Thanksgiving

"Being thus arrived in good harbor and brought safe to land, they fell upon their knees and blessed the God of Heaven, who had brought them over the vast and furious ocean, and delivered them from all the perils and miseries thereof, again to set their feet on the firm and stable earth . . ."

Thus did William Bradford, governor of the small colony at Plymouth, describe the landing of the Pilgrims. "They cried unto the Lord," said Bradford, "and He heard their voice and looked on their adversity."

Shortly after, the Pilgrims made their Compact, which began "In the name of God, Amen." Half of the Pilgrims died that first winter of 1620, but when the time came in the spring for the Mayflower to return to England, not one of the survivors returned, and none wanted to.

Alan Villiers, captain of the Mayflower II which crossed the Atlantic to America in 1957, said the Pilgrims had "the hearts of lions." Their "strong faith in God," he said, "had 'planted' the firm foundations of such a settlement that flourished and grew prospered, spread, and in due course, became a nation."

That same courage the Pilgrims found in blessing "the God of Heaven" inspires Americans of 1960. And nowhere can we give finer expression to the gratitude we can all feel for their example than in a House of God this Thanksgiving. As the Religion In America Life Program urges, "Find the Strength for Your Life . . . Worship Together This Week."

NEW LEE SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY

School superintendent Robert L. Brunelle announces that the new Mast Way School in Lee will open its doors Mon., Nov. 28, following the Thanksgiving recess.

Although kindergarten may have to be delayed for a week, grades one through four, which have been temporarily housed in Durham churches and the Oyster River Elementary school, will begin classes at the regular hour.

It is anticipated that the bus schedule will remain approximately the same; parents and children will be notified of any changes.

The $290,000 Mast Way school is the first outside unit to be built in the Oyster River School District, comprising the towns of Durham, Lee and Madbury, and will house kindergarten through 4th grades. There are nine classrooms, a general purpose room (auditorium, cafeteria) offices, storage rooms, teachers rooms and a modern kitchen.

Although the building is not completely finished, the classrooms are operational.

Superintendent Brunelle reports there will be no hot lunch program at the school until the cafeteria is completed.

Notices of final arrangements will be sent home with the school children sometime this week.

A formal dedication of the new school will take place in the near future.

Lee Riders Enjoy Field Trip; Welcome New Members

by Joan Chadbourne

A meeting of the Lee Riders (Lee Hill 4-H Horsemanship project) was held at the home of leaders Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dennis last Thursday evening. Kip Bowley gave a demonstration on how to saddle a horse. Buddy Dyer and Dale Gelinis were assigned to give demonstrations at the next meeting. Each member was given a certain breed of horse to give a report on at the next meeting.

A panel discussion was held on different questions concerning horses and horsemanship which the team who attended Eastern States Exposition gave answers to.

New members welcomed into the Lee Riders this season are Buddy Dyer, Rosalie Geofrion, Denny Lebeau, Gwen Hooz, Kip Bowley, Debbie Pike, and Joan Peterson. Membership now totals 25 4-H'ers.

Saturday, thirteen Lee Riders, accompanied by leaders Mr. and Mrs. Dennis and parents Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Pinkham, Mrs. Dorothy Valleton and Mrs. Robert Willard, visited the famous Orcland Farms in West Newbury, Mass.

Many thanks and due appreciation are extended by those attending to Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Orcutt who so generously gave their time to show the 4-H'ers their string of registered Morgans. Mr. Orcutt explained the use of a biting harness which is used previous to breaking a colt. He also gave a demonstration on lunging a horse and led a discussion on the conformation of two of the Orcutt's outstanding ribbon winners: 28-year-old stud Unlendon and a 2-year-old stallion Orcland Dondarling. Unlendon is the only surviving stud saved from the terrible fire which razed the Orcutt's farm two years ago, and Dondarling is the first colt who was born after the fire. Unlendon was a blue ribbon champion all through his lifetime but is now retired. Dondarling was Junior Champion in the Stallion Class at the National Morgan Horse Show this past year.

Members felt this was a most fascinating field trip and express their gratitude to the Orcutt's for their hospitality.

The next trip planned will take place shortly when the Lee Riders will visit the Lippizan Farm in Rochester.

Through The Years . . .

