has finished their first book, "Skip Along."

Some of us have already finished one reading book and have taken it home to read.

In numbers, we have been learning about place value. We also have been doing addition and subtraction examples.

We have finished units about safety and health. We decided that the best health poster was made by Michael Stone, Timothy Cotton and Alan Mitchell. After we had read several stories about fall, we then discussed ways in which people, animals, and plants get ready for the coming winter months.

We second graders have also studied about asking and telling sentences. We are also trying to remember to put "I" last when talking or writing.

Grade Three

The Third Graders have been trying very hard to improve their hand writing. They have been writing alphabets, sentences and notes.

The first meeting of the fall season of the Lee Fire Department Auxiliary was held last Monday evening at the Lee Vestry. During the business meeting which was presided over by vice president Kate Mahoney, discussions on changing the annual supper meeting and decision on the date for next year's Firemen's Fair were tabled until next meeting.

Mrs. Mahoney asked for volunteers to start a Cub Pack in Lee. Any mother wishing to help organize a pack in Lee is asked to call Mrs. Mahoney at OL 9-3406.

It was voted to set up a swimming fund with donations which have been received from parents outside of Lee whose children attended last summer's swimming program. The fund will be spent at the discretion of the swimming committee.

Mrs. Mahoney and Mrs. Stevens gave a report on the successful Swimming School which the auxiliary sponsored for the fifth year. Special mention was made of the unusually fine job Rob Buchan accomplished as Red Cross Water Safety Instructor. He was the first recipient of a scholarship fund set up by the auxiliary and the Lee Chapter of the American Red Cross to attend ARC Aquatic School.

Mrs. Lloyd Stevens, chairman of the Lee health committee, reported on the Well Child Clinics which the auxiliary sponsored through the spring and summer. Special thanks were extended to Mrs. George Durepo and Mrs. Hugh MacDonald for their faithful assistance. Mrs. Mahoney reminded members that dues are payable for the 1960-61 year.

Following the business meeting, Miss Alice Dudley showed colored movies and slides of the Firemen's Fair and the final program and water ballet of the Lee Swimming School. Parents of children participating in the swimming school from Barrington, Newmarket and Portsmouth were invited to attend the meeting. Mr. Richard Clark, minister of the Lee Congregational Church, was also present.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Dale Underwood at Lee Hill and will feature hobby night. Members are asked to bring their hobbies.

Fish and Game Dept. To Survey Lamprey River Salmon Stocking

The pictures appearing with this article show a river in Canada which had the same problems which faced the return of Atlantic salmon to our Lamprey River.

The dam cut off the salmon from their up-river spawning beds, as has happened in Newmarket. With the construction of the proposed fish ladder and the re-stocking of the upper river, we could have the same spring run of salmon as is enjoyed by fishermen and naturalists in Maine and Canada.

The fish that Arthur Beuchesne is holding shows the results of five years of growth and conservation. A favorable report by the Fish and Game Department on water temperatures, natural foods, spawning beds and water pollution will start the ball rolling.

Many fishermen have expressed concern over water pollution. They may present a problem but one must remember that the pollution line runs from Pound Rock up to a point above Sliding Rock. This area could be run by a salmon in 20 or 30 minutes.

In the near future this area will be cleaned up with the construction of proposed sewage disposal plant which has been ordered by the state. A clean river is a valuable piece of real estate but expensive to obtain.

The two letters reprinted here are my letter to the commissioner and his prompt reply.

Attention: Commissioner Ralph B. Carpenter
Dear Mr. Carpenter:

No doubt your Department is aware of the fact that Atlantic salmon commonly used the Lamprey River and its tributaries many years ago and perhaps would still use it were it not for the dams that have been erected that interrupt their passage.

The dams were erected, of course, for power purposes, however, presently the N. H. Electric Co. has abandoned all of these dams to public and private ownership.

I feel certain that the new owners would cooperate in the erection of fish ladders, such as are now in use in Canada and Maine, where salmon have been successfully introduced into river that formally had salmon but were interrupted as per the Lamprey River.

In addition, I feel that we have enough sportminded men in Newmarket that would lend a hand to attain such a goal, be it physical labor or what have you.

To my knowledge, the Lamprey River is the longest and largest river completely contain within the borders of the State of New Hampshire. Its tributaries run into the Pawtuckaway Pond and I believe your Department has charge of the dam and the state owns much land in and around the pond.

The introduction of Atlantic salmon in the Lamprey River would open up another avenue of recreational money to the state, and in addition, of course, the seacoast area being the fastest growing area in the state would be better served by your Department.

May I have your comments and advice on the above at your earliest convenience.

Dear Mr. Schanda:

Thank you for your letter and petition concerning Atlantic salmon. We appreciate the fact that they would be an excellent addition should we be able to restore them in New Hampshire. I am asking our Fisheries Biologist to place the Lamprey River on their schedule to find out if there would be a possibility of their eventually restoring them.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS!

