Has Good Start In Life

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A corsage made of War Savings Stamps from screen star Ann Rutherford and a big smile from Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. were in store for this young citizen when his mother took him to a War Bond rally held here. Miss Rutherford, one of a score of Hollywood luminaries who participated in the rally held on the steps of the Treasury building to touch off the September drive, is shown presenting the Victory Corsage to the youngster while Secretary Morgenthau, center, smiles his approval.

NAVY VETERAN RECALLS TRIPS TO FOREIGN PORTS

Present Battle Fronts Familiar To Retired Chief Who Saw Thirty-Fours Years Of Service

Chief Water Tender Bert G. Langley, USN retired, who saw 34 years of naval service last November and never a day of it in shore duty, is following this war with more than average interest. He has visited most of the European, Mediterranean, African, Chinese and Japanese ports which are becoming more than names on a map to Newmarket folks.

First Local Enlistee Is At Destination

Arthur F. Bergeron, seaman first class, son of Tax Collector Arthur L. Bergeron, wrote his father this week from his new station, thought to be in the Solomon Island area. It was a victory letter, severely censored.

Young Bergeron, who enlisted December 11, the first Newmarket man to enlist after Pearl Harbor, wrote that he had arrived at his destination, was living in tents, an experience which was very similar to camping in the White Mountains and had enjoyed a couple recent liberties.

His letter brought a smile to his father when he said he had found a new home. Young Bergeron, a very personable boy, makes friends easily and where ever he has found

He would like to get back into the service, too, but was rejected a short time ago because of his teeth. These he had fixed and the Navy now tells him that he is on 48-hour call and will be accepted, if called, without further medical examination.

Directly after the last war Chief Langley was aboard a ship which made a two and one-half year tour of European and African ports under orders of the State department. They were based at Cherbourg, France, for a time and visited all the Franch, English and German ports from this base.

They moved on to Gibraltar and from this base visited Cassablanca, Tunisia and Malta. From here the base was moved to Constantinople and the men visited the Black Sea and Russian ports.

"It was a wonderful trip," Chief Langley states. "Our uniform was our passport. Everyone received us in a friendly manner and because we were on the gold standard the exchange sometimes ran as high as 200 to 1. We spent a week or two in each port, so it really was like a pleasure trip."

He told of some unpleasant sights however. The ravishes of war were seen in some countries and in Odessa, Russia, he saw bodies of men, women and children who had

Frisbie Hospital Thanksgiving Day Baby Dead

The funeral of Sheila Joyce Beaudette, infant daughter of Rene Alpha and Bertha Irene (Joy) Beaudette of Lee Hill, Newmarket, who was one of the four babies born at Frisbie Memorial Hospital in Rochester on Thanksgiving Day, was held last Thursday at the Spencer Funeral Home chapel in Berwick, Me.

The child, who was born at 8:05 a. m. on Thanksgiving Day and weighed seven pounds, 10½ ounces, died Wednesday of last week at the same hospital where she was born.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a sister, Carol, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Joy of Somersworth.

Rev. Elmer F. West, pastor of the United Baptist Church in Somersworth, officiated at the services and entombment

Harry "Rusty" Silver went to Manchester, Tuesday and from there there to Parris Island, S. C., to become the third marine and the fourth serviceman in his family now in the armed forces. Harry Silver was living in Exeter for he was employed at the Exeter Manufacturing company, but he formerly lived in Newmarket and was known as a baseball player on the Foresters' team in the local league.

Pvt. Gardner Silver, U. S. A., was the first member of this family to enlist, leaving his job in Lowell January, 1941. He is now serving in New Guinea.

The other three boys have joined the marines. P. F. C. Perley Silver left in April, 1941, and is now at a Naval Mine Depot, Yorktown, Va. He was employed at the Exeter Manufacturing company. P. F. C. Ralph Silver is with the marines in Guadalcanal. He wrote this week saying that he received his Christmas packages, letters and papers, mentioning particularly the Newmarket News.

Gardner wrote this month from New Guinea asking for pickles.

Mother Receives Flowers Cabled From China

Mrs. Milton Kimball found two large boxes of flowers in her mail box Wednesday morning—one carnations and one snapdragons. They were cabled her by her son, Lt. Melvin W. Kimball, who is flying a fighter plane under Brigadier-Gen. Claire L. Chennault in China.

The flowers were delivered by the University of New Hampshire greenhouses and were intended for a Christmas present. Mrs. Kimball feels that she will enjoy them even more now, however, for there are fewer distractions than at the holiday season.

