

SCHOOL ISSUE

IS VITAL

EVERY THINKING CITIZEN SHOULD ATTEND MEETING

Over two hundred persons attended the open meeting held last Thursday evening at the Newmarket High School Auditorium to discuss the proposed sharing of school facilities with Epping.

In a hard hitting, straight-from-the-shoulder presentation, Superintendent Thayer Wade outlined the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal, stressing Newmarket's needs as well as Epping's. The plan calls for 7th and 8th graders in both towns attending a new Junior High School in Epping, while high school students of both towns would attend Newmarket High School.

Superintendent Wade cautioned, "It has been said by some people in Newmarket that you were 'bailing out Epping.' This is not the time to be complacent and satisfied. You will have to improve your facilities and program if you want to remain a comprehensive high school."

It came as a surprise to many residents that Newmarket's high school system was destined to run into troubled waters unless some serious study and consequent action is taken immediately.

There are two reasons for this concern: (1) is that by September 1962, the state will issue a new set of standards for a comprehensive high school and (2) Newmarket High is in the unique position of losing pupils. (The present enrollment is 125 while the 1966 estimated enrollment calls for only ninety-three.)

Examining these two problems we find that the new set of standards will include, among other qualifications, a 20% increase in courses offered, 20 academic credits for graduation, certain courses such as sciences will be put on a two track system (for college and non-college bound students) an offering of three fine arts courses, a minimum 3,000 volume library, a 50 minute class per subject per day. This means Newmarket will have to provide additional classroom space and hire additional teachers to meet the new standards.

As the pupil enrollment decreases, the cost per pupil increases, thus it is estimated if Newmarket proceeds alone, per pupil cost will jump from $516 to $1,021 in five years.

By going alone the cost will increase $39,414 or approximately $16 per $1,000 valuation the tax rate for high school costs alone.

Twenty-two Newmarket freshmen are enrolled at St. Thomas Aquinas High School this year. Nineteen 8th graders from St. Mary's have already taken their exams for next year's parochial freshman class. It is estimated that approximately 80 high school pupils who might otherwise be expected to attend N.H.S. will be enrolled at St. Thomas by 1964.

If Newmarket and Epping were to share facilities, savings would amount to $26,238.00 stated Superintendent Wade.

Junior high pupils would be attending a new school. Shop would be larger, there would be a full size junior high gym, and home economics facilities kitchen, library, ample classrooms with a greater number of students receiving more individualized education. Epping would build the new $240,000 Junior High.

This proposal would provide greater curriculum flexibility, reduce per pupil cost while offering greater educational opportunity and still allow local-control.

Superintendent Wade pointed out, in conclusion, "When you (Newmarket) consider what might happen five years from now it appears you would have no place to turn except to buy into Oyster River unless you join with Epping now. Epping, however, can still join with either Sanborn Seminary or Raymond. You must make a decision now. Are you willing

Boy Shoots Foot

Wednesday morning, Mar. 8, Gardner Clough, Newmarket Dog Officer, having disposed of several dogs, was parked in Richman Walker's yard on business.

He left his small grandson, Lonnie Wayne Goodwin, aged five, of South Berwick, Me., alone in the car. The boy opened the glove compartment of the car and removed a revolver, accidentally discharging it. The bullet grazed his right foot and he was taken to the Exeter Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Theobald and later released.

FIRE SET IN BRISSON BLOCK

Due to prompt reporting and immediate response by the fire department, a fire started in the Brisson building was quelled before serious damage could be done.

The volunteer wreckers were on the top floor and unaware that a fire had been started on the bottom floor. It is believed the fire was deliberately set by juveniles.

Main Street Musings

BY THE INQUIRER

TO THOSE of you who CAN but DON'T donate your precious life-giving blood to the Red Cross, may we bring to your attention that last year from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, thirty-two patients from Newmarket received sixty-four pints of blood and so far this year seven Newmarket residents have received thirteen pints.

