STORM CASUALTY

Stalled on the B&M tracks on the Exeter street crossing at the height of the storm, this car was totally demolished when it was struck by a fast freight. The occupants were fortunate to escape with their lives as the car was hit seconds after they alighted.

Many Accidents In Friday's Storm

At 11:45 a.m., John Pento of Exeter road reported he hit a stalled car on Route 108 near the residence of Alfred Brisson. The car, owned by Kenneth Gibb of Lee, was towed to Great Bay Motor Company, after being verified a traffic hazard.

A call from Mrs. Smas on Bay road at the height of the storm requesting immediate help to get an expectant mother, Mrs. Sandra Mikell, to her mother's (Mrs. Provost) home on Durham road. Officer Hauschel was immediately dispatched with his jeep plow to get Mrs. Mikell out.

Also at the height of the storm, a car operated by Arlene C. Marcotte of Epping was proceeding west on Main street when the water hose burst, causing the anti-freeze to spill out on the hot engine. A fire resulted, the heat of which caused the battery to explode.

IGA clerks Kenneth White and Albert Lepene heard the explosion, rushed out into the storm and without hesitation, squelched the fire with snow. It was only through their quick action that a real tragedy was averted.

Considerable damage was sustained to the car, which had to be towed away. No injuries were reported.

Another accident was reported when a truck operated by Anthony Surette of 11 Parker street, Exeter and a car operated by Edwin Hunt of 2 Prescott street, Newmarket, sideswiped each other on New road.

Although there were no injuries reported, both vehicles were extensively damaged.

On Jan. 21, a car operated by Gordon S. Dow of North Hampton was traveling north on Main street near the bottom of the hill by the intersection of Elm and Main streets, when he struck the side of a car operated by Leroy Batchelder of Nottingham, making a right turn into the Sam Smith Shoe parking lot.

Dow reported that due to the slippery conditions he was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision. Considerable damage was done to the right door of the Batchelder car and to the left front fender, headlight and bumper of the Dow car.

Also on Saturday, William Derouin was taken to the Mitchell Memorial Hospital in Brentwood in the police cruiser where he was admitted as a patient.

At 3:55 p.m. on the same day, the Newmarket police received a call from the Exeter Hospital, where a surgical patient, Walter Moody, was ready for discharge but could not be released due to lack of transportation. He appealed to the police who responded by bringing him home in the cruiser.

At 1 p.m. on the same day, (Jan. 21), a car operated by Albert Couture of 18 Beach street and a car operated by Charles Wajda collided at the intersection of Elder and Cedar streets. Both cars received damage to the front ends.

Hit and Run

On Jan. 24, a truck backed into a parking meter near 100 Main street, completely demolishing it.

The Newmarket police would appreciate any information leading them to the culprit.

Train Hits Auto At Crossing

Four persons stared in disbelief as they watched the car they had been sitting in just seconds before, get tossed like a match stick into the gate tower, by a west-bound Boston and Maine freight train.

It was only through the quick action of a local man, Charles Gonet, that the occupants weren't casualties too.

The incident occurred during the fury of last Friday's storm when a 1960 Plymouth Sport Coupe operated by Francis J. DiFalco of 31 Ringgold street, Haverhill, Mass. stalled on the Exeter street railroad crossing. DiFalco was sure he had cleared both sets of tracks and was waiting for the engine to cool before trying to start again. With the windows closed, the hard-driving snow completely reduced the visibility to zero.

Charles Gonet, out delivering milk, saw the gates come down and heard the warning whistle of an approaching train. When he saw the stalled car astraddle the west-bound tracks, he rushed to the stranded car, jumped from his vehicle and yelled for the occupants to get out—but fast!

They had no sooner cleared the car when the freight hit it, spinning it around like a top, narrowly missing one of the occupants and smashed it into the gate tower, completely demolishing the tower and car.

Although no physical injuries were sustained, the driver and his three passengers, John Fotos and Jack Ciccarella of Haverhill and Mrs. Barbara Emond of Stratham, were understandably "shook-up"!

Main Street Musings

BY THE INQUIRER

WITH LAST FRIDAY'S STORM still fresh in our memory, we'd like to throw a verbal bouquet the police department way.

