MY TRIP TO THE NATIONAL JAMBOREE

By John Willey

On Sunday, July 10th, I arrived at Camp Carpenter, Manchester, N. H., to begin a four day training period. I reported to Scoutmaster Stowe of Troop 53 and was immediately sent to the Doctor's cabin for a final check. Upon returning from the doctor's office with a clean bill of health, I was given my pack basket and traveling bag and was assigned to a tent area.

We set up tents, rolled out our sleeping bags and by this time all the 37 boys of Troop 53 were very well acquainted with each other and also with the three Leaders, Mr. Donald Stowe, Mr. John Garland and Mr. Lester Hird. We had supper and then met the other scouts of troops 50, 51, 52 and 54. We went to bed at 9:30 p.m.

Monday morning, July 11, was actually the opening of our training period. We awoke at 6:30 a.m., cooked our breakfast, ate and cleaned up camp. We then were ready to be placed into patrols and elected our Patrol Leader and assistant. At 12 noon we cooked dinner, ate and cleaned up.

In the afternoon we had marching drills. After the marching we took showers and dressed in our official scout uniform (during the day we wore training clothes which consisted of a tee shirt and slacks) and ate supper. We then had free time and were allowed to go to the Trading Post. We went to bed at 9:30 p.m.

Tuesday morning, July 12, we were up at 6:30 a.m. and went through the same routine for meals as we did on Monday. All day Tuesday we practiced setting up tents and taking them down and folding them as quickly as possible. We also had marching drills.

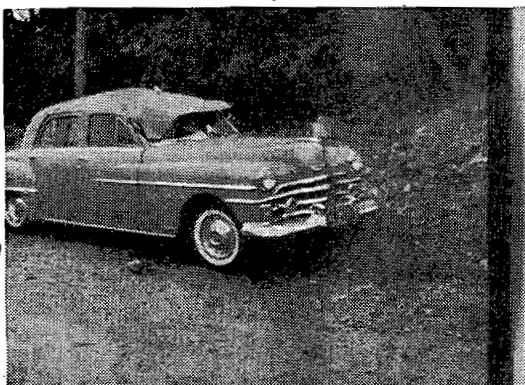

Wednesday, July 13, we were up at 6:30 and followed the same routine for meals. We spent the whole day packing our gear and believe me, it wasn't easy. The traveling bag went with us on the bus and in that went the clothes and articles that we needed every day.

Our pack baskets were stowed in compartments under the bus, and in these we were to pack things that we needed after we arrived at the Jamboree. After a dozen or so tries, we finally got our gear packed properly. We then took showers and after dressing, had supper.

We all were anxiously awaiting the arrival of our parents,

TREE BRANCH DAMAGES AUTO

Playground Ends After Successful Summer

The Newmarket Playground will close officially when awards will be made by Director Jack Dow at the annual recognition ceremonies.

Winners of the North Hampton-Newmarket softball contest held Monday because of rainy weather on the scheduled date, were members of the Newmarket team by a score of 20-0.

A relay race was held after the game with the Newmarket team breaking North Hampton's record of relay wins. Director Jack Dow states in all fairness to the opposing team it must be remembered that most of the larger boys on that team were busy with vacation jobs and that the competition was unequal.

Last week Mr. Dow concealed 22 bags containing a variety of goods in the wooded area behind the high school. The boys and girls were divided for a hunt into 22 teams with the smaller children evenly distributed so that no team would have a special advantage.

The bags contained peanuts, or apples, plums, gum, dates, marshmallows, peaches and many other edible items, enough of each food to supply every member of the team finding the hidden treasure. At the end of the time limit all had been found.

Captains of the teams finding them were: Linda Polchlopek's team, 1 bag; Sandra Paradise's team, 1 bag; John Munroe's, 4 bags; Fred Edgerly's, 3 bags;

Dale Marden's, 1 bag; Ted Arsenault's, 1 bag; Warren Russell's, 1 bag; Larry Beaulieu's, 2 bags; Peggy Shorey's, 3 bags; Diane Van Fleet's, 2 bags; and Bill Ernest's team, 3 bags.

A trampoline contest was held last Thursday with 11 varied events. Featured were front roll, back roll, comb.-front and back roll, headstand, chest roll, dive over boy, walk on knees, hand stand over boys kneed, 3 consecutive front rolls and frog roll.

