Dover Shoppers Will Share Many Values and Prizes This Week

Shoppers in more than forty Dover retail stores this week-end will share in prize awards of some $700 in merchandise while enjoying one of the most outstanding mid-winter sales events in the history of the Garrison City.

Dover's mammoth "Winter Carnival of Values", a colossal three-day retail sales event, will get under way on Thursday morning and will continue at participating stores until Saturday evening.

Featuring unusual sales values in clothing, accessories, hardware, furniture, appliances, household needs, hobby and sporting goods and other merchandise, each of the more than forty participating stores will prominently display the blue and red "Winter Carnival of Values" window banners and will provide registration coupons for shoppers, each of whom will have opportunity to win one or more of the merchandise prizes which are to be awarded on Monday morning, February 13th. A display of the prizes has been prepared at 435 Central avenue. To add to the carnival atmosphere, flags will be displayed by the retailers during the sales event.

Several radio stations of the area will carry important announcements about merchandise values being offered during the mid-winter sales carnival.

Main Street Musings

BY THE INQUIRER

AT THIS TIME of year with budget meetings taking place and town spending facing the voters, it seems a good time to suggest an article in the warrant for a small sum to repair and paint the town clock. It is beginning to look quite shabby.

ACCORDING TO WORD received from the high school, only enough people were interested in the adult education courses to make up one class—typing. Too bad that people don't take advantage of this opportunity.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER should bring out some seed displays. With the temperature at 40° on Wednesday, we'll wager that Ole Farmer John is stirring around up on South Main. Can Spring be far behind?

Major Town Improvements To Be Explained At Town Meeting

Voters of Newmarket will have a chance at March Town Meeting to make three major improvements with no appreciable increase in the tax rate as far as the town (this does not include the school budget expenditures) are concerned, it was learned by the Times today.

One of the proposals has to do with sidewalk construction on Main street. After considerable study and consultation with experts, it has been found that at a cost of $3,500, the Main street sidewalk from Ben Franklin store to the Newmarket Community Church, a distance of approximately 1,500 feet, could be sealed with a final coat of hardtop. The town crew could do the preliminary work of breaking up the old sidewalk and laying the gravel foundation with an outside firm putting on the final covering.

An additional $2,500, if appropriated, would permit the building of sidewalks in other localities, providing the property owners would pay half the cost.

School Superintendent Suggests Solutions

Special To The Newmarket Times

At a recent meeting of the Epping and Newmarket School Boards a compromise solution was offered by Superintendent of Schools, Thayer Wade. In an attempt to solve the educational problem at the secondary level in Epping and at the same time assist Newmarket in their cost and program.

Propose Epping Build

It involves the two communities sharing or cooperating on their services and facilities. This proposal would have Epping build a new high school building, but instead of becoming involved in a comprehensive program by themselves and including the expensive areas of industrial art and science they would build a basic building of classrooms and possibly a gym. The cost of this structure would be considerably less when compared with a building containing comprehensive facilities and equipment.

Several Alternatives Studied

Superintendent Wade relates that with two up-to-date structures the communities could share their program and facilities in several ways. Inasmuch as Newmarket presently has the science and industrial arts area, students participating in the scientific or industrial arts curriculum could attend school in Newmarket.

Students in the business and academic areas could attend in Epping. Another alternative is to have one school provide the scientific areas and the other the humanities. Still another would involve sharing only in specific areas as in industrial arts and science. There are other possibilities being considered.

"It seems unrealistic and expensive, stated Mr. Wade, "for two small high schools to offer a math or foreign language course to three to six students in each school, when they can combine and offer these services in one building and save the cost of a classroom and teacher.

Saving Would Be Considerable

This proposal is still in the exploratory phase, but preliminary estimates of $6,000 increased transportation would be more than off-set by the saving of $20,000 in teachers salaries alone. For Newmarket as well as Epping this would greatly assist them in lowering their per pupil cost at the secondary level, and provide additional course offerings for both schools.

The first public discussion of this proposal will be presented to the Newmarket PTA on Monday, Feb. 13, and in Epping on Wednesday, Feb. 15. Anyone interested in attending these meetings in the two communities are cordially invited to attend.

Preliminary Budget Hearing Scheduled

Members of the Newmarket School Board met with the Newmarket Budget Committee Monday evening to present their proposed budget for the coming year.

