LASOFSKY - WAJDA WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wajda.

MISS MARY LASOFSKY WEDS HENRY WAJDA

Star of the Sea Church, Salisbury, Mass., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Lasofsky of Newmarket to Henry Wajda, son of Mrs. Anna Wajda of Newmarket. The Reverend Joseph A. Beatty performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Lasofsky, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon taffeta and chantilly lace with a chapel length train styled with a basque bodice, a sabrina neckline of lace sprinkled with iridescent sequins. Her elbow length sleeves were shirred and caught with small bows. The bouffant skirt of white taffeta had a front insert of scalloped lace and was caught in the front with a sequined applique of lace. She wore a French illusion veil caught to a queens crown of crystal and carried a crescent of white roses, stephanotis, amazon lilies with a lavender orchid in the center.

Two matrons of honor attended the bride: Mrs. Walter Wajda, sister-in-law, who wore a gown of melon colored lace with a full skirt and satin piping around the scoop neckline, with sleeves and cummerbund of matching satin and wore a matching net headpiece. She carried a cascade of carnation and roses. Mrs. Roland Levesque, sister of the groom, wore an identical gown of mint, with matching headpiece and also carried a cascade of carnations and roses.

Junior bridesmaids were Pamela Miesowicz of Newmarket, Janice Levesque of Newmarket, niece of the groom, Jill Fernald of Hampton and Rachael Gilbert of Exeter, who wore orchid, yellow, green and pink nylon chiffon dresses with flowered headbands and carried colonial bouquets.

The best man was Paul Bo-henko of Salem, N. H., friend of the groom. Ushers were Roland Levesque, brother-in-law of the groom, Charlie Wajda, uncle of the groom, and Walter Wajda, brother of the groom, all of Newmarket.

Mrs. Anna Wajda, mother of the groom wore a gown of blue lace over blue chiffon taffeta, with white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

A reception was held at the Rockingham ballroom, Newmarket following the ceremony. Miss Sandra Piascik of Newmarket was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Newmarket high school, class of 1956 and was employed as a bookkeeper at the Sam Smith Shoe Corp. Her husband graduated from Newmarket high school with the class of 1952 and is one of the country's leading jockeys.

For her wedding trip to Vermont, Mrs. Wajda chose a beige silk suit with white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Salem, N. H.

Mrs. Powell Here For Flag Day Dedication

Mrs. Wesley Powell, wife of the Governor of New Hampshire, dedicated a flag and flagpole at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, Flag Day at the home of Mrs. John Howard Hill, 196 South Main street.

The group gathered for an outing were Massachusetts DAR women from Gen. Israel Putnam Chapter, Danvers. Luncheon was served at 12:30.

In the latest of their series of meeting with town departments to better understand their financial needs, the Budget committee met with members of the Newmarket Water Board Wednesday night for the purpose of summarizing expenditures during the first five months of the year and those during the remainder of the year.

Repairs to the sandpipe on Great Hill have been completed as per schedule with the contractor to return later in the year to check the tank for seepage and remedy any that may occur. Then the tank will be again drained, dried and given a final coat of paint. The total cost of the replacement or by borrowing repairs is estimated to be less than the $8,000 appropriated, with the figure presently at $4,995.67 for these services.

A discussion was held regarding a program of periodic repairs to extend the age of the standpipe, with draining and painting to be done every four years. The contractor has estimated that the tank will have outlived its usefulness in the next 15 to 20 years. Financing of a new facility was discussed. This would certainly have to be accumulated through a capital reserve fund established in anticipation of the Added revenue could be obtained by establishing an annual hydrant service charge which is customary in most towns of a similar size. This custom was formerly in effect here but was discontinued several years ago at a loss to the department. A similar loss was suffered when the Macallen Co. introduced its own processing system. Funds from this service formerly gave the water works a reserve which, though not used for expansion at that time, could be used for system improvements and expansion should such a program be put into effect.