Tied with 32 points each were Bill Ernest and Dale Marden, Alan Knight had 29 points, Bruce Hawkins and George Phalen had 26 points, Tim Marcoux, 24 pts., Sandra Paradise, Pat Munroe and Becky Beers had 21 points each. Peanuts were awarded per point and a peanut scramble was held afterward for all age groups.

The annual Playground outing to Pine Island Park was held Wednesday. Bus loads of children spent the day celebrating the end of a most successful six-week season.

Serving as chaperones were Mrs. Claire Howcroft, Mrs. Toni Malek, Mrs. Doris Gillis, Mrs. Helen Levesque, Mrs. Shirley King, Mrs. Kay Huggins, Mrs. Ann Downs, Mrs. Lena Morin and Mrs. Helen Cassano.

The last few hours before points closed, the indoors craft workers were hurrying to complete their projects and add a few more points to their totals. Newest item in the craft line were pastel bunnies made from wash clothes.

Mrs. Paradise stated that during the season 200 lanyards, bug pins beyond count and 70 pin cushions were made. The feltcraft items were extremely popular, the supply of yarn used with felt dwindled and she had to buy more. A donation of yarn for that purpose vanished as if by magic.

Anyone with small amounts of yarn which cannot be matched or pin backs felt scraps, sequins or beads, could easily tuck them away labelled and they would serve the crafts department of the 1961 playground and would be gratefully and graciously accepted.

Betty Ann Burke Of Lee Is Bride Of Herbert Tillotson, Jr.

Miss Betty Ann Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Curry of Dover was married to Herbert C. Tillotson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tillotson of King Ferry, N. Y., August 6th at a morning ceremony in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Dover.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her step-father, wore a waltz length gown with lace insert in the skirt, a nylon tulle bodice and long sleeves. Her cap was fashioned of lace and pearls with a finger tip length veil. The bride carried a white colonial bouquet.

Miss Jane Redden of Dover, maid-of-honor, wore a blue tulle dress with satin bow trim and a short crown veil. She carried a pastel colonial bouquet.

The bride's mother wore a dress of pale blue silk organza with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother was dressed in pink silk with white accessories. She wore a pink carnation corsage.

Francis Mitchell of King Ferry, N. Y., was best man. Ushers were Richard Croteau of Dover and Earl Ramm of Exeter.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding luncheon and reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Roger Gibb on route 125 in Lee. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake was made for the occasion by another of the bride's aunts, Mrs. Fred Cronin of Ipswich, Mass.

The fifty guests attending came from Ithica, N. Y., King Ferry, N. Y., Somersworth, Exeter, Newmarket, Dover, Durham, Lee, Madbury, Nashua and Ipswich, Mass.

After attending schools in Lee and Dover, N. H. and in Florida, Mrs. Tillotson was employed in Dover up until the time of her marriage.

Mr. Tillotson was honorably discharged from the USAF last December and is now employed at King Ferry, N. Y., where the couple plan to make their home following a wedding trip to the Thousand Islands in upper New York state.

Supervisors To Hold Session On September 10, 12

The Newmarket supervisors of the check list will be in session Saturday, Sept. 10th and Monday, Sept. 12th from 7 to 8 p.m. for party registration, correction of the check lists and for the registration of new voters who will have reached the age of eligibility by voting time in November.

The Primary election will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 13th, so be certain that you are eligible to vote this fall and again on November 8th when the National elections occur.

Make your complaints now! Not on November 8th when it will be too late to make corrections. Numerous gripes are received that a name has been unlisted, mis-spelled, the voters party standing is wrong, the voter completely neglected to register, the check list dates weren't announced, etc.

Notice

The Supervisors of the Check List will be in session at the Town Hall on:

SAT., SEPT. 10 — 7-8 P.M.

MON., SEPT. 12 — 7-8 P.M.

for correction of the Check List and registration of voters.

Night Watch At Little Spa Fails To Catch Uninvited Intruders

The Auxiliary Police Unit has been at it again! Unknown to the sleeping town, members of the group have been on night watch at the Rockingham Golf Club since August 4th hoping to prevent a sixth break at the refreshment stand opposite the golf course.

