The Newmarket Democratic Town Committee has arranged to have the major Democratic candidates appear at a public meeting at the Newmarket High School Gymnasium on Wednesday, October 19 at 7:30 in the evening.

The candidates will express their views on State and National affairs and will answer all questions of interested voters.

The candidates to appear are as follows: Bernard Boutin, candidate for Governor, and a successful businessman from Laconia; Romeo J. Champagne, who is a candidate for Congress and a former member of the Governor's Council; Herbert Hill, professor of history at Dartmouth College and John Cahill, who is a candidate for Governor's Council. Mr. Cahill is the first Democratic Selectman ever to be elected in the town of Exeter.

This will be a fine opportunity for Newmarket voters to meet and talk with these candidates.

Desire For Mail Is Elaine Camire's Primary Wish

• Little Elaine Camire, age 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Camire of Maplecrest, was operated on for the second time for a brain tumor last Monday. Her condition is reported as satisfactory.

Her one wish was that she would receive mail. The hours and days hang heavy when she cannot see her parents and mail call immeasurably brightens the lonely hours. Anyone wishing to send along a little sunshine to Elaine, may do so by dropping a card or letter to Miss Elaine Camire, Children's Hospital, 300 Langwood Ave., Boston 15, Mass. Division 33.

Police Chief John Vallier reported to the Times that last Friday night two local homes were entered and sums of money and other articles taken. These burglaries seem to form a pattern and Friday night's break now bring the total to three — the first loss being reported in Maplecrest last week where $300 was taken.

The Newmarket Times One Year Old Today

Our dateline today, you will notice, reads Vol. 2, No. 1. In newspaper circles that means we are now starting our second year of publication of the Times.

As we look back over the last year, it has been most gratifying doing business with and meeting the people of Newmarket. We have had many obstacles to overcome and with your help and guidance we have conquered them in nearly all instances. Most advertisers have been very cooperative and now realize the value of steady advertising. Others have failed to taken advantage of the Times to reach their customers. We know advertising pays and stand ready to help you in any way we can.

Our news coverage has not always been as complete as we would like to have had it and many weeks we missed local items of interest. This year we will continue to print all the news we receive so that Newmarket will be a well-informed town.

Our News Editor, Marion Stevens, may be reached by calling OL 9-3827. She will assist you with all news items and classified ads. Raymond Bernard is our staff photographer and he is most anxious to hear from you regarding pictures for the Times.

Advertising may be left at the residence of Philip Bernier, our Production Manager, at 224 South Main Street.

We are most grateful for the help given us by Betty Philbrick, Mary Richardson, Marion Stevens, Richard Schanda, Arthur LaBonte, Fred Beale, Ione Kent, Ronald Griswold and the many persons who contributed news for the Times.

In closing, we hope you like your paper and it is our most sincere wish to grow with a progressive Newmarket.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS HELD AT PTA MEETING

Dr. Everett B. Sackett, chairman of the Education Department at UNH, was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Newmarket PTA Monday evening.

Dr. Sackett's topic was "Preparation of Teachers" and he made a comparative analysis of the training required of teachers in the past and in the present. He stressed the need for more academic training in the present and the problem of getting young people to enter the teaching field.

"The community can do much to encourage good teachers, notably by offering more attractive inducements," he added. He also explained the teacher training program at UNH.

A reception for teachers was held with Leo Landroche introducing his staff of junior and senior high school teachers.

Edward O'Conner, principal of the elementary school introduced his staff as follows: Mrs. Mildred Rooney teaching grade 6; Mrs. Ruth Robie, grade 5;

Mrs. Constance Jones, who is substituting for Mrs. Naomi Charest, grade 3; Miss Ann Hutchins, grade 2; Mrs. Jean Lancaster, grade 1; and Mr. O'Connor, who also teaches grade 4.

The PTA voted to buy six rain outfits for the newly organized safety patrol. Kenneth Varney, formerly of the School Board and now teaching at Newmarket High School, reported on the physical change of the high school library.

The PTA has as its bi project this year a refurbishing of the present library and has set up two committees to report at the next meeting on suggestions for raising money to buy new books. One is the plan to sponsor a Halloween dance for adults and high school students. Another was the possibility of have a one-act play competition using local talent.

It was announced that Herbert Philbrick will speak on Communism at the January meeting.

MUNICIPAL COURT PROCEEDINGS

Judge Russell H. McGuirk presided at the Friday afternoon session of the Newmarket Municipal Court and heard two cases brought in by conservation officer Carl Akerly of Portsmouth.

Frank Herpst of Cape Neddick, Me., pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a loaded gun in his motor vehicle and was fined $15.