Newmarket Leads Victory League

Local Team Defeats Sanborn For Second Win; Play Exeter Tonight

Newmarket has won its first two games in the Rockingham Victory league, defeating Sanborn Tuesday night in the Swazey gymnasium, 19 to 12. They play Exeter in the local Town Hall tonight.

One hundred and fifty people watched the tight, fast game between Newmarket and Sanborn. Newmarket jumped to a 4 to 6 lead in the first two periods.

Transportation is becoming a problem in carrying on these games. Two officials have received OPA permission to use their cars to carry the players, but this makes it impossible to take the girls' team, too. The girls hoped to go to Kingston Tuesday night, but the game was cancelled during the day because of the lack of transportation.

The Newmarket lineup Tuesday night was:

Rf, Levesque, 1-2-14; lf, Waldron, 2-1-6; c, March, 2-2-6; rg, Nisbet, 1-0-2; lg, Proulx, 0-0-2; Houle, 0-0-0.

Score by periods:

Newmarket 7 7 3 2—19
Sanborn 4 2 4 2—19

License Numbers of Gas Violators On File; Conscience Rule Is Advised

"There are a few chiselers in town," Officer John Valliere said this week when interviewed about gas violators. "We know who they are pretty well. They drive to the movies, to a beer joint, a club or a friend's house, parking on a nearby street."

Officer Valliere said that the local police have already collected several license numbers for their file and if the violations become too frequent or too flagrant, action will be taken. On the other hand he told of several people who have phoned the police office to ask if such and such driving was permissible, and have tried to follow the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

A good rule to follow, Officer Valliere offered, is the rule of the conscience. Ask yourself if it is necessary driving. If it is, go. If it is not necessary driving, and you start making excuses and thinking up lies to tell, then stay home. Just be honest with yourself and use gas only for necessary driving.

Officer Valliere has been on duty alone for the best part of the week in spite of a heavy cold. Chief John A. Gordon went home sick Friday night, but hopes to be back before the week is out. Special Officer Stanley Grochmal worked Saturday night.

FORMER CAPTAIN ASKS TEAM TO WIN GAME

"Butch" McLaughlin, who captained three Newmarket, high school teams last year, wrote Coach Sherburne Buckler from Jacksonville, Fla., that he is following the basketball with interest.

"Best of luck to the team," he writes, "and tell them to win a game for me." He also asked if any of the boys plan to write him that they do so before January 23 for he may go to sea shortly after that date.

He explained that he is taking an aviation machinist course and hopes to be rated as aviation machinist, 3rd class, when he graduates January 23. He left here last June.

McLaughlin's present address is "R. B. McLaughlin, 3M7W-21, Service School Area, Naval Air Station Jacksonville, Fla.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN INDUCTED INTO WAAC

Mary E. Rumford of Newfields Leaves Mon.; Alice E. Dudley of Lee Waiting Call

Two young women from this vicinity, Miss Mary Elizabeth Rumford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rumford of Newfields and Miss Alice E. Dudley, daughter of Mrs. Grace B. Dudley of Lee, have joined the WAAC.

Rumford leaves Monday for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will start her training. She enlisted in Manchester on November 23 and has been waiting for her call.

She was graduated from Robinson Seminary in Exeter in 1937, from the Plymouth Business school in Portsmouth in 1938 and has been employed as a secretary for the Hill Transportation company at the Portsmouth Navy yard. She is a member of the Piscassic grange of Newfields.

Miss Dudley was inducted into the WAAC's at Springfield, Mass., on January 2, 1943. She was born in Lee, and since 1925 has been a member of the natives. His father told of a California city where the city folks refused to let rooms to uniformed men, but Arthur donned ris dungarees and work shirt, hired a room without difficulty and discovered in the two weeks that he was there, that he had made good friends, too.

He told of the help his parochial school training was to him and sent regards to all his local friends. He is working with a pipe fitting crew.

Local Boy Training At Submarine Chaser Center; To Help Clear Shipping Lanes

MIAMI, FLA.—John Joseph Dziedzic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dziedzic of South Main street, Newmarket, is in training at the U. S. Naval Submarine Chaser Training Center here.

Now a seaman second class, he enlisted for service with the fleet last April and reported to this anti-submarine warfare center, the only activity of its kind in the country, in October.

Prior to his enlistment in the Navy, Dziedzic graduated from the Newmarket high school. He was active in basketball, baseball, and dramatics.

After he completes his training, he probably will be assigned to a unit charged with the clearing of vital shipping lanes of enemy submarines.

People Travel More Today

E. N. Baker, local station master, said this week that train travel is heavier now than at any time during his years with the Boston & Maine. During the past war he was stationed in a war camp, but even at this vital spot transportation was not so consistently heavy as today.