Five times this season the stand has been broken into by an unknown or unknowns. With an eye to the prevention of another break, two members were stationed nightly at the golf club. The watch ended August 14

A humorous high-light of the silent watch period occurred last week. At 3:30 a.m. the members on watch spotted a furtive figure stealthily moving about the greens. The two, joined by Hauschel, moved silently to apprehend the lurking suspect. Three gun barrels glinted in the dim light.

The silent one turned out to be a nearby resident who, on his return from work at the navy yard, innocently searched for nightcrawlers. He has now made plans to get his fishing bait earlier in the evening.

'Tiger' Takes 4th At R. I. Muster

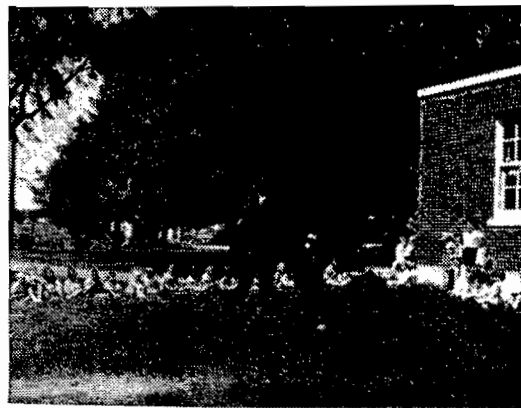

Well, it looks like the Tigers are in the money again, because they came home with $112.50 from East Greenwich. A small crew from Newmarket accompanied the tub due to the polio epidemic which is going on down there.

Friday night, two cars went down to stay and two cars went down the next morning. Those that went the night before enjoyed the carnival and fireworks which were put on by the Fire Department of East Greenwich. Some of them stayed in cars while other stayed in a hotel.

The next morning didn't look very good for the muster as the day was very cloudy and a slight breeze was blowing. The Tigers who stayed over, waited for the tub to arrive. It finally did and was unloaded for the parade.

The parade started and the Tigers ended up winning "Best Appearance" in second class. They also won the furthest

"SMOKEY" THE BEAR AT HIGH SCHOOL

On a recent afternoon traffic by the high school often slowed to a crawl as motorists gazed curiously and often anxiously at the spectacle of two bears, one large sized and one small, standing within a circle of seated children. Smokey the Bear and Smokey Junior, representatives of the New Hampshire Forestry Department, were on hand to instruct over 200 children in fire safety, fire prevention and good common sense behavior when around fire. Afterwards, each child present had the opportunity to shake hand with both bears and each was presented a membership card in the Junior Forest Rangers.

OPTEL

Through The Years . . .

With Mary Richardson

The Business Establishments of Long Ago

At the beginning and after the Civil War the following persons were engaged in business on Main street. J. S. and E. Bennett, hardware, wholesale and retail, with several tin peddler carts on the road.

Z. Dow Creighton had a grocery and general supply store; John M. Towle, general store and custom tailor; Nathan H. Harvey, tailor shop and grocery store; John Henry Carter, jewelry and lending library; B. F. Haley had a dry goods store; and Issac Furber, hotel, Newmarket House.

Edward Richardson started business soon after the Civil War, in the block where the Legion Hall is now and where Rosina used to have her beauty parlor.

Dad sold grain, groceries and crockery. Dad was a good auctioneer and many a Saturday afternoon his friends and others brought articles such as furniture, old books, dishes and other things down to the store to be sold. He had a big bell which could be heard for miles around. Everyone came who could, especially those from the country.

Several of my father's friends, Charlie and Fawn Whitehorn, Charles Tebbets, "Rattie" Fullerton and others came to the store on opening nights, to talk and discuss politics and other weighty matters.

Dad had a pet chair, which he always "held court" in. It was an old chair with arms and not too steady on its legs. Dad's friends were late in coming one evening, so he sat down to wait for them and all of a sudden there was a cracking, splintering noise and down went dad through the bottom of that blessed chair. He tried to extricate himself but it was no use. There he was, stuck fast, with his feet sticking straight up in the air. He wiggled this way and that, but to no use. And the language! I guess we better skip it.

Finally two of his friends came in and gazed with astonishment at dad and then burst out laughing. Ed told them to shut up and help get him free, which after much pulling and pinking they finally did.