Philip P. Martin of Portsmouth was charged with the same offence, found guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $15.

Local Boy Scouts Hold Campout

To anyone traveling down Watson's Lane off Bay road last weekend, the sight of a field full of pitched tents, flying flags and the hustle and bustle of making camp must have raised the question as to what troops had landed on the fair shores of Newmarket. But it was only the Newmarket Boy Scouts on a three-day camp out, whose skill had set up as neat and trim a camp as any U.S. Army detail could have done.

Under the leadership of Scoutmaster Ralph E. Willey and committee members Ken Eickholt, Leo Ledger and Fred Harclerode, the boys hiked, tracked and trailed, ran an obstacle course, learned first aid, learned how to build, tend and put out campfires, played games, knot tying and other requirements to pass their scout tests. The scouts broke camp at 4 p.m. Sunday, after three wonderful days of camping.

The scouts and leaders would like to express their deepest appreciation to the Watsons and Sawyers for offering their land and many other little favors, to the N. H. Electric Co. for the use of its truck, generator and lights and Mrs. Ken Eickholt, who presented the hungry scouts with seven homemade pies. Thanks are also extended to the Rockingham Gas Co. for its donation.

Several mothers and fathers visited the camp site over the weekend.

Area Newspaper Publishers Honored By Exeter-Hampton Lodge Of Elks

In a tribute to National Newspaper Week, the Exeter-Hampton Lodge of Elks, on Tuesday evening, honored the three newspapers in this area at a banquet at the Elks Home in Exeter.

Representing THE NEWMARKET TIMES were Daniel C.

Woodbury, publisher and Philip J. Bernier, production manager; the Exeter Newsletter, Walter Carlisle, News Editor and from the Hampton Union, David Snyder, News Editor.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks have been observing this date since 1949 and this is the first occasion in our area to do so. The free press of the United States is one that we Americans are sincerely proud of.

In recent months we have seen, right in our own backyard, how vital a free press is to the survival of a free people. When the Communists moved in on Cuba, their very first step was to seize the press, thereby cutting off the people from access to the truth. This alone proves that our heritage will die if the free press is suppressed. As we have chosen the flag of our country as the symbol of our Order, we should also fight for freedom of our newspapers.

Each of us knows how greatly we appreciate reading our local papers. In doing so, we are able to keep in touch with our neighbors, activities of our children in schools, local advertising of our merchants, and American and International news.

Rally Day Held At Community Church School

Rally Day was held recently at the Newmarket Community Church Sunday School with 145 pupils registering. Nineteen teachers and officers were present making a total of 164.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson reported 35 children in her kindergarten department. Her assistants are Miss Connie Bloom and Miss Edna James. Mrs. Jackson expressed her appreciation to John Dodds, who made and donated a special "tot size" coat rack for the little children.

Mr. Calvin Wright, minister, reported that the Sunday School had made a splendid beginning with dedicated teachers working diligently over the preparation of their lessons and students eager to learn as together they get down to the business of Christian education.

He stated that the foresight and faith of church's members and friends have enabled the Sunday School to give the students the benefits of a good Christian education by providing them with new materials

Through The Years . . .

With Mary Richardson

John Rolfe

Mrs. Harriet Rolfe Brown, the wife of John Brown, was a direct descendant of the Englishman John Rolfe, who married Pocahontas. Uncle John and Aunt Hattie, as they were always called, and little dog Skippy, had a very happy home on Proud Street.

Mrs. Brown's mother, Grammie Rolfe lived with them. She was a very smart old lady, for one of her years. She lived to be over 90.

Aunt Hattie's niece, Helen Rolfe, who was employed in the office of the Rumford Press in Concord, always spent her vacation with them, and one time she brought her bicycle. She was about the only girl in town that had one and she wore bloomers when she rode it. Some the high class (?) old maids in town were shocked but that didn't trouble Helen and all the young ladies in town wanted a bike and bloomers.

I can remember when I was a little girl, Helen came over and tried to teach me the alphabet. She tried but she had a hard time. Helen would say, "Now what is that, Mary?"

And I said, "There is Tig Smart!" I meant John Smart's dog. I went to school the next fall in what is now the Fire Department and had for my teacher Mrs. Fannie Adams, who managed somehow to beat the alphabet into my head.

Aunt Hattie was a great reader. She loved historical novels, especially those that told about kings and queens. She also loved stories of adventure. She used to tell me about the early settlers in Virginia, including Capt. John Smith and John Rolfe and some of those stories will bear repeating.