If there ever is any doubt that the Newmarket boys in blue don't earn every nickel of their pay, we suggest you sit in the office on a stormy day. The telephone rang last Friday without interruption relaying all kinds of messages from emergency calls to errands, some of which are reported elsewhere in THE TIMES. We are constantly amazed at the patience and courtesy the police department accords every summons for help or information.

Newmarket is indeed fortunate to have on its police force men with such true dedication and sincere interest in their town and people.

WE ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED to learn that three sheets of celatex and some matched panelling that volunteers had dismantled for the new Youth Center were taken from the Brisson building last week. There has been a very poor response for help on the project and it certainly must have been discouraging to the small handful of faithful workers to have the fruits of their labor stolen. At a time when every person in town should be pushing such a worthwhile project to completion, it seems incredible there are those who wish to hinder it.

WE WON'T MENTION any names, but after Tuesday's morning's freeze-up, we were almost bowled over as a prominent local citizen roared out of a Main street hardware store with a blow-torch in each hand. If this weather keeps up our outside plumbing has got to go!

TOO BAD MORE PEOPLE don't take advantage of the adult education courses being offered at the high school. A fine opportunity awaits anyone who wants to learn and the cost is so low!

WHO ARE THE BOWLING CHAMPS? This has been the topic of conversation along the main stem for the past three months—the "Pete" Mongeon-John Twardus combination or the "Barney" Turcotte-Harry Marelli combination. All will be settled this coming Sunday evening when the big match will take place. We hope that they have secured the services of a good, reliable, honest, God-fearing scorekeeper! Watch for the results in next week's TIMES—this should be good!

Adult Education Courses Need More Registrants

Registration for classes was held at the high school on Wednesday, Jan. 25, with a very poor turn-out.

Unless there are further registrations for these adult education courses, classes will have to be cancelled.

Registrations will be taken at the high school, by phone, through Monday, Jan. 30.

Anyone interested are urged to phone without delay in order that a schedule may be arranged.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Edward C. Batchelder

A former Stratham selectman died Saturday at his home on Dover road, Durham, while shoveling snow. He was Edward C. Batchelder, age 85.

A native of Stratham, he was born Mar. 30, 1875, the son of the late Albert A. and Sarah (Blodgett) Batchelder, and had resided in Portsmouth and Laconia before moving to Durham 18 years ago.

Mr. Batchelder had been employed by the Morley Co., retiring in 1942. Since that time he has been a cabinet maker. He was a member of St. Andrew's Lodge, F & AM, and a former member of the Winnepesaukee Lodge of Odd Fellows of Laconia.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Nellie (Parkham) Batchelder, survivors include a son, Stanley P. Batchelder of Rye; two daughters, Mrs. Fiesco Engel of Claremont and Mrs. G. Newton Weeks of Greenland; six grandchildren, one great grandchild, of Sarasota, Fla. and several nieces and nephews.

a brother, Lyman Batchelder

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 at the Durham Community Church with Rev. Daniel Novotny and Dr. Donald Babcock officiating.

Bearers were Forrest Smart, Wallis Rand and Leon Munday of Durham, Albert Clarkson of Rye and Albert and Wilfred Batchelder of Dover.

Ushers were Gordon P. Percival and Kenneth Fogg. Burial will be in the spring in Stratham.

Stamp Collectors News

By Ione Kent

Those who collect stamps of China and include Communist China, find they have hard work to get the Red China stamps. Our country does not trade with Red China.

However, if one is desperate, we are told he can subscribe to a newspaper in that country. A stamp will be affixed to the paper and allowed to enter this country. Many of us do not care for our money to go to any of the communist countries.

The 14c value of the 1922 regular series of U.S. postage stamps features the likeness of Chief Hallowhorn Bear. The picture had been taken when the chief attended the inauguration of Theodore Roosevelt in 1905. The original picture is in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

Hallowhorn Bear was a Sioux but from the tribe of Brule. Brule is from a French word to burn. He was born in 1850 in Sheridan County, Nebraska.

At 16 he fought the Pawnees in a war that ended near what is now Genoa, Neb. Later he and his Brules attacked the United States troops in Wyoming and Montana. He fought the construction workers on the Union Pacific railroad.

Later he accepted the authority of the United States and served as a police captain in the Rosebud Agency in South Dakota for five years.

