

OVER THE TOP IN WAR BOND DRIVE

BOND BUYERS TAG BOMBS AT RALLY

Scores of Newmarket residents are sending their compliments to Hitler and Hirohito.

But unfortunately for the Nazis and "velly dishon'ble" Japs the compliments are in the form of bombs that the citizens paid for via the purchase of War Bonds.

The plan was accepted with enthusiasm Sunday evening at a War Bond rally attended by 550, at the Star theatre.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church and vice chairman of the Newmarket 4-H War Loan committee.

There was a large subscription for the purchase of bonds after three World War II veterans told of the bitter fight the Allies are waging with the enemy. The speakers were Pfc. Joseph Bennett, USMC, of Newmarket, Pfc. Frank M. Schanda, USMC, of Newmarket.

Town Over-Subscribes Quota By $31,835.77

Newmarket has exceeded its quota of $100,000 in the Fourth Loan Drive by $31,835.77, Mr. Stevens announced yesterday. The total sales to date have amounted to $131,835.77. The individual sales have reached $79,335.77, surpassing its quota by $4,335.77.

Every service boy and girl now has one or more stars beside his name, showing that each has been dedicated one or more bonds.

The citizens of Newmarket are gratified with the success of the campaign as many of the communities in the state are lagging their respective bond quotas.

$6,140 Raised By Schools In Bond Drive

$6,140 has been netted by the Newmarket public schools in the 4th War Loan drive to date, it was announced by Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey, chairman of the schools.

The individual schools and the amount raised by each are as follows:
High School	4,000
Stone school	220
Primary school	920

$100,000 Fire Levels Farmington Shoe Building

From The Rochester Observer

A $100,000 blaze destroyed the old Dole-Waldron shoe factory, a four-story brick building with a two-story ell at Main and East Green streets in Farmington, on Tuesday night. The building was leased by the Rondeau Shoe company which operates two other large factories in the town. The Farmington fire department assisted by Rochester and Dover firemen battled the fire which was brought under control shortly before nine o'clock.

Fire Chief Andrew Foss stated that he was at the fire station at 5 o'clock when a boy shouted fire. Looking out, he noticed the nearby building a mass of flames. While the local alarm was being sounded he called Chief Gordon Cushing in Rochester who sent up Engine 5 and a crew of men.

Chief Foss pumped from the Cocheco River, as the water supply there was low, and kept several streams on the large building.

The building was used for storage purposes and also for making pasteboard boxes, said Supt. Joseph Connors of the Rondeau company. The fifteen people who were employed had left the building just before the fire broke out.

In addition to the valuable machinery used in the manufacture of boxes, there was also a large amount of machinery stored on the first floor, the property of the United Shoe Machinery corporation which was badly damaged.

Embers fell on the roofs of the home of William Lord on Crowley street and Charles E. Palmer of McCormick street, but they were extinguished before making much headway.

Furniture was removed from the home of Frank Brady, Main street, but the building escaped damage.

Members of the Farmington Red Cross and Motor Corps served sandwiches and hot coffee to the firemen. Restaurants also aided in supplying refreshments for the firefighters.

Smoke could be seen from a distance of 15 miles when the fire first started. Firemen were handicapped by the low temperature, 10 degrees above zero, and ice formed on their clothing and on the burning building.

Dr. Chas. Heaton To Speak At Advent Church Feb. 17th

From The Rochester Observer

Dr. Charles H. Heaton will be the speaker at the Monthly Bible Conference to be held in the Advent Christian church of Rochester on Thursday, February 17th at 7:30 P. M.

Dr. Heaton is pastor of the First Baptist church of New Kensington, Pa., and instructor in the Keystone School of the Bible of Pittsburgh. He is a native of Michigan. Before his call to the ministry he took normal training and taught in the public schools of Kent County, Mich., for two years. He then studied at several other colleges receiving his doctorate degree from Wheaton College.

During the first World War Dr. Heaton served as chaplain of the 10th Field Artillery at Camp Custer. He is the author of numerous tracts and pamphlets and contributions from his pen have been published in many of the leading religious periodicals. Last year his most recent book "Revealed Knowledge" came off the press.

The subject of Dr. Heaton's message will be "The Face of Jesus Christ." The meeting is sponsored by the New England Fellowship and the local cooperating churches. A cordial invitation is extended to all to participate in the service and receive the blessing that will be theirs as Dr. Heaton opens up the Word of God.

Newmarket POLISH CLUB Notes

LAVOIE FORFEITS CHAMPIONSHIP TO "PAP"

The cribbage championship of the Polish club has again changed hands. About a month ago, Leo Lavoie of the U. S. Navy won the title from "Pap" Jablonski. After his leave was ended, and he returned to his station at Banana River, Fla., he decided to forfeit his championship to "Pappy." This was related in a letter which the new champ received this week.

It follows:
Dear "Pap":

Seeing as I can't be around to defend my championship I won so easily from you, I would like to forfeit it to you. Good luck, champ!

Give my regards to the boys and thank the club for sending me the "Newmarket News." I'm always looking forward to receiving it. Regards to all.

NEW CHAMP DEFEATED THREE TIMES IN ROW

The transferring of the club cribbage championship brings to mind a rather humorous incident which occurred at the club room recently.

Louis Filion, a club member himself, met "Pappy" in a cribbage tourney, with the agreement that three games would be played, the player netting two out of three winning the tournament.

Louie won the first two games, and, since this made him the winner of the tournament, donned his hat and coat and prepared to leave. "Pap," however, begged for another chance. So Mr. Filion obligingly sat at the table again and the two, played a third game.

Mr. Filion ran away with "Pap" (a direct hit between the eyes), scoring up three consecutive defeats for the champ.

We suggest that you eat more Wheaties, "Pappy" and try to fight harder to keep up your title.

MONTHLY MEETING SUNDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Polish club will be held Sunday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. All members are requested to attend and give President Zych their full support. Refreshments will be served.