With Mary Richardson

My Father's Store

My father, Edward Richardson, kept a typical country store, where Marie used to have her Beauty Shop and which the American Legion now owns. He had a good trade and sold groceries of all kinds, chamber sets and the best white tea sets, with the stamp of the manufacturer on the back, a lion and a unicorn.

Most of the housewives in those days did their own cooking and they always had two barrels of flour, one for bread and one for pastry and cake.

What father made the most money on was grain. Grain bags were piled to the ceiling in the store. When a circus came to town, dad sold a lot and the owner of the circus always gave him free tickets so mother and I used to go to see the show and if it was "shutting up night", dad went too. He always put the show bills in his store window.

Father had some fine cū-Irish people. There was Grammie Doyle, who was with my tomers, among them many mother, when I came to town. She also helped at the Watson Farm when Mary and Helen were born.

There was Mrs. Brennan and her sister of Creighton street and there was Grammy Behan. Another good customer was Jimmie Shean, who lived down Railroad street. Jimmie was Irish all right, but was a good old man. He did odd jobs for people, like chopping wood, sharpening scissors and knives and he helped people clean house.

Nellie Connor lived on Exeter street. She owned a cow and sold milk and butter. My mother went to call on her one night, but not finding her at home and the door unlocked, she went and sat down and waited about 15 minutes, but as she did not come in ma started to leave.

She thought the room did not look natural and then it came to her — she was in the wrong house. She got out of there pretty quick and went home thinking she would try and call on Nellie some other time.

A woman came into the store one morning and said to dad, "Have you any smoked hali-but? I have been all over town for it." "Well," says father, "I guess you better go around again."

In the fall father would bring home a large salt fish, which we hung in the cellar way. He also purchased a barrel of apples. Our cellar was full of good things mother had canned. When eggs were cheap, mother put down several dozen of them in lime, but the most important thing was the pig. Ma and I always felt bad to have it butchered. We made a pet of him or I guess I should say her, as we always gave her a pretty name such as Blossom, Iris or Trilby. The last one we had was Rosebud.

We always had them shot late in the fall and ma and I would go in the front room during the execution and put our fingers in our ears so we wouldn't hear the shot. After Rosebud was fixed up dad had her taken down to the cellar of the store and "laid out". After everything was all right, mother would cook the fat into lard, dad would fix the salt pork, make sausage meat and send part of the pig to a man to be made into hams.

Dad used to walk to work in the morning when it wasn't "driving out day" and you could hear him before you saw him. He would always be whistling, his favorite tunes being "Marching Through Georgia" and "Annie Laurie." Dad got the scare of life one Fourth of July evening.

Mother sent me down the street to do some errands and then to ride home on the grocery wagon with father. I did my errands and climbed upon the wagon seat, then father climbed up and for fun lifted his feet high in the air and over went dad and the seat into the back of the wagon.

Bill started and I was thrown out onto the ground. Dad and Lou Chase picked me up, but I wasn't hurt at all but there were the marks of the wagon wheel on my neck where it went over me.

We then went home and dad told me not to tell mother. We drove into the barn and father went out to the old pump and wet his handkerchief and managed to get most of the wheel marks off. Mother knew something was wrong and kept asking questions and finally we had to tell her.

Father's friends like to gather at the store on "opening nights", especially town meeting time and discuss many momentous questions.

Dad always had a clerk, if he could get one. Pierce Haines worked for him for quite a while. Pierce had a wife named Nellie, a son Bernard, a rabbit cat call Bunney, a dog trixy and an old horse. (I don't know his name.) Pierce was a good man and everyone liked him.

After Mr. Haines left, dad was without a clerk for a short time. I used to keep store for him so he could go home for dinner. Louis Chase, who later on kept the Newmarket House, but at that time he and his wife lived over the store, used to come in and say he wanted a barrel of flour and I would tell him he would have to wait for dad.

There used to be a lot of

Mrs. Marion Stevens,
News Editor,
Newmarket Times,
Newmarket, N. H.

My dear Mrs. Stevens:

Following is a news item for "News From Lee":

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hobbs were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Learnard at their home in Weymouth, Mass.

Charlie and Don left the two ladies to go shopping while they went over to Cambridge and witnessed the Yale-Harvard football game, where they cheered themselves hoarse for Good Old Eli. As boys they read the Frank Merriwell books and Tip Top Weekly and grew up to be ardent Yale rooters.