Someone you love may need your blood. Won't you please visit the Bloodmobile this Monday, Mar. 13, at the Newmarket Community Church?

OVERHEARD ALONG Main street from some "doubting Thomases" when the "Faithful Four" launched their wrecking project on the Brisson block, "If they ever get the roof off that building we'll be down to help!"

Okay boys, the roof is off. Now, how about those helping hands? You'll even get hot coffee and a snack thrown in free every night by one of the "Faithful's" wives.

WE WOULD like to put in a good word for the new garbage disposal truck after taking a "trip" down Ash Swamp road. Litter was scattered all along the sides of the road making a mess no town could be proud of. We understand with the new unit this would not take place, as trash is condensed and kept under cover.

Incidentally, anyone who hasn't been real "shook-up" for a long time ought to ride the bumps on Ash Swamp road.

FAMOUS NAVY BAND TO PLAY IN EXETER

The famous United States Navy Band will be in Exeter on May 2 for afternoon and evening performances at the Phillips Exeter Academy Canteen. Sponsored by the Exeter Rotary Club, the Band's appearance will benefit the Exeter High School Band.

Since 1925 when an act of the 68th Congress authorized the formation of an official United States Navy Band, its musicians have toured the country many times and played their way into the hearts of millions. One hundred years earlier the first "signing aboard" of a Navy musician was recorded in the log of the American frigate "Brandywine". His pay was recorded too, $10.00 a month. In 1838 the Band consisted of a leader and five members. It grew steadily in size and importance until 1917, the outbreak of World War I, when the finest talent of the great symphony orchestras was recruited into the Navy Band to cheer servicemen and civilians alike. After the Armistice was signed, the Washington Navy Yard Band was organized to continue in peacetime the color and inspiration that the larger band had provided during the war. At first its performances were confined to Washington, but when President Calvin Coolidge signed the Special Congressional Act of 1925, the United States Navy Band started out on the first of its now annual concert tours.

Today the Band is an indispensable part of every Washington parade and White House celebration. It also plays traditionally for the funeral services of Navy men interred in Arlington National Cemetery. Its wide range of classical, musical comedy and popular offerings combines with its unmatched rendition of traditional band music to present a program that appeals to all ages.

JOHN DODDS ANNOUNCES SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDACY

John Dodds of Epping road, Newmarket, has announced his candidacy for the one-year unexpired term of the Newmarket School Board, which he has been filling since the resignation of Kenneth Varney.

Mr. Dodds gave THE NEWMARKET TIMES the following statement concerning his candidacy.

"Having accepted an appointment to the school board to replace Kenneth Varney, I desire to indicate my approval of the personnel and policies of the present system by announcing my candidacy for the one-year period remaining.

"I especially wish to have it known that my candidacy is in support of our superintendent of schools and his efforts to promote the idea of cooperation as a progressive step in education. I do not know what detailed form this cooperation should finally take but I am convinced that the basic principle involved is sound.

"I have every confidence that the superintendent, working with the boards and other personnel available, can work out the details of a plan that will benefit both communities. It seems inconsistent with our way of life and the hopes of the peoples of other lands, that two towns with the present and future needs of Newmarket and Epping should be unable to work together for the common good of the citizens of each.

"The fact that no long or heavy commitment is being made by either town adds a characteristic that enables a trial period. I feel quite sure, however, that once given a fair trial the benefits of cooperation will make the plan more popular rather than less.

"I certainly encourage you to acquire as full an understanding as possible of the advantages and disadvantages before you make a decision about your vote."

Letters to the Editor

March 8, 1961

THE NEWMARKET TIMES,
Newmarket, N. H.

TO THE EDITOR:

Citizens of Newmarket — because of some of the mis-information being presented, and some facts partially presented that tells a one-sided story, I feel it is necessary to give to you some important information that tells the whole story.