Water Board Clamps Down On Delinquents

Newmarket Board of Selectmen have announced the appointment of five new members to the Water Board. They are: Henry Demers, Ralph Larrivee, Raymond Brisson, Chester Kruczek and John Nesbitt. Raymond Geoffrion was reappointed. These new members met at a water budget meeting Monday night with the remaining members of the Water Board, Albert Langlois, Edwin Kimball and Arthur Beauschesne.

Herman Parker, soil conservation expert, was present and outlined methods by which the value of the local water shed area could be increased. Through soil conservation, the introduction of proper management of the water shed could increase the storage of water as well as assisting in the retention of water from quick run-offs from summer storms. Improvement to the spring area, brook and river banks by tree planting and the introduction of different types of cover would result in the reduction of silt. In addition, ditching of the brook would improve the flow.

The Water Board gave approval for putting land owned by the water works, estimated to be about 2,500 acres, under the soil conservation program and will seek the cooperation of land owners whose property abuts the water shed to assist in the improvement.

The subject of delinquent accounts was discussed. The supt. of public works revealed that the original long list of delinquent accounts has been narrowed down to nineteen and stated that unless some satisfactory arrangement for payment is made by July 1, those subscribers with outstanding accounts will be given ten days notice. If payment is not made in that final ten day period,

3 Face Charges In Camp Break

Three persons who allegedly entered a Lee camp and consumed the owner's beer, were arraigned in Municipal Court on Monday on charges of trespassing. Bail was set at $100 each and the case continued until Friday.

Robert Edgerly, Gerald James and Loretta Labranche, all 19 and all of Newmarket, pleaded innocent. A Stratham juvenile faced a similar charge in juvenile court and was referred to the Probation department.

Another Newmarket woman will face charges Friday. The party was discovered by camp owner Joseph Morrisette at Wheelwright Lake in Lee.

those same subscribers will positively have their water supply shut off.

FLAG DAY OBSERVANCE

Esther Cook beneath the flag her great great grandmother, Mrs. Emily Prescott, lovingly made by hand. Mrs. Prescott's husband was a direct descendant of Samuel Prescott, who along with William Dawson, made the historic ride on April 18, 1775, with Paul Revere to warn the people of Lexington and Concord to take up arms against the British. The patriots were intercepted by a British patrol, but Prescott managed to escape and ride on to warn Concord. Esther is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Cook who own the pre-Revolutionary Thompson Homestead on top of Pelletiah's Hill in Lee.

Religion In The Space Age

Far from limiting the importance of religion, our modern scientific advances underscore the need for a more dynamic and vital religious faith. In the race to conquer space, we should not lose sight of moral and spiritual values. For when the count reaches zero, all we can do is pray.

Certainly the U.S. needs the best possible system of military defense. But our real security is based on the spiritual strength of the American people. Fundamentally, we grow stronger as we come to depend more upon God's help for the courage and patience to live through these testing times.

That is why we cannot entrust the safety of our future solely to our growing military establishment. Our future is in God's hands, and we must look to Him in prayerful humility for the disciplined strength of character and spirit needed to win through to a world of peace and justice.

We are living in a truly remarkable age. Now that satellites are commonplace and the energy of the atom is being used increasingly for peaceful purposes, we can look forward hopefully to even greater scientific revelations and achievements.

These will be further evidences not only of what man can achieve, but also of the marvelous universe God has created. As the universe yields its secrets, new and immense dimensions will be added to man's knowledge of God's Creation.

That is why the national Religion In American Life Program calls upon all Americans to worship regularly in the House of God. In acknowledging that all final power over this world remains in God's hands, it is possible to "Find the strength for your life."

Former Resident Directs Art Fair

Richard Cilley, a former Newmarket man and now Industrial Arts instructor at Pittsfield high school recently directed the first Annual Industrial Arts Fair held there.

Each kind of exhibit had a student trained in that particular method of work to explain and answer questions. The fair featured some of the better completed projects of students in the course.