The administration of the government of the Virginia colony had been entrusted to a council of seven persons, whom the superior council in England had been permitted to name, with a president to be elected by the council from that number. But the names and instructions of the council having been placed, by the folly of the king, in a sealed box with directions that it should not be opened until the emigrants had arrived in America, dissensions arose during the voyage, and John Smith, their best and ablest man, was put in confinement, upon the absurd accusation of an intention to murder the council, usurp the government and make himself king of Virginia.

As soon as they arrived, the council chose Edward Wingfield president, an ambitious and unprincipled man. The council, finding Smith had been chosen one of their number, excluded him from their body but released him from confinement. Then Smith demanded a trial upon the charges brought against him, which were known to be absurdly false. His accusers thought they better withdraw the accusation and he was soon restored to his station as a member of the council.

Of the one hundred and five persons on the list of emigrants who were to remain, there were no men with families; there were but twelve laborers and very few mechanics. The rest were composed of gentlemen of fortune and of persons of no occupation, mostly idle and dissolute habits who had been tempted to join the expedition through curiosity or the hope of gain, a company, but poorly calculated to plant an agricultural state in a wilderness.

Soon after their arrival, Newport and Smith and twenty others ascended the James River and visited the native chieftain Powhatan at his home near the present site of Richmond. This was in 1607. His subjects murmured at the intrusion of the strangers into their country, but Powhatan, disguising his jealousy, manifested a friendly disposition.

About the middle of June, the Newport sailed for England. The colonists, left to their own resources, soon awoke to the reality of their situation. They were few in number and without habits of industry; the Indians began to manifest hostile intentions; and before the autumn, the diseases of a damp and hot climate had swept away fifty of their number.

To make matters worse, their avaricious president, Wingfield, was detected in a conspiracy to seize the public stores, abandon the colony and escape in the company's bark to the West Indies. He was therefore deposed and was succeeded by Ratcliff and he was detected in an attempt to abandon the colony. The management of affairs fell into the hands of Smith and the condition of the colony rapidly improved.

As autumn approached, fowl and game became abundant and the Indians became friendly and from their harvests made voluntary offerings. Smith decided he would like to explore the surrounding country. After ascending the Chicka-homy as far as they could go with boats, Smith and two Englishmen and two Indian guides struck into the interior.

The remainder of the party disobeyed his instruction and wandered from the boat, were surprised by the Indians and killed. Smith was pursued and the two Englishmen were killed and the captain, after dispatching with his musket several of his assailants, unfortunately sank into a miry place and was forced to surrender.

His calmness and self-possession at this time saved his life. Showing a pocket compass, he explained its wonderful properties and as he himself relates, "by the globe-like figure of that jewel he instructed them concerning the roundness of the earth, and how the sun did chase the night round about the earth continually."

In admiration of his superior genius the Indians retained him as their prisoner. The Indians regarded him as a being of superior order but not sure whether he should be regarded as a friend or dreaded as an enemy, they observed towards him the greatest respect as they conducted him in triumph from one village to another and finally brought him to the residence of Opechancanough, where, for the space of three days, their priests or sorcerers practiced incantations and ceremonies in order to learn from the invisible world the character and designs of their prisoner.

Finally the decision of his fate was referred to Powhatan and Smith was conducted to the village of that chief, where he was received with great pomp and ceremony. Here it was decided he should die. He was led forth to his execution and his head was laid upon a stone to receive the fatal blow. When Pocahontas, the young and favorite daughter of the chief, rushed in between the victim and the uplifted arm of the executioner and with tears and entreaties besought her father to save his life.

The savage chieftain relented and Smith was set at liberty. Soon after, with a guard of 12 men, he was conducted in safety to Jamestown after a captivity of seven weeks.

In 1613 occurred the marriage of John Rolfe, a young Englishman, with Pocahontas, the daughter of Powhatan. This event exerted a happy influence upon the relations of the colonists and Indians. The marriage received the approval of the father and the many friends of the maiden and was hailed with great joy by the English.

In 1616 the Indian wife accompanied her husband to England and was received with much kindness and attention by the king and queen, but as she was getting ready to return at the age of 21, she fell a victim to the English climate. She left one son, from which are descended some of the most respectable families in Virginia.

Varied Subjects Discussed At Initial Meeting Of O. R. PTA

The initial meeting of the Pasichuke, and elementary Oyster River PTA was held Tuesday night, Oct. 4 with a record attendance. President Robert Owens welcomed the group, outlining the general aims of the PTA and introduced the members of the executive board. He announced that Mrs. Thomas Mahoney of Lee Hill will serve vice president, replacing Mrs. Edward Eddy who has moved from town.

