SEEK $1800 IN RED CROSS DRIVE

WPB Praises Boy Scout On Salvage Work

Cooperation in vital war salvage work between the A. Hammer Co-operage corporation distillery and the Newmarket Boy Scout troop was praised today when the state salvage officials and War Production Board chiefs lauded the local project whereby hundreds of thousands of tin cans will materially aid America's war effort.

Emile J. Soucy, state salvage chairman, had these glowing words for the work: "The people of Newmarket have set a fine example for the rest of the state. This project will be of great aid to the war effort and will in some measure go to relieve the acute tin shortage that the country now faces. I also hope it will be a reminder in other communities that salvage is still an important factor in winning the war and every individual in the state will redouble and double again his salvage work."

SCHOOL PUPILS FETE McCAFFREY AT FAREWELL

Members of the student body and faculty at Newmarket High school met at an assembly Monday morning to bid farewell to the departing headmaster, Austin J. McCaffrey, and to greet his successor, Andrew J. Crooker, Jr., former teacher and submaster at Laconia High school.

The guest speaker was Donald Harriman, instructor and coach at Exeter High school, who is one of Mr. McCaffrey's former teachers. Others who addressed the gathering were Supt. Jonathan A. Osgood of Epping, and Mr. Crooker, the new headmaster. Also present were Judge James B. Griffin and John Jordan, of the School Board, Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor, and Rev. Chesley S. Lantz, who were associated with Mr. McCaffrey during his residence here.

Noman Mongeon, president of the Senior class, presented him with a wrist watch, farewell gift of the students as a symbol of their appreciation of his friendship and aid to them. The program, directed by Miss Helen Higgins, was announced by Hugh March, president of the Junior class. Selections were given by the school orchestra under the supervision of Miss Ethel Lovely.

The "Swingsters," a quartet composed of four school students, rendered three selections as follows: "Don't Fence Me In," "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "Auld Lang Syne." Representatives of each class also made brief addresses in tribute to their former headmaster. Those participating were Elbert Kelly, Marilyn Abbott, Dean Russell, Norma Brissom, Margaret Cook and Frances Sklarski. Mr. McCaffrey left Monday afternoon to begin his new position as superintendent of schools in Colebrook, Pittsburg, Columbia, and Stewartstown.

PACKAGES REACH PRISON CAMP—Here a group of American prisoners of war held at Stalagluft III-B, in Germany, is shown with cartons of American Red Cross Prisoner of War Packages. One package weekly is distributed to each American prisoner.

Szacik, Filion, Langlois To Run For Selectmen

Three local men, all members of the Democratic party, have announced their intention of seeking nomination to the office of selectman at the Democratic caucus, to be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the town hall.

The man who is nominated to the office will automatically become selectman on town meeting day, March 13, since no opposition is offered by the Republicans of the community.

The present incumbent, Louis P. Filion of Nichols avenue, who is chairman of the Board, has been one of its members for the past two years. He is being opposed by Stanley J. Szacik of 13 Lincoln avenue, who has previously served Newmarket well as a selectman for five years, and Albert Langlois of 2 Washington street.

Mr. Szacik has the likely support of the Polish club and several other town groups.

Other town officers who have declared their intentions of seeking re-election follow: William E. Neal, town clerk; John J. Kustra, town treasurer; Mrs. Marion K. Walker, tax collector; A. Harold Lang, road agent, South side; Alexis Pelletier, road agent, North side. It seems assured that these officers will regain re-election, the only real "race" this year being for the office of selectman.

Beairsto Wins Water Works Case

Court action brought by the town of Newmarket against Raymond E. Beairsto of the Packers Falls road, concerning right of way through his property by the Newmarket Water Works, has been decided in Mr. Beairsto's favor, it was revealed today.

The court proceedings took place November 8, 1944, in Rockingham County Superior court in Exeter, but it was not until February 10 that full decision of the court was announced. Mr. Beairsto was represented by Atty. Stanley M. Burns of Dover... Judge John R. Goodnow presided.

Expenses involved in the trial were reported to be expended, unnecessarily, in large amounts by the town.

Mrs. Frederick Cleveland has returned to her home from the Exeter hospital.

Miss Barbara Jean Kendrigan was home for the week-end from her studies at Keene Teachers' college in Keene.

TOWN WARRANT

To the inhabitants of the town of Newmarket in the County of Rockingham in said State, qualified to vote in Town Affairs:

You are hereby notified to meet at Town Hall in said town on Tuesday, the Thirtieth day of March, next, at nine of the clock in the forenoon, to act upon the following subjects:

1. To choose all necessary Town Officers for the year ensuing.
2. To raise such sums of money as may be necessary to defray town charges for the ensuing year and make appropriations of the same That is to say; to raise such sums of money as may be necessary for General Government including Town officers' salaries, town officers' expenses, election and registration and town hall; for the protection of persons and property, including the police department; for Health and Sanitation, including the health department, vital statistics, and sewer maintenance; for Highways and Bridges, including state aid maintenance,

Newmarket's effort in the 1945 Red Cross War Fund campaign swung into action this week as Charles H. Stevens, chairman of the drive, announced the sum of $1,800 has been allotted as the community's quota. $2,000 is to be sought as the town's goal in order that the quota may be comfortably oversubscribed.

The drive officially began on Monday and $750 has been reported by canvassers to date, it was announced. Fred J. Durell, treasurer of the Newmarket National bank, is clerk and treasurer of the local fund committee.

The various community groups that are to participate, and their individual quotas and chairmen, follow: Industries, $500, Charles H. Stevens; employees and shops, $325, Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor; business, $325, Thomas Filion and Ralph H. Berry; St. Mary's school, $25, Rev. Hector A. Benoit, D. D.; public schools, Miss Yvette Harrington, $25; Women's club, $25, Mrs. Theodore A. Coolidge; Eagles, $75, Anthony Demers; Red Men, $25, Edgar Descheneau; American Legion, $75, Comdr. John J. Renzulla, chairman, Euclid Blanchette, vice chairman; Daughters of Pocahontas, $25, Mrs. Amelia Descheneau; Women's Relief Corps, $10, Mrs. Sarah Lavalley; Polish club, $165, Albert Zick, chairman, assistants, John Kustra, Miss Stella Homiak, Miss Helen Jablonski, Karol Brangiel; Lamprey River grange, $50, Rev. Chesley S. Lantz, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Bassett, Mrs. Dorothy Fewless; Legion auxiliary, $25.

Mrs. Edgar Moisan is chairman of the American Home department of the Women's club. Serving as co-chairmen of the house-to-house canvass are Mrs. Walter M. Webb and Mrs. Pauline Gritz. Others serving as canvassers are Miss Agnes Hogan, Mrs. Herbert Philbrick Jr., Miss Frances Sklarski, Miss

$1800 Loss As Garage, Autos Burns

Fire originating from an unknown source, caused damage estimated at $1,800 early last Friday when a two-car garage and two automobiles were destroyed at the home of Andrew Kruczek on South Main street. One of the cars was owned by Mr. Kruczek, while the other was the property of his son, Sgt. Chester Kruczek, USA, who is on duty in England.

Joseph Sopol discovered the blaze at approximately 4 a. m., and the local Fire Department quickly responded. The fire was placed under control within a half hour, it was reported.

According to Fire Chief Fred Lavalley, the loss was partially covered by insurance. The Kruczek home, a short distance from the garage, was reported undamaged.

Lt. Tourigny In Charge Of Important Task At Kelly Field

LT. EDWARD W. TOURIGNY of Newmarket, corrosion control Nashua, Concord, Keene, Dover, tion of the nation-wide corrosion control program met its first two deadlines well ahead of time this week, stated that their program is moving rapidly into its third phase.

Inaugurated only six weeks ago in all continental ATSC bases, the corrosion control program contemplates eliminating all possible deterioration of Army Air Force supplies.

In the San Antonio Air Technical Service Command the program will eventually employ over 1400 trained workers, 80 per cent of them women, part in a $125,000 centralized plant, part in portable units throughout Maintenance Division and in the area's specialized depots, and the remainder in Supply.

Already over 200 Kelly Field workers in the Bearing Branch, the Propellor Branch, Hydraulics, Reclamation, and other branches of Maintenance and Supply are working full shifts cleansing, coating, waxing, wrapping and packaging about 15,000 items daily.

140 Workers In Training Another 140 workers are undergoing special training in Bldg. 210 to prepare themselves for the work and others are being hired daily to build the force up to the strength needed.

In direct charge of the extensive program under Col. Hansford W. Pennington, Maintenance Chief is Lt. Edward W. Tourigny, corrosion control officer, Harry H. Kurth, section foreman, and Edward C. Herron, assistant foreman.

Another complete shift will be added in the Bearing Branch this week," Lt. Tourigny said today while discussing plans. "We have already established corrosion control on all items going overseas and all items overhauled by the

Harmony Note of Big Three Meet; U. S. Airmen Carry War to Japan

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union news analysts, and not necessarily of this newspaper.

EUROPE:

Postwar Pattern

Their historic conference at Yalta having ended in agreement, the Big Three departed from the balmy Crimean watering resort determined to maintain equal harmony on the implementation of the new course they struck for trodden Europe, envisaging the return of democratic government and obliteration of Nazism and Fascism.

Thorniest problem in Allied relations before the conference, the Polish question was met by U. S. and British recognition to Russian annexation of part of eastern Poland, and the agreement to include independent democratic leaders into the Red-sponsored provisional government until the people themselves can name their own regime in a free and open election.

In respect to free elections, guaranteeing the people of all the liberated countries the right to pick their own governments, the Big Three pledged their support to assist any nation in measures designed to bring about such polls.

With agreement on the vexatious Polish problem and restoration of democratic government in the new

Declaring that the Big Three's terms for Germany released its people from all moral scruples of warfare, Nazi propagandists said: "Every enemy will be met by fanatical men, women and children, who know what treatment is in store for them, and, therefore, wish to kill, murder and poison all who attempt to oppress them..."

Europe, the Big Three also moved toward maintenance of such an order by further discussion of steps on a postwar international security organization, with the talks at Yalta designed to meet Russian objections to the Dumbarton Oaks plans for prohibiting any nation charged with aggression from voting on measures to bring it in line.

Overwhelming agreement was reached on treatment for a defeated Reich, with Messrs. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin determined to crush German militarism by dissolution of the wehrmacht, break-up of its general staff, elimination of all industry that could be used for war production, and complete eradication of all Nazi and Junker influences in the nation's life. France would be asked to share in the occupation of Germany.

Further, Germany would be made to pay for war damage, with an Allied commission set up in Moscow determining on the extent of reparations, probably in terms of manpower and goods.

Allies Advance

With their hopes of an Allied division blasted at Yalta, and with the combined weight of the U. S., Britain and Russia drawn up against them, the Germans maneuvered in both the west and east for a last-ditch struggle.

In the east, so-called "alarm units" and the "people's army" were thrown into breaches to hold open avenues of retreat for German forces falling back from Silesia to Saxony as the Russians drove on this all-important Nazi industrial district. As the Reds pushed ahead, one wing of this offensive nosed northwestward toward Berlin, sorely pressed by a frontal assault of Marshal Zhukov's forces.

In the west, the Germans fought hard to thwart the Canadian and British attempt to turn their far northern flank, drive into the industrial Ruhr and trap Nazi forces guarding the Rhineland from the rear.

Freed by daring U. S. Ranger attack on Cabanatuan prison camp, liberated Yanks joyfully make their way back to American lines for transfer to evacuation hospital in Philippines.

CONGRESS:

Busy Session

Solons were putting in a busy session on capitol hill, engrossed in semi-political, financial and insurance legislation.

Wallace Curb

Passed by the senate, the bill removing the Reconstruction Finance corporation, with its vast loaning powers, from the U. S. department of commerce and Liberal Henry A. Wallace's reach if appointed secretary of that office, went up before the house.

In addition to stripping Wallace of authority over RFC funds, which conservatives feared he might use for promotion of plans for government spending to provide "full employment," house Republicans sought to remove the secretary of commerce from the board of the 700 million dollar export-import bank, used to finance foreign business.

World Finance

Up prominently for congressional consideration was the administration-backed Bretton Woods postwar world financial agreement, under which the U. S. would contribute about 6 billion dollars for two funds: (1) to provide countries with foreign exchange at par rather than open-market value to stimulate their purchasing powers, and (2) to guarantee private loans made to countries to help build up their economies.

In asking for congressional approval of the Bretton Woods agreements, President Roosevelt said they were the first step in a broad program for international economic cooperation, also including an Allied food and agriculture organization, expansion of the reciprocal trade act of 1934, reduction of trade barriers and orderly marketing of certain world surpluses.

Insurance

Continued state supervision of insurance companies, but with stricter control in harmony with federal anti-trust laws, was promised in congressional approval of legislation postponing antimonopoly prosecution against such businesses for three years and allowing states that length of time to set up tighter regulations.

Brought to a head by a recent Supreme court decision declaring insurance companies subject to anti-trust laws, the question of federal control over the business drew little support from congress, with legislators contending that the individual states were best qualified to regulate the matter for themselves according to their particular requirements.

WAR PRODUCTION:

Schedules Increase

With emphasis on more bombers and engine parts, the government increased its war contracts in recent weeks, indicating that the rapid pace of the conflict is forcing readjustment of needs.

Besides the boost in the bomber and engine parts program, it was revealed, ground troops were scheduled to get 21.9 per cent more ammunition, heavy artillery and tanks.

To meet a critical emergency of engine parts in battle zones, the government has undertaken a 50 million dollar expansion of the industry, and established special panels, or committees, in the seven major plants for speeding up of output.

With manufacturers "cooperating enthusiastically," the War Production board said that critical programs should be up to par by June.

Labor Relations

Supplementing its previous policy of plant seizures to back up War Labor board rulings designed to settle industrial disputes, the U. S. drew a new weapon to force compliance through cancellation of a firm's government contracts.