At the other side of the street, commencing at the ledge, or as it was always called, School House Hill, William W. Stackpole had a restaurant, confectionary and fancy goods store.

Mathes Stone store sold groceries. A story is told about this store. At one time it was a saloon and the owner was having it extended out further.

The workmen were tearing down the wall and one of them hit something that wasn't stone. They pried it out and found a small wooden box, which after being opened disclosed a small white casket, just large enough to hold a baby.

The men stared at it until one of them said, "Well, lets open it."

Finally one of the men got courage to lift the cover, which wasn't nailed down, and what did they see? The skeleton of a baby? No, a large bottle of the best whiskey, (if there is such a thing). No one ever found out how it came to be there or who placed it there.

Constantine B. Mathes had a dry goods store and Joseph R. Doe, for many years tax collector, had a side line fish store. Next to the Joseph R. Doe house was the Pendergast drug store. In the next building Charles French had a restaurant.

Mr. French had an eagle in a big cage on his side piazza. His yard was always full of children who came to see this wonderful bird.

The next building was William Thompson's hardware store and B. F. Haley's tailor shop was at the corner of Main and Church streets.

What used to be the old Branscomb Tavern stood between Haley's tailor shop and the boot and shoe store of William and George French. On the north side of the same building, Mrs. Mary Badger had a millinery store.

She journeyed to Boston one fine day in the summer to purchase some screens for her store. They were the first window screens in town. They were made of thin cloth with a landscape printed on them. They were considered quite an invention. One could see out but no one could look in.

Beyond Chapel street was the brick block in which there was a drug store and the Newmarket Bank. Samuel A. and B. F. Haley occupied the next building, a grocery store. Perley W. Tenney's variety store stood between Haley's grocery and the post office. Jonathan Garland was postmaster for many years.

Next to the post office, but back from the road, was the Washington House, a popular and prosperous hotel, which was conducted by Major Henry H Smith, who was well-known as a horseman. In the narrow brick building was Mrs. Mary A. Wood's millinery store. David and Howard Marston kept a shoe store at the corner of Main and Central streets.

prey. Two years later mention is made of "a way going to Wadley upon a pine plain to an Indian field." Also "an Indian path, Lamprey River being the old path"; later, "a pretty good cart to Lamprey River" is mentioned. An early town warrant calls for a road to be laid out "where the sled path goes through in winter".

In 1745 the Provincial Government of New Hampshire voted that "five hundred pairs of snow shoes and an equal number of moccasins be furnished to the inhabitants of Exeter and Newmarket at the expense of the Province, these to be kept at a convenient place in each town for the use of the inhabitants.

There were long periods of deep snow when communication between settlements was made only on foot, requiring this planning and forethought.

One of the early cart ways went from Lee Hill through Lee Hook to the Piscassic River. The crossing was near the entrance to Hersey Lane. As no bridge was built, everyone went across the river on the rocks. From there the road followed Hersey Lane until it joined the Exeter road near the Lieutenant John Burley place, thence to Hilton's Ferry.

In 1752 the road from Lamprey River Village to the grant at Wadley's was duly laid out. A petition had been sent to the town authorities asking that "a road be laid out from the waterside at Lamprey River to the line at Wadley's Grant, as the way now goes up the path on the southerly side of Joseph Smith's house to Deacon Joseph Judkins house and on the north of William Taylor's house, to Piscassic Bridge, and then between Samuel Brackett's house and barn to between Mrs. Dooley's barn and Joseph Smart's house and so on as the way goes up the path on the north of John Palmer's following the paid to said Wadley's line."

Ash Swamp road was a lane or path from earliest times. In 1767 it was duly laid out "as the path now goes through what a way has been used time out of mind."

American Legion News

By Fred L. Beale

At the recent regular meeting of the Robert G. Durgin Post, Junior Vice Comm. Joseph C. Renner resigned his offices and the following appointments to fill the unexpired terms were made: Junior Vice Comm., Frank Toland; Chaplain, Olin Downing and as Service officer, J. Leo Ledger.

Sunday, August 7th was the date of the big day for this summer season. One of the best family outings was held by the Post at Schanda's camp and everyone present claimed it was the one and only outing in town this year where you could go and bring the children.