The total school expenditures or appropriation that you, the voters adopted last year was $153,761.55. The total appropriation proposed for this year is $170,171.58. This is an increase of $16,410.03 over last year. The net amount to be raised in the proposed budget for next year is $163,511.58. This is a difference of $25,893.43. Why the difference in the two figures? It can be explained in the receipt items. At the end of the 1959-60 school year, because of careful handling and because we received $4,260.00 more from the federal government than anticipated we were able to apply $7,783.40 to the present year to reduce the amount needed to be raised by taxation. In addition to this we received $1,700.00 for tuition that we cannot be certain of for next year. These two amounts, if added to the receipts of next year, would make the difference in the budgets for the two years of $16,400.00. We cannot be certain we will receive a like amount next year, however, if any is received it will be applied in a similar manner.

The board in its desire to provide the best education for the students and keep the cost of education down, has presented to you a way to save an estimated amount of $26,238.00 by sharing. This amount would be more than the proposed gross increase.

Some people in Newmarket are against the proposal to share services and facilities and at the same time are against tax increases. This doesn't make sense. If you, as a voter, hear of someone talking against both, ask them how they can be against a way of improving the education offered to the children that reduces taxes and at the same time be against increasing taxes.

If you vote against the sharing proposal, you are promising yourself higher taxes. If you vote in favor of the proposal, you are voting to reduce taxes.

F.O.E Net-Gain Goal for 1961

Last month, Feb. 8, our Aerie #1934 was honored in receiving citations and a net-gain banner for the year 1959-60.

All members rejoiced and were congratulated for their splendid work in this achievement, but now we must not stop and forget about the future. As we say, "Strike while the iron is hot."

Therefore, all Eagles must keep going in their efforts to obtain the same success for the year 1960-61. It can be done and it will be done with the full cooperation of all members of this small Aerie of Newmarket.

We will soon be off and running in the big membership campaign of the current year. Remember, our "cross the terrain to a net-gain campaign" just began in January.

We are embarking on our greatest and most concerted member-getting effort. Here is one Eagle enterprise on which we all have to get together and work together like brothers.

True, this entirely new campaign was set up and mapped out by the Grand Aerie membership department, but it has to be carried out by each individual Aerie. We may be sure that this campaign all over the United States and Canada, will work because it is based on tried and tested principles.

Therefore, to be effective, it has to be used in every Aerie. We certainly have the materials to work with if we try. The striking and spectacular cross-country map with, its way stops of land marks of Eagle history, will be a top attention-getter, in our Aerie home. We will have scoreboards showing team progress. Besides, there is suggested material for letters, press releases and organizational procedures.

It's up to each Aerie to plan its race for new members. This should be done now, so that our Aerie can get off to a fast start in this five-month drive.

Let us keep this campaign churning! Let us use our meetings, our bulletin mailings to members, clubhouse posters—everything we can to keep our members thinking and talking about one thing—to a net-gain! By doing all this, we will certainly bring our Aerie across the finish line as a winner again.

Now concluding, I would like to take this opportunity to ask all men 21-years-old or over reading this article, wishing to be an Eagle, to think seriously about it and make up their minds. A membership drive is already in progress and a class initiation is scheduled for the 51st Aerie anniversary in May.

So now is the time to sign up before it is too late. The proce-

The 4-H Mules met at the home of their leader, Mrs. A. D. Smith, on Bay road, Thursday at 7 p.m.

Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, it was decided to order trees for the forestry project. Each of the fourteen members will have fifty pine trees to plant in his yard as part of the project.

It was voted to give flowers to St. Mary's Church and the Newmarket Community Church in observance of 4-H Sunday. Members will also attend the church of their choice on 4-H Sunday.

The instructional pamphlets on auto mechanics arrived and members were assigned the first section for the next meeting.

...ure is very simple, of course. Just contact any Eagle member of your choice or see our membership director, Romeo Lemieux, a well known businessman in town or also if you prefer, contact your truly, Arthur and you will find out that everything will be arranged to your liking.