PERSONALS

We of the Polish club do not want to forget Stella Homiak and Helen Jablonski. The two girls faithfully come to the club room each Monday evening, fold 45 copies of Newmarket News, put them in envelopes, address, seal, and stamp them for mailing to the club members in the service.

This work takes the girls a good couple of hours to do, and we are sure that our service members appreciate it immensely. Keep up the good work, girls!

It is surprising the number of War Stamps club members purchase each week. The members like to drink, but certainly do not forget to buy stamps. Steward Bolis Wycik is very glad to sell them and always has a large supply on hand.

Cpl. A. Renaud (better known as "Doodles") of Fort Bliss, Texas, sent the club three cute poems on post cards, entitled "The Kicker," "You'r Drunk" and "You're Sober." We wonder if "Doodles" can still recite "The Face on the Barroom Floor" or "Alleghany Joe" as he once could.

Compliments are still coming in on the fine work Carrol Stevens did in painting the clubroom. We can recommend his ability to blend colors and smear them on most favorably.

Steward Bolis Wycik still can't figure out why people insist on buying drinks the last few minutes before closing time. Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights Bolis had five helpers and still did not have time to take a drag on his faithful

4-H ACTIVITIES

Robert E. Branch was elected the new president of the Happy Workers 4-H club at a recent meeting. The other officers are: Bruce E. Branch, vice president; David L. Crook, secretary; Donald E. Crook, treasurer; Edmund P. Branch, librarian. It was announced that a club Valentine party will be held Saturday, Feb. 12.

The club held a stuffed deer hunt Saturday afternoon, at the farm of Mrs. Emily Crook, the club leader.

The boys made bows and arrows and started off on the run, following a marked trail through the woods.

Apples were hung on one tree on the trail for the hunters. Bruce E. Branch shot the "deer" through the heart, and was awarded a war stamp.

Corn chowder and crackers were served when the boys returned.

The members wish to thank Mr. Lantz, pastor of the Community church, for transportation to the Crook farm.

I. C. E. TO HOLD BOWLING PARTY TONIGHT

Rev. Chesley S. Lantz, leader of Intermediate Christian Endeavor, led the meeting Sunday with a discussion on the subject, "Building the Kingdom of God."

A committee consisting of Harvey Russell, Peggy West and Douglas Webb was appointed to make arrangements for a bowling party, to be held this evening at Dover.

CARL LUNDHOLM STRESSES WILL TO WIN

From The Rochester Observer

Forty members of Spaulding High's 1943 football squad were guests at a banquet in the high school cafeteria last Thursday evening which was attended by more than a hundred sport-interested citizens.

A delicious dinner consisting of grapefruit juice, roast chicken, stuffing, mashed potato, peas, celery, vegetable-fruit salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake were served by the cheer leaders. The staff of the cafeteria prepared the meal. Carl Lundholm was the 1st speaker introduced by chairman Rumazza. He spoke of following Rochester's progress in sports and congratulated the school in obtaining a coach of Mirey's character and qualifications. Then turning to the squad he stressed the importance of "The Will to Win." Lundholm spoke in a forthright manner, which must have deeply impressed the youths as well as their elders who were present. More comment on his talk may be found in "Along the Main Stem" this week.

Chief Justice, football coach at the University followed Lundholm's remarks and told of the importance of "fighting to win. To illustrate his point Justice referred to several incidents during the past year at the University. "Chick" brought out the fact that a lad has to take plenty of bumps in any game. The thing to do is to give a few yourself, he said. Win; think you are going to win; fight to win. That's the spirit that makes good soldiers as well as good football players.

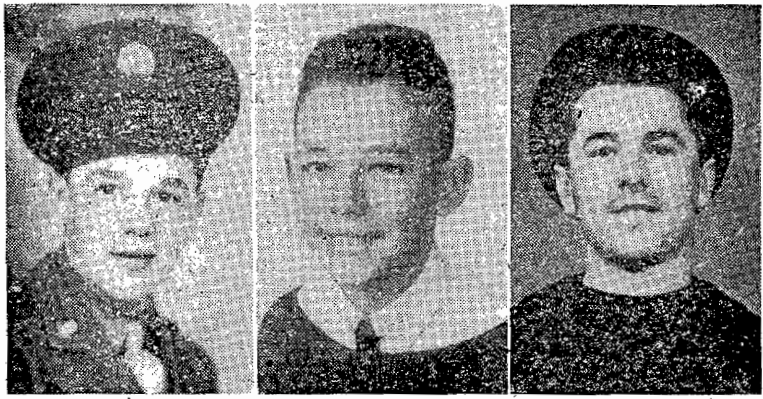

Coach Mirey introduced the 17 lettermen of the 1943 squad and chairman Rumazza presented letterman Joblonski with a wrist watch in recognition of his being chosen "all-state."

The next part of the program took place in the auditorium of the school where movies of UNH football games were shown.

The banquet was arranged by Edward Rumazza and a committee composed of Edmund Marcoux, Edward Joblonski, Charles Lennon Harry Notkin and Joe Otis.

Writes of Adventures of "Three Musketeers"

Pfc. Gerard Mongeon Camil Mongeon Arthur Mongeon, Jr.

Mrs. Arthur Mongeon of Main street has received a letter from S-Sgt. C. Cugini, which describes the adventures of the "three musketeers," one of whom is her son, Pfc. Gerard Mongeon. They are both stationed at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

The letter follows:
Feb. 1, 1944

Dear Mrs. Mongeon,

Mr. association with your boy has been a long and happy acquaintance.

I have been neglecting to write you these few lines, having you know of the good times we are experiencing together and our visits to the small towns like Sparta, Tomah, LaCrosse, and hopes of getting to Chicago some week-end. I'm almost certain that you perhaps know that the "three musketeers", Clark, Forte and Mongeon, can raint the red of any town and even change the color of the rainbow to look ashamed and start laughing.

They are the life of the party, the talk of the company, and the best of the lot. All with one exception: K. P. makes them sick.

And who would blame anyone, with pots, pans, dishes, knives, forks, spoons, garbage cans, scrubbing boards and three meals staring you in the face before your day is finally ended.