Joe Dixx's Sport Corner

By Richard Schanda

Duck hunting season opened last Saturday with ideal weather for the duck hunters. Fog with an occasional shower on Saturday kept the birds moving. The best shooting centered around the local beaver ponds. These ponds will continue to produce for at least two weeks then the main rivers will get the larger flocks. Look for a big increase in mallards and pin-tail ducks. The wood duck population has dropped in numbers, but there are still plenty of woodies to make river shooting interesting.

Sunday was a duck hunters dream with fog, drizzle and hard rain. As a matter of fact, we also had a pretty good thunder storm.

Brother Joe and I limited up with blacks and mallards making up the bag.

The ducks are in fine shape with lots of good yellow fat. The young birds are still loaded with pin feathers but along towards the 1st of November this condition will pass. It is a chore to dress them out.

It was real interesting to see the different type of ducks that seem to mix in as one flock. In one pond which covered around 2 acres of land, we saw and identified wood ducks, mallards, pintails, baldpate, merganser, blacks and teals. This gave us a chance to try for a favored type of duck. Brother Joe favored mallards and got 2 blacks and a drake mallard. I wanted pintails and got 3 blacks — good shooting ????

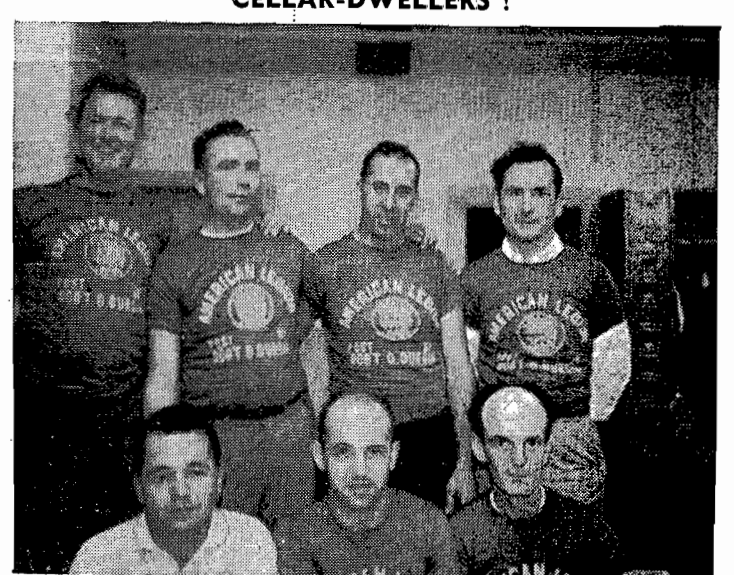

The Fish and Game newsletter reports that it is offering for sale the Laconia State Fish Hatchery.

The property consists of 7 buildings along with 7 acres of land and all the equipment to hatch and rear trout. The Bi-annual Fish and Game report listed this property as a model hatchery and I would guess that we have many thousands of licensed dollars invested in the works. The Fish and Game department claims that new methods have increased the hatching successes and with better hatches, this plant is no longer needed. Sealed bids are being received by the Department and bidding will close at 2 a.m. (E.S.T.) on November 10, 1960.

Ted Turner up at the Grain Shed in Lee Hill is running a deer pool. The pool is open to hunters who feel they may be skillful or lucky enough to tip over a nice big buck this fall. This pool applies to deer shot in New Hampshire, either in the Northern or Southern section. The closing date for joining the pool will be 6 a.m., the first of November. The prizes will be worked out when the pool closes. I understand Ted will be barred from the pool as he once talked a twelve-point buck to death and a fast talker like Ted would have an unfair advantage over we local boys.

The up-country bird hunting seems to be on the lean side. The areas just this side of the White Mountains are real quiet. The Fish and Game department is at a loss to explain why the shortage. A Northeast spring storm which blew up in March may have killed off the bulk of the winter weakened partridge. Whatever the cause, the birds are scarce. It will take two or three years to bring the population back to normal — so look for lean partridge hunting on the Eastern slopes.

This week's TIMES carried reports of 3 violations of oyster laws. The fines totalled $55. The "Tong" boys should pick up the new Salt Water Fishing Regulations and see what new laws the up-landers have voted into law. They should also sit down with their local representatives and discuss changes and additions to these laws. The main trouble with these laws was the lack of knowledge of the Great Bay area and its contents. How can a man from the mountain areas vote on a law governing the Bay area if he has never dug a clam or tonged an oyster?? It is up to the local salt water boys to explain these facts to our district representatives.

A check on the deer situation up north points to a fine year. Plenty of nuts and acorns will make hunting the upper slopes a must. Wild apples are plentiful and no doubt the deer will be drawn to these spots. The high winds of September easterly storm shook most of these apples off the trees, so hunt the old orchards early.

Bantam Bowlers Start Saturday

The Newmarket Bantam Bowling League will start league bowling Saturday, Oct. 22. All children from 7 to 12 wishing to participate in the league are asked to meet at the Turcotte parking lot next to the Town Hall, Saturday, before 12:30. Parents who would be willing to transport the bowlers are asked to pick them up at the same place, same time.

There were not enough children registered last Saturday to start league bowling, but those twenty present did bowl competitively. High scorer was John Langlois with a score of 102 for single and 276 for triple strings.