Three new committees have been formed within the organization this year: Dental, Mrs. Joseph Shames; parent-teacher problem, George Bamford; and legislative, Lawrence Bevan. Mr. Bevan outlined the state's attitude toward education from its conception until the present time, pointing out that somewhere along the line the state has not expanded its views and its legislation to include the need we are faced with in these modern times.

William Olson, chairman of the child guidance clinic committee announced that the local theater group will produce a play later in the fall for the benefit of the guidance clinic and urged everyone to attend.

A motion made by Alexander Amell that the PTA again sponsor the local Cub Scout pack passed unanimously. Supt. Robert Brunelle stated Nov. 1 is the target date set for occupancy of at least 4 classrooms at the new unit of the Oyster River School in Lee and spoke of the general progress of the building.

High school principal, George

McAdam, both introduced members of their staffs and issued an open invitation for all parents to visit the school at their convenience. Pasichuke informed the PTA that the present enrollment in the junior and senior high school is 413, a figure three years ahead of the predicted enrollment given in the Englehardt report, thus giving the citizens the chance to imagine the crowded conditions that the school is operating under. He urged them to consider what the picture would be in 1963.

Refreshments were served under the direction of the hospitality chairman, Alexander Amell, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Mahoney, Mrs. George Healy, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Conrad Quimby and Mrs. Robert Badger.

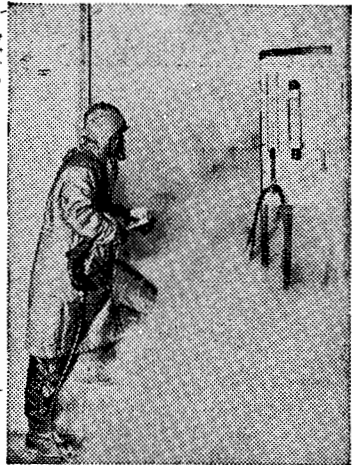

The next meeting will be held Nov. 1 instead of the regular meeting night to avoid conflict with the National election.

Girl Scout Drive To Start Next Week

Earl MacIntosh, local chairman, announces that the annual fund raising drive for the Swift Water Girl Scout Council will be staged here starting next week.

This is the one time during the year that townfolk will be requested to make a contribution to an organization which is represented by a registration of approximately 45 girls in the town and over 7,000 throughout New Hampshire and southeastern Vermont. Solicitors will contact every home and business to enlist the support of townspeople in order that the reasonable quota which has been set for the town may be surpassed.

Seventy-five per cent of whatever amount is given goes toward the development of a program which will instill in the minds of the daughters of our community the teachers of the Girl Scout laws which include trustworthiness, courtesy, friendliness, thriftiness, loyalty and obedience.

Assisting Mr. MacIntosh in the fund drive will be Mrs. Robert Stevens.

Dignitaries At Terminal Sales Open House Thursday

Sen. Styles Bridges and Gov. Wesley Powell were in attendance at an open house held at the Atlantic Terminal Sales in Newington, Thursday. The star of the show was the T-2 tanker Newmarket, marking the first time a heavy tanker has come that distance up the Piscataqua River. She docked at the new pier which is 860 feet long and extends 400 feet from shore.

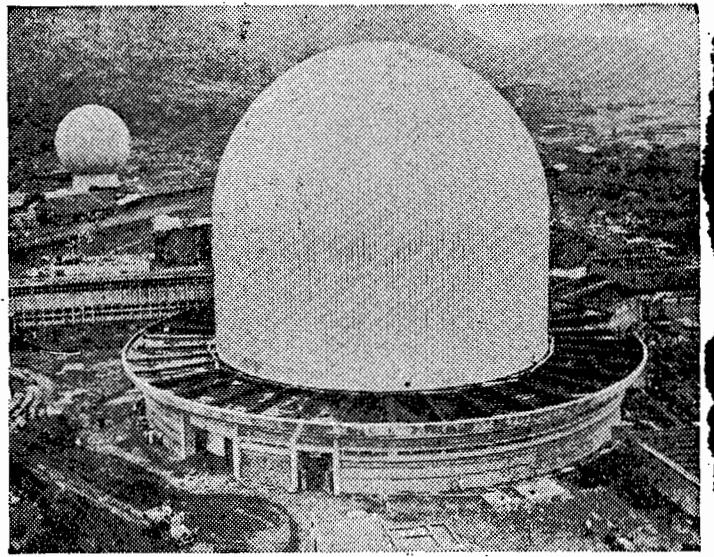

Previously, the fuel distributing company had been serviced by coastal barges. The tanker Newmarket can deliver up to 210,000 barrel at a time, far in excess of barge capacity.