Don, a former resident of Wadleighs Falls, reports that one of the happiest occasions of his life was when he drove up to Lee Hill to attend the testimonial tribute to Bob Bennett, where he met old friends, George A. Bennett, Mrs. Mollie Carpenter, Mrs. Carrie Mason and others whom he has known ever since he was "knee high to a doorstep," and hopes that any of them will stop in at the above address whenever they pass this way. I have yet to meet a more friendly group than those I met at Lee Hill that night.

Sincerely yours,
Donald S. Learnard.

American Legion News

By Fred L. Beale

The officers of the Robert G. Durgin Post are trying to make this year one of the best financially socially and in membership, but to do this it takes all the membership and we have been getting good results so far.

The next social event will be the New Years Party to be held on Friday night, Dec. 30 till the wee hours of the morning. The party will be limited to 100 and to be sure that you get a place you better make your reservations right away.

The same music that we had for the Halloween and Anniversary parties and you know that will make it a packed house. Starting Dec. 2, this same orchestra will play at our Friday night socials at the club with the exception of the New Years Party.

On membership, we had at the last report more members than any other Post in this district turned in at Concord, still we only have 84% of our quota in and need help from the members who have not got their dues in.

The absolute deadline on National Citations is Dec. 31 and they must be postmarked on the 31st. With the cooperation of those members we could again get a National Citation to go with the Big 10 Award which we won at the fall conference.

We have received the following notices from National: "The 17,000 posts of the American Legion have been asked to observe Dec. 7, 1960, the 19th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, as Civil Defense Day."

"The American Legion service officers have been notified by the Veterans Administration that the training program under Public Law 16 for World War II disabled veterans that ended in July has been brought back to life for another five years."

Regular meetings are held the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month and we have a nightly jackpot of over $50 and the 50/50 club meets every 1st Monday of the month except when a holiday come on Monday and we have a couple coming up.

We have been asked so many times who are the officers. We have decided to run a biography of the officers, with a picture of the commander in this issue.

Now if you want to know whos who, get THE NEWMARKET TIMES each week and you will be able to get a complete picture gallery of the present officers and their committeemen.

LEGION COMMANDER

CHARLES A. BENNETT, JR.

Charles A. Bennett, Jr. was born in Durham, N. H. on June 17, 1918 and 42 years later he became commander of the Robert G. Durgin Post.

He attended school in Durham and graduated from Dover High School in the class of 1937. He joined the Army on Jan. 24, 1944 and was assigned to the Field Artillery, he received his discharge on Oct. 24, 1945. He is employed by the John P. Cassily Co. of Dover as foreman.

He joined the Robert G. Durgin Post in 1953; he has served on numerous committees and through the chairs and became commander in April, 1960.

He has been very active this year, both in the club and working on committees to build up our membership and social activities. So far his hard work has begun to show results as we have held three very successful events, namely the district convention held in August, the Masked Halloween Party and finally the Post Anniversary Party. He is also very active in preparing our coming New Years Party and also the Special Citation Party to be held on Feb. 21 in the new year.

On Nov. 11, 22 CYO youths left Newmarket to go to the CYO convention being held at St. Thomas Aquinas High School. We arrived at this beautiful building at 9. We registered and found lockers for our coats and at 9:30 we proceeded to the gym for a plenary session.

Peter Jordan had an important part at this convention as he was deanery president.

We were then greeted by the Mayor of Dover and Rev. Richard Veillette, business adm.

The deanery secretary then gave the roll call. Rev. Vincent Lawless gave the opening remarks. The keynote speaker was Rev. Dunn, chaplain of the Laconia State School.

All enthused, we then headed for our special sessions. These were being held from 10:15 to 11:15. Either two or three delegates went to each one of these sessions.

The sessions were president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, spiritual, athletic, cultural and social. At 11:30 we proceeded to the gym for a Solemn High Mass.

Everyone was pleased to see that it was 12:30 because we could eat. We all went down to the cafeteria for lunch.

At 1:45, everyone went back to the gym for a second plenary session. During this session the appointed secretaries from the morning sessions gave their reports.

At 2:15 we all went to individual session. These sessions included Driving Do's and Don'ts, The Teenager and the Holy Eucharist, Your CYO and Public Relations, Confraternity and Catholic Youth, Military Service and Catholic Life and The Challenge of Catholic Youth in the 1960's.