The children sure enjoyed it as the pictures accompanying this article testify. The boat rides were the best of all and capable drivers were present with their boats. So much activity was going on that we were unable to get the children's names who won in the various games as at the time of the awarding of prizes the call of "Hot Dogs" went up and so went the kids, young and old.

The following members served on the outing committee: Robert McKenna, chairman, Charles Bennett, Jr., Comm., Joseph Plante, Gerard Plante, Romeo Lemieux, Frank Schanda, Frank Toland, Al Zych, Bill Duffy and Charles Reardon.

This committee was by far the most efficient outing committee we have ever been able to get. They knew their job and did it and too much credit cannot be given them.

The children were the order of the day for most of those who attended and they didn't miss a trick. The big kids were not entirely forgotten as was evidenced by the horse shoe pitching contest.

The membership committee has started collecting the members dues for the coming year and the following members compose the team at this time: Fred L. Beale, Joseph L. Ledger, Charles A. Bennett, Jr., Al Zych, Robert McKenna, chairman, Frank Schanda, Owen Shea, Joseph A. Rousseau, William Robitille, Olin Downing, Ralph Silver and William Patrick Duffy.

An effort is being made this year to re-win one of the Big 10 Awards given out at the fall conference and there will be 2 suppers held by this committee with the first scheduled for Sept. 19th. This will be free to members who have a 1961 paid up membership card. If your dues are not paid, why not make an effort to assist the committee by bringing your dues in or phoning one of the committeemen. Your dues will then be picked up and your card issued you.

We are out this year to regain some of the other Department trophies which are awarded each year at the annual Department Convention. We are especially after the McLain Memorial Trophy which we have had four different years in the past, the Department Community Service trophy and the Department Service trophy, all of which we have had in the past and a new trophy, which will be awarded next year for the first time, The Francis Jackson Memorial trophy for the Post with best current years history.

A write up of the District Three Convention held in this town August 13th with pictures will be in next week's TIMES. Are you getting it? If not you are missing the news unless you attend the meetings of the post and their events.

The next regular meeting of this Post has been advanced from Sept. 5th to Aug. 29th. No meeting Labor Day. We hope you enjoy the holiday and any trip you may take.

who were coming to attend a special parent's night (and also to take home our dirty training clothes). After our parents left we went to bed, but very few of us slept, as we were so excited thinking about starting off on our trip the following morning.

Thursday, July 13, the great day was finally here. We ate breakfast at the Camp Carpenter mess hall as our cooking equipment was already on a truck and on its way to Colorado. We left Camp Carpenter at 8:00 a.m. Troops 50 and 54 went the Southern route and Troops 51, 52 and 53 went the Northern route. It was raining when we left, but it cleared around noon. On the bus we played cards, chess, checkers, read, slept and sang songs.

At 4:55 p.m. we arrived at Camp Woodlands, which is a Boy Scout Camp in Constanea, New York. We showered and had supper. We then had free time and were allowed to roam the camp grounds until 9:00 p.m., at which time we all went to bed.

Friday, July 15, we were up at 6:00 a.m. We rolled up our sleeping bags, packed them in the bus and had breakfast. We left Camp Woodlands at 8:00 a.m. and were on our way to Niagara Falls.

We went through Buffalo and crossed the Peace Bridge. We crossed the Canadian border at 12:15 p.m. We toured the Falls and ate our box lunches, which were given to us at Camp Woodlands.

We then boarded the buses and were on our way to Detroit. At 5:15 p.m. we stopped for supper at London, Ontario. We arrived in Detroit at 11:45 p.m. Easter Time and 10:45 Central Time. We were late in arriving at the Grosse Isle Naval Station as we had slight difficulties finding the base. We received sheets and blankets and were assigned our bunks.

The Fish and Game Department this year stocked 632 trout streams approximately 1,562 miles with trout, ranging from 6" to 10 1/2". Brown, rainbow and brook trout made up the bulk of the fish released.

The overall average length of these fish ran about 8 1/2". This is a change from the old days of conservation when the department stocked trout which generally averaged 6" or less.

This was done to allow the trout to acclimate itself to the native foods and water temperature.