Mrs. Beatrice Geoffreon, school board chairman, presented the budget.

Industrial Group To Meet Feb. 16

The Newmarket Industrial Group will meet at the Court Room of the Newmarket town hall, Thursday, February 16, at 7:15 p.m.

Rubbish Truck Recommended

In the second proposal, the selectmen are recommending the purchase of an enclosed rubbish truck. The town now owns three trucks which are used for trash collection. Each truck has two men, making a total of six men needed to do the job.

All taxpayers are not serviced by trash collection at present.

With the proposed new unit four times as much trash can be collected in one load, and can be operated by two or three men.

The operators need not strain to toss canfuls of trash on the load as they presently must do, for the new unit's inlet is waist high. This eliminates littering of the trash.

Due to the increased efficiency of the new machine it is anticipated that trash collection could be extended to the town boundaries, thus servicing every home and business in Newmarket, at no additional cost.

If voted at town meeting to purchase the new rubbish unit, it will be recommended that the $12,500 appropriation be raised on long term notes; approximately $3,000 a year for four years.

All-Purpose Tractor Needed

The third item included in the proposed town budget is (Continued on Page Seven)

Through The Years . . .

With Mary Richardson

Scene nine: The starting of the mill. The Newmarket Mfg. Co. was incorporated in 1822 and the first mill was built the next year. It contained 2500 spindles.

In spite of the small wages the opportunity for employment was very welcome and the up to date features in the construction of the mill were a source of great pride to the town.

In this scene Charles Dearborn took the part of Nathan, a tannery workman. The four mill girls were Mrs. Clinton George, Miss Elizabeth McDaniel, Miss Susan Walker and Miss Merina Morrisette. The firemen in the play were H. J. Morrison, Grover Keniston, Albert Chassee, Evander Knowles, Wellington Nicholson, Arthur Antoine, Donald Starling, W. B. Gallant, Jr., Francis Mullen and Thomas Gallant. This scene was sponsored by the Newmarket Women's Club.

During the Civil War, about 150 men were sent to the battlefields by Newmarket. They served in many regiments, especially the Second, Fifth, Sixth and Thirteenth New Hampshire Regiments.

Sgt. Woodbridge Durell, mentioned in this scene, had served in 11 engagements before the battle near Sulphur Springs, in which he was captured with about 45 other men who in the dark had ridden by mistake into the enemy camp.

Before the end of the war, he suffered for 15 months in seven different prison camps. So severe were the hardships inflicted on these men that only five of the 45 who were captured with Durell survived with Durell in their imprisonment.

The women of the Soldiers' Aid Society met often at the church vestry to roll bandages, pick lint and knit for the soldiers. Members of the aid were Mrs. William M. Roberts, Miss Jennie Young, Miss Evelyn McWinne, Mrs. Herbert Brackett, Mrs. Carl F. Brackett, Mrs. Herman J. Morrison, Mrs. D. J. Brady, Mrs. Mary A. Bennett, and Mrs. George Sewall.

This scene was sponsored by the Lamprey River Grange and the Women's Relief Corps.

The last scene is concerning World War I and is sponsored by the Robert G. Durgin Post, No. 67 of the American Legion.

Taken from the files of the Newmarket Advertiser, Mar. 24, 1927: Old Newmarket—David Chapman built a house on the spot where the heirs of James Munroe lived, with a barn and outbuildings connected.

Some of his kind friends in Stratham said that he never would lay a floor in the attic, implying that he would not be able to finish house. The first thing he did after the frame was up was to put in a double floor in the attic. Some of his grandchildren can testify to the same.

He had a tan yard in the rear of his house, both tan pits, lime pits, and a water pit. A man named Joseph Green was told if he would jump into the water pit he should drink a gallon of cider.

He said, "My name is Green, as well as Jo and into the water pit I must go."

After he was out and had taken a drink of cider he said, "My name is Jo, as well as Green, and in the water pit I have been seen."

Dr. Nathaniel Kidder lived in the house in which Albert Tebbetts lived, now owned by Dr. E. L. Elkins. He was for many years the physician of the town and was very successful in his practice. He died 60 years ago.

Jeremiah Mead lived on the farm now owned by Milton Lane. He represented the town nearly 70 years ago during the Missouri compromise and voted against the aggression of tyranny.