Water Board Adopts New Method In Service Charges Billing

It was voted Monday evening at the Water Board meeting that the charges for turning off and/or turning on water for the convenience of customers will not be a flat charge as in the past. Instead, the actual cost to the Water Department will be charged. The old charge of $1.00 for the above service was a carry-over from many years and is inadequate today.

The budget for the previous six months of operation was reviewed and unless there are unforeseen emergencies, it is felt that the budget is in good order. The budget will again be reviewed next month.

The aerial maps of the water shed area were received from Soil Conservation and a committee consisting of John Nesbitt, Albert Langlois, Edwin Kimball and Superintendent

Walker was appointed to meet Herman Parker to get the details of the water shed area as to what we can do to improve our water supply through soil conservation practices. Federal funds will be available to the Water Department some of these practices.

Dr. Irving Brown, Jr., was one of four physicians from the Rockingham County Medical Society who served as a member of the House of Delegates of the New Hampshire Medical Society at the annual state convention which was held at Bretton Woods, Oct. 6 through the 9.

TAX ASSESSORS TO RE-EXAMINE 36 APPLICATIONS

Donat Roy, State Tax Assessor, heard the remaining few tax complaints Saturday. Less than 10% of the 1,000 property owners came forward to ask for a review of their tax problems. In the end there were 26 who appealed and 36 who asked for rechecks, while the remainder went away satisfied after examining their cards.

Clinton Haley, Selectman, stated that Mr. Roy will be back in two or three weeks to look into the 36 applications for re-checks.

The Town of Newmarket now has an efficient and up-to-date (as of April 1, 1960), record of every piece of property in town, which is on file at the town office and available for anyone's examination.

Full Cooperation Asked In Eliminating All Fire Hazards By Junior Fire Marshals

National Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 9-15) is here again, and with it the grim reminder that more than 11,000 lives and one billion dollars worth of property are wiped out each year by fire.

No matter where it strikes, fire is a major threat to our daily lives. The real tragedy, however, is that many lives and much property could be saved if only we'd take preventive measures against fire — or know what to do in case it breaks out.

Here in Newmarket there is a young and earnest brigade of eight-to-ten-year-olds who this week are taking up the cudgels in behalf of fire safety for the whole school year. These are the Junior Fire Marshals, who during Fire Prevention Week organize to seek out and eliminate fire hazards in their homes.

These boys and girls are serious about fire safety. Not only are they playing an important role in helping to prevent costly fires, but they are also forming good habits which will last into adulthood.

The Junior Fire Marshal program was created nationally as a public service by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, which this year marks its 150th anniversary. This program, designed to teach boys and girls the rudiments of fire prevention, is sponsored in Newmarket by John A. Perkins Insurance Agency in cooperation with elementary schools, both public and parochial.

A public service program such as this is of tremendous significance to Newmarket as well as to the nation. The lessons that our Junior Fire Marshals will carry into adulthood and the training in fire safety given each year's new group of youngsters make it so.

We salute these young fire prevention enthusiasts and pledge them the support and encouragement they need and deserve.

Rural Carrier To Be Honored Saturday, Oct. 15th

Bob Bennett knew something was different when he started his last round on RFD Newmarket last Friday.

Almost every mail box displayed its little red flag and before he finished the first road, the glove compartment of Bob's car was overflowing with notes, cards and letters expressing in countless different ways the high esteem he occupies in the hearts of his patrons.

A tribute indeed to the thoughtfulness and kindness of our "own Bob" was evidenced by approximately 200 notes, cards, and gifts he has received since his retirement.

An open house is being held in his honor Saturday evening, Oct. 15 at 8 at the Jeremiah Smith Grange at Lee Hill. Anyone interested in wishing him a fond farewell and best wishes for a happy retirement is cordially invited to attend.

Tiger No. One Wins Again

The Tiger #1 of Newmarket, N. H., was one of the tubs which represented New Hampshire at a muster in Warner, N. H. last Sunday. Warner was celebrating its annual Fall Foliage festival which attracts many people. The crew from the Tiger took third place and won fifty dollars.

This muster was only for second class machines, as was an earlier muster this year in which the Tiger also took third.

The scores were as follows for the top three winners: Torrent, Bath, Me.; Taggart, Goffstown, N. H.; Tiger, Newmarket, N. H. The Tiger Kitten won second prize out of ten tubs and seems to be able to keep with the larger tub. The Tiger beat out seven other tubs from the surrounding states and are now looking forward to next year.

The Tiger is now sponsoring a basketball team which consists of players who have played a little basketball before. The members are Slim Littlefield, Dick Littlefield, Larry Gowen, Art Markis, Ronn Griswold, Al Pierce, Fred Harclerode, Fraser MacDonald, Jimmie Norton, Bill Dupre, Eddie Wasiewski, Junior Littlefield, Art Westgate and mascot, Linda Westgate. Let's hope this team can pull in many victories as their tub did this year.