In following such a course of action against the E. A. Laboratories of Brooklyn, N. Y., Economic Stabilization Director Vinson said that the U. S.'s procedure was legal, insofar as the courts have frequently held that no business has an automatic right to getting a government contract.

Despite the U. S.'s power to influence compliance with WLB orders through plant seizures and withholding of priorities, in addition to contract cancellations, OES Chieftain Vinson said that still more effective action could be obtained through legislation furnishing non-compliance.

NEW INSTRUMENT:

Aids B-29s

One of the war's most remarkable scientific achievements — an "air position indicator" — has been playing an important role in charting the long skyroads to Tokyo for navigators of America's B-29 super-fortresses, the army revealed.

Developed by engineers of Bendix Aviation corporation in cooperation with the army and navy, the indicator records continuously and automatically the exact "air position" of a huge super-fort in flight on a single dial giving the navigator an instantaneous reading of his longitude and latitude and saving hours of complex calculations.

No larger than a quart milk bottle, the computing device not only shows "air position in degrees of longitude and latitude," but also gives the navigator a continuous record of air miles flown from the take-off point and indicates the correct compass heading of the airplane, engineers explained. From these readings, plus a check of wind drift, the B-29 navigator can continuously plot his ship's "air position" on the map and keep his plane more accurately on the bomber route to Japan and return.

WAR COSTS:

200 Billion a Year

With this war costing the world some $200 billions a year, or more than $500 millions a day, in direct military expenditures alone, the annual expenditure is roughly equal to the whole direct cost of the First World war, estimated at $208 billions by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Staggering though these figures are, they do not include indirect costs of war, such as the value of human life lost, property destruction, etc.

Direct expenditures of the United States in this war are the greatest of the belligerents at $89 billions for the 1944-45 fiscal year, or somewhere near half the overall total. For the same period, British war expenditures are listed at $20 billions at the current rate of exchange; Canadian at $4½ billions, and the Australian at the equivalent of $2½ billions.

Latest Nazi expenditures can be conservatively estimated at $30 billions a year and a recent newspaper dispatch put the Japanese military budget at about $15 billions.

G.I.s Long for Civvies

Discharged G.I.s are so anxious to get back into civilian clothes, a survey of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company showed, that they want alterations on their new suits "done in the next ten minutes"; they shun cheap clothing and buy good quality suits—averaging about $45 in price; they don't shop around, but go to one store and buy as nearly a complete outfit as the store can supply; they usually pay cash, even when they could "charge it," and they seldom shop alone.

Most returning servicemen like fairly lively patterns; when they buy dark blue, it is likely to indicate wedding plans. Brown is a favorite, but nothing approaching the army olive drab shade, thank you. The younger veterans have generally gotten too husky to wear the suits they left at home when they donned service uniforms. The older ones commonly say they gave their suits to younger brothers, cousins, and sometimes to father upon enlisting. So it's a fresh start from scratch for most of them. And speaking of a start from scratch, they're generally keeping a suit of those G.I. woolen undies for hunting and fishing trips, so they tell the haberdashery clerks.

Farm Credit Standing High

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—For every dollar farmers borrowed in 1944, they repaid $3.50 on loans made prior to that year, reducing the farm mortgage debt to the lowest point in 30 years, according to a report of the Federal Land Bank system.

For the year the volume of farm loans outstanding was reduced 17 per cent. The total volume of land bank and commissioner loans made in 1944 amounted to $105,292,000. During the year a uniform 4 per cent interest rate was established on most outstanding land bank loans.

Farm mortgage loans in good standing reached a new high at the year's end with 93.6 per cent of all Federal land bank and 91.7 per cent of commissioner loans current on all payments of principal and interest.

PACIFIC:

Mighty Strike

To Tokyo's 8,000,000 terrified residents, it was as if the whole host of demons themselves had swooped from the skies; to American aviators and sailors, it offered the supreme satisfaction of slapping a vicious enemy in his own backyard, and to millions of people at home, it represented the opening of the battle for Japan itself.

Thus shaped Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's mighty strike against Tokyo and the home island of Honshu, with 1,500 Hellcats, Helldivers and Avenger planes taking off from about 15 to 20 carriers of the 27,000-ton class, escorted by a formidable screen of fast battleships, cruisers and destroyers. Though meeting strong opposition, the aircraft shot up enemy planes, cratered airdromes and pulverized other military installations around the Jap capital.

While the major attack roared on, with the once vaunted, since battered Jap imperial fleet failing to challenge Mitscher's force riding 300 miles off of Honshu shores, other American warships and army planes hammered the Volcano and Bonin islands, 600 miles to the south.

Under SCS

With the year marked by wider understanding and use of the U. S. Soil Conservation service's land classification specifying the best employment of tracts on the basis of slope, soil, degree of erosion, previous use and other factors, more than 65,000,000 acres were producing under the soil conservation system in 1944, SCS Chieftain Dr. H. H. Bennett reported. This compared with the figure of 37,500,000 acres for the year 1941.

With almost as much soil conservation practiced since Pearl Harbor as in the eight years preceding the war, 1,203 soil conservation districts were organized by farmers and ranchers in 45 states by December 15, 1944. There are approximately 668,500,000 acres and more than 3,000,000 farms in the districts.

SCS services during the year included a comprehensive study on water conservation in relation to sound land use, and a nationwide inventory of soil preservation, indicating the location and extent of areas in need of various treatments.

SURPLUS GOODS:

RFC Sales

Entrusted with over one billion dollars of surplus goods, the Reconstruction Finance corporation has had varied results in disposing of over 94 million dollars worth of the property, with the biggest returns received from sales of government plants to lessees at 100 per cent of value.

Estimated at almost 800 million dollars, aircraft and plane equipment constituted the largest single surplus material, with items originally costing nearly 23 million dollars sold for less than half. Such materials with limited civilian uses as barrage balloons and gliders sold at big markdowns, establishing a precedent for disposal of similar items.

U. S. War Bonds Are Your Safest Investment; Buy All That You Can and Hold What You Have

Whispered Rumors of Repudiation Are Vicious Propaganda

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Staff Correspondent.

Approximately 85,000,000 American citizens have bought war bonds. That number is almost twice as many as the total of voters in the last national election. And that, it seems to me, is the best answer to the subversive propaganda that the government might repudiate payment of war bonds.

It's the best answer from a practical standpoint, because repudiation must be voted by the congress and no congress in its right political mind would vote to nullify the 41-billion-dollar holdings of 85 million Americans who have purchased 750,389,800 individual and separate war bonds through January 1, 1945.

Add to this 41 billion dollars in war bonds approximately 137 billion dollars worth sold in other governmental bonds and securities over the same period of time to banks, cor-venient. When this impression was dispelled, redemptions steadily declined. November redemptions were 1.08 per cent; December, .98, and January redemptions went down to .89 per cent.

Total cumulative redemptions of war bonds, that is the series E, F and G bonds, as of January 1, 1945, amount to 12.04 per cent of the total bonds sold.

It means that out of the 41 billion dollars in war bonds sold, about 36 billion is still in the hands of the people who bought them. Or in other words about 12 cents out of each dollar spent for war bonds has been redeemed.

The experience of the treasury department with the series A or "baby bonds," which first went on sale in 1935, is perhaps a criterion of what may be expected in the case of war bonds. The first series of these baby bonds have reached their maturity this month (March). After 10 years the redemption figure only reached 27.60 per cent, for out of $250,000,000 of these series A bonds were authorized to redeem the bonds over the counter, instead of the former longer, more complicated method of sending the bond to the nearest Federal Reserve bank.

Who are the war bond redeemers . . . the men and women who cash in these 12 cents out of the dollar? Almost invariably they are families whose only saving has been the war bonds they bought, and, thus, when an emergency arose their war bonds were their only recourse. The war bond redeemer is in the low income bracket, has an income probably less than $3,000 per year, and a larger than average family. The chances are he buys his war bonds through a payroll savings plan at his place of employment. Chances are, too, that he over-bought according to his income, since being patriotic, he wanted to do just as much as his fellows.

Investigation shows that many men and women in these families forced to redeem their war bonds were, ten years ago, on WPA or the recipient of some community welfare program. They were not on that program willingly, and neither are they at the bank window cashing in their bonds willingly today. These bonds are their only liquid asset when an emergency comes . . . death, child birth, hospitalization, and temporary unemployment.

The treasury also has learned that the redeemer of war bonds does not necessarily cash in all his bonds, nor does he close out his payroll savings account . . . he keeps on buying. And this is proved conclusively by the fact that war bonds purchased through payroll savings since the first war loan in 1942 have steadily increased each month from 307 million dollars in December, 1942, to more than $500,000,000 per month today. Every war loan has been marked by a rise in the regular allotment of workers for war bonds, as well as a steadily increasing rise in the national level of payroll savings as against total payroll.

Savings Up 56% in Year.

During 1944 the withdrawals of deposits in savings accounts in the banks of the nation by individuals amounted to approximately 20 per cent and at the same time these savings accounts showed a net gain of approximately 56 per cent. War bonds, although showing an 8 per cent gain in redemptions over 1943, at the same time show an 85 per cent increase in sales. While the cumulative rate of redemption to the amount of bonds outstanding is 12.04 per cent, the average redemption rate over the four-year period, 1941 through 1944, amounts to slightly less than 10 per cent per year.

Let's take one year of war bond redemptions and compare them to insurance policy lapses. In 1943, for

Remember this . . . anyone who tells you that your government is likely to repudiate one dollar's worth of these bonds, or that the American people are cashing them in faster than they are buying them, is passing along propaganda inspired in Berlin or Tokyo!

Money for Taxes Needed.

Certain months of the year, such as the taxpaying months, always show a heavier redemption percentage than other months. The treasury policy from the inception of war bond sales has been that the whole financing program should be voluntary and that persons wishing to buy war bonds should be able to buy them conveniently. Hence war bonds may be purchased at banks, post offices, theaters, retail stores, and at scores of other places.

Then, the treasury reasoned, it should be equally convenient to redeem war bonds for emergency purposes, so all banks who desired,

Limit on Public Debt Will Have to Be Raised Again for 7th Loan

The ceiling on the public debt will have to be raised again, treasury officials say, to make room for the seventh war loan. This next big drive will open in May or June. Congress will be asked to push up the limit once more. The boost the treasury wants is from the present 260 billion dollars to 300 billions.

The public debt outstanding now, at maturity value, is $241,019,830,853. Thus there is margin of only $18,980,169,147 before the 260 billion dollar limit is reached. Considerably more than 19 billion dollars worth of bonds (maturity value) must be sold in the seventh loan.

In the sixth loan, more than 28 billion dollars worth of bonds were sold figuring them again at maturity value. Since a large part of these were sold on the "three dollars will get you four in ten years" basis, the government realized about 21 billion dollars from the sale.

The public debt, consisting mostly of war financing obligations, now stands at 233 billion dollars at current value of bonds, in contrast to 241 billions at maturity, or face value. War bonds increase in value every day, of course, as the interest accrues. A part of this great sum will be due in eight years, and instance, total redemptions of war bonds to amount of bonds outstanding at the end of the year was 6.3 per cent. In 1940 for all legal reserve life insurance companies the dollar amount of policy surrenders and lapses was 6 per cent of the insurance in force at the end of the year. In 1942 the ratio was 4 per cent.

This tremendous voluntary program of war financing, so vast in its ramifications, is not only the greatest financing record in all history, it has brought about the greatest pool of savings in liquid assets in the history of any people.

The six war loan drives in themselves produced more than 109 billions of dollars from the sale of all government securities offered, 28 billions more than the combined goals set for these drives. The sixth war loan, in itself, exceeded the entire finance program of World War I. Four Liberty loan drives and one Victory drive in World War I grossed $21,432,924,700. There were an estimated 66 million subscribers but most of this sum was raised by individuals, banks and business firms able to buy $10,000 and upwards in Liberty bonds. In this war more than 21 billion dollars, from 66 million persons were obtained in the sixth war loan drive alone!

How has this voluntary program of war financing been used toward paying the cost of the war? Here are a few figures.

From May 1, 1941, the start of the war finance program, through December 31, 1944, the government spent 261 billion dollars. Of this amount 21 billions was used for non-war expenditures, including the interest on the public debt, leaving 240 billion spent on the cost of the war.

Out of this 261 billions, 101 billions, or 38.7 per cent of the total, has been raised through net receipts of taxes, so the excess of spending over tax receipts from May 1, 1941, to January 1, 1945, has been 160 billions of dollars.

People Pay 60 Per Cent of War Cost.

During this same period the government has borrowed 178 billions of dollars through sale of governmental securities. This equals the 41 billion sold in war bonds and the 137 billion in other securities. Of this 178 billion, 75 billions have been borrowed directly or indirectly from banks. The rest, 103 billions or 57.9 per cent, has come from non-banking sources, 42 billions of it from individual citizens.

The net of all this is that the American people are buying war bonds and that almost 60 per cent of the amount borrowed for the war cost has been paid by individuals and non-banking sources . . . they are buying bonds and holding $88 out of every $100 they buy, and the record indicates that they will keep on buying them so long as they are offered for sale, or so long as the nation needs their money to help finance this war.

It is a pretty safe bet that the treasury department, as a result of its experience with baby bonds before the war, and with war bonds since May 1, 1941, will continue in the bond business after the war is over. People have the habit of buying government bonds and there is no indication now that there will be any concerted rush to the banks to cash in these bonds when the war is over.

The very great majority of them will be held to maturity. And today bond buying is on a 24-hour basis, not only on the home front, but on every battle front where Americans are fighting to maintain the freedom and integrity of a government and a way of life of which these bonds are a symbol.

Simple Accounting System for Farm Family Helps In Planning Wise Course for Saving and Spending

Changing and unknown conditions attendant upon the war have motivated many families to keep accounts and make financial plans for saving and spending money to obtain the things they most desire, states Miss Irene Crouch, accounts specialist, at University of Illinois. Once that goals have been established by the family, accounts or records have increasingly become the tool used to keep within the financial plan. Thus a definite amount can be put aside every month for buying war bonds and stamps.