"People travel more now," he said in explaining the situation. "It seems to be a habit. We used to stay home occasionally, but today everyone seems to be on the go all the time."

DUDLEY FAMILY IN FOUR ARMY BRANCHES

Mrs. Grace M. Dudley of Lee has four members of her family serving with the armed forces now that her daughter, Miss Alice E. Dudley has joined the WAACS.

Her only son, Sgt. Leon K. Dudley, joined the army air corps in October, 1942 and is stationed at the Army Air Base in New Orleans, La. He was home on Christmas, accompanying the body of a fellow soldier who was accidentally drowned at New Orleans, to his home in Boston.

After escorting the body and making funeral arrangements for the bereaved family, he was able to spend the holiday with his own family.

Mrs. Dudley's grandson, Sgt. John H. Dudley of Dover, joined the Tank Destroyers Battalion of the U. S. Army in July 1941, and at present is stationed at Camp Hood, Kleen, Texas.

TIRE INSPECTION LAGS; MOTORISTS ARE WARNED

CONCORD, Jan. 9—New Hampshire motorists were warned today by Paul E. Sargeant, State OPA Rationing Officer, that they must move faster in getting their tires inspected.

The OPA warning came after a survey showed that tires on only 439 of the 19,000 registered cars and trucks in Manchester had been inspected up to a few days ago.

Sargeant has urged local rationing boards to point out to truck owners that the deadline for inspection of their tires is January 15, and to passenger car owners that the deadline for them is January 31.

He explained that neither gasoline ration books nor tires can be issued in the future to those who do not meet the inspection deadlines.

"From the results of the Manchester survey it is apparent that motorists are delaying the required inspections to such an extent that official tire inspection stations may not be able to take care of the last-minute rush before the deadline dates," he added.

"The inspection stations can take care of all cars in time if car and truck owners will have tires inspected soon. We want to help get this important job done with as little inconvenience to motorists as possible. Prompt co-operation will help us."

Purpose of the inspection, Sargeant explained, is to find and correct any faults which may cause undue wear to tires. In line with this purpose, if the examination shows that a tire needs recapping or that it needs replacing, the inspector will call attention of the car owner to his responsibility to apply to the rationing board for the appropriate certificate.

Sargeant pointed out that almost every passenger car owner, who has been issued a gasoline ration book, is now entitled to some kind of tire replacement. Local rationing boards will determine what class of replacement can be given in individual cases.

Return Unused Oil Coupons

CONCORD, Jan. 15—If you have converted from oil to coal or wood, return your unused oil coupons to your local War Price and Rationing Board immediately, warns Paul E. Sargeant, State Rationing Officer of OPA.

He pointed out today that a "black market" is almost inevitable result of leaving invalid coupons uncanceled.

"Returning unused coupons to your local board is an integral part of the conversion plan," Mr. Sargeant said. "Until they are returned, federal authorities have to calculate on these coupons as part of the potential demand for oil." Mr. Sargeant also warned that oil coupons are "absolutely untransferable."

"An instance occurred recently which betrays some misunderstanding of the conversion program," the rationing chief said. "One woman converted her oil burner—and then gave all her fuel oil coupons to a nephew.

"She explained that it was an innocent mistake. But such mistakes decrease the amount of oil available for other coupon holders. They defeat the purpose of rationing which is to distribute scarce commodities equitably."

Friendly Club Enjoys Meeting

The Friendly club met this week with Mrs. Bertha Gregory, South Main street. The transportation problem in getting to meetings was discussed. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Stella Cilley to 14 members.

Don't Be Alarmed At Radio Alerts

Communication Tests Between January 13 and 20 Are Merely Tests, Public Is Told

The Federal Security forces and State Guards of New England will undergo extensive tests of communications between January 13th and 20th, Major General Sherman Miles, Commanding General of the First Service Command, announced today.

As a result, if you hear an alert over the police radio don't get alarmed or rush for a telephone. The test will clearly state that there is no emergency and will begin and end with the phrase "Practice Maneuver Message."

These "Practice Maneuver Messages" will determine the speed and accuracy with which General Miles and the Adjutants General of the states call alert troops throughout all six states. This includes speed and accuracy of transmission and reception. There will be three of these tests, one during the daytime of a week day, another during the night of a week day, and the third during the day on Sunday.

All methods of communications will be used, except regular radio broadcast channels. Police radio, teletypes, telegraph and telephone will be utilized extensively. Nearly all units participating in the tests will receive these "Practice Maneuver Messages" from several sources. They will not assemble or take any action. The practice is simply a communications test.

EDITORIAL

While America is staggering a bit under the tremendous budget figures which President Roosevelt has proposed for the coming year, it is refreshing to review the financial condition of Newmarket for the past several years.