Police Investigate Hit And Run Crash

Chief Valliere and officer Jordan are investigating extenuating circumstances concerning an accident which took place at 1:45 a.m. Tuesday, when a cream colored convertible-registered to Cathleen McGrath, a student at UNH, smashed into a utility pole on North Main street, severing the pole in half.

The damaged car was able to make a getaway, but evidence at the scene and clues from witnesses made it possible to trace the car. The case has not as yet been closed, investigation is still in the process.

Christian Education Building Committee Meets

The Christian education building fund committee of the Newmarket Community Church met Tuesday evening in the pastor's study. The committee voted to press for the additional $12,056.89 needed to reach the goal of $20,000 before the campaign ends Dec. 31.

Fire Destroys Colonial Inn At Durham

Hundreds of students and townspeople watched fire destroy the historic old Colonial Inn at the junction of Newmarket and Dover roads in Durham early Saturday morning. Students formed a chain gang and carried as much furniture and personal possessions as possible out of the apartment house before smoke drove them away.

Lt. and Mrs. Eric P. Taylor, who lived on the third floor penthouse where the fire apparently started, were injured in the blaze. Taylor, who is stationed at Pease Air Force Base, was treated for smoke inhalation by the fire department's inhalator, while his wife was treated for cuts after a window reportedly exploded. The couple, who were trapped, were rescued by ladder.

Chief John Donovan reported estimated damage at $40,000. The apartment house, which used to be a movie theatre, dance and recreational hall, is owned by George Findel of Cambridge, Mass.

Rebound Tumbling Duet

All across the U. S. boys and girls and their parents are jumping up and down at outdoor rebound tumbling centers and backyards. It's the nation's newest and fastest growing recreation. It's so popular, in fact, even kangaroos are getting that extra bounce from the sport. Here is "Trampy" matching jumps in Cedar Rapids, Iowa with George Nissen, former U. S. gym and diving champ and developer a quarter century ago of rebound tumbling equipment. The big question is "Who's teaching whom?"

1st Annual James Phalen Memorial Pace Honors Former Local Resident

The first annual James Phalen Memorial Pace was held Monday, Sept. 26 at Cumberland, Me., in honor of James Phalen, one of the area's best known racers and horsemen.

The memorial's $1200 purse is the largest ever to be offered at the Cumberland Race Track and was run in two heats, both of which were won by Buddy Reed of Maine in 2.07 and 2.07 3/5 with "Mighty Edward". Raymond Watson of Gonic, N. H. came in second in both heats with "J. W. Pick". Trophies were awarded before a record breaking crowd by Jim's widow, Mary and his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Beatrice Phalen) Walker of Newmarket. Jim's son, George, donated $500 towards the purse and a blue and white cooler with Memorial's name on it.

The Phalens lived at Wadleys Falls, Lee, for 26 years, where their racing stables boasted such well-known winners as Sonny-At-Law, Nicdale, Jenny Hanover, Granite Hills, Starlight and others.

From the time the six children could walk, they were in the barns rubbing down, watering, caring for their father's horses. Jim not only raised and trained his own racers but also drove, winning honors as Maine's leading driver for two

George, taking the lead from his Dad, earned honors as the top money winner in New England and New York in 1956 and 1958. He also set two new world records in harness racing in the past two years.

Jim's daughter, Audrey stayed with horses by marrying Dana Cameron, another well-known racer. The couple now has a racing stable in Pinehurst, N. C.

Mr. Phalen died just 13 years from the day of the inauguration of the Memorial Pace named in his honor. Mrs. Phalen stayed on in Lee until a few years ago when she moved down to Long Island to be with her son George.

Many of the Phalen's old friends who heard of the Memorial Pace and that the family would be there to make the presentation came from miles around to greet them...

Council of United Church Women Work To Complete Medical Kits

The Durham area Council of United Church Women is working with approximately ten to twelve women's church groups comprising its membership to complete several projects in time for observance of World Community Day, Nov. 4. As part of this year's program, displays of children's used clothing and the special project of children's nightgowns, made by several of the sewing groups, will be arranged.

An additional effort will be made to assemble home medical kits which are to be sent to women in rural areas of Ethiopia, Nigeria, Chile and Burma. Because of the expense of getting together several kits, the council is supplementing its other activities for World Community Day with only one kit to which member churches, through their women's societies, may contribute one or more items or money if they wish.