Remember this above all, that by joining F.O.E., you are joining one of the best organizations in the United States!

FOREIGN BROADCASTERS TOWN MEETING VISITORS

The New Hampshire Council on World Affairs has been asked by the Department of State in Washington to undertake a vital mission in African diplomacy when it will host during Town Meeting week a group of eight young broadcasters from new French nations on the African continent.

These eight African broadcasters will be among a group of the largest group of foreign visitors ever scheduled by the New Hampshire Council on World Affairs to participate in its annual Operation Town Meeting project.

This year forty distinguished visitors from twenty foreign lands will live in private homes and attend town meetings all over the state of New Hampshire. This is one of the Council's many projects designed to acquaint leaders in foreign nations with the vitality and uncolored picture of rural government and home life in America.

Foreign leaders in addition to the young broadcasters from the new countries of the Ivory Coast and the Cameroun include, notably, a cabinet minister from the Republic of China, a chief architect of the new Turkish constitution now under consideration, a newspaper publisher from Uruguay, university professors from Brazil and Japan and many others.

This record group of foreign visitors participating in Operation Town Meeting will be housed in local homes, including those of:

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raynes, Madbury, N. H.; Rev. and Mrs. L. Tyson, Lee, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. D. Henson, Durham, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Blickle, Lee, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Osgood, Durham, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Black, Lee, N. H.

Also Mr. and Mrs. C. Cook, Lee, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Harre, Lee, N. H.; Mrs. Cunningham, Exeter, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Munroe, Lee, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. N. Whipen, Lee, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hamilton, Durham, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. William Saltonstall, Exeter, N. H.

Elementary School Activities

Grade One

Everyone in the first grade is reading from a new book.

The following people received 100 per cent on the weekly Reader Vocabulary Test: Donald Coburn, Randa Clemens, Faith Getchell, Cynthia Holt, Fred Plock, Guy Clark, Cheryl Dawes, Cathy Wajda, Dianne MacDougall and LuAnn Knowles.

In arithmetic we are learning about tens and ones place. We are continuing on in subtraction.

We have a calendar drawn on the board. Every day we make a symbol on it to show the weather for that day.

Grade Two

We have divided the class into groups in spelling and arithmetic. The children in one arithmetic group have been learning to make change and are planning to play store soon.

Renes reading group has finished the book "Friendly Village".

In science we have been studying about how wheels, ramps and pulleys help us. This study tied in with our previous study of transportation.

The boys and girls have been bringing in interesting books to read to the class.

The second graders feel that some of the best pictures they have made this year are presently decorating the room.

Grade Three

The third grade welcomes Joyce Stevens back from her week long absence. She had her tonsils taken out.

In arithmetic we are adding three place numbers.

Donna Irving, Norman Howcroft, Susan Clark, Roger Cardoza, David George, John Koonopka, Raymond Langlois and Danny Ripley have just finished a reading book and are now reading a new one, "If I Were Going."

The third graders are studying cloth in their social studies and have just completed their posters on uniforms — for people who do special work.

Grade Four

We have elected new officers for the month of March. They are: Room manager, David Brown Librarians, Linda Wilson and Patty Munroe.

We are now studying the continent of Asia in Social Studies. Different pupils in the class are reporting on individual countries. Three excellent reports have recently been given. They were by David Brown on Turkey, Kathy Hood on China and Patty Munroe on Iran.

This past week we had a review spelling test on words covered in the last six weeks. Those students receiving 100 per cent were: David Brown, Betty McKenna, Philip Mitchell, Richard Pettengill, Johanne Russell, Richard Schanda, Roger Sewall, Susan St. Armour and Linda Wilson.

Grade Five

Class officers recently elected were as follows: President, Catherine Purington; Vice-president, Timothy Russell; Secretary, Fred Doe and Treasurer, Randall Gage.

We wrote stories about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln during the month of February. Several illustrated booklets were also made.