Better cooperation in spending and saving has been secured when the entire family has a voice in the plans. If all members of the family want something badly enough, they can often find ways of securing it through directing use of the income.

Although the war has postponed the attainment of certain goals, such as the purchase of a new refrigerator or car, the attainment of long-time goals has been speeded up. Many families who had expected to take a lifetime to pay for their farm have already made final payments or will do so soon.

For some families the goal itself has had to be altered to fit changing family situations. Family demands seem to expand for the first 25 years of married life, and then the drain on the pocketbook becomes less and less after that period.

porations, insurance companies and other large investors, and you have another added and compelling reason why no congress will ever vote repudiation of these obligations.

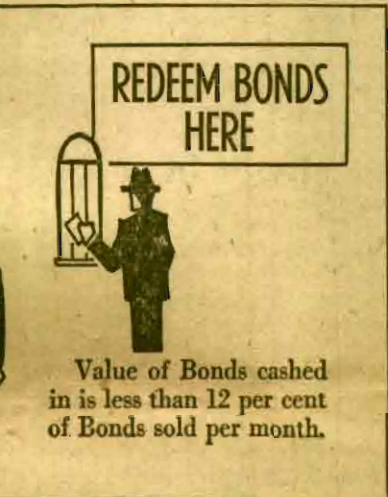

These war bonds and other government securities have behind them the security, the faith and the integrity of the United States government . . . exactly the same guarantee of payment as a dollar bill. And if your war bonds should become worthless, then your dollar bill will become equally as worthless. And we have behind war bonds a tradition and record of the United States government of never having repudiated an obligation in the 165 years of its existence.

And right here let's spike the fallacy in the minds of some people that war bonds are being cashed in at an alarming rate. They are not being redeemed in any such amounts. When someone sees a line of people at a postoffice window or at a bank counter cashing in war bonds, the story is immediately spread that people are cashing in their bonds at an unprecedented figure.

When the treasury department publishes its statements, for instance, as last October when sales totaled $695,000,000 and redemptions totaled $400,000,000, the story was immediately broadcast that people were cashing in their war bonds at a ratio almost equalling sales. As a matter of fact, the redemptions last October were only 1.16 per cent of the total bonds outstanding.

Only 12 Per Cent Cashed.

In October redemptions were unusually heavy for the reason that it was the first month in which banks were authorized to redeem bonds over the counter direct, and many persons had the mistaken idea that the treasury was inviting these redemptions because it was made so

"Totle" Bouras &amp; Clifton J. Thompson

A farewell assembly was held Monday, when school reopened after the week's vacation, for Mr. McCaffrey who is now superintendent of schools in Colebrook. Mr. Crooker, the new headmaster, began his duties on Monday.

Mr. McCaffrey has been headmaster for nearly six years and is well-liked by all pupils. Now that Mr. Crooker has assumed his new duties it is hoped that all students and pupils will work with him for the advancement of Newmarket High.

Stape came down from Exeter Monday afternoon to spend a couple of hours in town.

Weekly Limerick:
There was an old girl of Genoa,
I blush when I think what Iowa.
She's gone now to rest,
Which I think's for the best;
Otherwise I would borrow Samoa.

Here are the rest of the "five terms" we have to publish. The first set of the slang words were in last week's column.

Girls who neck with everyone—smooch date, sausage, hot cake, mug bug, giraffe, chin-up girl; girl crazy—skirts nirts, dolly dizzy, lap happy, skirty flirty, dame dazed; prude—touch-me-not, moth ball Mona Lizard, Percy Pants, H2S; boy crazy—slack happy, khaki whacky; to be in love—twitterpated, snak bite, cow-eye-tis; grind—brain box, book bug, book beater; teacher's pet—gone Quisling, palm greaser, P. C. (privileged character); to be jilted—robot bombed, blow a fuse, shot down in flames; good dancer—pepper shaker, rhythm walker, cloud walker, ducky shineracker, jive-bomber; a strict parent—crab patch, curfew walker, egg beater; terrible—sub zero, slaty, greedy, sklonkish; boy who's fast—B. T. O. (big time operator), wolf on a scooter, active duty, educated fox; an easy course in school—gravy train .... 'sall on that, men!

Laura and Jerry Post came to town Sunday from Newtonville, Mass., where they now live.

Durham seems to be a new town in which many of the boys are interested (?).

Many of the school kids were on hand in Durham last Thursday, Friday and Saturday to watch the annual interscholastic basketball tournament. Seated at the press bench were Totle Bouras, covering the event for the News, and Hugh March, who also wrote down a few words now and then. There sure were a lot of swell games during those three days, weren't there?? The boys on the Varsity team were spectators at nearly every performance, accompanied by Coach Foster.

Wade Balla was on hand to see his school up in Alstead—Vilas High—win its second consecutive Class C title. During the B and C finals Wade had a hard time finding his sister, so he had her name announced over the microphone:

"Will Dorothy Balla please report to the announcer's desk?" The Field House certainly was packed Saturday night for the finals.

Joe Cook, who once was a student at Newmarket High, is now in the Navy, stationed at Sampson, N. Y. His parents live some place in Boston, I believe.

Many boys have taken to smoking pipes, in lieu of cigarettes, to avert the current shortage of butts.

Clifton Thompson has received a letter from "Saint" of Haverhill. It is the same "Saint" that writes to Peggy Cook. He says the only way Cliff can communicate with him is through this column. It is not worth anything to know who you are, "Saint", for I already know who you are. (You're kidding you, Clifton—Ed.)

We're all wondering who Peggy Cook's going to the Prom with. It is evidently not "this 'Saint'."

Not since Manhattan Island was sold for $24 has so much dirt been available for so little money.

Thompson's been transferred in the shoe business, to the Sam Smith shop.

Who's the girl who Simonds, of Haverhill, wastes his pen and paper on??

What were the boys in geometry class trying to accuse Johnny Jordan of Monday?

We notice that room five has its "Honor Roll" scrolled on the board. Perhaps it will be removed by the time this paper is put "to bed" and goes to press.

We also notice that all the "pin-up" pictures that were in room five had been removed before Mr. Crooker arrived on Monday.

Mary had a little lamb,
Her Papa shot it dead.
Now she brings her lamb to school,
Between two slabs of bread.

"Hey, sunshine! Not you, cloudy boy," is a familiar quotation with Seniors now.

Hugh is said to be the latest, "March of Time."

Who are the two Junior girls who are tellin' Joe Dostie he is good looking and are saving a seat for him in the movies. You're robbing the cradle, girls, Or is he robbing the grave?!

We wonder why Bob Wilson was late Tuesday morning. Must have been delayed by old hens. (That was quite an egg you laid—Ed.)

Why Must:

The Senior boys be so initiative? J. J. be in charge of basketball outfits?

Mr. Smith work so hard? Duane be so sulky?

Pat Herman give exhibitions of acrobatics by her doubled joints?

The Freshmen be "most-noticed" class of the school?

We have such wintry weather?

The Juniors argue—argue—argue about the Prom?

Kurt keep singing "Rum and Coke."

Wher has Margie Hale lost her handkerchief for two weeks or more?

How many saw Edith Tholander's dress design in "Jenny Style Show" beneath the comic strip, "Flying Jenny," in Sunday's Boston Globe? We all wish Edith a speedy recovery so that she soon may be able to return to school.

Did you know that Pat Herman submitted a radio quip to the Reader's Digest "Picturesque Speech and Patter" and received $25? Congratulations!!

A greater part of the students made use of their vacation by working at such places as the Yankee Shoe Makers.

THE HOME ECK CLUB announces it is sponsoring a St. Patrick's Day dance, March 16 (Friday evening), in the school auditorium. Dick Rock and his orchestra from Exeter will provide music for dancing....plan to attend, even if you are not Irish.

Who was the distinguished looking gentleman enjoying the basketball tournament Friday afternoon with Mary Bentley?

"Newmarket's salvage project is unquestionably one of the best ever established in the United States," said John T. Kiley of Boston, regional salvage manager.

When the local distillery began production of war alcohol last October, disposal of tin cans became a major problem. The state salvage committee stepped in and devised a production line, since chopping out the ends of the large cans by volunteer workers would be too slow and tedious.

Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor, scoutmaster of the Boy Scout troop responded to a call for workers to process the cans. Members of the troop, whose names are listed here assisted in the work: Michael Fleming, Stephen Ryan, James Corliss, Robert Corliss, Leo Fillon, Rene Goulette, Lucien Goulette, Gerard Goulette, Gerard Fillon, Maurice Pierce, Allen Mastin, Raymond Blanchette, John Schanda, Eugene McDonald, Edward Gazda, Robert St. Laurent, Clifford Abbott, Joseph Zwercan, Theodore Peciuch, Armand Fontaine, Walter Wajda, Henry Wajda, Joseph Dostie, Robert Homiak, Larry Berman, Norman Deshaies, Louis Pelletier, Paul Pelletier, Raymond Valliere, Arthur Provost, Kenneth Varney, Arthur Roy, Edward Wojnar, John Roussel, Frederick Pepek, Bruce Atherton, and Patrick Mullen.

In the local storage house there are 100,000 cans measuring three stories high, but officials believe there soon will be from 600,000 to 700,000 cans to process. Louis P. Fillon, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, announced the town would provide trucks to transport the metal to the railroad station.

Originally, the salvaged cans were opened with large cleavers but jagged edges were left on the cans and it was noted that tin would be lost when chemicals are run through the cans to remove the valuable metal coating. A two-bladed lever was eventually designed by salvage officials which cuts the ends out of the cans. When the cutter was tried distillery officials asked for permission to duplicate the device to open cans to remove the dehydrated potatoes.

Paul Gutfreund, manager of the distillery, stated that in the process of making alcohol from cull potatoes, the potatoes are first cooked, malt is added to turn the starch to sugar, and the mixture is cooled. Yeast is added, fermentation takes place, and the processed alcohol is distilled.

"Our next step is to set up similar scientific control over all items in serviceable stock and then all items in repairable storage. Eventually every type of supply in the area will be fully protected for at least 18 months against all types of corrosion and fungus growth." Involves Cleansing, Coating

The program involves thorough cleansing of all parts in special rust-removing solvents, coating with rust-preventatives, hand-wrapping with two grades of moisture and heat-proof papers, an overall coating of wax, and the final packing and labeling for storage or shipment.

The treatment prevents all types of corrosion and fungus growth for at least 18 months under all conditions. Articles so treated may be salvaged without damage from sunken ships or lie for weeks on island beachheads or in jungle outposts without the slightest damage from elements.

Untold millions of dollars will be saved by the process, Lt. Tourigny said, which could not be used before now because of the rush demand for equipment and supply overseas.

Blueprints and floor plans for the $125,000 centralized plant to be installed in Bldg. 182 have been drawn up, Lt. Tourigny said today, and are only awaiting delivery of required machinery.

When completed, the plant, featuring a power-driven conveyor line moving at 8 feet a minute, will be capable of processing about 40,000 items daily.

IT TAKES THESE WIRES TO TIE A TOWN TOGETHER

FROM your telephone—from every telephone—two wires run all the way to the Central Office. Here they are interconnected at will, quick as a wink, with any other pair... the basis of the system which unifies every community through voice communication.

When all "spare" wires in any neighborhood have been put in service, or all switching apparatus at a Central Office used up, the only way additional subscribers can be served is by installing more wires or Central Office equipment.

Now we are making plans to take care of New England's telephone growth and the telephone construction interrupted by war. When materials are available and when military demands slacken, we'll be prepared.

It's going to be a big job, but we'll be ready to go forward and provide the service that really does "tie a town together."

America Has its Portrait Painted

Dan Mascon's cousin, an honest-to-goodness artist, came to our town. And when he heard we were having a weenie roast, he asked could he come and bring his paints.

After he got through working on his canvas... he had as nice a picture of us enjoying ourselves as you could ask for... complete to the last little detail... from Molly Burtle's dimples to the foam on Ed Carey's glass of beer.

"I'm calling it a portrait of America," Dan's cousin says.

And from where I sit, he couldn't have a better title. Whether it's a weenie roast in our town or a square dance on a Wisconsin farm, it's all a part of America—a part of our neighborliness, our love of fun and pleasant living.

Because our right to enjoy a temperate beverage like beer is a part of our American heritage of personal freedom.

Edith Tholander Back In Hospital

Miss Edith Tholander of South street, has been readmitted to the Frisbie Memorial hospital in Rochester for observation and treatment. Miss Tholander is a high ranking member of the Junior class at Newmarket High school, but has been unable to resume her course of study since an appendectomy in December, 1944.

Fortunately she is being cared for by her mother, Mrs. Grant Tholander, who is a registered nurse. It is hoped that "Edie" will soon be on the road to recovery, and be back among us all.

County Home Demonstration News

Supplies of molasses are plentiful while sugar is short. Do you have a copy of the bulletin, "Using Sugar Substitutes?" A free copy will be sent to any Rockingham County Homemaker if she writes a card to Ruth G. Stimson, County Home Demonstration Agent, Exeter, N. H.

On March 12 a Refinishing class will be organized in Newmarket. Ruth Stimson, County Home Demonstration Agent, will explain the supplies and equipment necessary for refinishing as well as the techniques. The meeting will be held at 2 P. M. at Tri-Hi-Y room over the post office.

Recently the Home Agent gave a talk on the Outlook for Family Living at the meeting of the Epworth Women's Club.

To date 157 books have been circulated among the readers of the Library Service.

Obsequies For James McMullen

Funeral services for J. James McMullen were held last Friday morning in St. Mary's church, with Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor, assistant pastor, singing the solemn high mass.

Bearers were George Bergeron, John Mullen, Edward Mullen and Alfred Camire, all of Newmarket. The body was placed in the receiving tomb at Calvary cemetery to await burial in the spring. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Brown and Trotter Funeral home.