The residence of John Presision and Mrs. Ann Wiggin is a relic of antiquity. John Noble Watson resided there 80 years ago. A tan yard was in the field next to Milton's.

Maj. John D. Shackford taught a private school in one part of it in the winter of 1821 and 22. Some of the scholars still live.

Maj. Hill owned the premises now owned by Tebbetts. He was the town clerk for some years. In those days instead of posting a notice of intention of marriage he would cry the intention on the Sabbath in the old meeting house at the Junction.

Carriages were made in an old shop near the house. Legend says that the house was haunted and that a social room was not used on that account. The road in those days did not go over Pine Hill as now, but turned in just above the pound, going along near the wall ending where Julia Leavitt lived.

The district school house was situated about half the length of this road. There was the shop of Timothy Murry used by him for the tailoring business. It was moved away 70 years ago and used as a dwelling. This shop is not on the map but the residence of Dea Murray, back of the present bank building, is on the map.

Next came Capt. Barbar's house and barn where now stands the post office. Then comes a store where B. F. Haley's clothing manufacturer now is. Then it was owned by David Chapman, whose dwelling was in the rear of the present express office. His store is the only one on the map although there were certainly as many as four stores in the village at this time.

F.O.E. 63rd Anniversary

As F.O.E. publicity director, it seems to me that I would not be performing my job properly, if at least, I don't say a few words about the 63rd Anniversary of this great organization.

This very month, the Fraternal Order of Eagles marks another milestone in its history.

On Feb. 6, 1898, this fraternity, F.O.E., was organized and the story of its humble founding by six theatrical men at Seattle, Washington, and its amazing growth until today it numbers more than 1700 Aeries and is still growing fast on this continent.

Reviewing its past 63 years, cooperating to spread the message of tolerance and understanding at home and bringing to the communist dominated peoples of Europe, Hope and Inspiration, during their period of hardship and misery.

Then the F.O.E. can celebrate its 63rd Anniversary 100% secure in the knowledge that the ideals of its "Founders" of 1898, are being actively expressed to further the noble impulses which brought a great fraternity into existence. So, during all this month of February, the Eagles are happy to celebrate their 63rd Anniversary, hoping to keep going and growing in the future as they have done in the past.

Now in concluding, while the spotlight is still focused on Washington, I would like to mention that President John F. Kennedy becomes the fifth member of the F.O.E. to serve as President of the United States. He joined Hyde Park Aerie (Massachusetts) of the Fraternal Order of Eagles on an. 18, 1951.

Here is the roll call of Eagle Presidents of the U. S.: (1.) President Theodore Roosevelt joined Cheyenne, Wyo. in 1905; (2) Pres. Warren G. Harding

C.Y.O. Corner

By Gail Griswold

The C.Y.O. group is really doing a great job. They wanted to raise some money so they decided to put on Whist Parties every Tuesday night at 7:30. These whist parties are very successful and C.Y.O. members would like to thank everyone who supports them.

Winners for the party of Jan. 24 were Mrs. Bertha Mitchell, Mrs. Ruth Norton, Mrs. Irene McLean, Mrs. Irene Valliere, Mrs. Isabelle Dearborn, and Mrs. Gladys Caswell.

Consolation prize went to Trazier MacDonald, Pool to Mrs. Bertha Mitchell as well as Floating Prize; Raffle prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jeanette Turcotte and Mrs. Claire Hamel; Door prize went to Mrs. Gladys Caswell.

Winners of the Jan. 31 party were as follows: Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Toni Malek, Miss Amelia Dutka, Mrs. Irene Valliere, Mrs. Irene McLean, and Mrs. Stella Smas.

Consolation prize went to Mrs. Lila Hamel; Raffle to Miss Amelia Dutka; Door prize to Mrs. Talbot and Floating Prize to Mrs. Stella Smas.

Besides prizes at these Whist Parties, the C.Y.O. members serve a lunch. We would like to have more come to our whist parties. We are quite sure that they would spend an enjoyable evening.

The C.Y.O. basketball team seems to be doing fine. They have won three games and lost one. Four teams are tied for first place and our team is one of them.

Future plans have not been made on what will be the next C.Y.O. undertaking. But our committees are working hard to pick out something for us to do — as far as the Social line of the group goes.

I regret to say that the attendance at the meetings seem to be getting smaller all the time. We hope to see a pick up in numbers of members that attend the meetings. We started off this C.Y.O. year with a bang — Let's end it the same way!