Not so long ago its financial problems were staggering, too. This small town lost three million dollars out of its four and one half million dollars evaluation when the Newmarket Mills moved from town.

During the prosperous years a splendid water system was extended far and wide over the town, an excellent new high school was built and other departments made improvements in keeping with the town income. So when Newmarket lost about three-quarters of its tax income, it had these modern services which must be kept up even though the citizens could no longer afford them.

It was a staggering problem. Between 1928 and 1938 some taxes went uncollected for as many as 10 years. At the end of the fiscal year, it would be necessary to borrow money to meet the town debts. Tax rates were listed as among the highest in the state.

Gradually, however, the town officials have worked out of this catastrophe and when the books are closed this year there will be no taxes outstanding back of 1940, the two year period permitted by law. The town has borrowed no money for the past two years, and while tax rates are still high, the evaluations are low enough so that the individual bills are not excessive.

Newmarket has weathered its staggering financial storm and is once more in a normal condition.

MY DARLING

BY ALICE K. DOUGLAS

I haven't got a million,
My castle's built on air;
Still I have a treasure
That's far beyond compare.

I have a little darling—
And when I see her smile,
I know I'm very wealthy
And everything's worth-while.

Her chatter isn't worldly
But sometimes very wise;
Her eyes on early mornings
Are like the sun at rise.

Her stories are just fables—
Yet, oh, how sweetly told;
The kind that thrill the young
And still amuse the old.

Her songs are not the ones
That musicians care to write,
But there'll never be a symphony
As sweet as her, "Good-night!"

CALLING JOE DOAKES

Somewhere in the midst of this People's War, there's a little man who has got an idea.

It may not be a very good idea, but then again—perhaps it is. Possibly Joe Doakes, the little man with the idea, has got something this time. But good or bad, you can bet that Joe is devoting his thinking these days to ways of winning the war.

That's what his idea is about—a way to win the war. There's no telling just how Joe figures we can win the war faster or more efficiently than we're winning it now, because Joe, of course, is all of us. He may be a farmer, in which case his idea probably will be a way to raise more food faster for our fighting men and Allies. He may be a soldier or a sailor or a marine—in which case his idea will be one that will increase the efficiency of our fighting forces. Or he may be a worker in a war industry with an idea for some new production method that will speed those tanks and planes and ships off the assembly lines and the ways and into action. Or Joe may be a business or professional man with an idea that will sell more bonds, or straighten out the raw materials shortage. Or a housewife—with ideas relating to morale.

Actually it doesn't really matter what kind of a person Joe is: The important thing is: he's got an idea that he thinks will help his country. That in itself is comforting, for under Nazism and Fascism it's the Big Boys that get all the ideas

FORM OF RETURN

Persons subject to the Federal income tax must report their income to the Government on forms, or blanks, prescribed by regulations. These forms are obtainable from any Collector of Internal Revenue, and generally from any bank. Special forms are designated for corporations, for partnerships, for trusts and fiduciaries, and for non-resident aliens. Farmers who keep no books of account on the accrual method must attach a special schedule to their return (Form 1040F).

RECRUITS FOR OBSERVATION POST NEEDED

Robert G. Durgin post, A. L., met Tuesday night for a brief business session. Eighty-six names were reported on the census the members are taking of Newmarket residents in the present World War. The men were assigned to definite streets and it is expected that the work will progress.

George Faulkrod, chairman of the observation post, explained the method followed now that the men have an automobile to go the post. The car was purchased recently for this work by the Town of Durham. Recruits for Sunday and Monday, the two days which Newmarket fills, were sought. There are still openings for men who can help man this post 24 hours a day, a work which the military authorities say is vital.

NEWMARKET PLANT ON 10 P. C. PAYROLL SAVINGS HONOR ROLL

On Jan. 1, 1942, only 700,000 employees in the country had enrolled in the Payroll Savings Plan to a limited financial extent. On Dec. 1, 1942, the number of workers participating had grown to 23,600,000, and the financial participation had reached an average of 8.4 per cent of the payroll of these 23,600,000 people. The goal of the campaign was to enroll 30,000,000 American workers at 10 per cent or more of the payroll.

On Jan. 10, 1942, only 24 New Hampshire firms had installed this plan. These were the 24 largest firms in the state and collectively employed 29,675 workers. The financial participation of these 29,675 employees was also on a limited scale.

On Dec. 1, 1942, the New Hampshire list had grown to 763 firms employing 85,330 people with an average financial participation of slightly better than 5 per cent.