EASTER SEALS

(Proclamation)

It is the earnest concern of our government and the voluntary purpose of the general public to provide every possible facility for those who are crippled and handicapped. The need is greater under the multilating impact of war for we are now confronted with the necessity of caring for both those who have been wounded abroad and those who have been injured at home.

On the forefront of the voluntary agencies in the field of civilian care and rehabilitation is the New Hampshire Society for Crippled Children and Handicapped Persons. Cooperating with the State Board of Health, it provides such supplementary services as transportation, the purchase of appliances, vocational rehabilitation, home teaching service, a training center for the handicapped, and continuing care for those over twenty-one who continue to be in need of its ministrations.

The Society is a voluntary organization and depends for support upon the public in whose interest it labors. The means used for obtaining that support is the sale of Easter Seals—affording every person blessed with a sound body and a responsive heart the opportunity to contribute the means of bringing rehabilitation and happiness to others.

Inasmuch as the services performed by the Society for Crippled Children and Handicapped Persons in cooperation with the State Board of Health are of public concern and deserving of official endorsement, therefore, I, Charles M. Dale, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, do hereby proclaim the sale of Easter Seals during the period extending from February 20 to Easter Sunday; and I earnestly call the attention of every resident of this State to the opportunity it offers to invest in human health and happiness.

CHARLES M. DALE,
Governor

SAVE FATS

Are you sending your salvage fat to market in tin cans? Did you know that the next forty-five days are very critical ones so far as fat salvage is concerned? The supply of fats to meet military needs is inadequate, reports Ruth G. Stimson, Rockingham County Home Demonstration Agent. While the needs have increased, local homemakers find that the local supply of edible meats and fats are much smaller. So it's harder to save fats. Yet, actually, it is just as important for local homemakers to save their fats as for farmers to plant corn, soybeans, or wheat. Every spoonful of fat can be saved. Too often there's temptation to throw away a small quantity, the spoonful that by itself doesn't amount to anything. Yet, multiplied by the thousands of families in this county, in no time at all, fat salvage figures will rise.

Grocery men in Rockingham county report that rendering companies prefer to have fat salvaged and stored in tin cans, not glass jars. Are you sending your salvage fat to the store in tin cans? Every pound is needed for munitions, medicine, soap, coatings to protect ships and tanks, for synthetic rubber and printing ink. So next week turn in your salvage fat, whatever you have on hand and even though the amount is small.

Pattern Alternation classes will meet soon in South Danville and Londonderry. In Danville, Mrs. May Heath is making the arrangements for the February 26th session. In Londonderry the meeting will be held March 7th before the Community Club.

Advanced Dressmaking is being carried on in Newfields at the home of Mrs. Russell Simpson. The first meeting was Tuesday, February 20th.

Colored slides were shown before the Baptist Church group in Hampton at the home of Mrs. Donald Northway. The slides show scenes of Home Demonstration activities throughout the state, and will be used to explain the work before groups.

CONGRESS NEEDS REORGANIZATION—NOW

I met the lady as she was leaving the visitor's gallery of the house of representatives. She looked discouraged and despondent, as though she had received a severe shock. Knowing her, I asked what the trouble, if any, might be.

"Oh!" she said, with a tremor in her voice that sounded as though it might call for tears. "All of my adult life I have wanted to see and hear congress — our congress — in session. I had anticipated inspiration. If what I have just seen and heard is congress then God help America."

That lady's experience was much like the experience of many thousands of Americans who visit that gallery. What they see from there is not inspiring, but they see only the slap stick comedy side of congress. Many of those they see on the floor are but little more than loudly vocal manikins who say "yes" or "no" as the strings are pulled from back stage.

In reality congress is a group of comparatively few men. They are the legislative leaders of the two major parties. They are capable and hard working. Their job is done behind doors of private offices in the house or senate office buildings, or in committee rooms. They are on the floor of the house or senate only infrequently. They are back stage operating the strings that cause the manikins on the floor to produce a show for the spectators, and to say "yes" or "no" on a vote on legislation, the meaning of which the manikins on the floor, playing their small parts in the slap stick comedy, have no understanding.

I have known the house of representatives when, through two or three two-year sessions, it, in reality, consisted of two men. Uncle Joe Cannon was the speaker, and presided over the comedy. Martin B. Madden, chairman of the rules committee, operated back stage. No bill reached the floor of the house that did not have Madden's approval.

The constitution provides a well defined place for the legislative branch of our three way—legislative, administrative, judicial—government. It was about 1915 that the legislative branch began shirking its part in government operation, and

Fat Adds to Flavor Of Choice Meat Cuts

Since most persons prefer lean meat it follows that the less fat there is in a cut—a roast let us say—the more eating it would provide. A time back, specialists of the department of agriculture looked into this angle for the benefit of butcher shop customers. They used beef sides which graded choice, good, commercial, and utility for their research. They divided these into three parts, namely, the separable lean, the separable fat, and the bones and ligaments. According to their findings, which were made known recently, the consumer would get about two pounds of separable lean meat out of a four pound standing rib roast of the choice grade cut. The commercial grade roast, however, would yield about 2 1/4 pounds. In prewar days it is likely that the parts of the roast which were not lean meat often went into the garbage can. The conclusion from these figures is that the homemaker gets more lean meat—the part of the outstanding roast which her family eats—out of the commercial grade cut than from a choice grade roast of similar size. But the figures do not show that the fat makes the lean meat of the choice grade more tender and juicy.

passing its authority and responsibility on to the administrative branch. Year after year congress has surrendered a bit here and a bit there until the legislative branch is no longer necessary to the conduct of government. Executive directives have largely replaced legislation by congress.

Now congress proposes to, if possible, retrieve its lost authority and responsibility. A bi-partisan committee of the house and senate is to provide plans for simplifying the procedures in both houses, to define more definitely just what congress shall do, and how, with an organization of committee experts and clerks who will write into legislation the details of its operation instead of passing the buck to the President.

Such changes are needed if our three way government is to continue to function. Let us hope the committee does a practical job before next April when it is directed to report the whys and hows of a reorganization of congressional methods.

Nothing that may be done will change the personnel of congress. There will continue to be a minority of capable men representing both major parties who will still be the real congress, pulling the strings from the back stage to operate the manikins for the edification of the audience in the galleries.

It is not those who answer the most roll calls who may be considered the most capable legislators. The real work is done on the back stage.

THERE ARE THOUSANDS of privately owned and operated farms in Russia, but on them there are no employed farm hands. Private enterprise exists in many lines insofar as it can be operated by the individual who owns it. Whether it be a farm, a factory or a store the owner can not employ help. The government only can provide a job at wages. The individual can own his own home, but he cannot rent one except from the one landlord the government. The system is very different from our own, but if the Russians like it why should we worry.

SOME HOUSES are but four walls and a roof, others are homes. No matter where located the first are always on the wrong side of the American tracks. The two kinds of houses represent the only two classes into which the American people are divided. The one, those who would make a pig sty of a palace. The other, those who would make a palace of a humble cottage.

HOW GLORIOUS will be that day when we do not have to count ration points.

Wall Plugs

If you have a switch at the outlet—turn the switch to "off" before you connect or disconnect the plugs. This prevents sparking between metal prongs and outlet. Sparking eats away metal and will in time cause poor connections. If there is no switch, disconnect the plug from the wall outlet first. It is much less expensive to buy a new outlet plug than to replace the appliance plug and the appliance terminals. To disconnect either plug, grasp the plug, not the cord. Pull straight. If the plug sticks, rock it gently from side to side as you pull, to loosen one connection at a time. It's the safest policy to disconnect the cord from the outlet each time you finish using a heating or cooking appliance.

ROCHESTER, Thursday, March 1:

Last week-end held interest for many Rochesterites with hundreds traveling to the University to see the basketball tournament and countless others journeying to Boston for the Ice Follies. Your Truly was among those who took in the Follies Saturday and the event appeared to me to be the best ever. The Sunday picnic scene provided many a laugh as well as other comedy teams. The Irish, Parisian, Mexican and Southern scenes were very colorful and were accompanied with appropriate melodies well adapted to skating. The show is well worth seeing so if you can manage to get a seat by all means attend. Among those who went to Boston over the Washington birthday week-end were Betty Balemonous, Pauline Letourneau, Bob Gagne, Cpl. and Mrs. Ouellette, Margaret Linnahan, Betty Olson, Lucille Richards, Jeannette Langelier, Gloria Langelier, Ben Brown, Phyllis Seavey, Arlene Seavey, Ila O'Neill, Elaine Gowen, Ruth Stearns, Florence Stevens, Theresa LaBranch, Bertha LaBranch, Priscilla LaBranch, Brenda Parsons, Fred Brown, Charles Brown.

Seaman First Class Burt Lesperence is home on a 20-day leave. Burt has had three ships go down under him and will be heading back to the sea again real soon..... "Pussy" Dallaire has gone and lost her pocket book again and is hoping to get it back. The last time she lost it the party that found it mailed it to her. This time it looks pretty doubtful—you see she had money in it and real honest people are scarce..... Alex Kendall, USA, is home on furlough..... Ruth Young, now a student nurse in Manchester, was home over the week-end..... One local girl says Sally Keith was pretty good. Say, by the way, just how many night spots were you evicted from because you were underage?..... Young Danny Burbank went and did it again. That's right, the Burbank resident was minus another window Monday. The first time it happened Danny was just getting the feel of a golf club, this time, however, he fell through it, fortunately escaping injury..... I wonder if Ned Horne knows anything about the big piece of ice that was pushed out on the ceiling net at the University field house during the game Saturday night and got the floor all wet? Rumor has it that the stunt was pulled on a bet but who ever did it should have had better sense. What if some player had slipped on the wet floor and was seriously hurt? It wasn't a bit funny..... Dick Horne, who used to usher at the Scenic, is working on the Boston and Maine railroad..... I hear Kermit Thurston is now in active service overseas. .... Despite weather conditions last Thursday Rochester sport fans used every conceivable mean of transportation to see Spaulding play at the tourney. This was wonderful local spirit that will long be remembered..... Lyle and Bonnie are really at heart a devoted couple despite surface scraps. He kept pretty close tabs on her when she stayed with Rachel at UNH Thursday night which should make her feel very happy. And it does! Doesn't it, Bonnie?.....

Eddie Couture, genial door man at the Scenic, is much relieved now that the theatre clock is back on the wall. You'd be surprised how many people ask for the time, especially if they have to catch a bus. And it's pretty handy for the crowd that leave a little early Sunday nights and make a mad rush for seats at the Plaza. I guess time is really an appreciated item in our life and especially now-lays. .... Norman Lachance took his first dip in the Cochecho river a little early this year. You can bet your boots the bath was unintentional but all the same the re-

ROCHESTER, Thursday, March 1: EARLY REGISTRATIONS

Commissioner Virgil D. White today made an urgent appeal to all motorists to apply now for their 1945 registrations and licenses to avoid disappointment and delay. Commissioner White explained that in previous years approximately seventy-five per cent of the year's registrations were issued in the month of March. This, he said, required a substantial number of additional employees who simply are not available this year but if the public will cooperate with the Motor Vehicle Department by making application now, this serious problem can be solved.

The Commissioner further explained that many people have the mistaken idea that it is advantageous to drive to Concord personally to secure plates and driving licenses. On the contrary, Commissioner White states, the Department is set up to handle this work with greater accuracy and dispatch by mail. Therefore, why waste valuable time, gasoline and tires when a three cent stamp will accomplish the desired result.

At the present time, the Department can mail plates and licenses within twenty-four hours of the time applications are received. He urges all motorists to mail their applications today.

TO PRESIDE

Miss Janice Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt R. Cooper of North Main street, Rochester, will preside over a special Candlelight Communion Service to be held in the New London Church on Wednesday, February 28. Miss Cooper also conducted a Y. W. C. A. Lenten Service in the Little Chapel at Colby Junior College on February 14. She is a senior and is program chairman of the Y. W. C. A.

The special Candlelight Communion Service is being held in connection with Religious Emphasis Week.

NAOMI THETA RHO

The Naomi Theta Rho Girls' Club, No. 2, held its regular meeting, Friday, Feb. 16, in the I. O. O. F. hall with Doreen Hall presiding at 6:30 P. M.

The party was held at the Crown Point grange hall when a chicken supper was served. Games and dancing were enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held March 2 when the degree will be conferred upon seven candidates.

sponsibility of manning War Industries on the home front, the War Manpower Commission in New Hampshire has yet done no insignificant job in contributing personnel to the battlefronts, according to Mrs. Abby Wilder, State Manpower Director.

"Those of us who are connected with the WMC and with the U. S. Employment Service in this state," said Mrs. Wilder, "take considerable pride in the fact that we have 19 men in the armed forces and 2 young women in the Waves. We are particularly proud of one young man who enlisted in the American Field Service because he was not acceptable for military service on account of having an artificial limb. He drove an ambulance on the Italian front for many months until he was invalided home and eventually returned to our employ. Among our present personnel, we also number 12 men and 1 woman who saw service in World War I."

Despite the fact that the manpower job has been one of the most vital of all home-front activities, the War Manpower Commission in New Hampshire has not requested a single deferment for any of its male personnel. Present employees of the WMC at its administrative office in Concord and in the 12 offices of the U. S. Employment Service under its jurisdiction throughout the state, total 118. Of that number, 73 are women and 22 are men of 45 or over.

Only 23 are men between 18 and 44. Among the 23 are two men now awaiting induction; 4 are returned veterans; 9 are classified as 4-F; and 8, classified as 4-A, are in the 38 to 44 age bracket, a group that the Army is not yet interested in.

JOHN H. DAME

John H. Dame, 78, died last Friday at his home, 31 Pine street following a several months' illness. He was born in Dover, January 26, 1876, the son of John and Mary (Glidden) Dame.

Mr. Dame had been a resident of this city for many years and was a carpenter by trade. He was employed as head janitor of one of the public schools for a long time and had worked at the city hall at various times.