Three of these projects were given Ford Foundation Industrial Arts awards last week at the State Industrial Arts Fair in Littleton. These three will be entered in the International Ford Arts Fair this summer.

Mr. Cilley is studying for his masters degree and will attend an 8-week summer session at the Industrial Arts School in Menominee, Wisconsin.

Packets and Gunlows

As soon as the Newmarket Manufacturing Company's mills were going in good shape, a regular packet service to and from Portsmouth was established. These boats brought cotton and supplies and freighted the woven cloth to market.

These packets were short tubby craft of fifteen tons capacity, with a slight keel and a lateen sail that could be lowered to pass under bridges. Some of these boats were named the Fox, Greyhound, Lion, Honroe and Factory Girl. Only two men on each boat were all the crew needed, but these sailors knew their course. They had long been familiar with the tides and shoals of the Piscataqua, Great and Little Bays and the salt water of Lamprey River.

The danger points were named Boiling Rock, Drifting Elms, Langstaff Rock, Sunken Ledge, High Point Flats, the Sukey, the bow in the channel off Moody's Point, Jimmy Nick's Rock and all the other perils.

One beautiful day in August, a large company of townspeople and many of the employees of the B. F. Haley tailor shop, sailed down the river in the packet Factory Girl, to enjoy a picnic at Adams Point. They arrived safely at the point and had just eaten their lunch when it began to rain. Everyone hurried to get onto the packet, to get out of the rain, when a sudden squall struck the packet. The sail was set and sheet made fast. Without a moment's warning the packet capsized. Few of the people could swim and it is a wonder so many escaped drowning.

Three very fine young women were drowned. Their bodies were recovered three days after the accident. They were buried at sunset amid the tolling of the village bells:

The Factory Girl was the last of the packets. This was her last cruise. Gunlows took the place of the packets. These gunlows were large, flat bottomed boats that were poled out of the river at high tide. Like the packets, they had a lateen sail and a lee board, which helped navigation below Shackford's Point. On returning loaded, a tug usually pulled them along. There were store houses having projections overhanging the tide, which were especially adapted for handling water borne cargoes.

Just above the lower narrows in Lamprey River there is a large boulder called the Pound Stone. Back in the old days, before the coming of the railroad, the travelling between Portsmouth and Newmarket was mostly done by packets.

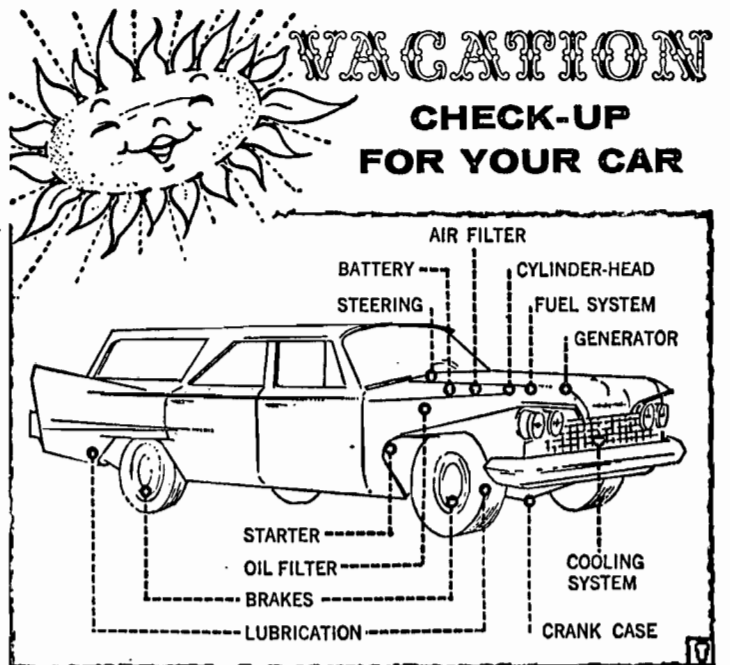

One of the old captains, Lemuel Drew or Lemmy as he was called, was going down river, beating between winds and tide and not in the best of humor. Part of the cargo on board were hens and chickens. One old rooster was "getting Lenny's goat". He kept sticking his head out and crowing. The old man picked up the first thing that came handy and threw it at the rooster. It bounced overboard. It happened to be the only pound stone he had on board. These stones, weighing just a pound, were used instead of iron which was too costly.