Urgent Appeal for Shop-Handyman Leader

An urgent appeal is being sent out for a civic-minded person who would be willing to help with a shop and handyman group of the Lee Hill 4-H Club.

Isn't there someone in town who would be willing to donate just one evening every three weeks to help this group of eager youngsters learn the fundamentals of carpentry work?

The reward of working with these youngsters far outweighs the small amount of time one would have to put in.

The other two groups are being led by Tom Brown and Ted Turner. Anyone interested is cordially invited to contact Ted Turner at Peggy's Country Store.

School Vacation Cut

The Oyster River School Board announced recently that due to the number of days missed from snow storms this winter, a change has had to be made in the February vacation schedule.

Instead of a weeks vacation, students at Mast Way and Oyster River schools will have classes on Feb. 20 and 21.

Vacation will start on Feb. 22 and run through Feb. 26.

First Person to File

This is the time of year when interest begins to generate towards Town Meeting Day.

Eventually every gathering of two or more persons turns to the topic of town politics. With town meeting only a month away the question of who is running for town offices is of utmost importance to every voter.

A check with Mrs. Annie Piper, town clerk, reveals only one person has filed so far; Mrs. Marion Morey for library trustee.

Mrs. Piper announced also that the deadline for filing for any town office is Monday, March 6 at 6 p.m.

Community Club

The February meeting of the Lee Community Club was held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth George instead of the Lee Church Vestry due to the inclement weather.

During the business meeting president Joan Randall and other members gave reports of their activities at the all-day session of the mid-winter Women's Club Conference held Jan. 18 at the Highway Motor Hotel in Concord.

Mrs. Randall reported on her visit to the international affairs workshop, Mrs. Hazel Walden gave a report on home life workshop and Mrs. Carolyn Hubley and Mrs. Lois Haine reported on the communications workshop which they attended.

Following the business meeting members sewed on a complete layette for the Exeter Hospital.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cecelia Moriarty, Mrs. Eva Jennison and Mrs. Elizabeth George.

The next meeting will be held Mar. 1 with Fred Courtsal speaking on animal control.

Fire Department Auxiliary

The Lee Fire Department Auxiliary will hold its monthly meeting at the Lee Church Vestry, Monday, Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Members are asked to bring snapshots of themselves or their families at any age, to be used as part of the entertainment.

The auxiliary extends a cordial invitation to any woman in the town interested in joining the organization to attend the meeting.

4-H Shop and Handyman

On Feb. 2 the junior group of the shop and handyman project met at Ted Turner's shop, with their leader, Tom Brown. Only two members were present, Mike Kennard and Richard Dennis, both of whom finished their projects of making boot-jacks.

Assisting the leader was Paul Tuner, junior leader.

The next meeting for this group will be Thursday, Feb. 23 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Jeremiah Smith Grange

The Jeremiah Smith Grange met at the Grange hall last week to confer the fourth degree on four candidates. Deputy Frank Foster of Rochester was present for his spring visit. Deputy Stanley French of Somersworth was also present.

Worthy Master Clyde Fogg announced standing committees for 1961. The lecturer reported programs have gone to the printers to be distributed at the Feb. 14 meeting which will be a Valentine box party.

Each lady is requested to bring a box lunch for two, to be auctioned off for the benefit of the home economics committee.

The lecturer presented a program on New Hampshire and Deputy French showed color slides on New Hampshire. The secretary announced that she had received the flag that the Grange presented to the new Mast Way School from Washington, where it had flown over the White House.

The lecturer announced the committee to be in charge of the 70th anniversary and open house to be held Feb. 28, Clyde Fogg, chairman; Esther Garrity, Mrs. Irene Fisk, Miss Alice Dudley, Mrs. Blanche Ball, Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. Virginia Brady.

There were two visitors from Crown Point Grange of Stratford, two from Somersworth, two from Rockingham of Epping and 23 members present at the meeting.

A pot-luck supper was served after the meeting.

Lee Brownies

This week members of the Lee Brownie troop were divided into five groups, each group meeting at a home of a member's mother for cooking lessons.

The Brownies went immediately to the following homes instead of their regular meeting at the Vestry: Mrs. Jack Hull on Little Hook road, Mrs. Harold Ward on Lee Hook road, Mrs. Robert Badger on Concord road, Mrs. William McGrath on Mast road and Mrs. Dennis Haine on Concord road. Here the girls made cookies which were then frozen to be used when they entertain their mothers during Girl Scout Week.