My most fondest wishes and kindest regards,
Remaining yours,
S-SGT. C. CUGINI

To Raffle German Helmet Wednesday

The Fourth War Loan committee of Newmarket announces that the Captured German helmet on display in the window of the N. H. Gas and Electric Company office will be raffled at the Star Theatre Wednesday evening, Feb. 16.

Anyone who purchased a War Bond in Newmarket between Monday, February 7, and Tuesday, February 15, will receive a chance to win the helmet.

Eggplant should be peeled thin and stored in a cool, but not too dry, place to avoid dehydration.

Army and Navy Tests At High School March 15

The third Army-Navy College Qualifying Test for the Army Specialized Training Program and Navy College Program V-1 which will be given throughout the country on Wednesday, March 15, at 9:00 a. m., will be administered at the Newmarket High school. A leaflet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at the school. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are high school graduates or who will be graduated by July 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both the Army and Navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The Army Specialized Training Program is aimed to meet the Army's needs for specialists and technicians in certain critical fields of study. Academic work is at the college level at government expense.

The Navy College Program also enables students to continue academic training at government expense. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Navy.

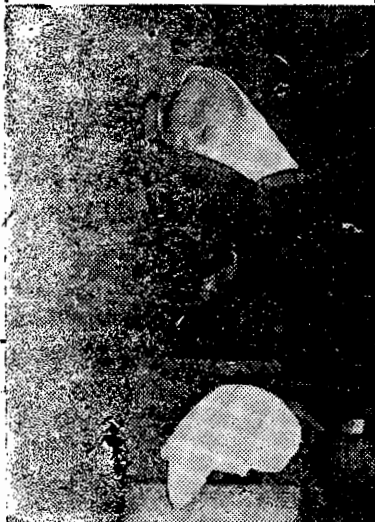

Mrs. Ann A. Meserve

Mrs. Ann A. Meserve, 84, widow of Edwin Meserve, died Saturday evening at the Delano Convalescent Home. She was born in Atham, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Whitaker.

Mrs. Meserve leaves six sons, Albert Littlefield of California; Eugene Littlefield of Missouri; Harold Meserve of Newmarket; Howard Meserve of Lynn, Mass.; Ernest Meserve of the U. S. Army in Washington; and Walter Meserve of Salem; a daughter, Mrs. Belle White of Independence, Mass.; and three sisters, Mrs. Carine Berry of Conway; Mrs. Claire Barlow and Mrs. Zynith Robinson of Haverhill, Mass.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Brown and Trotter Funeral Home.

Sewing Session Planned At Guild Meeting

The Community Guild met recently in the vestry of the Community church, with the new president, Mrs. Ruth Dalton, presiding. Mrs. Annie Colby led the devotions. The budget for 1944 was approved by the members. It was announced that an all-day sewing session will be held February 15 to make supplies for the Exeter hospital, under the supervision of Mrs. Lillian Wright, sewing chairman. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon.

Dr. Strohback To Address Women's Club Tomorrow

Dr. Rolla Strohback, Rockingham county health officer, will speak at the February meeting of the Newmarket Women's club, to be held tomorrow afternoon in the vestry of the Community church. His subject will be "Public Health Problems in Wartime."

Miss Ruth McDaniel and Miss Dorothy Kline, instructors in the University of New Hampshire music departments, will give a program of Russian music, preparing their numbers with explanatory remarks.

Miss McDaniel plays the piano and clarinet; Miss Kline the piano and accordion. They will include compositions by Rachmaninoff, Moussorgsky, Shostakovich, Rubenstein, Prokoffiev, Tchaikovsky, and traditional folk airs.

Both young women are talented artists. Miss McDaniel is from Portland, Me., and holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

The hostesses will include Mrs. Max Baker, Mrs. Jane Bouras, Mrs. Harold Baril, Mrs. Robert Hazeltine, Mrs. Gertrude Knight, Mrs. Bertha Tolchinsky, Mrs. Eva Willey, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. Ruth Bograd and Mrs. Royal Smith.

Anita Duquette Married To Exeter Sailor

Miss Anita Duquette, daughter of Aimee Duquette of Main street, Newmarket, was married to John V. Bernier, Jr., USN, last week at New London, Conn.

Mr. Bernier left Exeter High school in his senior year to enlist in the Navy, and is now attending the Submarine Diesel Engine school at New London. After a six weeks' course, he will graduate and will then be assigned to duty aboard a submarine with the rating of motor master mechanic, third class.

The marriage ceremony was performed by a Navy chaplain. Miss Duquette attended the Newmarket schools, and is a native of this town.

The couple will reside in New London until Mr. Bernier graduates.

Mrs. Gale was, before her marriage, Miss Lottie L. Lunt, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lunt of Newport, Maine. Mr. Gale was born in Whitefield, N. H., and while a very young man engaged in the carpentering trade and has now become one of the most successful contractors and builders of this part of the state.

He has constructed houses and buildings in many different localities, and holds the record of having built a modern house in North Stratford in seven days.

When the Gales came to East Rochester several years ago the Glendon House was a forlorn and not too attractive looking hotel, commenting to show the strain of age and wear. Mr. Gale planned a modern and convenient apartment house, and a garage. Living in the apartments are besides the Gales, two daughters, a granddaughter, and a great granddaughter, little Joan Callahan. The two daughters are Mrs. Mona Kay, and Mrs. Rera Goodwin, the grandsons are Robert, and John Kay, and the granddaughter is Mrs. Olive Kay Callahan. There are six great grandchildren.

Mrs. Gale is prominent in church work in the Bethany Methodist church, is a member of both the Rebekahs and the Pythian Sisters, and Mr. Gale belongs to the Masonic, Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and Pythian Lodges.

They are much liked and respected in our community and the good wishes of all are extended toward them.

A FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

From The Rochester Observer

Dedicated to John Kay
(Somewhere on Foreign Soil)
Dear Soldier:
You know all about your grandfather and grandmother Gale, don't you, and what a wonderful couple they are, and you'd like to know more about this fiftieth wedding anniversary of theirs. Yesterday was the day, and you will remember, the seventh of February and a happy day it was.

them, and in the midst this poem:
Dear Wife:
Fifty years ago today,
I took you for my wife.
We've struggled along together,
And had a happy life.
And now instead of starting over
For fifty years more,
Let's continue on together
As we have done before.