When completed, a kit will contain the following: 2 packages band-aids, 1 can antiseptic powder, 1 package bicarbonate of soda, 1 tube vaseline, 1 package Vicks or Mentholatum, iodine, 2 or 3 toothbrushes and toothpaste, package boric acid powder, 2 or 4 oz. pkg. gauze pads 6"x6", 2 rolls adhesive tape, 1/2" or 1" pkg. absorbent cotton and 6 rolls bandage gauze, assorted widths.

Contributions may be sent to the council president, Mrs. Edmond A. Cortez, Durham or given to Mrs. Robert Mitchell of the Parish Circle of the Newmarket Community Church or Mrs. Wesley Pierce of the Lee Church Congregational Women's Guild.

MORE LEADERS NEEDED FOR NEWMARKET GIRL SCOUTS

At the last meeting of the Girl Scouts, Troop #585 was split into two troops to accommodate the ever increasing number of girls interested in scouting. Even with two troops there are still nine girls in the 5th grade waiting to become scouts when someone will volunteer to be a leader.

Another plea is being sent out by Mrs. Carrie Tilton, troop organizer, for one more leader and an assistant leader. The reward of working with the girls is most satisfying and the need is great.

Girls who now belong to old Troop #585 with Miss Shirley Varney as leader are Anne Baillargeon, Kathleen Bascom, Kathleen Beauschesne, Linda Bernard, Kathleen Blanchette, Donna, Bukowski, Christine Carpenter, Lorraine Davey, Nancy Demers, Judy Dzedzic, Jane Hazeltine, Norma Howcroft, Claudia Marcoux, Linda Marelli, Sandra Paradise, Carol Randall, Linda Pohopek, Irene Renard, Dianne Rousseau, Margaret Shorey, Dorothy Vedler and Rebecca Walker.

Miss Varney is in need of an assistant and anyone wishing to volunteer her services would be gladly welcomed by Miss Varney.

The other troop is led by Mrs. Doris Winn with Mrs. Doris Pohopek as her assistant. Girls in this troop are Maureen Beers, Jill Carmichael, Catherine Dostie, Dianne Gazda, Mary Jordon, Donna Gazda, Linda LaBranche, Sandra Langlois, Linda Larrivee, Sharon Mariotti, Dorothy Melendy, Lana Jane Roussel, Carol Shea, Leah Tilton, Donna Stevens, Dianne Van Fleet, Regina Verville, Greta Wilson, Sandra Britt, Sandra Roy, Debbie Wright, Melanie Teed and Barbara Wognowski.

C. Y. O. GROUP HOLDS OUTING

Thirty-six boys and girls from the CYO enjoyed a lovely all-day outing at the Belknap Recreational area in Gilford last Saturday. The group took picnic lunches and climbed Mt. Belknap. A beautiful day weatherwise afforded them a panorama of the colorful autumn foliage at the peak of its splendor.

Registration blanks for this year's 4-H activities have been distributed to members of the Lee Hill club throughout the Oyster River school. If anyone has not received his blank or anyone new to the club wishes to register, he may do so by contacting either Mrs. Ralph Granger or Mrs. Leonard Wenant.

Personals

Mrs. Ralph Booth, Jr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis attended the annual Morgan Yearling Sale held at Green Meads Farm in Richmond, Mass., last Monday.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Lee Congregational Church was held Friday evening.

Bill Urlwin of Durham, a student at UNH, is now driving #6 bus on the Lee run for the Oyster River School District. He replaces Mrs. Arthur Bateman. Bill also drives the bus for the Lee Church Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lang have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Walter Pratt and family at Bryantville, Mass.

Mrs. Donald Martin is spending the week in Maryland where she accompanied her sister Virginia, who had been visiting in Lee for several weeks.

Disillusioned Boy

Six year old Spike Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Morrison of Lee Hill, discovered much to his dismay that going to the fair wasn't the fun he had always imagined it to be.

Shortly after arriving at Deerfield Fair last Sunday, he and his Dad took a spin on the Whirly-gig in the amusement area. In spite of the fact the cars were lined and padded, an extra rough snap caused his head to crash against the back of the seat, splitting it open.

After much confusion, someone finally routed his distraught parents to the First Aid station where the nurse took one look and sent them immediately to a Raymond physician. The young lad had to have several stitches taken and never did get to see any more of the fair.

Birthdays Celebrated

Gary Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of Concord road, was guest of honor on his seventh birthday at a luncheon party at his home Oct. 1.

Jimmy Valentie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Valentie, of Packers Falls road, celebrated his 9th birthday Oct. 1, with a luncheon at his home, followed by a fascination visit to the Boston Museum of Science.

Jimmy's father transported the boys who included Robin Brown, Philip Pineo, Steve Carlson, Kevin O'Donnell and Jeffrey Merritt.