Mrs. Dennis Haine, leader of the Lee Brownies, attended an arts and crafts workshop in Durham on Friday with other leaders from the Oyster River neighborhood and seacoast region of the Swift Water Council of Girl Scouts.

Stork Shower

A double stork shower was given for Mrs. Ben Gooch and Mrs. Terry Mann at the home of their grandmother-in-law, Mrs. Ben Lang on Calef road, Lee, recently.

Guests, all family members, who were present included Mrs. Irene Gooch, Mrs. Faye Tuttle, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mrs. Peggy Clark, Mrs. Gertrude Lowery and Pat and Sherry Lowery.

Chief Attends Hearing

Chief Lloyd Stevens of the Lee Volunteer Fire Department was among many fire chiefs throughout the state who attended the hearing Tuesday at the State House in Concord for the proposed firefighters' training course bill now before the Legislature.

Leader Ralph Granger and project leaders Mrs. Jack Randall and Mrs. Philip Sanborn of the Lee Hill 4-H Club attended an instructional and training meeting of the Strafford County 4-H leaders held Wednesday evening at the Strafford County Extension office in Rochester.

MISS ELAINE BOISVERT WEDS RICHARD G. REUSCH IN PENNA.

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Chapel is Erie, Pa., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Elaine Boisvert of Arlington, Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Boisvert, of 19 Spring street, Newmarket, to Richard G. Reusch of Erie, Pa., son of Mrs. Mary Reusch and the late Clarence Reusch.

The Rev. John T. Scheffner, pastor, and friend of the groom and family, performed the double ring ceremony.

The couple was the first to be married in the new church. The bride wore a two-piece white nylon organza sheath dress with matching jacket which was designed with a silk braid applique and short sleeves. She wore a white mink fur crown hat with short veil and carried a white prayer book with white orchids and streamers.

Miss Patricia Hinds of Arlington, Va., was maid of honor wearing a coral pink sheath dress with matching headband and veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with pink net.

James Ordowski of Port Huron, Michigan was best man.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue wool suit, matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Donna Reusch, wore a blue print chiffon dress with satin cummerbund and matching hat. She also wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at Scheffner's Restaurant in Erie. About 50 members of the immediate family were in attendance at the dinner reception.

The couple left on a wedding trip to New England where they visited the bride's parents, who were unable to attend. For traveling the bride chose an emerald green velvet and satin dress with a feathered crown hat, matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return they took up residence at 1835 Cliff View, Apt. 302, Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Reusch was graduated

ELAINE BOISVERT

Dr. and Mrs. Forbes Getchell attended the annual mid-winter meeting of the N. H. Dental Society which was held at the Highway Motel in Concord, on Feb. 4.

While Dr. Getchell attended the Society meeting, Mrs. Getchell attended the society's auxiliary meeting, of which she is a past officer.

The speaker at the society's opening session at 9:30 was Dr. John H. Stine, assistant professor of oral medicine at the Dental School of Pennsylvania.

Following a business session and luncheon the dentists heard a report on the work of the Strategic Air Command to round out the day-long program.

The dental assistants and the hygienists held a joint meeting in the morning when they heard from Dr. Andrew N. Weston of Nashua. His subject dealt with "Approaching the Child Patient."

Main speaker at the auxiliary meeting was scheduled to be Dr. Frederick Jones, Jr., of Concord discussing the use of hypnosis in dentistry.

News From St. Mary's School

The pupils and members of the staff are grateful to the members of the C.D.A. who presented the school with a television set. The In-School Programs are being enjoyed by the respective grades.

Grade One

In number work we are now learning to add. We like to make pictures to help us understand the meaning of the additions.

Spelling is fun and easy too, now that we know the name and sound of our letters.

Grade Two

We eagerly follow the Music Appreciation Program through Channel 11 and Professor Jon Kok has captured our attention.

We are progressing in every subject of our curriculum.

To dear little Elaine, we extend our best wishes for a complete recovery.

Grade Three

We are stressing multiplication and division facts in problems. Most of us are now reading in "More Streets and Roads."