This made the old man so mad he cursed the poor rooster, the stone and everything else on board. He said he hoped that every time a rooster crowed within hearing of this spot, that the stone would gain a pound and this is just what has happened and if you don't believe this, you can ask the one that told me.

An Indian Story

On the 26th of April, 1704, a party of Indians, who had previously raided the settlement of Oyster River, burned the home of Edward Taylor at Lamprey River, killing him and his old daughter and taking his wife, Rebecca with a son and daughter, captives to Canada.

Later the mother and daughter were returned to Lamprey River. The daughter became the wife of Aaron Rollins. Their home was opposite the northwest corner of Riverside Cemetery where the house formerly owned by Joseph D. Stott stands and is now owned by Mrs. Alice Trotter. It is over 200 years old.

If you've neglected to spring clean your car, make it up today by giving it a thorough summer sweeping. Because summer weather means vacations and time to cast aside the drabness of winter and give your car a new lease on life.

Shuck off the mud of spring rain that's probably caked on the car's undercarriage and let it breathe again. And you will too as you drive along enjoying the warm sun-filled days.

From the experts of the Purolator Automotive Research Bureau comes advice to assure you of easy, efficient and inexpensive vacation driving.

The place to go is your neighborhood service station—have them check the cooling system. Drain it of anti-freeze, flush it and then refill. Change the engine oil and lubricate the chassis. If you've gone 4,000 miles, replace the oil filter. And remember, driving over dusty, dirt roads means more work for the air filter. Have it serviced every 2,500 miles and replaced when you hit 10,000 miles. It will give longer engine life to your car, and, in the long run, save you unnecessary expense.

At the same time, don't neglect safety. Have your service station attendant check your brakes. Your life may depend on it.

On the night of the 29th of August, 1723, eighteen Indians attacked this home. Aaron and his twelve year old daughter were killed. Mrs. Rollins, the son and one daughter, were taken captive.

Mr. Stott also owned most of the land where Riverside cemetery now is. He had a wife and two daughters and a large farm. With the help of his oxen, he built a stone wall which extended from the tomb to a red barn.

There is a story told of how a man was ploughing in the field back of the residence of Walter Sewall, when his oxen began to sink until they sank out of sight. There was quicksand there.

In the old days there was a fine orchard where Riverside cemetery now is. The kids had a wonderful time stealing apples.

The tomb at Riverside cemetery was built in 1875, and the first grave lots were purchased at that time.

Much business was completed at the last regular meeting of the Durgin Post and outstanding were the committees appointed by the commander. One special committee appointed is to be known as The Welfare of the Post and its members were listed in THE NEWMARKET TIMES last week.

The outing committee appointed are as follows: Robert McKenna, chairman, Romeo Lemieux, William Duffy, Joseph Plante, Gerard Plante, Frank Schanda, Frank Toland and Al Zych.

The outing will be held at Schanda's camp off New road and will be held Sunday, August 7th. All member's children under twelve will be admitted free. Tickets are out and may be procured from the committee.

A drive to re-flag the business section and to supply flags for lawn decoration was appointed and again it is an exceptional committee. Edward Tourigny, chairman, Arthur R. Beauchesne, Robert D. Rousseau, Romeo Lemieux and Al Zych.

The auction which we started preparing for last fall will be conducted this fall and past commander William Robitille was appointed chairman and to pick his own committee.