David Clark was the winner in a recent spelling match.

Last Friday we presented a play, "The King's Bean Soup", directed by Catherine Purington. The sixth grade was invited.

In our reading contest, David Clark and Sara Reuter have read the most books.

Champions in problem work in arithmetic are Michael Paddon, Bruce Hodsdon, David Clark, Fred Doe, Doreen Wilson, Catherine Purington, Sara Reuter, Faith Silver, Alan Kustra, Glenn Ernest and Randy Gage.

Grade Six

The new Room Manager for March is Sharon Sewall. Jill Carmichael and Raymond Hatch are room monitors.

In our Spelling Review Tests Sharon Sewall had a perfect score. The next highest were Greta Wilson, Barbara Sewall, Gary Rodrigues, Donna Stevens and Alan Smith.

Mrs. Rooney brought back films from her trip to the United Nations and told us about her visit there.

In Science we are studying about plants and the wonderful way that they make sugar, starch, fats, proteins, vitamins and minerals.

We are busily writing poetry in our English class. We can choose our own subjects. We had fun writing limericks first. When all the poems are in, we are going to select the ones we like best.

Sandra Langlois and Raymond Hatch are on duty at hot lunch this week.

We are enjoying a blackboard mural of horses that was done for us by Stanley Walker.

LEE RIDERS ACTIVE IN 4-H PROGRAMS

The growing popularity of horse back riding in the New England area is keenly reflected in the number of horsemanship projects now open to 4-H members.

Here in New Hampshire, horsemanship units were only incorporated into the 4-H program about four years ago; there are now eleven throughout the state.

The Lee Riders, part of the Hill 4-H Club, is the largest, having twenty-six members coming from Lee, Durham, Dover, Gonic, Stratham, Newmarket and Rochester.

The leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis of Mast road, Lee, have well qualified backgrounds to guide the group. Mr. Dennis is a much sought after judge and announcer for class shows throughout all of New England while Mrs. Dennis has shown and raised horses all her life.

Their knowledge and enthusiasm have been responsible for a lively and active group. For two years, members of the Lee Riders have won trips to Eastern States Exposition by coming out on top in the State 4-H show at Hopkington. Last year, four out of the six New Hampshire entries were from the Lee Riders; Linda Morphy, Nancy Chase, Sally Willard and Jane Moore.

Although the trip to Eastern States is only one phase of the varied program, it perhaps is the biggest thrill and the highest goal of the members. Those attending recall it as an unforgettable experience.

Members take advantage of the good weather to schedule field trail rides, compete in shows and gymkhanas and for two years planned and produced a gymkhana horse show of their own in conjunction with the Lee Firemen's Fair, donating all their proceeds to the Lee Fire Department.

During the winter months, (the project is a year-round activity) the leaders have arranged field trips; the Orcutt Morgan Farm in Newbury, Mass., the Lippizan Farm in Rochester and other places of interest to the young horse enthusiasts. Regular meetings are held every other week with assignments and reports expected of all members on every phase of horsemanship and care of the animal.

Demonstrations are given by members, not only in the group but also at county and state demonstration days. A thorough practical and theoretical knowledge is expected of the 4-H members.

Many Lee Riders have other 4-H projects such as Nancy Chase, who went to Eastern States as a horsemanship winner and baby beef exhibitor.

The mother group, the Lee Hill 4-H Club, is the largest in Strafford County and one of the largest in the state, numbering eighty-five members. Besides the Lee Riders, the club offers projects in clothing, food preparation, dairy, entomology, shop and handyman, gardening, junior leadership, forestry, tractor, electricity and a new and popular project—dog husbandry.

Ralph Granger, a 4-H alumni himself, is the leader and is assisted by Mrs. Leonard Wenant.

The Lee Hill club has received many awards and several members have won trips to national 4-H conferences in Chicago, Ill. and Iowa, some of these same individuals going on to become junior leaders themselves, truly carrying out their 4-H pledge:

"As a true club member I pledge
My Head to better thinking
My Heart to greater loyalty
My Hands to larger service
My Health to better living
For my Club, my Community and my Country."