I saw them yesterday afternoon in Rochester, stepping out to the movies, and they didn't look a bit as if they had been married fifty years. You know when two people are really happily married they never quite lose that youthful look and they were swinging along as pretty as you please.

Now please accept this little gift, You've earned it without the thrills,
It's not much for what you've done,
But it's fifty-five dollar bills.
And it was fifty of them, really and truly.

I said when I met them, "I'm coming down, if I may, to have a little interview with you folks," and they both said "Come, any time."
I've been down there this morning and had the nicest time with them. You know the comfortable homelike living room with all the pictures of you kids, and the collection of miniature dogs your grandmother likes so well. It's all there just the way it was when you left and will be when you get home.

They get so much out of life together, those two. It does my heart good to see them. They showed me a piece of the wedding cake they had on their marriage day, crumbled but still sweet as is their own living, and your grandfather brought out an old diary written the year they were starting out in life together.

I saw the beautiful wedding cake all gold letters, and roses that looked as real as if they'd come from an old fashioned garden. You see the folks insisted that they shouldn't cut it just yet, and I'm so glad they didn't for it was lovely to look at. There were boxes of chocolates, and I don't know how many cards, two rockers from the daughters, and guess what else. That original grandpop of yours had covered a palm leaf fan with five dollar bills and I mean COVERED it for there were fifty of

Oh, I suppose I'll get a rise out of some of the young people when I say that this is real romance, not the mamby pamby stuff that's on the screen, where the hero and heroine in real life keep the divorce courts busy, but love that endures through storm and sunshine thru' sickness and thru' death. The love of good men and women whose lives are spent in homemaking and the building of their children's characters.
Too bad you couldn't be home John, to share this great occasion but the time will come when boys like you will come home to families like your own, and until then, God bless you.

MILDRED M. SPILLER.

Bond Buyers Tag Bombs For Enemy At Rally Sunday

and Sgt. Armand Beaudoin, USA, of Manchester. The Newmarket youths were honorably discharged after contracting malaria on Guadalcanal.

Charles H. Stevens, chairman of the Promotion and Publicity committee, officiated at the drawing of four autographed stamp albums with the signatures of Judy Garland, Betty Grable, Ginny Simms and Cary Grant. An opportunity to win the albums was obtained through the purchase of a bond. The winners were William E. Neal, Alfred Baillargeon, Louis P. Eilion and Mrs. Velma Seaman.

The Newmarket Marines displayed a hammock which gives protection against malaria, in order to show the people what their bombs are buying.
A Negro quartet from Grenier Field, Manchester, was scheduled to entertain, but was unable to do so because of illness.
It was announced Monday by the committee that Newmarket has gone "over the top" in the drive, with a total purchase of over $150,000 in bonds.

WAR BONDS in Action

American guns of all types have undergone hundreds of improvements since the early days of the war. Here's a Browning .50 calibre machine gun on a mount, improvised especially for fighting in the South Pacific.
There have been no changes in War Bonds except, in size. Buy more of them during the Fourth War Loan.

THANKS!

The Rochester Elks wish to express its appreciation to those merchants and friends who, by their hearty cooperation, are making this year's Elks Charity Ball advertising program the largest and most outstanding since the inception of Elks annual charity balls years ago. We also extend our appreciation to the ROCHESTER OBSERVER for their very generous donation of space.

FRANK WARREN,
General Chairman.

ELKS' CHARITY

The Elks Charity Fund is used exclusively to support the good works of the Lodge. No report of names of recipients is ever given out—even to members. Charity money is distributed by the secretary and treasurer of the Lodge with approval of the five members of a Relief Committee.

Individuals may contribute to the fund. Albert D. Jones and Charles Jenness have, for many years, been regular contributors to the fund.

The Rochester Elks Charity Fund is used for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. The fund makes many contributions to the various wartime agencies. Through the fund acute distress of families not eligible for regular relief is alleviated.

The Elks' Charity Fund program furnishes each year, as part of its regular program, the following items:

- Thanksgiving Baskets.
- Christmas Baskets.
- Children's Clothes and Shoes.
- Meal Tickets.
- Coal, Wood and Oil in Emergencies.

HISTORY OF ROCHESTER ELKS

Rochester Lodge No. 1393, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was installed from Dover Lodge in June, 1920, and Thomas A. Baril was the first exalted ruler.

At first the lodge occupied quarters in what is now known as the Michael Block. In 1926, however, the present home on South Main street was purchased from the Albert Wallace estate.

Extensive renovations were made to provide lodge and social rooms; two years ago the entire basement was converted into an attractive and modern grill.

The progressiveness of the lodge during its 22-year history has been due in large measure to the untiring efforts of its officers.

Those who have served as exalted rulers since the lodge was installed are as follows:

Malcolm Magoon, Lucien Langelier, Wallace G. Shaw, J. Ralph Emerson, Reuben Weinstein, George T. Rogers, Howard Becker, George J. Sanfacon, Frank C. Warren, John McDuffee, George Lanolx, Harry H. Meader, Albert P. Connell, John McInerney, George Y. Emerson, Leonard Wentworth, Harry Johnson, Earl Priestly, Justin A. Emery, J. Levi Meader, Dr. Louis L. Gilman and Thomas A. Baril.

ELKS' PHILOSOPHY

The philosophy of the Order of Elks was well within the cultural tradition of our country's founders and of the thousands of later Europeans who were then seeking here a refuge. The Order emphasized the right of personal liberty to be exercised and enjoyed in representative form of government. This cultural tradition, derived from the founding fathers, and the principle of personal liberty had their source in western Christendom out of which came the early and later settlers of our country, all of whom firmly held to this common tradition despite sharp confessional differences.