Included among the survivors are three daughters, Miss Florence Dame and Mrs. Ernest Winkley of Rochester; Mrs. Karl Waldron of Newport; four sons, Norman Dame of Lynbrook, N. Y., Arnold Dame of Boston, Clinton and Kenneth Dame of Rochester.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from his home with Rev. Harold J. Schumacher, pastor of the True Memorial Baptist church, officiating. The body was placed in the tomb at the Rochester cemetery and burial will be in the spring.

Arrangements were in charge of R. M. Edgerly & Son.

FREDERICK B. ELWELL

Following a long illness with a heart ailment, Frederick B. Elwell 84, a retired salesman, died Sunday night at his home, 27 Knight street.

Mr. Elwell was born in Bridgeport, Conn., the son of Fred and Carrie A. Elwell, and was educated in the schools of that city. As a young man he learned photography and after four years in business for himself became a salesman for a West Somerville, Mass., commercial photography firm, a position he held for 44 years until his retirement because of ill health seven years ago. He moved to Rochester last August and with his wife opened the Elwell novelty shop at their home.

He was a life member of Orient temple, Nobels of Mystic Shrine, and Appola commandery, both of Troy, N. Y., and the Methodist church in West Somerville. He leaves his wife, the former Estelle Morse of Skanetels, N. Y., whom he married 14 years ago.

Funeral services were held at his home Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Charles H. Moorehouse of New Durham officiating. The body was placed in the tomb in Oak Grove cemetery, Medford, Mass., to await burial in the spring.

RED CROSS

at his side

You know Tom, although perhaps you call him by another name. Until he went into the Army Tom had never been away from home. .... but now he's three thousand miles away ..... and a boy can become mighty lonely, even in an army of millions.

As though by some miracle, a Red Cross club has been established and there are smiling, wholesome American girls who speak your language and are so much like sis .... or the girl next door.

Tom knows that among a score of heart-warming jobs these Red Cross girls perform is the simple homey act of helping a GI sew on buttons. A little thing, yes, but such little friendly services can give a big lift to the spirits of a lonely service man far away from home.

This is the only appeal the Red Cross will make to you this year. How much pain and suffering and loneliness the Red Cross will alleviate depends on you. For the Red Cross is entirely dependent upon your contributions. The task is greater today than ever.

ROCHESTER, Thursday, March 1: Kenneth Flood, veteran forward on the basketball team, was elected captain of the team for the season just completed. Ken was one of the three returned veterans of the previous campaign and certainly deserves the honor. The election took place at a meeting of the six lettermen who are, Ken Flood, Phil Kelley, Jack Douglas, Ralph Hubbard, Moe Varney and Franklin Blake.

Two other boys, who played no insignificant part in the past season, Red Allen and Rawleigh Edgerly, co-managers, will also receive letters.

At the time of the meeting the boys were measured for jackets to be given them by the Spaulding High Boosters Club. The jackets are a bright red satin with white trimmings. The word Spaulding will be on the back. All the six lettermen and the two managers will receive them.

The six lettermen will be guests of the Kiwanis at their regular meeting tonight. This is the first time that I can remember that any club or any other civic organization in this city were hosts to a high school basketball team.

It is really a good thing for the boys and the Kiwanis should be congratulated for being the initial club to honor the team.

When over at the tournament last week I had the opportunity to look at the records of all New Hampshire basketball tournaments held since the inauguration of the tourney in 1922.

While glancing over the records I found that Rochester competed in 1922, 1923 and 1924.

In 1922 Rochester lost to Dover 31 to 10. In 1923 Rochester won the first game from Kimball Union Academy 19 to 6 and then lost to Colebrook 33 to 24. Incidentally the Rochester lads played two games in one day as in that year an uneven number of teams competed therefore, one team had to play two games in one day and that was Rochester. In 1924 the local fellows were drubbed by Manchester Central 30 to 9.

Here's hoping that the above paragraph eliminates all misunderstanding in regard to competing in the tourney and that all will now agree that Rochester was entered in the tourney for the fourth time when they bowed to Nashua high.

With Manchester Central winning the tourney in class A. Franklin in class B, and Vilas of Alstead in class C basketball in New Hampshire was brought to a close for all but two teams.

These two teams are Manchester Central who will compete in the New England tournament at the Boston Gardens the middle of this month and St. John's high of Concord will represent New Hampshire in the Catholic New England Tournament to be held this month.

The Spaulding High Raiders surprised everyone present at the tournament last Thursday night when they left the floor at the half with a 19 to 18 lead over the Purple of Nashua. The Mireymen clearly outplayed the Nashua five for the first 16 minutes but it was after the half that they began to fade when Johnny Clark's Purple came thundering back to pick up a 8 point lead but the Raiders knocked this down to 4 points and the third quarter ended with Nashua leading 28 to 24. It was the fourth period that really proved disastrous for the Raiders as the Purple outscored them 17 to 8 as Lemay and Kissell were being left open in the bucket time after time.

Douglas and Kelley were hampered in the last half as they both had four fouls on them and they were trying to be extra careful when in close play but eventually both of them had their fifth one called and were banished from the contest.

The team's play in the backcourt without Douglas wasn't anywhere near up to par and I believe that if Jack had been in the whole game the difference in the score would not have been as great.

Although having been accused of blaming the officials for the loss of the game in practically every contest that the Raiders lost this year (5 in all) I would like to say that the officiating on the press box side of the court could have been a lot better and if it had been, the difference in the score would have been a lot less and I am not trying to say that Spaulding would have won if it had been, as I believe that the Purple of Nashua was the best team, and that it should be, as Nashua was the second seeded team compared to Rochester's seventh.

Ken Flood really had a not ten minutes in the first half as he was popping the ball through the hoop from almost every angle but he soon faded and had a hard job rallying a point after that 10 minute hot spot. Ken was Spaulding's high scorer for the evening as he garnered 6 field goals for a 12 point total.

From all appearances the boys were really nervous but I don't believe that they were as restless as I. After the game I looked down at my fingernails and found at the most on any one finger a quarter of an inch of nail left.

For a safe guess I would say that 90 per cent of the basketball enthusiasts present Thursday night were lending their morale support to the Spaulding team. The ovation that the Raider's received at the half was the loudest of any during the tourney.

During the last half of the class A finals of the tournament last Saturday night, Referee Keller and one of the aides were kept very busy mopping the floor as water from a huge piece of snow caught in the netting which hangs from the ceiling, was dripping down onto the court. After inquiring around on how the snow found its way into the netting it was found that some moronic person threw the snow into the net on a two bit bet. In all probability he thought that it was a great trick little realizing that it probably would hamper both teams and also making it dangerous for them. The only thing that everyone is fortunate about as far as he's concerned is that it is very lucky that no one bet him that he wouldn't dare to set the bleachers or the field house itself on fire.

ON THE REBOUND

Coach Gordan of the Marlboro high quintet will in all probability give his next year's team a lesson in the art of freezing the ball as his team had a three point lead over Vilas high of Alstead with 13 seconds to go in the game to decide the class C championship but they didn't deposit the pigskin covered sphere into frozen assets and consequently Dan Metcalf, Jr., of Vilas swished two field goals through the hoop, the last with three seconds to go, to make him and his teammates class C champs by a 34 to 33 count. Strictly from hearsay I would say that the person to receive the brunt of the attack from various coaches was not an official of the tourney or a sportswriter but a sporting goods salesman who has had a hard time all year trying to supply different schools with athletic equipment and in turn is having a hard time to keep them pacified when their orders don't come through. One of the remarks addressed to the salesman was by Jeff Francoeur of Somersworth who said, "I want to thank you for the basketballs that you sent up to me" the salesman replied, "I'm glad that you liked them, they are of

SHS Basketeers Wind-Up Season With 7 Wins

The Spaulding High basketball team completed their most successful season as yet. They outscored their opponents by 17 points or 1.42 points per game in winning 7 out of 12 games played.

The team average of .430 in the free throw department shows that there is a marked improvement in the team's shooting. In this department Franklin Blake, had the highest average of the lettermen with .690 as he swished 20 out of 29 attempts through the hoop for an exceptional good average. The runner-up in free throws, with a good average of .500, was Phil Kelley who sank 27 out of 54.

The total game point average of 32.25 is quite good for a Rochester team but insofar as comparing it with other teams it should be at least 10 points higher. Phil Kelley, center, on this year's team, led his teammates in the scoring department with 123 markers chalked up to his credit or an average of 10.25 per game. Ken Flood, captain and forward of the team, was runner-up with 78 points to his credit or an average of 7.09 per game.

The two guards on the team, Jack Douglas and Ralph Hubbard, the best of quality available". The story ends with Jeff telling him that he did not receive the balls. Oh, for the life of a salesman.....

Coach Mike Mirey was guaranteed the delivery of some warm-up suits and basketball pants that he ordered, the delivery is set for sometime before the 1946 hoop season. By the way Mike ordered them sometime during last baseball season. (Hope this will satisfy some of the press).....The Pinkerton Academy cheerleaders again made a very successful appearance at the Lewis Field House with their fine display of cheering. They had several cheering formations and if some of the larger schools in the state took after them it certainly would be an added attraction and really something for us to see, such precision, such grace, such — I guess it's best to stop here with the addition that if there was to be an All-State cheerleading team to be picked they would be it.....With the exception of the class A finals the most exciting game in that class was in the preliminaries when Concord defeated Portsmouth 31 to 30. In this game Portsmouth looked like a much better team than their opponents but basketball like any other sport still pays off to the team that has the most points.....In the class A selections for All-State all the players named competed in the finals with the exception of John Morrissey of Portsmouth whose team was dropped the first night.....By some strange coincidence all five teams from Southeastern New Hampshire, Spaulding, Dover, Portsmouth, Somersworth and Exeter, led in the first half but finally lost out to Nashua, Keene, Concord, Peterborough and Franklin respectively.....Frank Muggleston of Rochester, one of the winners of tickets to all events in the tourney, is one of the few to hold the distinction of seeing all of the games played.....Charles Daley, one of Spaulding high's most ardent supporters, saw all of the games with the exception of the class C finals.....From all appearances Peter Shonelaris of Franklin was the outstanding player of the week-end. Any coach in the state would welcome him with open arms.....Louis Lemay, Nashua forward, certainly did a good job when his team played Spaulding but he really took a bad verbal beating from some of the local boys when Lemay's team played Concord the following night.....Coach Mike Mirey was disappointed at the starting time of the Nashua-Spaulding game Thursday night as he had the boys rallying to go when one of the aides at the tourney came to the team room and informed Mike that the game

Coach Mike Mirey called his football candidates out for the initial spring practice yesterday afternoon. Mike hopes to have a more successful season than last year and by adding spring practice to the now almost year around athletic program he hopes to have a smooth looking and fast and deceptive outfit on the gridiron this coming fall.

Coach Mirey is planning to have the boys work out in the gym until the baseball season gets underway and unless there is a decided change with the old weather man they will have a lengthy time of it.

Among the lettermen returning are: "The Flying Frenchman" Desaulnier, "Larry" Trask, Roland Gagne, "Ray" Mansfield and Don Beaudoin, backs; "Steve" Bickford, Paul Cossette, "Butch" Rigazio, George Beaudoin, Rene Dubois, "Ernie" Hughes, Gerard Cosette, Jacques Couture, "Fat" Piper and "Killer" Berube, linemen.

Besides these lettermen most of the J. V.'s returned and also others that didn't play last year but with football again built up as "THE" sport they have decided to try for the team.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

The Board of Directors of Rochester Community Activities Association met Monday night for its February meeting under the chairmanship of Harry Norman. Ellsworth Clow gave some recommendations of the building committee and Mrs. Rand reported on the work of the Arts and Crafts committee. Mr. Lewis, Southeast District Y. M. C. A. Secretary read the minutes of a meeting of the playground committee and made recommendations for its continuation and expansion.

William Bennett, executive secretary, reported on the progress of the program of the Gra-Y Clubs, the Youth Council, and the basketball leagues. Cooperation was pledged to the forthcoming Southeast District Youth Conference and preliminary plans for a Father and Son program were announced. Mr. Norman and Mrs. Rand volunteered to act as chairman of committees planning this observance.

Ensuing discussion led to the formation of Personnel Committee to be composed of Mr. John Cotton, Mr. Harry Norman, Mrs. Eva Stevenson, Mr. John Lewis, and Mr. William Bennett. This committee will hold a meeting shortly to formulate a personnel policy for presentation to the Board.

Dates for the March meeting and for the Annual April meeting were set, with William Bennett appointed to arrange details of the program for the annual meeting.

Present were Harry Norman, Robert Marsh, Ellsworth Clow, Rev. Ray Kelley, Mrs. Rand, Mrs. Stevenson, John Lewis, and William Bennett.

While the Gonle and Allen School Gra-Y Clubs were unable to enjoy their special programs this past week due to weather conditions, School St. Gray-Y Club went to Dover to visit the Spaulding Fibre Company plant. Under the guidance of Robert Marsh, director of the plant, the boys saw how fibre comes into the plant, how it is cut and trimmed, how it is pressed into shape in the giant presses, and how it becomes guards for football uniforms, bullet-proof gas tanks for airplanes, helmets, tanks for military use, wastebaskets and boxes of all shapes and sizes, and how it was prepared for shipment. The boys found the trip most interesting and educational. The group, which was accompanied by William Bennett, club leader, was composed of Paul Baker, Roger Trumbull, Jimmy Lyndes, John Carrigan, John Newhall, Ronald Dorr, William Cochrane, Kenneth Horne and Charles Varney.

Rochester has again been invited to participate in the annual State-wide Y. M. C. A. Basketball tournament which will be held in Concord March 3. William Bennett, local Y. M. C. A. representative, has announced that the team which will represent Rochester this year will be composed of some of the best players who take part in the local basketball league at Maple St. Gym. Players scheduled to play Saturday are Marshall Keene, Stephen Bickford, Raymond Rigazio, George Beaudoin, Gerald Gilman, Paul Blackadar, Richard Demaris, Roland Sylva, Fred Desaulnier and Norman Mireault. This team was selected by Harry Notkin, the gym supervisor.