In 1884 he was called before a Congressional committee investigating conditions of Sioux and Crow Indians. He tried to be diplomatic but claimed that though the Great White Father paid well for work, the Indian only got 5 cents a day. He got only $10 a month and one suit of clothes each year. In 1889 he represented the Sioux in talks with Gen. George Crook, who headed a commission to sign an agreement with the Indians.

In March, 1905, the New York Times tells us that the Presidential Parade "included a wide range of types, all the way from a delegation of conquered Indian Chiefs to a half hundred Hendward undergraduates". Hallowhorn Bear and even the once-dreaded Geronimo were among the Chiefs.

On Mar. 4, 1915, Hallowhorn Bear took part in President Wilson's inauguration. In less than two weeks after this occasion he died at the age of 64. Because of the cold and own exertion at the time of the parade he contracted pneumonia and died in a hospital in Washington, D.C.

To his funeral, an Indian fighter, Capt. William M. Wilcox sent flowers. It seems Hallowhorn Bear once saved his life. The chief also saved the lives of Thomas Welles and his nephews, Franklin Welles and Rufe Calkins. He and his men drove away the Hohay Indians who had surrounded the whites.

Capt. Welles called him the Big Mule Chief as he was too heavy for Indian ponies. He rode a black mule. His heft was not due to fat but his large frame and strong muscles. He could easily pick up a fair-sized man with one hand. These are facts about the Big Chief, not fables.

MARELLI RENOVATES CHAPEL ST. BUILDING

Work has started on a complete renovation of the Marelli apartments on Chapel street.

The interior of the old building has been completely ripped out leaving only a shell standing. The owner, Harry Marelli, plans to have the eight unit apartment building ready for occupancy sometime this summer.

Anyone renting here will find completely modern, light and cheery four room apartments conveniently located within commuting distance of Portsmouth, Durham or Exeter and within walking distance of the shopping district.

Stanley Jarosz of Newmarket is in charge of construction.

The Marelli apartment building was once the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Newmarket from whence Chapel street undoubtedly derived its name.

In 1872 the trustees of the church sold it to J. W. Bernard who remodeled it into apartments. The present owner purchased the building from the Bernard estate.

American Legion News

By Fred L. Beale

The Robert G. Durgin Post, #67 of Newmarket, held an impressive Americanism and community service program recently, namely their first annual Citation Night. Commander Charles A. Bennett, Jr., presented to those members present, their longevity cards in the 5, 10 and 15 year cycle of constant membership in the American Legion.

Due no doubt to the heavy blanket of snow, many of the members who were entitled to receive their longevity cards were not present and they will receive them at a later date.

In the Americanism program, the following organizations and individuals were presented citations for their efforts in community service: the Lamprey Aerie #1934, F.O.E.; the Polish-American Citizens Club; the Newmarket Women's Club; the Newmarket Service Club and the Newmarket Little League.

The following individuals also received citations: Joseph A. Rousseau, Adelard Beaulieu and George H. Phinney of Newfields.

These citations were presented to them from the Robert G. Durgin Post by department commander Paul Geddis of Pittsfield.

The department commander also presented cards to the following members of the Post for the following efforts: Frank M. Schanda, Robert L. McKenna and Fred L. Beale, obtaining the dues of 25 or more members before Dec. 31, 1960. He presented cards and hat ornaments to Charles A. Bennett, Jr., William Robitille, Frank M. Schanda, Robert L. McKenna and Fred L. Beale.

The cards are emblematic of their membership in the national commanders American Legion 1961 Helmsmen's Club and the ornaments are the badge showing membership in this exclusive club. The above classes of cards were for membership efforts in collection of 1961 dues in a Post that surpassed their 1960 membership efforts in 1961.

The date of the Helmsmen's Club has been extended to the Legion birthday date in March. One more member has qualified and several are within easy reach of the required 15 or more members and will be awarded their emblems at the birthday party to be held by the Post on Mar. 18.

The Post membership to date for 1961 is 378 members or 90% of their quota. Only 40 more members to reach the quota and they expect to achieve this goal before the birthday party.

The annual night of initiation will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18 in the Legion hall and the work will be done by the famous Third New Hampshire District Degree Team. If you have not seen this team work you should not miss this night. Dancing will follow.