There were other fraternities in our country when Elksdom appeared upon the stage of action, but none other so perfectly anticipated the expanding social demands of the spirit of American democracy. The Elks did not classify men by nationality, sect or section; they accepted all Americans, native-born and naturalized, provided they were of good character and professed a belief in God. They gave full and generous response to the appeal of Lamar, a distinguished Southern orator of that day, who said, "My countrymen, know one another and you will love one another."

BROTHERLY LOVE: Brotherly love, as practiced by the Elks, is indeed the perfect solvent for sectarian, sectional and racial consciousness, the banes of national unity. This ideal Elks have zealously and patriotically pursued.

PORT CITY FIVE SLAUGHTERS SPAULDING RAIDERS

From The Rochester Observer

Spaulding's stout-hearted court quintet was torpedoed and foun-tered by a Portsmouth clipper coterie that outnumbered them 2-1 and outfouled them very nearly 3-1, last Friday evening at the high school gymnasium, the final scoring 80-41. In the preliminary game, the Portsmouth Jayvees were also victorious, 37-19.

The Raiders came out on the floor all steamed up to play their best game, and held the Clippers to a louse 7-9 first quarter that proved their ability man for man to give Portsmouth a run for their money. With Spaulding in the lead in about the sixth minute of play, Jerry Lachance was fouled out, and Joblonski shifted to fill his place at guard with Arlin in at forward. Jobie's heart was not in the assignment, and for a time he tried to cover both ends of the floor before settling down to one position.

Portsmouth played their usual defense, which consists in preventing the opponents from shooting at all costs short of mayhem. The impartial and alert officiating disconcerted them plenty, but they admitted their acquaintance with the rules by their prompt understanding of the fouls called on them. Cavaretta and Crompton with field goals, and the few free throws they were able to convert, put the Clippers in the lead 9-7 at the quarter. One field goal by Ken Flood, and five foul shots divided among Jobie, Jerry and Phil Kelley accounted for the Raiders' tally.

During the second period, Lizio's second team slowly wore down Spaulding's reserve, but still did not crush them overwhelmingly. Phil Kelley found the bucket twice and swished the leather through the net. Ken Flood shook free of grappling Clipper hacking for another basket, Jobe made good on three fouls, and Duquette and Kelley on one each. Meanwhile Smith with six ringers had done much to put the Clippers ahead 29-18.

During the first division of the second half, the Clipper corvettes continued the job of dismantling the un-reinforced Mirey flotilla, like a bunch of destroyers baiting a battle cruiser. Kelley and Flood picked up the Raiders' points from the floor, while Jobie put on a dazzling exhibition from the free throw line looping four through the rim. During the entire game, Jabber made nine successful conversions out of eleven attempts from the foul line. Cavaretta and O'Leary individualistic Clipper stars each settled three beautiful shots through the net.

The final quarter was much like the second and third for Spaulding, the boys managing to pick up 11 markers. O'Leary put on the razzle-dazzle with seven tosses through the bucket before fouling out, and the salvos of the Clippers thundered out for 29 rounds.

Spaulding collected 19 points by the foul route opened up by Portsmouth, which Sport City writers claim is some sort of a record, while Portsmouth collected eight. Also a matter of record, and a fact which should not have escaped even those seated wherever they do sit, is that the Raiders in scoring 41 points against the Clippers exceeded by a margin of 8 points the previous record set by the Grenier Field officers for Clipper opponents. And another fact is that Spaulding ranked fifth in points scored by N. H. teams playing Friday night, eclipsing in defeat many teams that won without succeeding in collecting so many points.

O'Leary and Hand fouled for Portsmouth, but with 12 players to divide up 29 fouls the Clippers could afford to be a little ish-kabibble about the rules. That would have fouled out seven men, we figure and left Portsmouth faced with the necessity of playing the coach and the teachers if they had started with no more players than Mike

Only one player on the Red and White tea fouled out. If you are to look up what this department said about the Dover River and a certain O'Neil, you will know how we feel about Jerry Lachance. As we said then, we say now, he is as good a sportsman as any player, and they don't come any better as guards in any coterie that we've seen cavorting about the hoop courts. But the associations of that rackets still are in some people's minds, and doubtless the officials were watching him closely. And Portsmouth, remembering his brilliant shooting on their home floor in addition to his outstanding defense, were ready to make things look good in any close situation. However, this is purely opinion, and not a criticism of the officials who called them as they saw them, and were certainly impartial.

Speaking of facts and opinions give us a good, heartfelt and sincere opinion any day in exchange for a column full of dead and lifeless facts. We don't revere the written word so much that we forget the living truth!

It was amusing how careful Jobie became after Jerry fouled out, and there were three called on the Jabber. What we'd give to see a Lizio player in a like spot! Bob Kennedy claims that the Port City mentor told his boys to go into the last half pure and simple as little lambs and EVEN LET SPAULDING PLAYERS SHOOT FOR THE BASKET. If that isn't a giveaway, what could be! Portsmouth's opponents haven't scored because Clipper hacking and blocking haven't let them. With players enough to nullify for all practical intents and purposes the four foul rule, the salty lads from the Piscataqua have been able to rub it in by such methods.

At one time, there was agitation to limit substitutions in college football, so that schools with greater reserves couldn't soften up less fortunate opponents with shock troop methods. We wonder if some such agitation won't be forthcoming in high school basketball. In boxing, there would be much booing if a couple of substitutes were sent in from one corner to soften up the contender so the champ could really flay him to ribbons. Is it any more sporting in basketball to sick a dozen men onto five, in relays, so as to pyramid scandalous scores? Couldn't coaches agree at the start on reserves? Wouldn't it be just as creditable for a strong school to send out two separate teams to play on different floors and win on even footing, or lose on even footing?

Just now, there is a tendency to boom the do-or-die spirit in high school sports. There is still a question in our minds if it isn't just as well to leave a few unmaimed un-crippled boys for the Army and Navy to draw on—not to burn them out in formative years.