Preliminary reports on the result of the "Top That 10 Per Cent By New Year's" campaign on a national basis shows that the number of employees affected had grown to 28,852,112. The New Hampshire total had increased to 819 firms employing 87,725 people.

Many New Hampshire firms had reached the 10 per cent before this campaign was inaugurated. Among these firms were: Nashua Manufacturing company and Wonolancet company of Nashua; Sam Smith Shoe corporation; Newmarket; F. & P. Clothing company,

The two Newmarket representatives to the New Hampshire State Legislature have received very good committee appointments.

In addition to these firms, the Portsmouth Navy Yard had exceeded the 10 per cent point some months ago.

No concerted effort, however, had been made to reach the 10 per cent point in any great number of New Hampshire firms until this "Top That 10 Per Cent By New Year's" campaign started. During this campaign meetings were held with the representatives of the larger industries in many parts of the state and as a result the management and employes of 134 firms employing 100 or more people agreed to campaign within their own firms to reach this 10 per cent point. These 134 firms collectively employ 35,387.

In connection with these meetings the Coca-Cola company has been of great assistance in showing the "Free American Way" film. This film graphically portrays the acute need for stepping up War Bond sales and the Coca-Cola company invites organizations and companies to use this film at no cost.

While all reports on the result of these campaigns within the firms are not yet in, Mr. Soderlund is happy to announce several outstanding achievements which definitely indicate all of these firms have already or will shortly reach the 10 per cent point. Reports so far received indicate that the following firms employing 100 or more people have joined the 10 per cent Honor Roll during the period of this campaign:

Nashua Gummed and Coated Paper company, Nashua; Raylaine Worsteds, Inc., Manchester; Waumbec Mills, Inc., Manchester; Exeter Manufacturing company, Exeter; Kingsbury Machine Tool Corporation, Keene; City of Dover; Brampton Woolen company, Newport; International Narrow Fabric company, Keene; Troy Blanket Mills, Troy; WYANDOTTE WORSTED COMPANY, ROCHESTER, and Exeter Brass Works, Exeter.

These firms and many others have not stopped at 10 per cent as is evidenced by the fact that the

New Hampshire, as far as the State Board of Health knows.

There is nothing to prevent the sale of horse meat in this state, however, provided it comes from healthy animals and is sold for "exactly what it is," and if this type of food should appear in the markets, the board says "whether or not our board may take any regulatory action will depend upon what may develop."

The matter was brought to the board's attention when a health official of a certain New Hampshire city wrote:

"I have had several inquiries regarding the sale of horse meat for human consumption. Do you propose to issue any regulations regarding such sale, or have you any comments to make on it? The newspaper here also wants to know about it.

"Many people seem to be very much upset over the fact that horse meat may be sold and that they may get it instead of beef. I have assured them that I do not believe any attempt will be made to sell it as anything but horse meat. Personally I see no difference in wholesomeness between horse meat and any other meat provided it is inspected and slaughtered under sanitary conditions. I ate it in France during the last war and liked it as well as beef. Any comments you may care to make will be appreciated."

The board, according to the New Hampshire Health News which it publishes, replied as follows:

"Responding to your letter of December 14 concerning possible sale of horse meat in this State, while there is not unnaturally some repugnance on the part of many people in this country to the idea of eating such flesh, yet it is, as you point out, a perfectly wholesome meat product, the flavor of which is liked by those accustomed to consuming it.

"Under the federal Meat Inspection Act, as well as under our laws, horse meat has no specific status. That is, there is nothing either recognizing it or prohibiting its sale. You will note from page 12 of the enclosed pamphlet that under the Act the terms 'meat products' and 'meat food products' are inclusive only of the parts derived from cattle, sheep, swine and goats. Hence, at least up to now, these are the only meat sources subject to federal meat inspection. If the Bureau of Animal Industry has taken any recent action in this connection we are unaware of it.

"So far as our laws and regulations are concerned, there is nothing to prevent the sale of horse flesh, provided, of course, it is from healthy animals and is in sound condition and provided it is sold for exactly what it is. Any offering of it as 'beef,' or implication by the dealer that it was some other meat, would be a violation. It also would be a violation to incorporate any such meat, or any trimmings or refuse from it, in such meat food products as hamburg, frankforters, etc.

"It appears that in recent months there has been some promotion of the sale of horse meat in other localities and it is our understanding that at least one city in this country has a regulation forbidding its sale in the same shop with other meat products. Whether or not our Board may take any regulatory action in this connection will depend upon what may develop."

—and woe betide any Joe Doakes who goes around with ideas that haven't got the stamp of approval from the Propaganda Ministry and the Gestapo.