Frederick H. Degonyoun was appointed to organize a Junior Rifle Team under the guidance of the National Rifle Association, realizing that all boys and girls like guns. They like to handle them and to point and play with them. Guns draw youngsters attention like magnets. Guns become a worthwhile adventure when handled in a club, under the supervision of an adult leader and pointed at targets. Boys and girls can win medals as well as colorful jacket emblems. Shooting is a sport in which everyone takes part and no sitting in the grandstand getting thrills second handed. It also develops muscular coordination, perseverance, self-control and sportsmanship. Big muscles and physical stamina are fine, but they are not determining factors in winning NRA awards. Shooting is real good fun and it's more fun to shoot in a club than to shoot alone.

The Junior Program of the National Rifle Association has been developed to bring out those qualities of sportsmanship, fair play, manliness, self-control and cooperation so essential to success in life. Many experienced workers among boys and girls, including Scout leaders, Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. and similar men and women have been pleased to recognize that the program of 22 caliber rifle shooting activities developed by the NRA have proven an invaluable aid in instilling these valuable habits into boys and girls under their immediate supervision. The plan calls for capable adult supervision of all junior rifle shooting activities, the enforcement of definite regulations, the conduct of individual and team contests, to develop and stimulate the interest of boys and girls and above all else, training in the safe handling of firearms and air rifles.

Boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years are eligible for membership. As the membership is limited, it is requested that members of the Post who have children within this group and who are interested, contact either Frank Toland or Frederick H. Degonyoun as soon as possible so that the project may get started.

The membership committee for the Post will be appointed in the near future and it is expected that this year will be a banner year for the Post and we expected it surpase our all time high of 494 members in 1951.

Don't miss out on the events, etc., of the Post — buy THE NEWMARKET TIMES each week and know what we are talking about, as it will appear in this column each week.

Candidate For Pastorate To Conduct Worship Services Sunday, June 19th

Calvin T. Wright of Ward Hill, Mass., has been chosen by the pulpit committee of the Newmarket Community Church to be presented as a candidate for the position of minister of the church. He will conduct the worship service on Sunday, June 19.

Mr. Wright attended Gordon College and received his AB in Theology in 1950. He attended Harvard Divinity School for a year and is now attending Gordon Divinity School to complete requirements for his Bachelor of Divinity Degree next June.

He is not ordained, but will be eligible for ordination in June of 1961. He has been licensed by the Essex North Association of Congregational Churches as a minister. He has served the Silver Lake Chapel, Plympton, Mass., as a student pastor for several years and is now serving the Ward Hill Church of Christ in Ward Hill, Mass.

At the conclusion of the worship service next Sunday, a special meeting of the congregation will be called to decide whether or not parishioners wish to call Mr. Wright.

Two Fined At Sat. Court Session

At Saturday's session of Municipal Court, before Judge Russell McGuirk, Richard O. Ross of Manchester, a student at the University of New Hampshire, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign and was ordered to pay a $10 fine.

Edward R. Harney of North Hampton entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence. He was found guilty, given a 60 day sentence in the House of Correction, suspended on payment of a $125 fine. Judge McGuirk ordered his license suspended for a period of 6 months. Trooper John G. Newhall of the New Hampshire State Police, was complainant.

The home of Mrs. Jesse Carpenter on North Main street was the scene of a family reunion last Saturday, June 11, with 32 members of the family present. Attending were Nelson and Virginia Carpenter of Bellview, Nebraska, who with their children Nelson, Jr., and Nancy have recently returned from a three year tour of duty on the island of Guam. Mr. Carpenter is now attached to the Strategic Air Command at Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Fowler and son Edward of Hingham, Mass., (Mrs. Fowler is the former Doris Carpenter), Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Varney, daughters Jacqueline and Jan, and son Kenneth, his wife, son and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Burgess of Littleton, N.H. and their children Hollis, J., and Karen, (Mrs. Burgess is the former Marguerite Carpenter), Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rodrigues, sons Jack, David and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. John Carpenter and their children, John, Deborah and Robert.

A barbeque was served outside for members of the younger generation and a buffet for adults inside.

Adequate Water Needed To Meet Fire Hazards

This year fire will take the lives of over 11,000 Americans, strike at more than 3,500 churches, 4,000 schools and 250,000 homes. By year's end it will have been the direct cause of property losses amounting to over one billion dollars. And, warns the National Water Institute, it could be much worse unless local fire departments can be assured of having enough water to extinguish fires when they occur.