JOSEPH GENDRON

Joseph Gendron, 68, proprietor of a market on Hanson street, died Sunday night at his home, 168 No. Main street.

He was born in St. Michel, Canada, the son of Ferdinand and Sophie (Mercier) Gendron and was educated there. He came to Rochester about 20 years ago and was employed in several markets in the city before opening his own.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Jennie Gendron; a daughter, Mrs. George Murray of Lawrence, Mass., and several brothers.

Services were held Wednesday morning in Holy Rosary church. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in Rochester cemetery.

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Vegetables De Luxe

Of course, the family won't eat vegetables that are cooked beyond recognition with all their delicate colors washed out. Do you blame them?

Vegetables don't have to look that way. Spinach can be a rich green with enough of its character left in to hold up a few of the leaves. Peas can be as green as when they are first picked, cabbage almost as crisp as when it was first picked and green beans fork-tender and well seasoned.

Two rules to remember in vegetable preparation are these: First, prepare your vegetable just before ready to cook. Don't let it stand in water to have the flavor and nutrients leached out. Second, cook only until tender and then serve at once.

Another complaint that we frequently hear about vegetables is that they lack flavor. That's easily remedied. Coax out the natural flavor with cooking in salted water, then taste before serving and perhaps add a bit more salt, a dusting of pepper and melted butter or bacon dripping if you like a smoky flavor in your vegetable.

Sometimes a cream sauce will add interest to the vegetable, or perhaps a cheese sauce will bring out its best points. Today's recipes will give you the cues to making these vegetables a star attraction on your menus.

Corn a La King with Bacon. (Serves 4)

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 canned pimiento, chopped
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon celery salt
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne
- 1 can whole kernel corn
- 8 strips bacon
- 4 pieces of toast

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and blend well. Add milk and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add pimiento, onion, celery salt, salt, cayenne and corn. Serve on toast with two strips of bacon and garnish with parsley, if desired.

Savory Beets. (Serves 4 to 6)

- 2 cups cooked, cubed beets
- 4 strips finely chopped cooked bacon
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon bacon fat or flour

Measure out 1/2 cup beet liquid. Mix bacon and flour in saucepan; add bacon liquid, vinegar and seasonings. Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add beets and heat thoroughly.

Lima Beans with Mustard Sauce.

- 2 cups lima beans, canned or cooked
- 1 teaspoon powdered mustard
- 1 teaspoon granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons drippings
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice

Drain liquor from beans into sauce pan. Boil down to 1/2 cup. Mix together all dry ingredients and add to liquor. Add butter and lemon juice. Simmer for three minutes until well blended; add beans and heat thoroughly.

Asparagus Sandwich.

Toast slices of bread on both sides until lightly browned. Place short asparagus tips on each sandwich, about three on each piece of bread. Pour over each slice of bread 1 tablespoon of cheese which has been melted, then broil for 2-3 minutes. Serve at once.

*Vegetable Pie. (Serves 6)

- 1 egg
- 2 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 3 cups diced vegetables, cooked (corn, celery, peas, carrots)
- 2 hard-cooked eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon onion salt
- 1 recipe 2-crust pastry
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 pound cheese

Beat together the egg and flour. Add gradually the 1 cup of milk. Add vegetables, hard-cooked eggs and onion salt. Season with salt and pepper. Place in pastry-lined shell and cover with pastry. Make several slits in the top to let steam escape. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 40 minutes or until crust has browned and filling has set. Serve each portion which is made by adding 1/2 cup milk to cheese which has been melted over boiling water.

ROCHESTER, Thursday, March 1: BIBLE CONFERENCE
At the regular monthly Bible Conference to be held on March 8, at the Advent Christian church, the speaker will be Rev. Paul W. Beckwith, staff member of the Inter-Varsity Fellowship.

REV. PAUL W. BECKWITH

Mr. Beckwith traveled extensively with Billy Sunday, Homer Rodeheaver and Mel-Trotter-Homer Hammontree evangelistic teams, as pianist and singer. He is an evangelistic Bible teacher. A graduate of the Dallas Theological Seminary he has served as Director of Education at the First Presbyterian Church of Duluth, Minn., before becoming a member of the staff of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, the oldest evangelical student organization in the world. This group first organized at Cambridge University England, was established at the University of Michigan about four years ago, but has spread until now there are 80 chapters in various universities and colleges throughout the country. He has been active in the student work of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship for the past three years.

"Hundreds of students are finding real quietness of heart and new inspiration through faith in Christ despite the upsetting conditions they face," says Mr. Beckwith. He tells of servicemen at the University of Minnesota last year who met weekly for Bible study and prayer—and enjoyed it, with numbers increasing week by week as the men invited out their buddies to hear what Christ could mean to them. His messages are both devotional and evangelistic. You will not want to miss hearing this outstanding speaker and youth leader.

This Bible Conference at which Mr. Beckwith is speaking is under the auspices of interested local churches and the New England Fellowship, with headquarters at 9 Park Street, Boston, Mass.

BUNDLE DAY

The Fourth Annual Children's Clothing Crusade, sponsored by a nation-wide committee of school superintendents to Save the Children Foundation to carry out its program for underprivileged children, will be conducted in Rochester on March 7, 1945, when Bundle Day will be observed in the local schools.

The local program will be carried on under the direction of the Public and Parochial schools. Pupils have been asked to bring in clean, serviceable clothes and shoes of every variety. While conducted primarily on behalf of children, clothing for both men and women is sought in large quantities.

The 1945 goal has been fixed at 2,500,000 pounds to be divided between European war victims and the needs of the rural areas of the United States in which the Save the Children Federation conducts its American child service.

The committee sponsoring the drive is headed by Dr. Claude Hardy, Superintendent of Schools of White Plains, N. Y., and Vice-Chairman of the recently formed World Education Service Council. The committee includes among its membership school superintendents from twenty-six states. Former Governor Huntley Spaulding has recently been elected a member of the corporation. It is expected that approximately 1,000 school systems located in every state in the Union will participate in school Bundle Day collections during 1945.

SPONSORS BENEFIT

With 11 men reporting for the first and only practice for the Rochester Kiwanis Aces basketball team, coaches "Iron Ira" Studley and "Mike" Jenness have decided to use their new secret attack against their formidable opponents the Dover Kiwanis.

The 11 that reported to practice in which only three points were scored in 10 minutes were "Driller" Roy, "Specs" Weathers, "Bo-Peep" Beaupre, "Sally" Rand, "Tiny" Small, "Stretch" Smith, "Dead Eye" Kendall, "All-State" Mirey, "Silent Bob" Marsh, "Cream Puff" Bernier and "Flash" Stinnett. The others on the squad report that they need no practice but the real reason is they do not want to be lame for more than a month and if they played twice within two weeks it would incapacitate them for two or three.

Among those that claim no need of practice, which is rather doubtful, are: "Leaping Lew" Fernald, "Deacon Josh" Studley, "Happy Harlan" Calef, forwards; "Sally" Rand, center; "Speed" Canney, "Spavin" Martin, "Spike" Varney, Jr., guards.

Although the Rochester coaches will not announce their line-up for the game because they want to confuse the enemy, coach "Habeas Corpus" Burns, of the "Dover Komets" shows no fear of the Aces as he has announced the following starting line-up: "Popover" Nelesery, center; "Habeas Corpus" Burns, attorney, and "Lone Star" Hankins, minister, as forwards; "Looper" Crocen, executive of Mark Toys Co. and L. G. "Specs" Lowell, captain, of the Personal Finance, guards; "Out and Around" Boucher of Endicott Johnson Co. and "Flash" Gregoire, judge and attorney are substitutes and coach Burns is still signing them up.

Both teams will have their physicians with "Ace" Barcomb for Rochester and "Bours" Doyle of Dover will give medical care free of charge to the participants that need it.

Having had considerable discussion on the rules to be played it has been announced that each period will be as follows: 1st period, amateur; 2nd period, Semi-pro; 3rd period, professional and the fourth period, MURDER.

Now the Rochester Kiwanis have decided to give the fans present a real basketball game so they have engaged the senior members of the varsity team at Spaulding high to play "All State" Mirey's next year hopefuls. This game will begin at 8:45 p. m. with the feature game starting on the dot of eight.

Although this ensuing struggle between businessmen of Rochester and Dover is all in fun and should give those present something to talk about for years to come the main reason of the game is one which should make all present feel that the Kiwanis are doing a great thing in aiding the underprivileged children of this city.

Every penny raised from this game will be used to help the underprivileged children of both cities. Every patron of this game will have a barrel of fun but seriously both the Rochester and Dover clubs hope that every patron realizes that besides the laughs he or she enjoys, the money he paid goes to help some child who needs food, clothing and medical care. So there you have it folks, the reason that these established businessmen are going back to their younger days of sports.

FLYING CROSS

The Distinguished Flying Cross has been awarded to First Lieutenant Donald C. Tibbetts of East Rochester, N. H., for "meritorious achievement in aerial combat." The announcement was made by Major General William E. Kepner, Commanding General of the Second Air Division.

Serving as a Lead Pilot on one of the B-24 Liberators in Col. Albert J. Shower's 467th Bomb Group, Lt. Tibbetts has participated in 30 bombing missions over Germany and enemy-occupied Europe.

The citation said in part: "Displaying great courage and skill, Lt. Tibbetts has materially aided in the successful completion of each of these missions. His leadership has been an inspiring example to his fellow flyers."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard G. Tibbetts, East Rochester. A graduate of Spaulding High School, he attended the Univ. of New Hampshire before entering the army Nov. 24, 1942, from Durham, N. H. The Rochester Flyer has been overseas since July 15, 1944.

Ex-Councillor and Mrs. Charles W. Varney of 30 Leonard street, received word last week from their son Robert, a navigator in the U. S. A. A. F., stationed in England, that he has been promoted to the rank of Captain, and also that he is the proud father of a son, Robert Charles. Captain Varney, who has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with several clusters, was married a year ago to Miss Joyce James, R. N., an English nurse. Mr. and Mrs. Varney have also received word that their son-in-law, Edward Neal Railsback, was promoted to the rank of Lt. (j. g.), U. S. N. R. Lt. Railsback is taking an intensive course at Miami Beach.

ON FURLOUGH

S-Sgt. Lyman M. Frye, 32, who was wounded in action several months ago while serving overseas and who recently arrived at the Halloran General hospital, New York, is spending a 21 day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Fred L. Berry of the Salmon Falls road.

Sergeant Frye enlisted June 27, 1940. He was wounded in the hand and was confined to a hospital overseas for five months before being sent home. He has been given the Purple Heart decoration. He will receive further treatment at the hospital at Camp Edwards before being reassigned.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

A meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose was held Tuesday evening, February 27th, at the American Legion hall. Thirty-five new members were enrolled bringing the total to date to approximately 200.

After the usual business a recess was called and Sheldon Runlett, chairman of the entertainment committee raffled off 5 lbs. of sugar which was donated by Mr. Cardosi and Mr. Pieroni. A goodly sum was received from the sale of chances. Brother Gerard Beaupre, the secretary, made the motion that all members that could do so purchase tickets for the Kiwanis basketball game. Thirty tickets were purchased by the members present. More sales for this benefit were promised. Tickets were sold by Brother Bob Beaupre who is also a Kiwanis member. Plans are going ahead for the yearly public entertainment which will probably be held sometime in May.

The members extend regrets to Brother Alfred Lagasse due to his recent illness.

A meeting is planned for Sunday, March 11th, when new members will receive their initiation. Invitations are being sent to Dover, Concord and Franklin lodges for this occasion. Refreshments will be served. All members will be notified before the meeting.

Far-sighted farmers will see to it that a good part of their war earnings go into pasture improvement, conservation measures, labor-saving and cost-reducing equipment, fences and upkeep of buildings.

Mireymen Bow To Superior Nashua Five At Tourney

BY BIGGIE MARBLE

ROCHESTER, Thursday, March 1: Last Thursday evening the Spaulding High Red Raiders made their first appearance in a New Hampshire Tournament for the last 21 years when the charges of Mike Mirey opened the evening session at the Lewis Field House at Durham by losing a hard fought game to Nashua High by the score of 45 to 32.

Although the Mireymen were eliminated in the first round it did not surprise anyone as most local fans expected this to happen but backed their Raiders to the limit and hoping they might be able to spring a upset. For the first period it looked very much as if the Spaulding five had been very much underated as they came through with a 9 to 4 lead and increased the margin to 12 to 4 in the first few minutes of the second period. It was then that Kissell made his entry into the game and things began to happen but it was not good for Spaulding as their lead was cut down from an 8 point margin to a 1 point lead as the first half ended.

The second half was a nightmare for the Rochester quintet as Lemay began sending shots through the basket for the most part of the third period while the Spaulding team could not get a rally organized.

Lemay succeeded in dropping behind the Spaulding guards time after time to sink three baskets and was successful in sending three free throws through the nets to pace Nashua to a 28 to 24 lead by the end of the third quarter.

The fourth period found the Spaulding defense folded up like an accordion as the Nashua five piled up a total of 17 points for the period to take over a commanding lead early in the final chapter.

The redeeming feature of the Spaulding part of the game was the pace set by Ken Flood who played one of the most spectacular games of his career as he paced the Spaulding attack with a total of 6 baskets and would have piled up more points had the passing of the Spaulding team not been so erratic in spots.

Ray Breton turned in a great performance for what time he was in the game as he lead the Spaulding attack in the second period with a two goal and one foul assault to give him a total of 5 points for the period.

Ken Flood got the Spaulding quintet off to a good start in the opening period by pacing the Raider attack with two goals from the floor while Blake who had replaced Varney dropped another two pointer through the hoop while Kelley added two more points to the Spaulding total with a couple of successful free throws from the foul line and Hubbard chalked up another point as a result of his foul shot.