Those who take this degree will be informed of the program of the American Legion and given an opportunity to participate in it. So many members of the American Legion do not know the full purpose

Through The Years . . .

With Mary Richardson

The First Census

The original territorial grant of Exeter of nearly 81 miles remained intact until 1727. As the population increased and the different parts of the town became more thickly settled, the consequent greater ability to sustain religious privileges, it is not to be thought strange that for their greater convenience they should desire to break up into a sufficient number of parishes.

The parish north of Exeter was Oyster River, now Durham, where Rev. Hugh Adams became pastor Mar. 26, 1718. His spiritual oversight extended to the outlying district between the two parishes and he was often called upon by the people of the north part of Exeter to solemnize marriages, baptize children and officiate at funerals.

The area of the town was too great for the regular minister of the town to cover it, to make all calls. So the time came for the separate parish action of Newmarket.

After the death of Col. Winthrop Hilton in 1710, Capt. Edward Hall, grandson of Ralph Hall of the Exeter Combination in 1639, became the principal man of affairs in this part of Exeter. He headed a petition signed by more than 30 persons of the town, "for the setting of the north part of the Town of Exeter to be a parish by the name of Newmarket."

A. L. Mellows, Esq., a lawyer at that time, had suggested that the name New Market may have been derived from the fact that a new market was opened for the sale of fish.

The petition was granted by the Legislature and the parish was incorporated Dec. 15, 1727 and the town Aug. 20, 1737. The territory was not incorporated as a separate town till June 27, 1849.

Oct. 24, 1739, Capt. Edward Hall was returned according to the King's Writ, to serve in the General Assembly for Newmarket. Lt. John Burley was Representative from Newmarket in 1766 and on July 1 was chosen messenger of the House to the Council. He also represented the town in 1767.

The first census of New Hampshire on which any reliance can be placed was taken in the year 1767. It was made under the selectmen of each town and returned by them to Gov. Wentworth. He had several times before attempted to ascertain the number of the population, but with little success.

The census of Newmarket was as follows: unmarried men from 16 to 60 years of age, 120; married men from 16 to 60, 182; boys 16 years or under, 288; men 60 years and above, 28.

Unmarried females, 407; married females, 198; male slaves, 13; female slaves, 16; widows, 34. The total was 1,286. Newmarket was the seventh town for size in the state.

Cemeteries

The settlers were at first obliged to bury their dead where best they could—beneath some spreading oak or towering pine or perhaps on rising ground in a garden or field. Somewhat later it became the custom to bury in a lot reserved for the purpose, upon their own grounds.

CEDAR HAVEN

For nearly 100 years there was no public burying ground in Newfields. The Hilton graveyard is the oldest of the private lots and upon the stone erected to the memory of Col. Winthrop Hilton is the oldest legible inscription in the town.

Another inscription of interest in this lot is that of Ichabod Hilton, grandson of Col. Winthrop who was grandson of Edward Hilton, the first settler of New Hampshire.

Burial lots are also found upon the Hersey, Burley, Bennette, Brackette, Pickering, Thing and other farms, some of which have passed from the families of the original owners. In some instances, the bodies have been removed to the public cemeteries.

The first parish meeting house was built upon land that was included in Edward Hilton's upland ground. In the division of the estate it fell in the northern half, beyond the second creek and Cobbey's Brook, to his son William Hilton. In 1694 it became the inheritance of his sons, Richard and Jonathan, "one acre on which the meeting house stands was deeded Mar. 26, 1734 to the parish for a burying ground."

The oldest tomb-stones now standing were elected in 1744 to "Mary wife of Jeremiah Folsom"; in 1749 to "Nathaniel, son of Josiah and Eunice Parsons" and in 1752 to "Susannah Clark, daughter of Caleb and Mary."

In Piscassic Cemetery rest generations of those who lived in this locality: Neals, Sarnbornes, Smiths, Pikes and Peases. Many inscriptions are not legible.

EAGLES ACTIVITIES

Winter Fun in Canada

Tourists who enjoyed Canadian summer can find new fun there also during winter. Having lived over seven years in Quebec City where I studied and taught from 1921-28, I feel qualified to write a short article on Canadian winters.

So, using your imagination, let's take a trip to Canada.