Although there is no actual shortage of water in the U.S., National Water Institute surveys reveal that there are widespread deficiencies in the equipment of the 19,000 water utilities which supply water for public use. These inadequacies affect every aspect of community health and economic welfare.

While water is a necessity for every household, office and industrial establishment, it is also the highly-trained fireman's most effective fire-fighting weapon. It must be delivered to him in the proper quantity, at the correct pressure, wherever and whenever he may need it.

The equipment of our nation's water utilities has been inadequate since 1940. To catch up with the population growth and population shifts of the past 20 years and prepare for the growth to come — water officials predict an increase of 270% in water use by 1985 — we need to spend twice the amount of money now annually allocated to improvement of water supply facilities, says the National Water Institute.

The 1 1/4 billion dollars needed each year to improve water utility equipment can be financed by approval of local water bond issues, say the NWI, if the nation's voters replace apathy with awareness of the vital problem.

A RARE CATCH

Once in a lifetime, is this 24½ lb., 4 ft. catfish, caught off Whale Back light by Atherton and Shultz. It's reported that catfish goes for 50c per lb. down at Gloucester, Massachusetts.

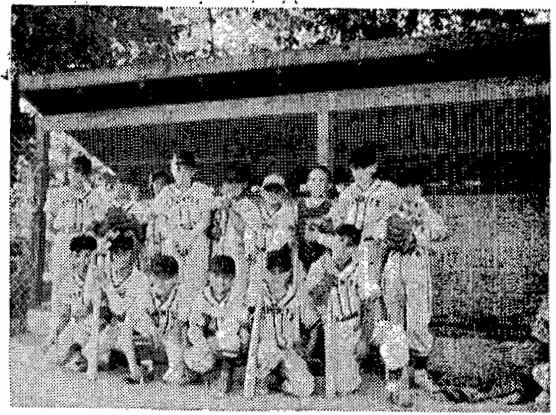

wooly that no deep sea fishing was attempted on Sunday. The swells ran up to 15 ft. late in the morning and anyone who ventured beyond Whale Back light down Port mouth way, was plumb foolish. However, the bay itself was calm and some of the boy tried the strippers. Some were taken but no big catches were reported.

Due to the great variations in temperatures and humidities, now is the time to check your shotguns and rifles for spots of rust. Rust spots in the bore may damage the gun, so pass an oily rag through the barrel and be on the safe side.

This next weekend may start the early summer stocking of state raised pheasants. If you spot a half-grown flock of birds with no adults present, chances are the state boys have just released them.

The birds have very little fear of cars or humans, so drive with care and save the birds for this fall.

Joe Dixx's Sport Corner

By Richard Schanda

As the town's various shops and mills are built on the banks of the upper Great Bay or the lower end of the Lamprey, much can be learned by a glance out of a window. Now last Sunday, a proud owner of a new 15½ ft. boat and motor-pulled up into the cove behind the Macallen Co.

At that time, finding about 10 ft. of water, he dropped anchor. He then let out about 15 ft. of new rope and took off for the hills of New road. As the old river rats would say, "The tide was a-coming." This past week was a full moon tide, meaning a great rise and fall in the tide. This particular tide was a 12 footer and around 8 the next morning, that nice new boat, rope, anchor and motor was high and dry up on top of Rocky Point. The boat was not stove in, but she was pretty well scratched up.

Tide water men offer this bit of good advice. Allow 1 lb. of anchor for every foot of boat. Allow three times the depth of water for the length of your anchor rope and if tying to a mooring bouy, tie up so that when the tide swings, in or out, your boat will not swing across the main channel.

Tuesday, one of the Boston daily papers carried a sporting headline which told of a one man war to stock a New Hampshire lake. This lake was the Baboosic Lake in Merrimack, N. H.