Here in America, Joe, as a free citizen, may think up some pips. His idea may stamp on plenty o' aces and create a rush on every aspirin counter in the country. But he's got a right to express it freely and openly and without fear.

The one trouble so far has been that Joe hasn't been able to figure out where to bring his war-winning ideas. That's why it is good to learn of the organization called Victory Center. If Joe sends his idea to Victory Center, a staff of experts in all fields goes over it, evaluates it, and then either rejects it or brings it to the attention of the government or some private organization which will promote it. Victory Center has no axe to grind and no money to collect. It's a non-profit, non-partisan organization that feels, and rightly, that Joe Doakes and his idea have a right to be given a fair hearing. It's address, for all interested Joes in this town, is 745 Fifth Avenue, New York City. How about it, Joe?

Hard Game With Hampton Is Won

Newmarket High school won a hard fought victory over Hampton High in the first basketball game of the newly organized Rockingham Victory league at the local Town Hall last Friday night. The score was 18-16, Newmarket getting a slight lead in the first quarter which the boys were able to hold throughout the game.

The local quintet showed superior defense, Hampton scoring only five field goals. They used the zone defense method on which they have been working all season and with which they are now clicking.

It was a rough, hard game throughout with 12 fouls called on Newmarket and eight on Hampton. Capt. Robert Hale was called out of the game on fouls in the fourth quarter. In spite of this, it was felt that Newmarket should have dropped a larger final score. Ball after ball spun around the rim and dropped—outside. Andy March was high scorer of the evening with four field goals.

For the first time this season, the hall was well filled with spectators who cheered lustily for both sides.

John Carpenter has been ordered to report to the Manchester induction center for examination next week.

For individuals, two forms are used depending upon the amount and source of income to be reported.

FORM 1040. This form is intended for general use of individuals who are citizens of the United States, or residents in this country, whether citizens or not. It contains spaces to show the amount of income from various sources, deductions allowable, exemptions and credits, and computation of tax liability. As most of the items require some explanation in order to be allowable, the form also contains appropriate schedules to show in more detail how the income or the deductions are determined.

FORM 1040A. This is a simplified report, which may, at the option of the taxpayer who makes his return on the cash basis, be filed instead of form 1040 by citizens and residents whose gross income was $3,000 or less during 1942, provided all this income consists wholly of one or more of the following: salary, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities. In using this form it is necessary only to enter the amount of gross income as shown, deduct and insert the appropriate amount of tax in accordance with ones personal exemption status, as shown on the table on the reverse of the form. This form has no entries for deductions allowable, since the taxes indicated in the table on the back of the form are computed after taking into account what have been considered average deductions for persons of this income class.

A taxpayer should, therefore, consider carefully which form would be appropriate for his purpose. Whichever form is employed, all the information called for in the spaces should be inserted so far as applicable to the taxpayer, in order to avoid the expense to the Government, and the possible inconvenience to the taxpayer, of subsequent check and inquiry.

With each return form is a set of accompanying instructions, and these instructions should be carefully read by the taxpayer before making his return.

Returns for the calendar year 1942 must be filed not later than March 15, 1943. They may be filed by mailing to the Collector of Internal Revenue of the appropriate district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the taxpayer. If the return is filed by mailing, it should be posted in ample time to reach the Collector's office on or before March 15, 1943. Returns received later than the due date are subject to a penalty variable according to the lateness in filing.

Kingsbury Machine Tool Corporation is investing 18.2 per cent of the gross payroll in War Bonds and the Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper company is investing more than 11 per cent.

According to Mr. Soderlund the final reports on this campaign will indicate that well over 90,000 of the 117,000 people, gainfully employed in the state will be enrolled in the plan with over 50,000 having joined the 10 per cent honor roll.

Future plans for the expansion of this most important part of the War Bond effort call for complete organization throughout the committees under the direction of Mr. Soderlund, who will be assisted by several special consultants.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, would you mind tellin' Charlie here what you told me the other night walkin' home from lodge. I can't word it just the way you did."

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a state, a county, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally... whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. That's the answer, boys... simple as A-B-C."

COUPON ACCOUNTS WILL BE SET UP

Newmarket Bank To Handle Ration
Coupons For Local Merchants
Beginning January 27, 1943

The Newmarket National Bank will fall in line with other commercial banks of the state January 27th in setting up coupon accounts for merchants required by law to have such accounts.

It will be handled easily in Newmarket, Fred J. Durrell, bank treasurer, thought when interviewed this week. Gasoline coupon accounts are only needed for men above the retailer grade and there are no such dealers here. Oil coupons will not be handled under this system.

will be required of merchants having $5000 or better business in Coffee and sugar coupon accounts. This will affect only the LaBranch these commodities in December, and LaFrance grocery stores, it is thought. With other merchants it is optional whether they open ration coupon accounts or not.