Bloodmobile to Visit Newmarket Mar. 13

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in town on Monday, Mar. 13, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. at the Newmarket Community Church Vestry.

Mrs. Clayton Bloom, chairman, reports that the canteen will be in charge of Mrs. Lincoln Gowen, assisted by Mrs. Charles Dearborn and Mrs. William Cashman. Men from the N. H. Electric Light office will again donate their time in loading and unloading the equipment.

The age group for donors is from eighteen to sixty, young people from eighteen to twenty-one must have consent slips signed by their parents before they can donate their blood.

4-H HORSEMANSHIP PROJECT PARTICIPANTS

Jane Ninde and Randy Nickerson, two members of the Lee Riders and participants in the horsemanship project of the Lee Hill 4-H Club.

Lee Residents Open Homes To Foreign Students

Seven Lee families have invited nine foreign exchange students from the Boston area into their homes for several days to observe one of New England's unique town meetings and the general atmosphere of a typical small New Hampshire town.

While here, the Lee Fire Department Auxiliary will hold a coffee hour for the students, their hosts and anyone interested in meeting them, at the Lee Vestry, Wednesday, Mar. 15, at 10 a.m.

Townfolk and neighbors including the children from surrounding towns are cordially invited to meet and welcome the distinguished visitors.

The students, who come from France, Japan, Costa Rica, Germany and India, are being brought to New Hampshire through the efforts of the Boston International Student Center and the New Hampshire Council of World Affairs.

Durham By-Pass Discussed

The Lee Board of Selectmen and two representatives of the State Highway Department, recently gathered together to discuss the proposed Durham bypass and its affects on homes with the residents in question.

As proposed, the new bypass would re-join Route 4 right in the middle of the congested area near Lee Five Corners, increasing the already serious pedestrian-traffic hazards.

The informal meeting, which was held in the Town Hall, was merely an informational one and no action was taken.

American Legion News

By Fred L. Beale

High school students throughout the nation are in the process of sharpening up their public speaking techniques and polishing up their research on the Constitution of the United States in preparation for the American Legion's national high school oratorical contest and the honors which await America's top youthful orator.

The national finals, which will pit the nation's four sectional winners against each other, will be Apr. 20 at East Hartford, Conn. Here, four outstanding young speakers will vie for the coveted national championship, which is accompanied by a $4,000 university scholarship.

This year's national champion will have the distinction of placing above some 300,000 high school boys and girls who entered the competition of youthful orators speaking on a subject pertaining to the United States Constitution.

With the exception of one, all regional contests from the 1961 competition will be conducted Apr. 10, to choose winners from among the state champions to go into the four sectionals which will be Apr. 17.

The first state champion high school orator to be reported to national headquarters is Robert O'Connell Jr., of St. Albans, Vt.

The District of Columbia and forty-seven states are participating in the 1961 contest.

In New Hampshire, the District Three contest will be held Saturday, Mar. 4; the southern New Hampshire sectional will be held Mar. 11; and the state championships will be held Mar. 18. The national regional, which includes champions from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, will be held at Newport, N. H., Apr. 10.

Two of the state contests and one of the regionals will have television coverage this year. Station KTHV, Little Rock, will televise the Arkansas state oratorical and the Alabama Educational Television Network will carry both the Alabama state oratorical and the region five contest.

For the first time, Newmarket High School has a contestant—Miss Jacqueline Marden—who will compete Mar. 4 at the University of New Hampshire. The report on this contest will be in next week's issue of THE NEWMARKET TIMES and to show people of this community just what a contestant learns, we will present her talk in this paper. This is something that the parents of school children should know. It requires much preparation and practice.

Miss Marden wrote her own speech and was coached by Miss Houle, a teacher at the Newmarket High School. Now that Newmarket has started, let's keep it up. It is well worth it!