The following pupils have kept the highest score for the Review List — First Half in Spelling:

Peter LaBranche, David Bailargeon, Walter Levesque, Jeffrey Landroche, Vincent Jordan, Timothy Poliquin, Simone Massé, Maureen LaBranche, Joyce Langlois, Susan Bond, Theresa Bonenfant, Linda Gonet, Lynn Desmond.

Also Janice Charest, Patricia Jennings Irene Fortier, Patrice

Olszanowski, Shelly Sharples, Linda Milot and Janice Jarosz.

Grade Four

We are now working divisions with two-number divisors and two-step problems.

In social studies we have found out how the monks saved the Old World Treasures.

The following boys and girls have kept 100% in Spelling:

Gerard Gagné, Ronald Hayes, Michael Lergere, Shirley Gonet, Pauline Hamilton, Paulette Pelletier, Janet Randall and Pamela Tourigny.

Grade Five

We are now active participants of the French fifth grade program "Parlons Français." We enjoy this program very much. Educational TV also presents a Science program which we watch every week. Although television is fun, we do not put aside our other subjects.

In Geography, we have started the study of the Western States.

Spelling Champs are: George Lepage, Lauren Pelletier, Jo Ann Langlois, Ernest Vachon, Deborah Langlois, Paul Zambella, Raymond Lamarre, Janice Blanchette, Gerard Mongeon, Geraldine Mongeon, Theodore Sharples and Thomas Pelczar.

The next time we write, we will single out those who have shown most progress and effort since September.

Grade Six

Last week we voted for the Citizen of the Month for December and January. We had to delay our voting due to a large number of absences from illness. Donna Gazda was chosen for December and Diane

The 17 posts of District 3 of the New Hampshire Department, AL, will gather for a district meeting with the Clarence L. Perkins Post #60 of Farmington, N. H., this coming Friday, Feb. 10. This is the first meeting of the new year and the start of the last half of the 1960-61 officers.

We experienced great need for our "thinking caps" these past two weeks. Decimals are fun — but oh! what a problem Mr. Decimal Point can become, especially in division! Where to place him is quite a decision.

Grade Seven

We have been busy making product maps of Africa and studying for mid-term examinations.

Now we are preparing a project on the Civil War. For this project we have four committees for which the following have been chosen as chairmen: Art, Claudia Marcoux; Posters, Anne Baillargeon; Facts, Nancy Demers; Composition, Alfred Poliquin.

Nancy Pease is preparing a skit on the most important events of the Civil War.

business of the district and it is hoped that a large number of members will attend. William Robitille is the district commander, Robert L. McKenna is district adjutant and Fred L. Beale is district historian and are all members of the Durgin Post.

Before you know it the installations will begin and next month will mark the beginning.

We recently received notice that James S. Gleason, Jr., a past national commander, was recently named Administrator of Veterans Affairs by Pres. Kennedy. Mr. Gleason was a national commander for the years 1957-58.

The American Legion's stand in favor of the retention of the compulsory basic ROTC in the nations colleges and universities has been praised by Wilbur M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army under Pres. Eisenhower.

Final preparation for the mass initiation to be held by the Robert G. Durgin Post Saturday, Feb. 18 are under way and now is the time to make plans to attend the initiation. Notices will be mailed to the new members this week. The membership of the Post is now 384 and only 33 more are needed to reach the quota for 1961.

Fish and Game Dept. Begins Salmon Survey

by Joe Dix

On Wednesday, Feb. 8, state biologists from the New Hampshire Fish and Game department were in Newmarket doing a preliminary survey on the feasibility of building fish ladders in the Lamprey River. These ladders would open the Lamprey to Atlantic salmon.

The biologists were checking water flow, heights of the dam, taking pictures, testing water temperatures, etc.

They were very pleased to find a natural collecting basin for salmon. Usually such a basin has to be formed and made from cement.

The men were guided in their tour by Ed Szacik, local sportsman.

It is gratifying to have such quick action from the Fish and Game department.

Bowling Center League Leaders At Port City Soon Beaten by Legion

Construction of a 40-lane, ten-pin bowling center will begin in Portsmouth as soon as weather permits, according to William, Mitchell and Edward Hyder, backers of the project.

The new lanes, featuring the larger pins and bowling balls, will be located at the corner of Routes 16 and 4 at Woodbury avenue. The facilities will be completed some time before Labor Day, according to Lloyd R. Ludwig, president of the American International Bowling Corporation.