Modern ideas have changed all this. The department figures that most of these trout will not over winter so to get the most value out of our sporting dollar, the state dropped the 6" minimum length on brook trout. This helped to harvest more trout and left less trout to die in the winter. Better foods in the hatcheries upped the average length of the fish so that larger fish were released.

The next problem to be solved is stocking too close to secondary and mainroads.

Salt and fresh water fishing is rapidly drawing to a close. If you intend to get a weekend of relaxation and fishing in, now is the time.

The black flies are gone and the fish are plump and scrappy.

It is also a long, long wait from October to May.

Many native ducks are flocking up in the local water holes and swamps. If you would like to see a flock of about 200 birds drive down along the New road. Where the high tension lines cross the road you will see two small ponds. These ponds have been jammed with ducks for the last two weeks. Mostly native hatched birds.

For the fishermen who fish over a week end and worry about how many fish they are allowed to pack home — check your 1960 Fishing Law book on pages 38, 39 and 40.

The rule which applies to possession is on Page 39, chapter 207:5, which states that you are allowed to have in your possession as many fish as you could legally take in two days.

Many fishermen worry about getting caught with more than one limit but it is a needless worry and after checking law book you will feel much safer when you are headed home with a trunk full of fat trout.

Trout season is rapidly drawing to a close so if you have a favorite brook or pond you haven't tried you had better get up there and wet a line. The season closes on trout, which includes brook, rainbow, brown and splake, on Labor Day. You can then fish with fly only until October 31st.

EAGLES SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

With Arthur J. LaBonte

Looking At The Summer F.O.E. Record

Summertime brings many things including an amazing array of supposedly valid reasons for lack of progress in the fraternal field. Alibi seekers stoutly maintain that membership momentum must necessarily lag in the summer months blithely ignoring the fact that some of the biggest classes of candidates in the history of the Order have been brought in during this season by Aeries which have taken the opportunity to seek out prospects for Eagle membership.

Attendance delinquency zooms sharply in many instances during June, July and August and the excuse makers tell us the reason is that people are so busy with other activities that they have not time to think about Eagledom. They don't attend in those months and often let their dues lag. Another reason we're often given is that members don't attend because they have moved to the outdoors during the summer season.

All right then, what's wrong with moving outdoors with them? We all know that there are limitless possibilities for Aerie activities which need not always be confined within the four walls of a building during the warm days.

Therefore this is the time to schedule them! You might say "Members won't attend!" I think they will, myself. In many hundreds of cases the best attended Aerie function of the year is the annual Eagle Outing, all too often the major Aerie activity of the summer aside from our annual Carnival Week.

If the members will throng to a picnic they will likewise turn out for other outdoor activities. Aerie 1934 has been faithful in its observance of the annual Outing for members and their families and intends to retain the custom through the coming years.

The increased importance of the family manifests itself in more and more of the planned Eagle activities which are geared to family participation. I am proud to say that the Ladies Auxiliary is doing a superb job in that field.

In appreciation of their co-operation I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate them on behalf of the president and the entire Aerie.

Certainly summertime is an ideal season to arrange family outings for the F.O.E. An active, well rounded summertime Aerie family program does much to keep members together and interested in their organization. It gives prospective members a good reason for wanting to join our organization and share in its social activities.

Interested members do not easily become delinquent members and new candidates will be more susceptible to signing their names on the dotted line of the application card if they are offered an attractive prospect of immediate good times as soon as they become Eagles.

In short, summertime Aerie activities help immeasurably in attracting new members and encourages these same members to remain in good standing the entire year round.

There are just as many good reasons for people to want to be Eagles during the warm weather as there are in the other months. It has been demonstrated over and over again that there is no reason why our goals in membership stability and net gain can't be reached just as easily in June, July and August as there are during the other nine months.

All those wishing to join the Eagles are certainly welcome to boost our ranks and help all of us keep up the good work in progress in town since 1910.

Well, I hope that those who are planning to enjoy our Annual Outing at Simpson's Pavilion this coming Sunday, Aug. 21st, have already bought their tickets as we urged them to do in THE NEWMARKET TIMES two weeks ago.

Therefore, let us anticipate a real good time and hope that Mother Nature cooperates and decides in our favor by planning a beautiful sunny day!