The newly organized Youth Choir of the Lee Church is now holding rehearsals on Friday evenings at 7:30 in the church. All between the ages of nine and seventeen are invited to attend. The choir will sing at the Easter Services. Mrs. William Morrison is organist and director.

The Lee Church Self-Study Committee met recently at the vestry and completed work on the parish may. The committee will meet again on Mar. 21 for the purpose of evaluating activities of the church.

Classes of instruction will be held on Mar. 22 for all who wish to join the church at the Easter Service. At 4 p.m., there will be a class for young people and at 7:30 p.m., a class for adults. All persons wishing to join these classes should contact the pastor, Rev. Richard T. Clark, at OL 9-3820.

The next meeting of St. John's Fellowship will be held at the parsonage on Wednesday evening, Mar. 15 at 7:30 p.m. This fellowship meets for discussion of Christian dogma and is open to all who wish to attend.

More About the Indians

On Nov. 21, 1632, a letter from Capt. Walter Neal to the governor of Massachusetts gave the information that Dixie Bull and fifteen other Englishmen had turned pirates and taken several boats and rifled Pemaquid. Later on Dec. 5, Capt. Neal and Mr. Hilton by letters certified, "That they had sent out all the forces they could make against the pirates, namely four pumaces and shallops and about forty men, who coming to Pemaquid, were there wind-bound three weeks." Bull was finally executed in England.

In 1641 Richard Bulgar was commissioned lieutenant and Thomas Wardell sergeant, of the "band of soldiers in Exeter, to be installed and confirmed by the free men the next training date."

On Oct. 18, 1669, the General Court in session at Boston, understanding there were about sixty soldiers in Exeter with no common officer, "over them appointed John Gilman a lieutenant to take command and exercise the company as the law requires."

King Phillip's war was the first serious trouble New Hampshire had with the Indians. The Piscataque planters paid the Indians a valuable compensation and fair equivalent, in coats, clothes, kettles and hatchets for untrodden forests and untilled lands, while the Indians retained unmolested possession of all occupied planting, hunting, fowling and fishing grounds. Both dwelt side by side for more than half a century in neighborly goodwill.

Passaconway, the statesman-sagamore of all the Merrimac tribes, lived and died a Christian. The Rev. William Hubbard bears this testimony, "The Indians always carried it fair and held good correspondence with the English until the news came of Phillip's rebellion, and rising against the inhabitants of Plymouth colony in the end of June, 1675."

The Wampanoag sachem, like Sassacus of the Pequots forty years before, was ambitious to exterminate the English and was able to engage most of the New England tribes in his enterprise. Thousands of praying Indians remained neutral—the Penacooks still continued friendly, the Squamscots had emigrated about 1672 to the Hudson, but the Ossipees, Pequakets and the Tarteens ardently joined Philip's hostile confederation.

In September, 1675, the frontier invasion swept down upon the Piscataqua settlers. The enemy appeared on both sides of the river burning houses and killing all who fell in their way. All the settlers were now filled with alarm, those on the Kennebec withdrawing to the Piscataque and Merrimac and business was suspended. A day of public fasting and prayer was observed by the New Hampshire towns.

On Oct. 7, 1675, another party of Indians "got over or beyond the other branches of the Piscataque River towards Exeter and Lamprey River, where they killed one man. Many of them were in the woods about Exeter and between Hampton and Exeter, where they killed another man as they were traveling homeward, occasioning the people of those towns to stand continually upon their guard which proved a great annoyance to the inhabitants."

Before winter set in, sixty were killed in this vicinity and nearly as many buildings burned. The following account, without date, from the letter of Maj. Robert Pike to the governor and council, belongs to this period—1675-76:

"At Hampton Saturday last, seeing an Indian coming from goodman Sleeper's barn about 9 at night toward his house, having fire in his right hand and straw under his left arm, they shot at him about four rods from the house and he tumbled down and the straw caught fire and blazed. They saw another run away between the fire and the barn but no harm was done. In the morning they saw pieces of birch bark, where the fire was but no Indian."