While Spaulding was jumping into the lead with a nine point first period rally Nashua managed to gather a total of 4 points as a result of a basket by G. Lagois and foul shots by Leguis and Lemay giving the Raiders a 9 to 4 lead as the first period ended.

The Spaulding team began the second period where they left off in the first stanza as Flood sent a basket through the nets to jump the Spaulding score to 10. Blake and Kelley sunk one foul shot each to give the Mireymen a total 12 when Kissell came into the game replacing G. Lagois. It was this same Kissell that took up his post under the basket giving little regard to the "three second in the bucket" rule and the referees gave it still less thought. From then on the game took on an altogether different color and the Nashua five began to move while the Spaulding defense began to crumble.

As a result of the change in the Nashua strategy the Clark coached team piled up 13 points in the second period while Spaulding was helping themselves to 9 to give the Raiders an 18 to 17 lead at the half.

After Kissell had once entered the game and began going places Ray Breton came into the battle on the Spaulding side. With Kissell having great success in taking the rebounds off the backboard and Lemay sneaking down behind the Spaulding defense, a Nashua offense was on its way.

Kissell dropped four goals from the floor into the hoop and a foul shot to give him a total of 9 points for the period while Badoian and Lemay was sinking one each to complete the 13 points piled up for the period while Breton added two baskets and a foul shot to the Spaulding total to make an 18 to 17 game as the teams left the floor at the halfway mark.

The third period found the Nashua entree piling up more points as the Spaulding five was having trouble in getting possession of the ball on rebounds and their passing game failing to click. Lemay paced the third period attack with a three basket and three foul attack for a 9 point third period total for himself while Kissell and Badoian sunk one foul each to give Nashua a total of 11 for the third period. A basket and two foul shots by Douglas was all that Spaulding could salvage from the third frame leaving Nashua out in front 28 to 24 as the teams squared off for the final round.

Ken Flood and Moe Varney teamed up in the fourth period in a vain effort to pull their mates back into the game but all their efforts could not compete with the fast charging Nashua quintet as Kissell hung up three more baskets and a foul to add 7 more points to his total to accumulate 17 points for his night's work. Lemay came through with two baskets and a foul shot to bring his fourth period score to 5 to give him a total of 16 for the game. Badoian and Worthen sunk one goal from the floor each while Belanger came through with a foul shot to complete the Nashua point getting.

While Nashua was banging out 17 points for their fourth period Spaulding could manage to collect but 8 points through the efforts of Flood and Varney as they divided the 8 points between them as Flood collected two field goals and Varney chipped in with a basket and two fouls for the Spaulding points to leave the Raiders trailing by the score of 45 to 32 when the final gun sounded.

For the most of the games played at the tournament 32 points would be enough to win but not so with Spaulding as Nashua topped all class A scores with a 45 which made the Spaulding defense look very bad and that is what they were, as they looked very weak against the Nashua five.

VOTE ON TOWN MEETING DAY

Perhaps the world's purest example of democratic freedom—New England's famous Town Meeting Day—will be exercised in its annual form here Tuesday, March 13, when Newmarket voters will congregate in the town hall to decide matters of public interest.

A shameful number in the vicinity of 176 persons exercised their sacred privilege of the ballot last year. This figure is only 12 per cent of the approximately total of 1,300 qualified voters. This fact may well explain why our civic affairs are so often on the decline. For only in UNITY is there strength, and this community is sorely lacking in unity.

Vote when Town Meeting Day comes around next month. If you are opposed to a measure, vote against it. Above all, do not be afraid to state your convictions on any matter.

Newmarket needs a new deal. Give it to us, will you, Mr. Citizen? You are the only one who has the power.

NEWS FROM BOYS IN SERVICE

WARRANT OFFICER (J. G.) ALPHONSE L. PELLETIER, USA, has left for overseas service in the Pacific theatre of war. He formerly was stationed at Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., with a Harbor Craft company.

A former student at Newmarket High school, JOSEPH COOK, Apprentice Seaman, USN, is receiving his basic training at the Naval training station, Sampson, N. Y. His parents are now residents of Boston, Mass.

CPL. ANDREW S. MARCH, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sumner March of Brighton, Mass., formerly of Nottingham, has arrived overseas in Italy, according to word received by his parents. Corporal March is a radioman on a C-47 cargo airplane.

Having arrived at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., PVT. ARTHUR F. NISBET, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nisbet of 27 North Main street, is now being examined by the AAF training command station to determine his qualifications as a pre-aviation cadet.

Flying officer training as a pilot, bombardier, or navigator will be given Private Nisbet upon successful completion of the processing he is undergoing at Keesler Field. A series of medical and psychological tests will indicate the type of air crew training for which he is best suited by aptitude and personal characteristics, while other classification tests will measure his technical skills and aptitudes.

GEORGE S. GRAY, JR., able-bodied Seaman, USMM, of Lee, is home on leave for ten days after overseas duty in the Atlantic theatre aboard a convoy.

FIRST LT. STANLEY J. MAGUSIAK, USAAF, and TECH. SGT. RALPH S. WALKER, USAAF, both of this town, recently enjoyed a surprise meeting at an AAF Bomber base somewhere in England. Lieutenant Magusiak is a co-pilot on the B-17 Flying Fortress, while Sergeant Walker is engineer aboard the B-24 Liberator.

It shall be the duty of the committee to make a study of the possibility of erecting a memorial building, which will serve the business, social and recreational needs of the community.

This committee's work shall consist of recommendations for a proposed site, type, and plan of building, estimated cost, services to be rendered, and its administration and supervision. This committee will report back to the next regular town meeting as result of its study unless the present war terminates at an earlier date. In this event, the Selectmen shall be instructed at the call of the committee to hold a special town meeting to take action on this report.

11. To see if the town will vote to petition the State Tax Commission to have an audit made by the Division of Municipal Accounting and to make an appropriation to cover the expense of such audit.

12. To see what action the town will take in regard to the bridge known as the Moon Light Bridge on the Lee road, that is to say, to see if the town will appropriate the sum of $1,000 to repair said bridge or raise the sum of $3,500 to be matched by the State Highway Department and build a permanent cement bridge.

13. To see if the town will vote to support the United States membership in a general system of international cooperation such as that proposed at the Dunbarton Oaks Conference, having police power to maintain the peace of the world.

Given under our hands and seal this Twenty-fourth day of February, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-five.

LOUIS P. FILION,
JOSEPH A. BRISSON,
F. ALBERT SEWALL,
Selectmen of Newmarket.

Lieutenant Magusiak recently was promoted to his new rank from that of second lieutenant.

LT. GEORGE BOURAS, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bouras of Main street recently spent a ten day leave in Rome, Italy, with the members of his B-24 Liberator air crew. The group is stationed at a base in southern Italy.

Home for the week-end, from Melville, R. I., where he is stationed, was NORMAN LANGLOIS, Seaman 2-C, USN. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Langlois of 2 Washington street.

GEORGE L. SOBOZENSKI, Seaman 1-C, USN, son of Felix Sobozenski of Central street, is home on leave from Banana River, Fla. A brother, PFC. JOSEPH SOBOZENSKI, USA, is in the Philippines.

Recently enjoying a seven day furlough at home was PVT. WALTER DRAPEAU, USA, who has returned to Fort Ord, Cal., for further training and duty.

A veteran of 35 bombing missions over enemy territory, FIRST LT. STANLEY J. MAGUSIAK, USAAF, son of Walter Magusiak of North Main street, arrived at his home Tuesday to spend a well-earned 21 day leave after overseas duty in England as the co-pilot of the B-17 Flying Fortress "Sweater Girl." He flew to this country and arrived at the LaGuardia airport in New York City. He was with the Eighth Air Force.

Lieutenant Magusiak flew his first mission on August 30, 1944, and his 35th occurred February 1. With the exception of one, which took place over France, all raids on which he participated were on Germany itself. He was awarded the Air Medal with five oak leaf clusters, and also has been recommended to receive the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The Lieutenant recently met TECH. SGT. RALPH S. WALKER, USAAF, also of this town. The meeting took place, ironically enough, in Newmarket, England. He next will be assigned to Atlantic City, N. J., for redistribution and further duty.

THEODORE J. MALKOS of 217 Main street, will leave on Monday, March 19, for duty with the U. S. Navy. He was graduated from the local High school last June.

ALFRED HOULE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Houle of Church St. departed Friday for duty in the U. S. Navy. He was a member of the Senior class at Newmarket High school. Three other brothers, Emery, Wilfred and Richard, also are in service.

High School Group Plans Youth Canteen

Miss Yvette Harrington, instructor at Newmarket High school, appealed today for contributions to a newly-organized "Youth Canteen" planned by the girls of the home economics club.

The purpose of the canteen, it was explained, is to provide recreation for boys and girls of High school age. The rooms over the local post office have been secured as a meeting place, and it is expected that they will be open on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings.

Among articles gratefully acceptable for the new project are the following: Chairs, tables, paint, couches, phonograph records, lamps, victrolas, dishes, paint brushes, glasses, scatter rugs and sums of money. Names of persons who wish to contribute may be left at the Bouras Ice Cream Bar or those willing to bring their contributions to the clubrooms are asked to do so.

4-H Club Names

New Sponsors

The Happy Workers 4-H club, under the direction of Milton A. Kimball, leader, and Clifton Thompson, assistant leader, have secured a number of local persons to act as sponsors for the group. They are Clifton E. Ayers, Henry W. Burke, Mrs. Louis Ellms, Ozzie R. Gilbert, Louis D. Glidden, Bertram E. Branch, Earl Hoyt, Harold R. Haines, Fred J. Durell, Edwin M. Kimball, Mrs. Edward Malek, John B. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, John A. Stevens, Mrs. Alice Trotter, Walter J. Sewall, Charles M. O'Connor and Charles H. Stevens.

A number of articles of furniture, chairs, magazines, books, and furnishings have been contributed, as well as money. All contributions large or small, are gratefully acknowledged. Fred J. Durell is acting as treasurer of this fund.

During the recreation program at the town hall Saturday, the following boys showed best sportsmanship in the games: George F. Walker, Elbert W. Kelley, Dean S. Russell, Armand Emond, and John Jordan.

The officers and leaders of the club wish to thank Joseph H. Soper for the use of the clubroom at 80 Main street, which has been rented to a shoe repairing concern from Exeter. The members have sustained their appeal for donations until a new clubroom has been found. They are asking local citizens to support the current Red Cross War Fund drive at this time.

Ordnance Plaque

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stevens of 33 North Main street, have received a letter dated February 18, from their son, T-5 Elmer W. Stevens, who is stationed in Belgium with the 334th Ordnance Depot company.

The letter reveals that his company was awarded on February 9, the Meritorious Service Unit plaque. This is the highest honor and ordnance company may receive and the 334th was the first to be thus honored in the First Army.

To Show Free Film At High School

Miss Yvette Harrington, home economics instructor at Newmarket High school, announces that the public is invited to attend the free showing of "This Too Is Sabotage," a timely, educational film of special interest to housewives and persons interested in nutrition. The picture is to be shown Monday morning at 8:15 a. m.

Home economics students at the school will also attend the performance.

Local Grange Holds Spring Inspection

Spring inspection was held recently by Lamprey River Grange when the fourth degree was conferred upon the following candidates: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin, Miss Gabrielle Blanchette, Miss Beatrice Rondeau, Mrs. Eva Curry, Miss Florence Rondeau and Miss Aline Babin. Deputy Joseph Parks of Stratham was a guest.

Miss Rena Young announced that a quota of $50 had been given to the grange for the Red Cross War Fund drive. A committee consisting of Rev. Chesley Lantz, Mrs. Dorothy Fewless, and Mrs. Harry Bassett was appointed to assist in the drive.

A baked bean supper was served by the committee and this was followed by dancing. A Washington's Birthday program was observed.

Miss Patricia Harvey of the Plains road recently visited Miss Laura Post at her home in Newtonville, Mass.

'Bombs' Steel Center In Imaginary Flight

'Briefed' at Army Air Force School for Raid on Yawata; Follows Course

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building,
Washington, D. C.

How would you like to bomb the Yawata steel works in a flying fortress?

I did it without moving from my classroom seat in Orlando, Fla., in one of the courses I attended at the army air force school of applied tactics. It is part of the "post graduate" instruction of the high officers of the army and it really is a realistic "briefing." When I had finished that demonstration, as it is called, I actually felt as if I had been on that bombing mission which started at an unnamed base in China and flew straight to a target, which is as clearly pictured in my mind as if I had made the trip.

I'll try to reenact it for you.

First, imagine a great map stretching across the room in which you are sitting with two black lines on it. The lower line runs, with a few slight deviations, straight to the target in Japan. Then there is a short leg running north and the second line, a little above the other, running back to the base. This is the course we took.

"Now, men," says the officer standing with a pointer in his hand, "you are going to bomb the steel works at Yawata. Daylight precision bombing and naturally you'll meet a little more opposition. But you know the importance of steel. I don't need to talk about that. You have been selected for your record last time. Keep up that record."

"As you know this is the first time for the new stagger formation. You've practiced it. I won't go into that. We have just 45 minutes to check the whole plan. We start at 650 and the first ship goes down the runway at 700."

(Military clocks theoretically run 24 hours. If the number is above 12, subtract 12. For instance 1630 is 4:30 in the afternoon—1630 minus 12 equals 4:30.)

Then came some directions about "assembly" (where this group joins the formation) which I won't go into here since space isn't adequate, but anyhow the assembly point is Chengtu.

Level Off For Bomb Run

"We must be at Chengtu at 800. Climb at 190 miles an hour to this point here (the pointer taps the map) . . . to 1,500 feet and level off. 200 miles per hour . . . this junction (another tap) 940; then swing on course . . . 91 degrees . . . (the pointer swishes out along the black line) to the coast."