It seems that the bass fishing was very poor in this lake so this "gent" from the city decided to remedy the situation. He fished other lakes in the general area. If and when he caught a bass, he would hot foot it over to Baboosic Lake and release his catch.

This went on for some time and now he claims the lake is producing many bass. This little chore he performed made a lot of sense to him but is frowned on by the Fish and Game department. This is just the thing the department is trying to stop as it spreads the dreaded tapeworm, usually fatal to bass, from lake to lake.

The department feels so strongly about this violation that this year they upped the fine and instructed the wardens to ticket all violators. Arthur Sullivan, who writes this column, might read the N. H. Fish and Game Laws and tip off his readers to the dangers involved to the fisherman and the fish.

EAGLES SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

With Arthur J. LaBonte

June is the month in which most Eagle Aeries install their officers for the ensuing fraternal year. Therefore, the membership of each Aerie takes great interest in advance, making every effort to insure the choosing of able candidates. It is highly important that an Aerie have sound leadership, because only then can they carry out their function properly.

Fortunately, Eagles generally manage to pick good men to head the Aeries throughout the country. This is one of the major reasons why the Fraternal Order of Eagles have become one of the greatest fraternal organizations in the world.

Last Wednesday evening, June 8th, there was an installation of officers at the Lamprey Aerie #1934. But first, two new candidates were initiated and happy to join our ranks as members. Our congratulations to Herbert Philbrick and Robert Labonte. Following the initiation, the new officers were installed.

Past State Aerie President Joseph A. Dupre, representing the Grand Aerie, presided and performed the ritualistic ceremony with the aid of Roderick MacDougall, State Aerie officer of 1960, as Conductor.

Officers were installed as follows: John Schanda, Junior Past Worthy President; Harold Dawes, Worthy President; George Pelletier, Vice President; Arthur J. Labonte, Chaplain; Wilfred St. Pierre, Secretary; Romeo Lemieux, Treasurer; Harry S. Doucette, Conductor; Omer Lemieux, Inside Guard; Omer LePage, Outside Guard. Trustee for 3 years, Ralph Larrivee.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The next regular meeting will take place Wednesday, June 22nd, at 8 p.m. We would like to remind all members that our monthly meetings take place the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

All officers count on your kind cooperation to attend these meetings regularly, twice a month.

This is the season of the year when hopeful graduates walk up on the platform to receive their diplomas while their families and relatives in the audience applaud wildly. At such graduation exercises the distinguished speakers generally try to impress upon the graduates that they are now going out into a world full of traps and pitfalls, and the speakers are apt to give what advice they can as to just how these snares can be avoided.

The general tenor of such baccalaureate pronouncements is that never was the world in such a dreadful state as it is now. No doubt the speakers of 100 years ago drew an equally dark picture of the world of 1960, and it was in fact, a troubled year that was soon to explode into Civil War.

But this country survived that war and the many others which followed and probably will survive those to come, despite the havoc that atomic and hydrogen bombs can inflict.

What all graduates should bear in mind, and not only graduates, but those of us who have been out of school for many years, is that the world holds no terrors that courage, effort and sound attention to the job at hand cannot overcome.

In the words of a great American, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, "We having nothing to fear but fear itself."

To introduce the author of this column, we would like to explain that for some time, Mr. LaBonte has been urged by the Aerie president, trustees and members to write a weekly column of interest regarding activities of the F.O.E.

As has been noted in THE NEWMARKET TIMES, Mr. LaBonte, State Aerie Publicityman, did a thorough job of covering the 50th anniversary of the Lamprey Aerie. His fraternal brothers urged him to continue this work for the good of the Order. He was reluctant to begin such a venture but has now committed himself to supplying a weekly account.

A man of experience in many fields, he has several degrees in Education including Literature, Mathematics and Music. He taught school for 7 years, has served as organist at St. Mary's since 1930, has been active in community affairs and served as Chaplain of the Lamprey Aerie since 1940.

The column is intended to interest not only members of the F.O.E., but all of the Newmarket readers.