From these sessions we proceeded back to the gym for the final plenary session. The reports and resolutions of the sessions were given.

The time just seemed to fly by. At 4 we went to the homes of CYO members and freshened up for the banquet. At 6:30 we were back at the school in the dining hall for the banquet. The menu was broiled stuffed chicken.

Peter Jordan was our toastmaster. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hansberry Chancellor, Diocese of Manchester was presiding.

Gov. Wesley Powell gave some remarks. Rev. Colin MacDonald gave the address. We were entertained by the Dover High School Choraliers, The closing remarks were given by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hansberry.

Before the dance we had a very enjoyable exhibition put on by the Granite State Highlanders in the high school gym. The dance followed with Arthur Simpson and his orchestra.

By the end of the day, everyone was exhausted, but a very enjoyable time was had by all.

On Nov. 13, Sergeant Young of the Motor Vehicle Department showed a film to the CYO on accidents; how they happened and how to prevent them from happening. Following his informative talk on safety, the CYO members asked questions.

It was a very interesting evening. Pamphlets and pencils were passed out by him pertaining to driving.

News From St. Mary's School

Grade One

This month we all worked hard preparing for Parent's Day. We were proud to show the progress we have made in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Due to the Chicken Pox epidemic, we have missed many of our classmates this week. We wish them a speedy recovery and may they return to school shortly.

For our Thanksgiving activity, each child made a fruitman which served as a classroom decoration. By means of a little song which we learned last week, together we give thanks to God during these few days which precede the holiday.

Grade Two

Debra Sargent and Aaron Hopey have resumed their classes after a few days of sickness. And we all remember our dear Elaine Camire every day and we do hope to see her with us again soon.

The boys are doing wonderfully well in their number work while the girls are surpassing them in spelling.

Our best wishes of Thanksgiving Joy are extended to all parents.

Grade Three

We collected our tests and written work in a rainbow folder for Parent's Day.

Some of us have been promoted to another reading group.

We are now gathering information and material about animals and insects for our science class.

Our spelling champions are: David Baillargeon, Janice Charrest and Linda Gonet.

As Thanksgiving Day draws near, we enjoy reciting and singing the traditional "Thanksgiving Day" by Ludia Maria Child.

Grade Four

The Fourth Graders are very proud to have outnumbered the other grades at the comedy

Grade Five

The Fifth Graders have completed a series of achievement tests from the Science Research Associates.

The boys and girls have also started to gather the necessary products to make a product map on the Middle Atlantic States, which will be due after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Teacher and pupils want to wish all parents and friends a "Happy Thanksgiving". From the pen of J. A. Sheed, comes these very inspiring words about this holiday:

"He who thanks but with the lips
Thanks but in part,
The full, the true Thanksgiving
Comes from the heart."

Grade Six

The citizen of the month for October was David Lergere.

We also voted for class officers: President, Romon Romero; Vice President, Diana Gazda; Secretary, Susan Crowley.

We have learned how to read and write decimals. In Geography, we are visiting the beautiful country of France. In History, we are learning how a new president is elected and all about the Constitution of our country. This lesson could not have come at a more appropriate time.

Grade Seven

On Friday, Oct. 29 — new group leaders were chosen. They were as follows: Diane Rousseau, Donna Bukowski, John Langlois and Douglas Pratte. Each group is trying its best to outdo the others in their scholastic achievements. Lionel Arsenault is home from the Exeter hospital where he had been confined for three weeks. He was playing football when he fell and dislocated his hip. We sent him a sunshine basket and wish him speedy recovery.

November 2, 3 and 4, we passed Achievement Tests in work skills, language, arts and reading and arithmetic.

We are now having Hobby Days. Each one will bring in his hobby and explain it to the class. We are looking forward to a very interesting week.

The fine weather of the past week and weekend ran the 1960 deer kill ahead of 1959. The total kill up to Nov. 21 was 2,774 deer which compared with 1959's 2,713.

As of Nov. 21, 1,532 bucks, 1,217 does and 25 unclassified deer were tagged. Residents have shot 1,962, non-residents 761 and minors 51.

November, 1959, had some very poor weekends which tended to keep the kill down. This year the weather has been clear and mild with no rain to speak of.