Speaking of spanking Spaulding, Bob Kennedy in his Sport City column confesses to a distaste for the rules in the Association Handbook to which all accredited New Hampshire officials are bound. Why not change, or advocate a change in the rules, rather than discredit alert referees for "over-officious officiating" and rather than leave us to wonder by also preferring the serious charge of not being from Portsmouth against Smith and Paddon. We remember, with a shudder the good old days when Franklin referees openly bet on the home town team before a game, and recalling the Portsmouth Newburyport football game, we do wonder if some people really expect the referee and the umpire to wear colors instead of black and white.

That old alliteration, spanking Spaulding, is a mouldy chestnut that goes well with the time honored "Clippers Sink" headline that we see dusted off every now and then in connection with Portsmouth sports. But what should have been captioned was that wheeze merely looking to see if a Spaulding player had the ball in his hands. It's first we knew O'Leary was blind and used both hands to look with. If it's really true, we are willing to contribute to a fund to buy the boy a Seeing Eye dog. He is, or was, a grand player, although more of a star than a teammate. As to his not being graceful, we wonder if Bob Kennedy has looked in the book lately and remembers there is just one exception to the body contact rule, and that exempts touching the opponent's hand below the wrist in grasping for the ball? No, Bob, as long as we don't gripe over Lachance being fouled out because he is a little bowlegged, why should you holler that the referees pushed the Clippers to the limit. The FACT is, both teams were held to a clean sort of play.

Still, looking at figures, which aren't supposed to lie, (no more do we), 29 fouls might mean 29 baskets Rochester was prevented from trying. Figuring thirty to forty per cent, which is pretty close to the Spaulding recorded performance, that would have given the Raiders about 20 more points.

Although Fats Morrissey, the blundering behemoth of the Clipper courtiers, seemed to be the battering ram, or Merrimac, of the Port City crew, he didn't manage to scuttle any of the more rapid Raiders with his lunging lurches. But two Clippers did collide near the jump circle in a wild charge that left one of them floored.

Anyway, to sum it all up, Phil Kelley did a fine job with 18 points to his credit, very close to O'Leary's 22, and Jobie caused a stir that brought compliments from officials, opponents, and Portsmouth writers by his remarkable foul shooting. Duquette did a fine piece of work substituting for Jerry, and Ralph Hubbard has been steadily shaping up as a topnotch guard ever since Mike Mirey discovered the lad's flair for game competition.

It is rumored that the powers-to-be, having noted the ragged appearance of the Spaulding suits during the warm-up, have decided that it is not too late to provide proper jackets and sweat pants for the team. The boys certainly deserve the equipment. They never relaxed their effort in this game any more than against Dover. In the Dover game, they always had a very exciting fighting chance, but against Portsmouth from the third quarter, victory was remote. It takes real heart to keep on under such circumstances.

In fact, not only for public appearances in games, but also in practice, proper sweat suits should be provided. The usual price for going out for basketball at Spaulding is a season long cough and intermittent cold. Sweatshirts and pants were long ago designed to overcome such disabilities.

Hi-School Gossip

by Bonnie and Rachel Burbank

From The Rochester Observer

News of the Younger Set Around Rochester

Well, folks, here we are again—ready with the round-up of the latest tales of what goes on. How's every little thing?? Okey, we hope. This lovely weather has brought forth many a lad or lassie from his or her winter hibernation to seek the bright lights of our dazzling city. And in doing so, has provided us with more than a few newsy bits for our "snooper's column." But snuff of that.

Too late for last week's edition came the news that Phil Kelley caused quite a sensation when, out of a clear blue sky, he tipped and kissed a Laconia lass. Seems as though all she did was ask him if his name was Phil. This little act left us all bewildered, 'cause he claims he never saw her before.

They tell us that Ginny Hersom was in the movies one afternoon last week with the fella that works in Plattsburgh. We don't recall his name, but that's a new one on us.

However, that seems to be all there was to it, because since her old flame, Dick Houle, has been in town on a short leave, they have been stepping out quite frequently.

Friday night, huh? Even though the score was far from a close one during the last half, it was a good game to watch. Perhaps if we'd had another team to throw in every four minutes, too, things might have been different, but we didn't, so that's that.

And at the dance thereafter: Clyde tripped the light fantastic mostly with Norma Beaudoin. One of those tiny tots was having a gay time, averaging about ten cut-ins per dance! ... Coop, the boogey-was-doin' his stuff, and how! ... Dunt and Lu put on a fascinating show, per usual! ... Jeannette devoted most of her time to a certain bluejacket whom we did not recognize! ... Jo Sanborn and Paul Cossette cut a trim figure on the floor! ... Marie Sussman was rushed, as ever! ... Mr. and Mrs. Cotton, Mr. and Mrs. Mirey, Mr. and Mrs. Piper, and Mr. Gates were among the teachers spied that twirled a toe or two! ... Donnie Feller, home on leave from Norfolk, was an innocent bystander who resorted to conversation rather than dancing. ... (His brother, Roger, E. Varney, and Leo Dupont are still at Fort Knox.) ... Betty Jackson and her beau, Eddie Morphy who is home on a leave, should be listed among those present, too! ... Guess that just about winds up that subject.

Incidentally, the Paul we mentioned in one of last week's articles as escorting a gal up North Main street, was no other than Paul Sylvain.

Leo Beaudoin is, now known as "mugger" by his more intimate associates. We could voice an opinion, but we won't.

Kenny Flood is looking in the direction of a sweet little eye-ful, but so are many others. We don't blame 'em a bit either.

Annette and Berg spent the week-end skiing at Cannon Mountain. Lucky, lucky!

We forgot to mention last week that Charlie Hanson had been home to California on a furlough. He informs us that Bide is just the same and really gets around out. Well, that's okay by us.

We hear that Pvt. Charlie Beard has been transferred from Camp Leo to Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.

Lt. (j. g.) Lewis Montrone has been promoted a lieutenant now. He is a flight instructor at Livermore, Calif.

"Mairzy Doats" is fast becoming a national headache as far as we're concerned, and we'll be glad when its gone and forgotten. It's one of those darn tunes that you can't get out of your mind. We wake up in the morning singing it, and go to bed likewise.