The coupon account will operate like a money account. The coupons will be deposited in a separate account, and when sugar or coffee is ordered, a check for the required number of coupons will be given. These coupons will go through the clearing house just as other checks do, be returned to the bank to be deducted from the local account.

After February 1 more items will fall under the ration coupon system, but even then Mr. Durrell does not feel that the work involved will tax employees too much. In Albany, N. Y., the experimental area for the plan, the coupon accounts ran from one to six per cent as great as cash accounts.

ACTION AGAINST LANDLORDS IS PLANNED

The enforcement section of the Office of Price Administration is prepared to take action against landlords in Rockingham and Strafford Counties who fail or refuse to register their rental houses or apartments by January 15, 1943.

The rent regulation for housing accommodations other than hotels and rooming houses provides that failure to register within 45 days after the regulation becomes effective is a violation and subjects the landlord to severe penalties. The rent registration comes under the enforcement provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Landlords have been given ample time in which to register their property and there have been 4,000 units registered to date. There are an estimated 16,000 rental units in this defense-rental area.

The deadline for registration of hotels and rooming houses is also January 15, 1943.

Henry J. Morgenthau Sends Greetings

Henry J. Morgenthau, Jr., the Secretary of the Treasury, sent a letter to the Newmarket News this week addressed to "All War Savings Workers." He extended New Year's greetings and set forth the record of achievement of the War Savings staff.

His letter in part follows:

"Our War Savings program is voluntary in the best sense of the word. No one has been forced to buy these bonds. There has been no coercion and no compulsion beyond that which flows from the deep sense of obligation which every patriotic American feels for the welfare and safety of our country.

"The work of education and promotion, too, has been carried on by hundreds of thousands of devoted volunteers from every walk of life.

"I know of no better way to tell you of my gratitude and appreciation for what you are doing than to remind you of what has been accomplished. Since last January nearly 9 billion dollars worth of

THE NEWMARKET FRONT

The Ray Wood Heel company which moved to Newmarket a few weeks ago after being burned out in Exeter, had a real scare last Saturday morning, when shavings in the chute caught fire. Great puffs of smoke came from the pipes, but the Newmarket Fire department had the situation well in hand in a short time.

He and A. J. Turcotte arranged a children's movie recently with tin cans the admission tickets. Mr. Berry appeared before the children to explain how to prepare the cans for salvaging, and where their mothers might send future cans.

The cans have failed to come in since that time. One woman called the News this week with a solution a bit radical but radical meth-

CONCORD, Jan. 15—New Hampshire poultrymen were told last week by John D. Jameson, state price officer of OPA, that sales of shell eggs purchased solely for hatching purposes now are exempted from price control.

("This exception was made because it has become evident that eggs of the type and quality necessary for hatching purposes cannot be obtained in sufficient quantity unless removed from all price curbs," Jameson commented.

Sales of eggs for other purposes still are under price ceilings, however, he pointed out.

The Secretary of Agriculture has determined that poultry and egg output must be stepped up for the war effort. New Hampshire has been asked to produce nine per cent more eggs and poultry this year than was produced in 1942. Other states also have been asked for increased production of these two products.

OPA's exemption of shell eggs for hatching is considered necessary because such goals cannot be attained without a corresponding increase in production of baby chicks poults and other newly hatched poultry.

High School Notes

Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey has been conferring with senior boys relative to entering the University of New Hampshire in February, an accelerated class opened to seniors who qualify.

They may enter before receiving their diplomas under this system which is particularly beneficial to underdraft age boys. Under the present policy of selective service, youths who have completed a full college year before reaching draft age are eligible for further deferment to continue their studies in certain scientific fields.

Even one semester of college work produces possible material for an officer candidate school. Seventeen-year-old boys who are attending the university this spring, until March 15, may apply for enlistment in Class V-L, Naval Reserve, in Marine corps, Officer Candidates class.

While it appears that no local boy is ready to take advantage of the February class, it is hoped that the school will be represented in the May 25 class.

For three years before the first war he was in China, Asiatic ports, Manila and Japan. He learned to hate the Japanese people even a quarter of a century ago, claiming that they were underhanded and dirty. He does believe, however, that America has underestimated them for they have a maniacal love of their emperor.

Chief Langley told of hiring rickshaws from the Japanese coolies who would mutter insults trying to provoke a fight. Then the matter would be taken to high Japanese authorities and settled through the ambassador's office. It was often necessary to get out of a rickshaw after it was hired to avoid trouble.