There has been some windy days which put a crimp in the still hunters style of hunting but overall we have enjoyed ideal deer hunting weather.

The bear kill is running slightly behind 1959 with 79 bear killed to date. Forty-seven of the total kill were males and 32 were females.

Our local warden was in the group of wardens which had to investigate the two fatal hunting accidents which occurred this past weekend. The case he was involved in concerned a 40 year old veteran hunter and a 17 year old hunter.

He went on to explain that the weather was clear and bright. The victim, the older man, was wearing a bright yellow hunting jacket with a red cap. He was hunting with a friend in some fairly thin hardwoods.

The young hunter, with a friend, was perched on the brow of a hill with the sun toward their backs. They watched these two hunters working up a draw for about 200 yards. When the two hunters walked up to within 165 measured feet, the boy stood up and fired his rifle, still thinking the two men were deer. The boy's shot struck and killed the hunter instantly. How could anyone mistake a man for a deer at 165 feet, wearing a yellow jacket and a red hat? This tragic accident and others only proves that a test must be given to all hunters.

If nothing else, a test for color blindness. This would not only protect the hunter who gets shot at but the hunter who may draw down on a man.

The Fish and Game Department are preparing for their annual spring stocking of salmon. The fish division has netted 4,375 salmon out of Star Lake up in Springfield.

These fish run from 9 to 18" in length and weigh up to 3 lbs. These fish will be released in other lakes for spring fishing.

Star Lake is a natural rearing station and is of course closed to fishing, so do not plan on fishing this lake or you may end up on the inside looking out.

The Cedar Stream area up in Clarksville, N. H., has been producing some fine deer, with light hunting pressure. The best buck weighed 211 lbs. dressed, had 10 points and was 3½ years old. The best doe weighed upwards of 160 lbs. official dressed weight.

This Cedar Stream and the Passaconaway Valley area are the two hot deer spots and strange as it seems, 8 out of 10 hunters in these areas are out-of-state gunners.

The big buck that Dola Po-hopek tipped over up in Barre, Vt., was a 9 point, 192 lb. dressed. The 260 lb. weight reported in last weeks issue of the TIMES was the live weight.

Dola's party of six brought back a 9 pointer, an 8 pointer and a 4 point buck. Bucks only in Vermont.

Young Dick and Mel Cross beat the bushes up in Colebrook, N. H. with no luck. Dick should have tagged along with dad.

With one more week of part-ridge hunting left, you bird bangers had better get out and harvest a few of these winged rockets. Right now hunting is at its best.

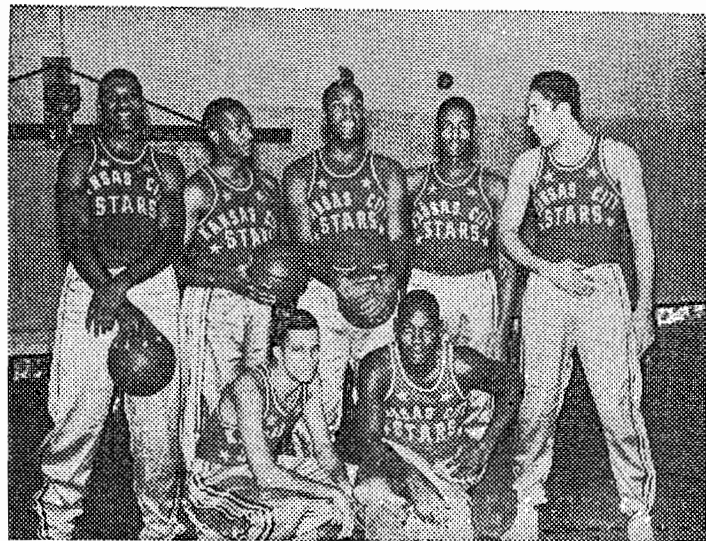

The birds are hanging around the edges of the cut-offs. Their diet at this time is centered around blueberry buds and strawberry leaves. The last 5 birds I shot had 90% of the above mentioned in their crops.

The beaver ponds are still producing blacks. No ice to amount to.

The season on blacks closes shortly after December. Check your seasons in your local post office.