"Mairzy doats and dozy doats." Ah, there we go again.

It's reported that Seaman Barbara Horn is scrubbing floors where she is now. Ain't that the luck, though?

Wonder who Janice Goss was seen with Sunday night?? Maybe Mr. Creteau could help us out. Huh, Janice??

Could it have been Roland Cormier?? Noticed that they were at the dance Saturday night and we understand they were together one night about a week ago, too.

Lorna turned the tables and walked Phil home one night recently. Well, it is leap year isn't it??

Understand that there was such a hot-polloi down skating Monday night that the skaters just milled around. In other words, the place was mobbed.

Jack Witherall insists that he hails from neither Gothic nor Pickering, but that it's South Rochester Neck. Well, it's all the same to us.

Jerry and Ginny evoked a hilarious roar when they tried to escape from the gym Friday night, each with one of Jerry's adorable nieces by the hand, unnoticed. Embarrassing moments! Didya see Jerry dancing with one of them afterward?

We hear that fifty men and boys passed their physicals at Manchester last Monday. Cecil Hubbard, Bob Geary, Don Moore and Armand Maxfield were among the younger set that came through with flying colors.

Geeny, pretty soon there won't be anybody left. So help us, we don't know where they're all coming from as it is.

By the way, Cece, we hear you did quite a job on the bus on the way over, removing mirrors and so forth.

Frankie Callaghan looked like a pretty flashy basketball player Monday tip at the Boy's Club. An undiscovered talent??

Former Spaulding boy, Cliff Simonds, has been commissioned a second-looky and is home on a fourteen day furlough.

GOSSIP— BONNIE

Just last week we were remarking that Kendall and Joan Richardson were treading the same beat with no apparent change when—poof!! 'Twas all over. Maybe someone was afraid things were getting too deep!

There is another combination that we've been wondering about for a long time. Parsons and Parsons. Wonder what, if anything, gives between these two who are only seen dancing together. Deep down, tho' Richard doesn't seem to mind the company of "Cuzzin" Parsons, or vice versa.

Play reading in English classes usually proves high entertainment to everyone. Specially when they come across the potent love scenes.

Last week the sophomores gave their class party, dancing to records, supplied by President Dick Parsons. Maybe it wasn't exactly dancing, but we did do a lot of running around under the able direction of Mr. Stevenson. Anyway it was good exercise.

The kids ate cookies, tonic and potato chips galore. Mr. and Mrs. Lylis, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, and Mrs. Palmer were chaperones. It was more or less "one big happy family" and we noticed only one couple completely interested in each other. Those who were there know of course that we mean Betty and Johnny. Ernie Hughes was prominent in the role of "Difficult Male," but after a while it was easy to forget that he was there at all. Sailor Archie Beaudoin popped in for a while—gee, we didn't know he was a sophomore??

A couple of gals, namely Norma Smith and Bonnie, confused their followers with a bit of double-talk. Everything did straighten out, didn't it? Noticed Eleanor Owen there, too. Hey, thought she vowed not to go?? Guess that sounds off that, so on to other things.

It certainly started a lot of buzzin' when the Red & White came out with a little jingle by Lorna "Luscious" Tripp. If you don't know what we mean, you'd better take a look at your copy right now.

Lots o' gals account for their time nowadays by reporting to fella O. O. T. Which means, out of time. At least, that's what they say. Gee, there's nothin' wrong with staying home with a good book one night in the week; it won't make you a social flop, you know. To cut the chatter, we KNOW you didn't go to Dover!

Quite a crowd of locals literally invaded the Somersworth bowling alleys and surroundings last Sunday afternoon. Viewed among the crowd who were bowling were Maxfield, Gagne, and Sanfacon. Kenney Stone, Perkins, Miss Carpenter and Miss Diquette were doing their share, too.

G-G and Kermit were shootin' the breeze with a couple of dames in the Alleys; and were doin' okay for themselves.

Remember the good old days when you were sure to find the kids ganged up in some place every night? Now, gee whiz, we never know where to find you've spread out to Ainslie's, Hackett's and dear, familiar Lightbody's. Wish everyone would settle in one drug store.

Heard second-hand that lady killer Erwin is through with his ladies. Come, come now. What kind of a life do you expect to lead? Hey, supposin' the other fellas had that idea, whatever would we do?

The Junior and Senior Tri-Hi had a joint meeting last Monday night with Tishaho Baba, an American Japanese girl, is speaker. She spoke of her life in the Japanese internment camp which was of great interest to all of us. Refreshments of tonic, cookies, and marble cake were served, and oh boy! After that most of the gals traipsed down to 209 where the Hi-Y boys were having a party. It was rumored they were short of gals, not for long, the boys were outnumbered three to one, so the gals didn't stay for long.

WANTED: One blonde Milton lass, not to be confused with her sister, by a silent admirer. No recommendations needed. Unwandering interest guaranteed. Apply to Yours Truly for further details.

It wasn't hard to hear the sighs and heartbeats when the Portsmouth team ran out onto the floor. Some gals did get friendly with them at the dance afterward, but gosh, the rest of them had to try hard to restrain themselves!

Lyle, star of "The Tin Hero," who has been out of school ill with the grippe or something, has all the sympathy of his fellow actors, say nothing of Val. Hope he's better P. D. Q. 'cause he sure is needed around.

Speaking of the play, maybe you can imagine the results when, during a rehearsal last week, Mr. Bly and Mr. Hirst decided to move the scenery. At the same time Al and his boys were in one of the dressing rooms downstairs, directly beneath the stage, beating out boogy-woogy. What a bedlam!

We weren't exactly eavesdropping, but we couldn't help hearing you say, Tracy, that your lady friend failed to put in an appearance for a "movie date." What happened? We're interested.

Papa and Momma Grondin went down to see their offspring, Paul, at Davidson, North Carolina, last week-end, we hear.

And that reminds us, Beak Goddard is on maneuvers. Some fun!

Didya see Gilman and his friend "unnin'" around in their monkey suits in Nute's jalopy Wednesday morning?? Joy ride??