Whether you come to ski in Quebec's Laurentian Hills, ice fish on Ontario's Lake Simcoe, watch dog sled races in northern Manitoba, ski down the slopes of the Rockies, take part in a hockey game or see the fun of Quebec's snow carnival, you will find Canadians do not hibernate. Winter time is a busy time for outdoor sports.

Highways are kept open all winter in most of Canada. Main roads from border points lead to the most popular winter resort areas in all provinces. More hotels and lodges are kept open each winter. More ski tows have been established and more winter festivals are held in communities of all sizes.

February is winter carnival time in the city of Quebec. I remember well the old days of gaiety both indoors and outdoors, in this—Canada's oldest community.

The winter festivals are at their peak when the corpulent, jovial seven-foot tall "Bonhome Carnival" (French expression), wearing a snow-white suit, dark toque and a colorful homespun sash, invades the streets followed by an army of children.

Quebec's carnival has something for everyone. There are parades and dances at the arena. Streets and houses are decorated with spectacular ice sculpture. There is figure skating on Dufferin Terrace, high above the St. Lawrence River.

One can also enjoy the thrill of a toboggan ride down the steep ice slide on Dufferin Terrace.

Quebec offers plenty of winter fun: ferry boat service between Quebec on the north shore and Levis on the south shore of the mile-wide St. Lawrence is an adventure, bucking the ice floating down the river.

You can go sightseeing in a horse-drawn sled with passengers bundled up in buffalo robes or bear skins. Right in the center of the city and almost everywhere in the country, there is plenty of good skiing.

MULES WILL MEET RIVALS

Spectators are urged to get to the Newmarket high gym early this Friday evening as the big game of the season will be on tap between arch rivals, Newmarket and Oyster River High Schools.

Both teams are in the top ten of the NHIAA Class M rating and the game is bound to be a hard fought one.

In August, 1959, the Fraternal Order of Eagles held its International Convention in Toronto, capital of Ontario.

Then during their convention, the temperature was in the upper 80's and they were told that in winter, the thermometer registers close to zero almost every morning and many time 10 to 15 below and even lower.

Though the city of Toronto does not get a great deal of snow, there is usually good powder snow for miles around for skiing. Some 45 miles north of this big city is the beautiful Lake Simcoe, famous tourist paradise during the summer.

Last summer my family and I were fortunate to ride around that lake and admire its views. I happened to chat with an old timer and he told me that in winter, when the lake freezes over, its become dotted with hundreds of small huts where ice fishermen sit over open holes catching fish.

Catches include large eels, whitefish, trout, pike and pickerel and many other kinds.

In many communities across Canada, carnivals are held each winter and in most cases there are dog sled races, where the best teams in the northern hemisphere take part in the grueling contests.

Dog sled races attract audiences each year at such places as Quebec City, Fort William and Huntsville, Ont.

Ice boating is also very popular on Sunday afternoons and is witnessed by very large crowds.

Canada's two western provinces, Alberta and British Columbia, are becoming more and more popular with skiers. Magnificent mountain scenery, very good snow conditions, long winters and a variety of ski slopes for beginners as well as for the more experienced

MULES WIN TWO; RECORD NOW 12-1

By Dough Call

The Newmarket Mules continued to roll and won two games this past week, downing Holy Rosary of Rochester by a score of 54-43 and trouncing Sanborn of Kingston 75-53.

The Holy Rosary game was postponed from Friday, Jan. 20 (due to the storm) to Sunday the 22nd. The game at NHS was a fast moving, hard fighting game, both teams seemed determined to win, but because of any early jump on the Mules behalf, Holy Rosary was unable to keep the fast pace.

The Mules out rebounded, as well as out scored the Crusaders. Sparked by some brilliant rebounding by both Sklar-ski and Byron, the Mules held control of the boards throughout the entire game.

High scorers for NHS were Byron with 12 and Szabo with 11. Both showed great ball playing as well as teamwork.

The Newmarket Junior Varsity also won by a score of 37-26. This game was gratifying in that it pointed up the fact that the basketball talent coming along is of high caliber and will assure good varsity teams in the next few years.

On Tuesday evening at Sanborn, both Newmarket teams won again. The varsity got off to a slow start but after catching fire there was no stopping them. Sparked by Sklarski with 20 points, the Mules thoroughly outclassed the Sanborn five.