The moose hunters are at it again. The local warden reports that a Somersworth hunter shot an 800 lb. bull moose up around Green Mt. He was presented with a summons and will end up paying about ½ cent a lb. for his markmanship.

AT HIGH SCHOOL SUNDAY

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALLERS PREPARING FOR BIG SEASON

The Newmarket Junior High basketball team is undergoing rigorous training in preparation for the coming season. The team has lost 12 players from last year's championship squad and Coach Dorval is busy trying to mould a starting five.

The returning players include Dale Marden, Roger Sklarski, Mike Anderson, Leman Hatch and Gary Gage. Newcomers to the squad are Joe Teed, a transfer from Puerto Rico; Stan Wojnowski, John Carpenter, Ron Sklarski, Leo Geoffrion, Craig Bomze, a transfer from St. Louis; Mike Marchese, Al Knight, Tony Zych, Joe Cotton, John Pazdon, Tommy Moore, Wayne, Piecuch and fifth grader Randy Gage.

Highlighting the practices has been the improved playing of Leman Hatch, Roger Sklarski and Mike Anderson. These three boys saw little action last year but are counted upon to do much scoring this year.

Gary Gage shows signs of having completely recovered from an injury which laid him "hors de combat" most of last season. Gary has been hustling and shooting very well at recent practices.

The little field general of the team, Dale Marden, continues his remarkable improvement which many fans noticed at last year's tournament.

The big problem confronting Coach Dorval at the present time is getting the "green" players ready for reserve action during the fast-approaching season. The first game will be played during the first week of December.

LOCAL RITUAL TEAM VISITS SOMERSWORTH

Last Sunday, Nov. 20, the local Degree Team officers, accompanied by their wives and many other Eagles from town, took a trip to Somersworth Aerie 1887 in order to witness a brilliant class initiation of 10 new candidates.

The Leominster Degree Team, Massachusetts champs, exemplified the F.O.E. Ritual ceremony and performed a fine job, as usual. The hall was filled to capacity for the occasion.

Somersworth President Arthur LeClair opened the meeting and then passed the gavel of Authority to the President of the Leominster Team who proceeded with the initiation — which was indeed very impressive.

After the initiation, Paul Chabot, Past State Aerie President, made a few comments, thanking Leominster team for this nice performance and their kind cooperation. Mr. Chabot also introduced guests from Aeries from different states.

Space does not permit me to name all these brilliant orators, but I would like to mention at least two of these: Napoleon Abel, past State Aerie Secretary said a few words of encouragement to the new members and kept the audience interested with his short stories.

Bill Goddard, past North-East Regional President then gave a very appropriate talk, concerning the F.O.E. activities in the world, especially elaborating on what is being done at Boy's Town, Nebraska and also elaborated on the Eagle project of low-cost housing in Florida. as well as the Eagle Hall at Home of the Range for Boys, Eagle Houses in Manila and Sicily, and explaining about the Max Bear Heart Fund. As he put it, "these things didn't just happen because somebody suggested that they ought to happen. They happened because many thousands of Eagles in many hundreds of places got together and went to work to make them happen." This further stresses the point that F.O.E. is an active Order and as Mr. Goddard said, "Seeing is believing."

Following this speech from Goddard, the Ritual Team then closed the meeting in Form.

Following the ceremony, Mr. Paul Chabot, chairman, announced that the Annual Thanksgiving Dinner was to be served upstairs. Over 300 people were served a real good hot turkey dinner. What puzzled the members from Newmarket was "how could they serve such a delicious and plentiful meal for the small sum of $1.00?";

In behalf of our local president Harold Dawes and all who were present at the affair, we wish to thank the Somersworth Aerie for their kind invitation and hospitality. We also want to congratulate the Leominster Ritual Team for their masterful performance.

Our recently organized team hopes that they may some day perform as well as the Leominster Team did.

WHIST PARTY

The Whist Party on Nov. 20 saw six tables in play and the following were winners:

Floating prize, Margaret Keller; Special prize, Blanche Proulx; Door prize, William Colcord.

Other winners were Margaret Keller, Nicoletta Urbano, Yvonne Caswell, Henry Pond, Alice Bonenfant, Ruth Colcord and William Colcord.

Mr. Edward Dostie, chairman, would like to see more players for the two remaining Sundays. There are some nice prizes left for the next winners.

Games begin at 7:30 on Sunday nights.