On Tuesday, Jan. 31, at the American Legion Clubroom, the Legion were host to the Eagles team.

The Legion team came from behind in two of the contests to trounce the league leaders, 4 to 2 and tighten up the standings:

MULES ROLL

by Dough Call

SOMERSWORTH

Newmarket swamped the Somersworth Hilltoppers by a score of 55-47, at Somersworth on Friday. This was a hard fighting game from the very beginning.

High scorers for Newmarket were Sklarski and Byron. Sklarski had 15 points and Byron had 17. Jordan and Szabo played well on defense.

The half-time score was 30-17, in the Mules favor, but in the second half the Hilltoppers set a fast pace. The Hilltoppers were paced by Perron, Dumont and Daigle, shaved the Mules' lead to within a few points.

As the last quarter began the Somersworth squad started to slow down. Then it was all over for them as the Mules dug in and ran away with it in the last few minutes of the game.

Part of the reason that the Mules had that extra urge, was from a quick pep-talk from Coach Cross. This is much the way the Mules were three seasons ago, under Coach Madris, when Newmarket won the state championship. Will they do it again? Let's hope so!

The Little Mules under Coach Fisher, lost to the Somersworth team. The team showed great ball playing, but the Hilltoppers had just a little lead and kept it. The score for this game was 43-37.

PINKERTON

Last Tuesday the Mules played the Pinkerton quintet. This game was at Pinkerton and the Mules really had a fight for this one.

This was the sort of a game where they exchanged baskets all through the game until the last quarter when the tie broke in favor of the Mules.

The half-time score was 31-32 in favor of the Mules. This game showed as much tension as did the Oyster River game.

High scorers for the Mules were Sklarski and Rousseau with 15 and 14 respectively.

The Fish and Game commission has published its wishes concerning the proposed changes in the N. H. deer season.

The commission would like to have a split season with the starting date set at November 10th, for the Northern section and running through the month of November. The Southern section would open on Nov. 20 and run through to Dec. 10. The proposed dividing line would start just below Chatham, on the Maine border, and run across the White Mountain National forest, to the Lost River, near Woodstock. The line would then run down the Lost River to the Ammonoosuc River and on to the Vermont border near Woodsville. This plan would put the line almost wholly in the National Forest. This plan would cut down the undesirable borderline hunter concentrations and also force the hunter to hunt areas which have been under-hunted.

This plan is a good one, as statistics prove that more bucks than does are killed during November and the first week of December due to the rutting season which sends the bucks roaming.

The only disagreeable point I could find was a suggestion by the Fish and Game commissioner to give the department the right to close the deer season if snow proved to be harmful to the deer herd. If that item were passed, this would take the power to regulate the deer season out of our elected representatives hands and pass it over to the commissioners. All in all — it is a good plan and should pass the House with little or no trouble.

Byron, 10; Rousseau, 14; Jordan, 6; Szabo, 6. Total, 53.
Pinkerton: Deblois, 3; Perry, 4; Misiaszek, 12; Buffum, 15; Levesque, 8; Greenwood, 6. Total, 48.

EXETER

Newmarket played at the Exeter high school this past Tuesday. There was an extremely calm atmosphere during entire game. Good signs of sportsmanship were shown by both teams.

There was little struggle in this game as the Mules, feeling confident of winning, ruled over the Exeter Blue Hawks by a score of 75-48.

High scorer for NHS was Byron with 24.

The jayvees topped the Exeter jayvees in the preliminary game by the close score of 25-23. The girls' basketball team also won, beating Oyster River 35-24.

Summary:

Newmarket: Sklarski, 14; Prescott, 2; Byron, 24; Keller, 4; Belmont, 4; Rousseau, 2; Jordan, 7; Homiak, 2; Szabo, 12; Zych, 1; Gagne, 2. Total, 75.

lawn. The ducks thought they were landing in the swamp out back of the Sleepy Hollow Trailer Park.

After looking the situation over they decided they were on a lawn and left in one big hurry. They then landed in the swamp and spent the rest of the storm feeding on the swamp weeds.

Two coveys of partridges were seen on Thursday. One with five birds and one with nine birds. The nine bird covey was eating apple buds while the five bird flock was eating wild cherry buds.

The larger flock was seen up on Epping road and the other down on the Poor Town road or Lang's lane.

The little partridge is a tough bird and if left alone he will survive all but the far arctic weather.