Despite the fact that the Mules were on a strange court, they quickly took over. Much credit is due to the Mules' bench. Newmarket has a strong and reliable bench for Coach Cross to choose from.

High scorers in this game were Sklarski with 20, Byron with 12, Belmont with 10 and Rousseau with nine. Newmarket's next game is with Farmington, Thursday, Jan. 26.

Game run-downs of NHS scoring:

Holy Rosary game:— Szabo, 11; Jordan, 9; Sklar-ski, 7; Belmont, 8; Byron, 12; Homiak, 1; Zych, 2; Rousseau, 4; Prescott, 0; Keller, 0; Gagnon, 0. Total, 54.

Sanborn game:— Szabo, 3; Jordan, 5; Sklarski, 20; Belmont, 10; Byron, 12; Homiak, 4; Zych, 2; Prescott, 4; Keller, 4; Gagnon, 1; Rousseau, 9. Total, 75.

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT SERVICE CLUB MEETING

The 90th regular meeting of the Newmarket Service Club was held at the Exeter Inn on professionals from all countries are the drawing cards.

Skiing in Alberta continues into April or even into May almost every year.

So, wherever you go in Canada during the winter, you will find plenty of active sports as well as spectacular events including amateur and professional hockey, Canada's beloved and official sport.

As Supervisor of the Checklist, I would like to remind all registered voters of Newmarket to read carefully the special notice which will appear in this paper for three weeks, concerning the new checklists which will be made out in February. This is important and please give us your cooperation.

Monday, Jan. 23, 1961. Napoleon Rousseau and Thomas Jenkins presented a program illustrated with colored slides about the 1960 Boy Scout 50th anniversary jamboree held at Colorado Springs, Colo. last July.

There were over 56,000 Boy Scouts assembled on a 2,000 acre tract, and Mr. Rousseau showed many slides depicting the different councils from all over the United States and many parts of the world. Also present at the meeting were Ralph Willey, Scoutmaster of Troop 200 and his son, John, who also attended the jamboree.

President Robert Rousseau showed the club members an American Legion Citation for meritorious service which was presented to the club by the Robert G. Durgin Post #67 "for sending a boy to Boy's State at the university each year, for sponsoring the local troop of Boy Scouts and for promoting the local skating rinks for the children of the Town of Newmarket, N. H."

Allen Wright was appointed the institutional representative from the club to Boy Scout Troop 200.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Feb. 27, 1961.

Local Bowlers Setting Records

One of the best bowling teams Newmarket has ever put together bowls in the Thursday night league and is breaking alley records left and right.

Currently the Newmarket team is leading the league by a small margin and look at last week's results one can easily see why.

This team uses the "low man out" rule which drops the low three-string man the following week. Johnny Truvalley sat out last night's match with a 106 average.

This is quite a team and if Jim Britt reads THE TIMES and can use a few of these boys on his Saturday show, he needs only to ask politely.

Eagles Cop 1st Place in Shuffleboard

On Tuesday, Jan. 10 at the Eagles' clubroom, the Eagles' team was host to the American Legion shuffleboard team. The Eagles won the match by a 4 to 2 margin.

The contest marked the end of the first half of the season and the first time that the Eagles have managed to take top honors.

The standing is as follows:

	W	L
Eagles	32	28
Polish Club	31	29
American Legion	27	33

The general seacoast area was up, the upper northern areas were way off with the center, state area remaining about the same. This fact seems to point toward the weather and temperature as a deciding cause in the rise and fall of the grouse population.

In breeding and the return of the fisher and fox may be another angle to be checked into.

The 1961 New Hampshire Fishing Law Books are out and you may pick one up at our local hardware dealers. Check the ice fishing law closely, as they have been worked over.

Speaking of ice fishing, there is about 16" of clear ice up-country with much snow covering the ice. Down around the coast the ice averages 12" or slightly thicker. The bay is tight enough to fish for smelts, with over 9" of salt water ice over in Greenland Bay.

A rare sight, due to the below zero temperatures, can be seen from the Sullivan bridge. The river has frozen from shore to shore from the bridge up to the Lamprey River dam.

This has happened only twice during the last 30 years: 1933 and 1948.