When the first house was built in Kensington by Stephen Green, it was said there was not another dwelling between it and Canada except the wigwams of the savages. People used a ladder to enter the house and at night drew in the ladder to prevent the Indians from entering. On July 4, 1690, eight persons

Big doings up Concord way. The Governor has asked for a merger of several of the State Commissions. He said that he would like to see these various departments run by a single commissioner. Now if "Wes" knows a man who could run the parks, lakes, highway, port authority and the fish and game departments from the same desk — then he's in business!

I hope "Wes" finds a good man to take this job for once these departments are broken up and reorganized, it takes many years to put the pieces back together.

Clamming season will open as soon as the ice leaves the river. Matter of fact, one could dig a peck now if he likes fresh water type clams. High water tends to lower the salt content of the Bay waters. This also makes a clam fairly flat tasting. A clam is not a clam if "he" or "she" taste like a fresh water mussell. Young Shultz is pacing up and down with a "Bay Road Peck Basket" in one hand and a clam digger in the other. He'll get that first peck in town or know the reason why!

Just as soon as the March winds calm down the local deep sea fishermen will be launching the deep water boats and heading for the outer harbor. Good fresh cold water cod and haddock are hard to beat. The fact that a deep sea fisherman never knows what he will latch onto down there makes it all the more interesting. I envy the South Coastal salt water sports for they can operate all year round. We do all right in season but when that Northeast gale blows down off the Greenland ice cap, salt water fishing ceases to be fun.

It's time to pull your Bob House off the lake. Like the fellow who said, it's a lot quicker to drag it off over the ice than to fish it out of one of those so-called natural openings which are for salmon fishermen — not bob-houses.

Speaking of ice fishing, some lucky gent caught a 17 lb., 10 oz. lake trout up in Newfound Lake. The fish was 36 inches long and 19½ inches around. The trout had a 15 inch sucker in its gullet. Why he took a 2" smelt is beyond me.

Hunting bills to keep an eye on:

H.B. #251 — Would prohibit hunting on Wednesday. (The gent who entered this bill must work Wednesdays).

H.B. #252 — Add "vocal noises" to list of prohibited devices in the taking of deer. (This law would change the type of deer driving.)

H.B. #229 — Authorizes the Fish and Game Department, with approval of Governor and Council to begin payments toward acquisition of a tract of land known as Adams Point in the town of Durham for the purpose of establishing a wildlife management area and of providing access to Great Bay to the public for hunting, fishing and other purposes. (Payments are to be made on an annual basis until the agreed upon purchase price has been made up, and costs to the Fish and Game Department will be reimbursed on the same basis as other Federal Aid Projects.)

Eagles Hold Lead In Shuffleboard

The first shut-out of the year was scored in the sixth and final game of the evening when the Eagle's Team of Bill Duffy and Eddie Dostie blanked the Polish Club team of Johnny Mazur and Pete Simpson, 21 to 0.

Newmarket Civil Defense Meeting Held on Monday

The Newmarket Civil Defense held its first meeting since last November on Monday, Feb. 27.

C. D. director, George Hauschel reported on the C. D. Auxiliary Police School, which fifteen Newmarket men attended in Exeter. He also announced that Leo Boisvert had been appointed to handle all Civil Defense communications which might come over the RACES network, a ham radio network which covers twenty-nine towns in the state.

It was announced that the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Newmarket on Mar. 13 and all C. D. members were asked to cooperate by giving blood if possible.

Director Hauschel reported that several members had changed the motor in the C. D. emergency truck.

He also read the State Civil Defense annual report. One of the items in it stated that the government of Russia requires every person between the ages of sixteen and sixty to take Civil Defense training. To date there are 110,000,000 Russians trained in civil defense techniques.