"Here is your second climb . . . 1212 . . . 190 miles per hour . . . 300 feet a minute . . . to bombing altitude, at check point of island at 1245 (the pointer touches a little island off the Jap coast) . . . it will look like an inverted pyramid . . . then level off to the IP." (That is the point of entry which must be definitely established, for the flight from there on is directly to the target and careful synchronization with the other planes must be made.)

"Show a yellow-yellow flare so we'll know you've reached the IP . . . if dark, toggle four-and-a-half over the bomb run, then to the rally point, 14 miles north of target."

"If you are crippled going over the target try to cut short your turn. . . ."

I'll explain that: you see normally the planes would go north from the target and then turn at a right angle to the assembly point. Then another right angle back toward home, so if a plane had been hit and couldn't last long, it must try to catch up with the others and make known its condition. If the plane lags behind it may be located by the group leader who will make continuous s-turns, looping back, trying to locate any stragglers.

I cannot in this space give you a fraction of the detail of this briefing, which pointed out on the map every hazard, every advantage, every varying condition. Special areas were blown up in large size: as a lake serving as a landmark where the planes start their ocean jump, a peculiarly shaped river where they reach land again. Sketches are furnished by meteorologists, showing just the types of clouds they will encounter, some "full of rocks" (covering mountain peaks) which are to be avoided.

The known location and number of enemy fighter planes is marked, as are the antiaircraft guns, and the temperature and wind velocity at various levels.

Target's There, Then Gone

As to the target itself, large scale aerial pictures were shown which looked very much as the actual terrain would look to the pilot and bombardier. Also, a map of the whole city. Then a map of the target area, then photos of the target area, taken from an angle, as it will look when the plane approaches it from a distance, and another as it will look when it is directly below—the important moment.

That last statement "directly below" is misleading, as I found out. What you see when you look through the glass walls of the bomber's "nose" and what you see when you look through the bombsight are two quite different pictures. What you see when you look through the bombsight is the area (far ahead of where your plane is) upon which the bomb will hit if released at that precise instant. Naturally, at the speed at which a plane travels, the inertia of the bombs carries them far ahead as they fall.

This is disconcerting to the layman. I looked through the glass of the nose and picked me out a little Florida lake upon which I decided to drop my imaginary bomb. Then I looked into the sight and there was no lake there! Too late! If I had released my bombs then, they would have hit far beyond the distant shore although the plane hadn't even reached the near shore, yet.

But to return to my synthetic flight. I find it impossible to recount it with half the realism with which it was presented to me as my eyes followed that moving pointer from base to assembly point to "bomb line" (where the planes cross into enemy occupied terrain) on to the target itself, with the looping tracks that bounded it and then back, north and west again, over water and land, lake and mountain, on the long trek home.

After the briefing was finished four men in uniform took seats on the platform. They were men with stars on their service ribbons and some purple hearts, too. Men of many missions just such as the one described, or they would not have been chosen as instructors in this post graduate university of the air.

And they acted out, with startling conviction the briefing of a returned crew. One, his nerves on razor edge from what he had gone through, another a little dazed, as if he had had a few drinks too many, another solemn, wide-eyed, another jumpy, loquacious, controversial, all true-to-life types, we were told.

Carefully and tactfully the officer checked their conflicting statements until finally all were molded into a reasonable and rational report.

"How many enemy fighters . . . here?"

"Oh, 80, easy," said the jumpy one.

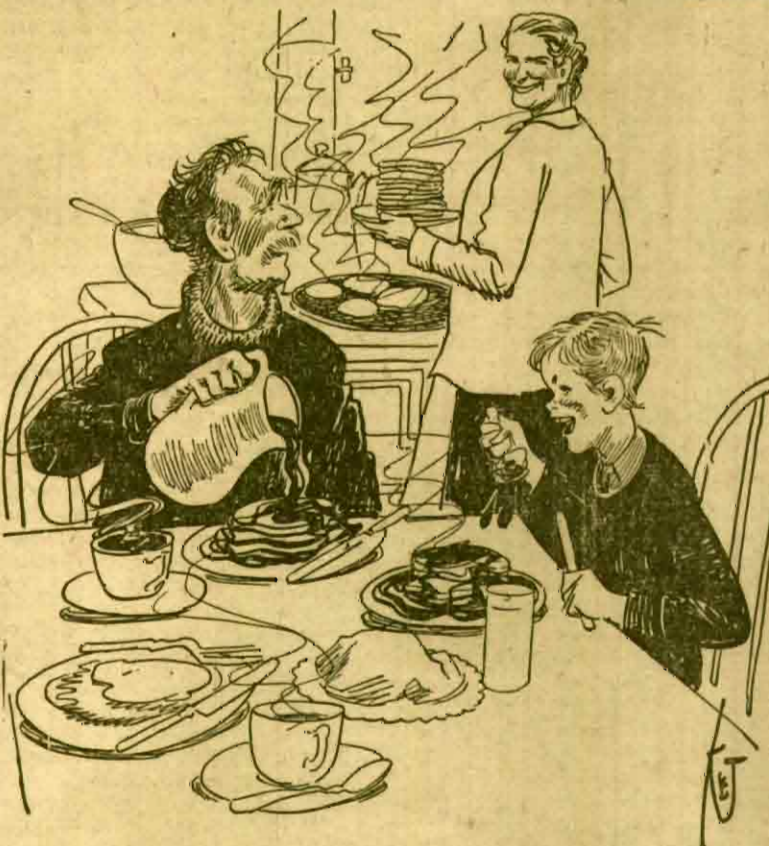

"How many do you say?" (to the fellow in the half-daze).

"Well, a lot of 'em, I didn't count."

"Enough anyhow. And you didn't warn us about the others here," says the slap-happy one as he jumps up and jabs the map.

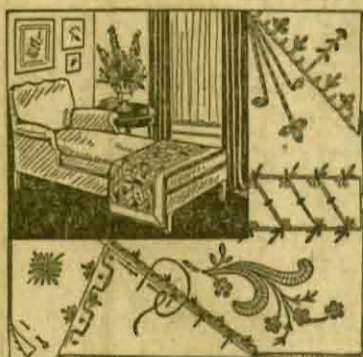

Finally it settles down to about 50. This estimate will be checked as other crews are checked and an accurate estimate is obtained. The same careful and studied analysis of data on troop concentrations observed, movements along highways, convoys, new landing strips, as well as the damage done to the target.

AN OLD-FASHIONED crazy-patch quilt aglow with color and quaint stitchery makes a decorative slumber throw for the sofa in today's living room. It picks up and repeats all the room colors and the hit-and-miss pattern harmonizes with furnishings old and new.

In Victorian days great grandfather's cravats were the source of many a rich piece of silk for these quilts. Why not look over the old ties that G.I. Joe left behind with an eye to the same purpose? The ends are always good no matter how worn the center part may be. Collecting bits of bright silk, ribbon and embroidery thread will be an exciting hobby and it costs nothing.

'Bush Telegraph' of Africa Still Mystery to Whites

The famous "bush telegraph" of the African wilds, the native drums that beat out mysterious messages, has always been a problem to the white man. A scientist stated recently: "I do not believe any white man will ever be able to understand this drumming. The drum system is not a sort of Morse code, but as natural as the Negro's instinct. It is a rhythm, like the black man's speech, where one word has many meanings according to pronunciation."

"There is no thought which cannot be expressed with the aid of the drums, no message so intricate that it cannot be beaten out by a skillful operator."

"Warring tribes temporarily forget their quarrels in order to relay important tidings across rivers and international frontiers. The 'Talking drums' are used to announce native weddings and other important local events."

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

During at least the first three years following the end of the war, experts believe that 70 million tires will be needed annually in the U. S. alone. The peak year, 1941, saw a production of 62 million tires in this country.

Greater use of mechanical farm implements in post-war years is expected to make agriculture one of the largest consumers of rubber.

Despite the Far East war, the Foreign Economic Administration expects that 73,100 tons of natural rubber will be shipped to the U. S. from Ceylon and India during 1944.

Central, Franklin, Vilas Cop State Hoop Titles

Manchester Central, Franklin High and Vilas of Alstead Saturday won the 1945 state basketball championships in Classes A, B and C respectively, when finals in the hoop classic were held at the University of New Hampshire Field House in Durham.

A hot, power-laden Concord High quintet was outplayed by the Queen City basketball Saturday night when the latter club turned it back, 24-21, to snatch the Class A title and win an invitation to the New England tourney at Boston Garden this month. The Little Green hoopers led at every period but were constantly threatened by the Red and White of Concord High. Central led at the end of the first period, 6 to 2; at the half, 12 to 9; at the third quarter was tied by Concord, 15 to 15, and surged ahead in the final stanza to cop, 24-21, Spiro, Central's powerful center, led his team with ten points.

Franklin High's hoopers easily defeated St. John's of Concord, 48-23, in Class B in the preliminary tilt. Franklin led, 7-5, when the initial quarter ended and kept up its lead throughout the set. The B champs led at the half, 25-7. Shanelaris swished in 21 points through the hoop to pace his team's victory.

Vilas of Alstead won its second consecutive Class C title in the afternoon, nosing out its opponent in the finals of '44, Marlboro, 34-33. It looked like a Marlboro victory when the game opened, the favored losers leading at every quarter. In the final period, however, Vilas came out on top 34-33. A Marlboro man had an opportunity to sink a charity throw during the final minute of play but the shot went wild and Coach Metcalf again went home to Alstead with the bacon. His son, Danny, led the Vilas five with a total of 17 markers.

Directly following the Class C finals the UNH hoop aggregation nosed out the University of Maine 66-60.

Results of the 13 contests which led up to the Saturday finals are as follows:

PRELIMINARIES
Franklin 43, Exeter 33 (B).
Peterborough 39, Somersworth 33 (B).

Pinkerton 26, Littleton 23 (B).
St. John's 38, Conant 16 (B).
Manchester Central 36, Cathedral 31 (A).

Keene 38, Dover 32 (A).
Nashua 45, Spaulding 32 (A).
Concord 31, Portsmouth 30 (A).
Vilas 32, Ashland 22 (C).
Marlboro 39, Lincoln 36 (C).

SEMI-FINALS
Franklin 40, Peterborough 25 (B).

St. John's 39, Pinkerton 38 (B).
Central 39, Keene 31 (A).
Concord 37, Nashua 20 (A).

FINALS
Franklin 48, St. John's 23 (B).
Central 24, Concord 21 (A).
Vilas 34, Marlboro 33 (C).

Members of the New Hampshire Sportswriters associations met Saturday to decide their annual selections for the "All-Tournament Basketball Team" of each class. Among those voting was Tottle Bouras, who covered the event for this newspaper.

Selections were:
CLASS A
F—Lindy Chakalos, Keene, Capt.
F—William Slattery, Concord.
C—George Spiro, Central.
G—Jack Morrissey, Portsmouth.
G—Robert Quirk, Central.
Utility—Dave Sleeper, Concord.

CLASS B
F—Peter Shanelaris, Franklin, Capt.
F—Roger Robichaud, Franklin.
C—Tommy Hardiman, St. John's.
G—Stephen Weglarz, Franklin.
G—Milan Knight, Peterborough.
Utility—Kenneth Hartman, Pinkerton.

CLASS C
F—Herbert Richardson, Marlboro.
F—Robert Batchelder, Vilas.
C—Danny Metcalf, Jr., Vilas, Capt.
G—Napoleon Benoit, Marlboro.
G—Richard Rhoades, Vilas.
Utility—Arthur Croteau, Marlboro.

The participating teams, in order they were selected by the five-man board, are: Class A: Central, officer of Kelley Field, whose Portsmouth, Spaulding, St. Joseph's; Class B: Peterborough, St. John's, Franklin, Pinkerton, Littleton, Exeter, Conant, Somersworth; Class C: Lincoln, Vilas, Marlboro, Ashland.

To our knowledge a team representing Newmarket High school has participated in five tournaments. In 1931, a local club was defeated by Peterborough, 38-21; in 1932, by Peterborough, 28-13; in 1933, by Lincoln (now of Class C), 25-23; in 1939, by Lincoln, 35-28; in 1940, by Whitefield, 29-22. Winners of these titles were: 1931, Peterborough; 1932, Peterborough; 1933, Groveton; 1939, St. Mary's of Claremont (now Class A); 1940, Whitefield.

Mrs. Frank Gazda and her son recently returned from Hartford, Conn., after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Catherine Lash.

Pvt. Henry Homiak has been transferred from Camp Polk, La., to Stuttgart, Ark. His new address follows: Pvt. Henry Homiak, 11036-016, EW-GCL, 2nd TCG, Stuttgart A. A. F., Stuttgart, Ark.

Pvt. Stefle Hamel, Wac, who had been receiving training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., has been transferred to Hunter Field in the same state. Her new address: Pvt. Stefle Hamel, A105672, 302 AAF Base Unit (SW), Squadron W, Hunter Field, Ga.

A surprise birthday party was given Saturday evening at South Hampton in honor of Mrs. Stanley Gazda. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Gazda by the 25 guests who were present. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gazda of Elm street, observed their tenth wedding anniversary Friday. It has been rumored that they intend to go on their "second honeymoon."

John Kutsra, club treasurer, has been bringing his own oranges to the club room recently. Friends ask the question, "Are you advertising them for sale?"

Jake Gazda is currently teaching three friends the intricacies of the game of pinocle. We wonder how he's getting along with his new pupils.

Members are asking Eddie Ross why he is "never around" during week-ends...they say his interest in parties may explain it.

President Albert Zick and Jake Gazda attended the Concord-Portsmouth hoop fray during the interscholastic basketball tournament at Durham last week. Mr. Zick exhibited a wide smile at the half, when "his team," Portsmouth, was leading. Then his face dropped until Concord won the contest, 31-30.

Doris M. Stevens, Seaman 2-C, Waves, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stevens of 33 No. Main street, over the week-end from Washington, D. C.

Stewart S. Humphreys of 70 Main street, is ill at his home.