The Chinese, on the other hand, Chief Langley found to be honest friends. He told of some Chinese rickshaw coolies who recognized him after a two years' absence. With a nicker tip one had all the service he wanted from any of them.

Chief Langley would like to go back for he feels that he can still fill a shore job and release some younger man for sea duty. If he is called, it will be the first shore duty in his long career.

NEW COAL PRICES ARE PERMITTED

CONCORD, Jan. 15—A new maximum price regulation permits coal dealers to increase prices charged for anthracite coal delivered on or after today, John D. Jameson, State Price Officer of OPA, reported to price panels of local rationing boards in a memorandum sent last night from state OPA headquarters.

For most dealers the price increases will be from 35 cents to 55 cents per ton, depending upon the type and grade of hard coal involved. Rationing boards have the formula which should be used by each dealer to determine the new price ceiling in his particular case.

Jameson points out that the new regulation does not permit an increase in the ceiling price of soft coal, however.

BUY WAR STAMPS TODAY!

War Bonds have been purchased. A year ago it would have seemed fantastic to think of 50 million people as owners of United States government securities. Yet, that is the number who have bought and are buying War Savings Bonds. More than 24 million of these are buying bonds regularly on payroll savings plans by setting aside nearly 8½ per cent of their pay every pay day for this purpose.

"To my mind, it is deeply significant that 50 million individuals have become shareholders in their buy the products of American industry in the years after the war is won. Equally significant is the spiritual mobilization which these figures reflect. War Bonds have become in a real sense the common bond of the American people.

"To you who have made this possible, I send my heartiest best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,
HENRY MORGENTHAU, JR.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Local clubs, lodges and organizations are all complaining over reduced attendance because of the dim-out and now that gasoline is blacking-out the use of the automobile altogether, neighborhood parties and meetings will become the vogue.

Fire Chief Fred Lavalley hopes that Newmarket people remember that four blasts of the fire gong four times is a black out. This will be preceded by three blasts, four times, the signal for all civilian defense personnel to go to their posts.

The response to Mr. Smith's offer to start a Nursery school for pre-school children that mothers might be freed to work in the factory is small. Mr. Smith stated this week however, that plans for the school are advancing and women interested in work, if their children can be properly cared for, should contact him.

Notices have been posted in some Navy Yard offices that the building will be kept at 65 degrees. Ski pants and sweaters are therefore becoming the vogue.

The Kingman jewelry business has been closed out. Large signs have been posted in the windows for several days announcing that all jewelry was being sold at reduced price. This is Newmarket's oldest business at one stand which has passed out of the town life. The drug store, a much later addition, is continuing.

Have you had your chimney cleaned lately? One man in town wishes that he had tended to this chore. Despite the fact that he had no fire for five days, a stiff wind whipped down through the ramifying flues, found a spark and started a smudge which the fire department had to put out. No serious damage was done, but there is a constant threat of danger there.

The days are getting longer. Today is 14 minutes longer than New Year's Day. We draw the shades later and raise them earlier, too, for the dim-out. Sun rises today at 8:11 and sets at 5:36. Our curtains go up at twenty minutes of eight and go down tonight at about 7 o'clock.

The tin can collection in Newmarket is lagging and these cans are desperately needed by the government for salvage, Salvage chair-

The demolishing of the old mill which has been underway for months, is slowing down a bit, although an occasional load of bricks is sent out.

The new ruling received by the State Office of Price Administration from Washington states that driving to Grange and Farm Bureau business meeting is classified as necessary driving, while driving to a Grange or Farm Bureau meeting for social purposes is "pleasure driving" and therefore not permissible.

It looks as if the granges and farm bureaus will have to become even more serious in putting on worthwhile programs. We hope they will still permit the social hour with a program, visiting and refreshments to follow. The stiff mental diet digests better with sauce.

Lack Of Practice Brings Defeat

Despite a lack of team practice during Christmas vacation, Newmarket put up a good fight against Epping recently in a return game at the local Town Hall. The score was 25-18.

Girls Drop Game To Hampton Team

The Newmarket High school girls basketball team lost its first game of the season last week to Hampton after holding the lead for the first three periods of the game. The final score was 22 to 17.

The local girls went into the game with very little practice and put up a surprisingly good game, playing hard, fast ball. They were pitted against an all veteran team who made fair competition. Most of the opponents' scoring was on fouls.

Audrey Phalen was high scorer for the evening with 10 points and Mary March came second. Hampton picked up and passed the Newmarket girls in the last quarter when their defense work let down.

The local line up was: Audrey Phalen, center; Mary March, right forward; Frances Sklarski, left forward; guards, Jeanne Jordan, Marie Schanda, Theresa Fillion, Joyce West.