"Charlie" Kerouack's going around mumbling "Mah mammy tol' me." Why, didn't you know that song's stale now??

A new chant had rocked the school. Yes, L. S. M. F. T., Tch, tch.

Norma McClelland and a blonde fella have been occupying the corner booth at Ainslie's after school quite often, lately.

Looked like they were working on some sort of a poster there Monday afternoon.

The Sussmann twins went skiing Sunday at Gilford with Bob Carter and Bob Monti, and we hear that all had a very, very gay time!

Oh yes, we got wind of a party that was held at Carter's house for Pussy, Monday. Here are a few of the kiddows that attended: Monti, Al, Lou, Ardele, Louey, Shirley, Louise, Esther, Jack, Gladys and Scotty. Hm-m-m-m.

A couple of Spaulding lads were seen in Somersworth last Wednesday night. Wonder what the attraction could have been? Maybe it was Pat or Theresa; well, maybe!

Lump Lump Jones says he knows a bit of scandal, but personally we have our doubts as to its authenticity.

Wonder why Edna LaClair takes such an interest in a couple of local yokels and their present doings??

"Something new has been added" to the efficient and able staff at Lightbody Drug. A Mrs. Tuttle we believe.

Don't know if any other of you gals have noticed it, but we find that today's finger nail polish isn't as durable as the pre-war product. For that matter, neither is the lipstick, but we doubt if that has anything to do with the shortage of materials.

Community Church Notes

"The Great Commission" was the sermon theme at the morning service of worship last Sunday. It was delivered by Rev. Chesley S. Lantz, pastor of the church.

Next Sunday's service will be highlighted by the observance of Race Relations Sunday, in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. The sermon topic will be entitled "The White Man's Golden Rule."

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Rev. Chesley S. Lantz, Bettina Dalton and Joyce West assisted in the devotional service. 100 per cent classes included those of Doris Stevens and Bettina Dalton.

The collection was received by William Bouse and Charles Langley, Jr.

Headmaster McCaffrey Addresses Men's Club

Sparks on "Post-War World"

Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey addressed the Community Men's Club last night on the topic, "The Post-War World." He covered the international situation, pointing out anticipated problems at the peace conference with emphasis on British-Russian-American relations. Much of the content involved the belief in the spread of Soviet influence in eastern Europe, with England and the United States holding out for the smaller nation while neutralization key bases in the world for international use. This was followed by a predicting of the establishment of an international organization with a strong enforcing agency based upon military power.

The speaker discussed national problems and then took up vital local issues including unemployment, decreased income, maintenance of services, education and health. He urged an immediate study of probably post-war conditions by a representative committee of the town and a report to the people with recommendations on what should be done to assist in the rehabilitation after the war. Included in this was special assistance to men and women returning from the service.

UNH President Dies In Durham

Dr. Fred Engelhardt, 59, noted educator and president of the University of New Hampshire, died suddenly at his home in Durham last week after a turn for the worse in an illness which began last summer.

His administration at the university was marked by the broadening of the entire curriculum and expansion of the plant and facilities. Dr. Engelhardt, president of the university since 1937, came to UNH from the University of Minnesota, where he had been professor of educational administration.

Under his leadership UNH made notable developments in special courses to meet adult needs. Expansion was made in the programs offered for women, and the biological institute was developed. During this period, New Hampshire and Nesmith halls were redesigned, Pettee hall was built and the grounds were completed.

Dr. Engelhardt was born April 15, 1885, at Naugatuk, Conn. He was graduated from Yale in 1908, received his master's degree from Columbia in 1915, and a PhD degree from Columbia in 1924.

He did graduate work at Yale and Harvard, and held an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Maine.

He leaves his wife, Marion Engelhardt of Durham; three brothers, Nicholas, associate superintendent of schools in New York City; George, of Naugatuk, Conn. and Harris, of Long Island, N. Y.; three sisters, Mrs. Ray Liggett of Arlington, N. J.; Mrs. John Brown of Jersey City, N. J., and Mrs. Madeline Ivie of New York City.

Boy Scouts To Hold Parents' Night Wednesday

The Newmarket Boy Scouts, Troop 200, will hold their annual Parents' night and Court of Honor at St. Mary's school hall Wednesday evening, it was announced by Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor Scoutmaster.

Scout craft will be displayed and the scouts will hold boxing matches. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

Bean and cabbage sprouts have little or no waste and are useful in stews, omelets, soups, and salads or served as a separate dish with drawn butter or cream or cheese sauce.

Rockingham Victory League Play-Off Friday

The Rockingham Victory League basketball "play-off" will be held Friday, February 18, at the Exeter Academy gymnasium in Exeter. The League winner, Exeter, will play the runners-up, either Newmarket or Epping, in the feature game. The team winning this main game will then play Hampton in the pre-lim.

Trophies and awards will be presented to players in the winning and "running-up" teams.

HELP THEM DEFEND THEMSELVES

GIVE YOUR SONS THE IMPLEMENTS OF WAR

Dreaded days of invasion are not far distant. American people are equal to the task. We hear of brutalities and atrocities to which an almost seemingly inhuman race of satanical individuals have subjected peaceful people, people who have no designs to be great other than to live with one another in hope and in the one faith that their Saviour established for all mankind.

Before Pearl Harbor we were inadequately prepared. If the foe had carried a full-scale aggressive action to American shores, there's little left to the imagination as to the dreadful outcome. Through the prayers which free people cherish so dearly, God permitted a pause so that our country, dedicated to the principles of righteousness, might again lead the world into the light of Faith.

American sons are again at the battlefronts. Those at home see little or none of the horrors of bloody onslaught or the possible tortures to our brave warriors. We, as Americans, are facing a critical period. Our Government is asking us to buy bonds to pay for guns, tanks, bombs, ships, planes, and every possible weapon with which—yes, your sons have to overcome the enemy.

You are being asked to LOAN as much as you can—which money will be paid back with interest. Have Faith in your Government. May God bless each and every one of these gallant sons and daughters on their errand of mercy. Don't let them down. Back them with Bonds