Gibb Starts New Charter Bus Service

Roger Gibb of Calef road, Lee, has started a new business called The Oyster River Charter Bus Service. Pride of the outfit is a spanking new 1960 pusher-type GMC special activities bus. Designed especially accommodate athletes, the 67-passenger bus has special reclining seats for the comfort and convenience of long distance team traveling.

It is equipped with a modern AM radio which by the flick of a switch can be turned into a public address system complete with microphone and outdoor speaker. The facilities can thus be used to announce games or other activities.

Mr. Gibb, who drove the bus back from the factory in Indianapolis, Ind., plans to use it mainly for transporting UNH and O. R. athletes to out of town games. He also has other accommodations for any type of charter work.

Fire Department

The Lee Fire Department will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, Oct. 13 at the fire station.

Lee Rider To Meet

The Lee Riders will meet Thursday, Oct. 13, at the home of leaders Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis in Lee.

Seacoast Regional Meeting

EAGLES ACTIVITIES

With Arthur J. LaBonte

At this time of the year the Fraternal Order of Eagles is taking inventory and according to program, chairman judge Robert W. Ransen, it is an inventory of some of the

Order's most valuable assets — "the local Aerie activities."

The program and activities department has sent a questionnaire to each Aerie.

From the answers submitted, the department hopes to gain a comprehensive picture of what kind of programs the Aeries carried on in the past few year and it is hoped that this will help in guiding the department in better planning the types of program materials and aid to be provided for Aeries in the future.

Aeries are asked to provide information as to committees functioned in the fiscal year recently ended; the Aerie's means of communicating with its members, via bulletin board, newsletter or bulletin; and its social sports and civic activities.

The Lamprey Aerie #1934, will certainly be glad to cooperate 100% in this inventory in behalf of chairman judge Robert W. Hansen, telling him what we have done in the past (since 1910), what we are doing now and what we plan to do in the future in this small community of ours with the help of all members, who are so cooperative.

As "progress" seems to be our present and future "password", therefore our ultimate aim and goal will be to keep our local Aerie very active and progressive in all its social activities as recommended by the Grand Aerie.

Community Club

The Lee Community Club was entertained by a most interesting talk on the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service by regional director Clarence Faulkner of Lee at their last monthly meeting held Oct. 5 at the Lee Vestry.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Randall, Mrs. Clarence Faulkner and Mrs. Elmer Kimball.

The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 2 at 8 p.m., with representatives of the Lee Hill 4-H Club presenting a program. The Lee Community Club co-sponsors the local 4-H Club along with the Jeremiah Smith Grange.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Tom Brown, Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. Frank Caldwell.

Attend Conference

Mrs. Ira Hull, Mrs. Jack Randall, Mrs. Dave Myers and Mrs. Derek Seeley of the Lee Community Club, attended the all-day Portsmouth District Conference of the Federated Women's Club, held last Friday at the Hampton Congregational Church.

Presidents of all 20 clubs in the district gave two minute speeches as did department and division chairmen, thereby giving an inspirational exchange of ideas and programs. Following a delightful luncheon, Frederick Champion, state probation officer of Portsmouth, spoke on "The Youthful Offender."

Joe Dixx's Sport Corner

By Richard Schanda

The 1959 hunting season saw a total of 15 shooting accidents. Five of these accidents were fatal and 3 were self-inflicted.

Needless to say, we must all work toward a safer 1960 season. Age, hunting experience or weather conditions do not seem to be the deciding factor in these accidents. A stray high powered bullet has no brakes.

Fog and rain play strange tricks on even the sharpest eyes, so to do away with most of these tragic shootings, one must be absolutely sure of what he is aiming at.

The pheasant hunting this past week has been very poor, but with some fair individual bags. The average hunter found few birds. In fact, one hunter was heard to say pheasants were as scarce as the extinct passenger pigeon.

(Ed. Note: Two large pheasant were seen this morning feeding at the rear of The Woodbury Press, publisher of THE NEWMARKET TIMES.)

Partridge seem to be thicker than last year but they are in different locations. Alder runs and clover patches produce some good coveys. Five to ten year pine cut offs are producing some nice flocks also.

Wood cock have been dropping in and out of local alder patches, but again, only an occasional hunter is bagging his limit.

Duck season will open at noon on Oct. 15. Three ducks will make up the daily bag. After the first day, the hunting hours will run from sun-up to sun-down.

A snow goose has been seen down on the Great Bay in the company of two Canadian geese. This bird was first seen by "Fritz" Hamel, who lives on New road, as it was headed into the bay area.

No doubt its mate has been killed and it joined up with the two other geese on their southward flight.
